JOHN LAW

JOHN LAW, a second year Architectural student is making his bid for the presidency of the NAITSA council. His position on students council, being vice-president of his departmental club, and his presidency of N.A.I.T. Radio have given him many definite ideas about the operation of NAITSA. Many are a carry over of the better ideas of previous executives and many are his own and progressively different.

John plans to continue efforts for the construction of an ice arena, a properly functioning student grievance committee and different and more informative ways of making Edmontonians more knowledgeable of NAIT as an institute of technology and not only a school for apprentices. NAIT is an institute which will grow with time and there will be more demands upon NAITSA to provide more service and varied activities for its student population. That is why John thinks he should be looking into things such as a Students' Union Building, a football team, and provision of more varied social activities. To date dances and challenge cup activities are all NAITSA offers. The sooner steps are made to make these services and facilities a functioning part of NAIT the sooner they will become a reality.

His variety of ideas for a better students' association seems to surpass only his enthusiasm for undertaking this position. There are many questions you as a voter should ask a presidential candidate and John Law says he'll be happy to answer any you have.

WHY DON'T YOU ASK HIM?

NEW STUDENTS' CARD

by Les Tomlin

NO MORE TOOL CHITS?

Shown here is a scaled replica of the New NAITSA Credit Card which will all but eliminate tool chits for next year.

The new credit card will be used in the McNally Library, Drafting Stores, the Physical Education Stores, and for NAITSA functions. This card will also be used for obtaining a yearbook, voting on elections and referendums, as well as serve as an identification card to activities to be held at NAIT.

Some of the Instructions printed on the back side of the credit card are:

1. This card MUST be carried by students at ALL TIMES.
2. The loss, damaging, or finding of this card must be reported to the MAIN OFFICE — IMMEDIATELY:

3. The student whose name appears on this card will be held personally liable for all items and obligations incurred by its use.
4. Students must present this card for a yearbook.
5. Students must report a change of address to the MAIN OFFICE — IMMEDIATELY.
6. A charge of $5.00 will be levied against any student who destroys or loses this card, as a new card shall have to be printed and issued.

It is hoped that this card will begin a new regime at NAIT where a student's signature is all that is needed for borrowing items.

SHANE EWASIUK

CANDIDATE FOR PRESIDENT

1. As a relatively new school, recognition of the capabilities of our graduates must be presented to more prospective employers in order to achieve more job offers and higher starting salaries.
2. More money is needed for the council's budget. I will investigate thoroughly in order to control student fees.
3. Negotiations with government for additional student parking land will be enacted.
4. Communications between council and student will be improved.
5. More technologists should be given the opportunity to hold a dance. This can be done by having two or more of the smaller technologists combine efforts.
6. If elected as president, my door will be open to any student who wishes to have his opinions or ideas heard and have them acted upon.

POSSIBLY A SOLUTION!

Hey, all you students and teachers who park your cars south of the Institute! Are you happy with the sidewalk facilities supplied by nature to get us around that North Wall built by Poole Construction? Actually, you don't have to worry about tromping through the snow for too much longer. With the warmer Spring(?) temperatures, we'll be wading through six inches of slush, finally turning to water. We're supposed to be adult in that we don't fill the halls with soggy foot-prints, but after getting the insides of our boots filled with that white stuff, we don't have much choice. I suppose it would be too adult to ask that a makeshift sidewalk be put down. I'd even settle for a couple of 1x6's thrown across the snow. Then comes the question. Who do we ask?

It's no use asking the commissioners to look into the matter because they're too busy creating confusion out in the parking lot. We might ask one of the construction workers, but he probably couldn't speak English anyway. Next in line would be the Chief Caretaker, Mr. Yeudall, although he has enough troubles inside the Institute and would probably tell us to talk to Mr. Meadus. Now that would be a mistake, because Mr. Meadus is too busy making the necessary arrangements of enrolling his month-old son at NAIT. He would direct us to Mr. Saunders. Since Mr. Saunders doesn't even know we HAVE a South Parking Lot, it would be useless to even approach his suite. Now we're back where we started from. No, not quite. The last possibility would be the Provincial Government. If we sent a letter asking them to pass a bill ordering somebody to install a sidewalk from the South Parking Lot to the H-Wing entrance, and had the letter signed by the whole city of Edmonton, maybe, just maybe, they would take notice and inquire about a place called NAIT, in Edmonton.

By the time they got around to doing something about it, the snow would be gone. Summer would have past, Fall would be waving a fond farewell, Winter would be howling a harsh hello, and the government would have called a recess and its members would all be vacationing in Florida. Most of them would be relaxing on the hot, white, sandy beaches thinking of all the poor unfortunate Albertans shovelling through our annual ten feet of snow. Some would be thinking how fortunate they are not having to suffer another Edmonton winter. But only one or two would be vaguely remembering NAIT, with all those students floundering among the snow drifts between the parking lot and the building because no one thought enough of them to provide the necessary sidewalk facilities to ensure a safer journey from car to class.

So what are we to do? Take this sitting down? It's too damp to go sitting around outside, so let's organize a march. We'll make signs, plenty of signs. Big signs, small signs... Hey, wait a minute! If we make enough signs, we could lay them end to end on the ground and...

"Your chest is... er... oh... Your TEST is negative Miss Carson!"

VICE-PRESIDENT CANDIDATES

BARRY PLAMONDON

Proposed — Annexation of K-Wing
 If I am elected to the office of Vice-President of NAITSA, my first proposal will be that the K-Wing (Kingsway) be annexed to the NAIT campus.

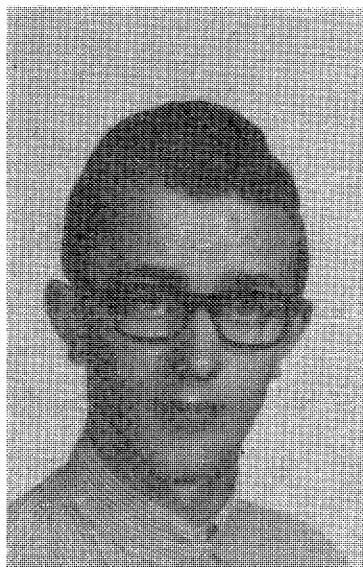

I am afraid that the powers of Vice-President will not permit this, but I have some definite plans which I will carry out to the best of my ability.

1. Since the job of Vice-President is mainly a public-relations job, I will set up a public relations committee. The purpose of this committee will be to inform the public of the functions and extra-curricular activities being held at NAIT. This is to try and enhance the image of the Institute and of the students attending NAIT. This will be done through radio, T.V. and newspapers.

2. I will organize a committee for the assistance of foreign students attending NAIT. The main purpose of this committee will be:

- Meet the students.
- Help them find suitable lodgings.
- Any other required assistance.

3. I would like to expand C.U.S.O. (Canadian University Services Overseas) on the NAIT campus. This could be done through films and feature articles in the NUGGET.

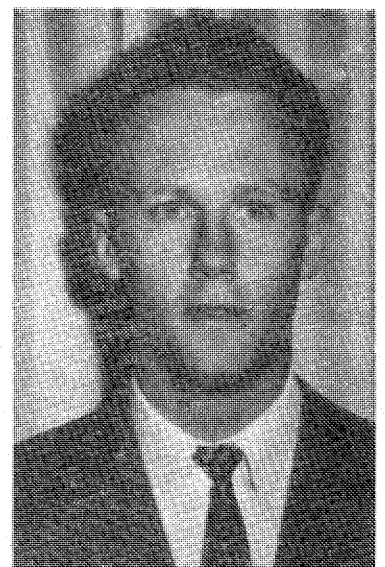

GARY KOEHLI

The position of vice-president of the NAIT Students' Association is not one of glamour and glory; but rather, it is a position of responsibility and purpose. If I am elected to this office, it will be my responsibility to organize and manage students' activities, as well as act as a liaison between the student body and the administration. I will attempt to maintain the standards of efficiency established by Bill Jeffs and his predecessors in their respective terms in office. In addition, I will endeavour to lodge a program for the promotion of this institute by the students, so that high school students and future employers in industry have a better and fuller understanding of what our courses have to offer.

In closing, I would like to thank all those people who have contributed to the organization of my campaign, and to extend to my opponents, the best of luck. To all of you — "Vote as you please, but please vote".

4. NAIT — SAIT Blood-Drive competition.
 In order for me to carry out these proposals which I have outlined for you I must first be elected to office, so April 7, vote BARRY PLAMONDON for Vice-President.

THANK YOU.

JIM STANGIER

Vice-President of NAIT is a demanding job. NAIT is a growing institution, and is growing better with the help of its students.

The Vice-President must make others aware of the advantages and opportunities of NAIT. I feel qualified for this position. As past President of Strathmore High, I have adequate experience in administrative duties. I am Administrative Vice-President of Toastmasters, and have gained valuable experience in communicating with others.

I feel NAIT is large enough, and responsible enough, to set up its own selection committee for CUSO students. We should not have to depend on the University to look after our responsibilities.

Foreign students provide a liaison between NAIT and other countries. It is an honor to have these students select NAIT to further their education. It should be a primary duty of the Vice-President to assist these students in every possible way.

If I am elected I will do my utmost to work with the President in the best interests of all students.

WINNERS BY ACCLAMATION

DENNIS KOWALISHIN
Men's Athletic Chairman

I would like to take this opportunity to thank all the people who nominated me for the position of Men's Athletic Chairman. Having always enjoyed participating in all types of sports activities, it now gives me great pleasure to have the opportunity of helping to co-ordinate the Men's Athletic program at NAIT.

HAROLD NICHOLSON

Harold Nicholson, your new Publications Chairman by "acclamation", was a graduate of Strathcona High School in 1962. After graduation he secured a job with International Harvester Co. Ltd., and his last position was an Assistant Zone Manager before entering NAIT, in 1964. Harold married a school teacher from Southern Alberta and since then has become the father of a son. Harold is presently President of the NAIT Toastmaster's Club and is also the Treasurer an Investment Club.

As Publication Chairman, one of his main objectives will be to improve communication lines between the student council and the student body so that students will be made more aware of what their student council is doing. He also feels the NUGGET could be improved and that it should possibly be circulated

CECILIA HALWA

Cecilia Halwa, Woman's Athletic Chairman by acclamation, is a student in Secretarial Technology, first year. She is active in many school activities, including the Aratean Society, Radio Club and Curling. Prior to attending NAIT, she graduated from Leduc High School in Leduc, Alberta.

Cecilia believes that the most important part of her job as Woman's Athletic Chairman is the Aratean Society. This society for girls is just what NAIT needs to give the girls here a chance to get each other and participate in athletic and social activities. She hopes that next year she can gain a lot of support and really get the society "rolling". Cecilia thanks all those who nominated her and promises to do the best job she can as Woman's Athletic Chairman.

STEVE BLACKWELL
Social Chairman

I was elected by acclamation to the executive of your Students' Association as Social Chairman. I have had two years of experience in this line with a club out of the city and have been on the executive of the B.A.S. since September.

During my term in office I plan a continuation of the successful activities which we have enjoyed during the past year. Increased co-ordination between NAITSA and you will be established. Committees will be set up to improve the activities during Frosh Week and Queen Week.

With the support and co-operation of all the students we will have a very good year.

TOASTMASTER CLUB

YOU NEED IT — IT NEEDS YOU!

Do you want to try something different? Do you want to make something of yourself? Do you want to be a MAN? Then climb out of your shell and into a chair, and attend the next meeting of the Toastmaster's Club, Wednesday, April 5, at exactly 5:45 p.m. in the cafeteria. Just as you sit there and act as a spectator to the whole affair, you will feel a change, a dramatic change, rushing through your body, and you will want to be at the next meeting as a participant. Now, just who runs Toastmasters?

The NAIT Toastmaster's Club is organized about seven weeks ago by Mr. P. Stewart, Business English Instructor, and since then, members of the club have taken over the executive positions. Below is a list of the executive:

- President
Harold Nicholson — Dist.
- Educational Vice-President
John Holochuk — Bus. Adm.
- Administrative Vice-President
Jim Stanger — Dist.
- Secretary
Gary McLean — Dist.
- Treasurer
Wally Semotuk — Dist.
- Sgt. at Arms
Dennis Herr — Bus. Adm.

The club has the required minimum number of members, 20, to acquire a charter, but are interested in having more students from any Technology turn out and join up. The cost is only $10 and this carries you through 'till October.

Next year, the fee is expected to be about $12. And just what are you paying all the money for?

The object of the Toastmaster's Club is to help you gain confidence in yourself and to show you how to use gestures properly. It also shows you how to conduct a meeting in the proper manner. Upon joining Toastmasters, each person is presented with a set of manuals plus a monthly bulletin put out by Toastmasters International. You are also eligible to be asked to any of the other Toastmaster's Clubs in Edmonton as a guest speaker. The aim of Toastmasters is punctuality. Each meeting, which occurs every Wednesday, starts at exactly 5:45 p.m. and ends at exactly 7:30 p.m., give or take a few seconds!

You also get a chance to express your own opinions. About once every three weeks you will be required to give a prepared talk which should last five minutes. The topic is given to you the week before its presentation. At each meeting, table talks are given. These are impromptu speeches which need last only about one and half minutes. If you wish to have further information about NAIT's Toastmaster's Club, any one of the executive would be more than happy to supply you with it.

The last meeting of the Toastmaster's Club will be the Wednesday before the final exams, so you had better attend a meeting soon to assure yourself part of the action next year. Now, get out there and speak up a storm!

hanson, enrolled in Secretarial Technology, to contest the position on her commendable past experience as a legal secretary in Edmonton. Presently she is a part-time secretary for a publicity and promotion agent and this experience is beneficial in promoting school spirit, a duty essential of every member of the Student Council. Gail also has been secretary of NAIT's Archery Club and was Open House Co-ordinator for Secretarial Technology. We ask that when you cast your ballot on Friday, vote Gail Johanson for Secretary.

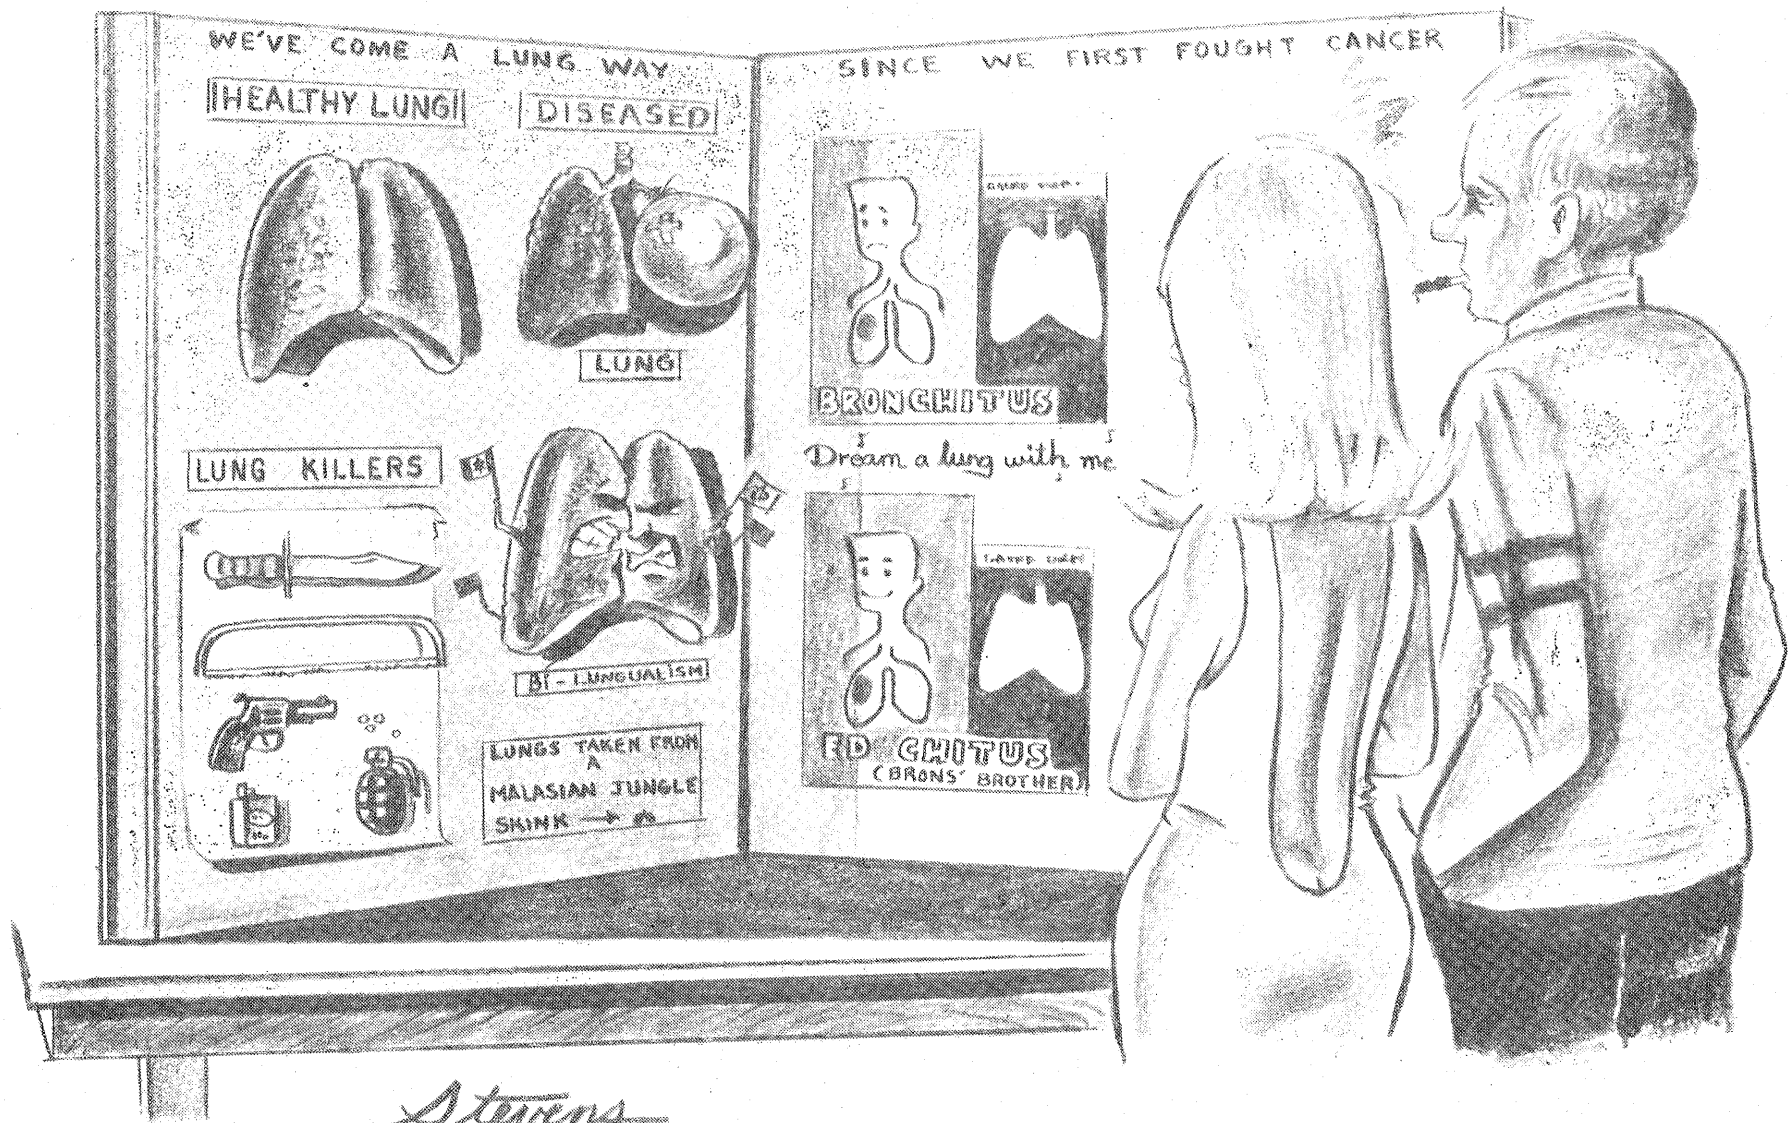

est subjects being typing. Though she has been here only a short time, Barb has managed to become quite active in school functions. The best example is the great deal of work she did to help organize the Secretarial display during last month's Open House.

Remember, when you cast your vote for Barbara Anderson next Friday, you are casting a vote for the best.

Some interest in the course has been shown by NAIT students. Unfortunately, there was not enough room to accommodate you during lectures.

As the course is still not at an end, its effects and over-all value cannot be stated as yet. Within a short time though, a bright orange "sun button" will identify the successful graduates of the course. How about asking them all about tourism and their part in it?

INTRAMURALS - A GREAT SUCCESS

The 1966-67 school year has shown that intramurals have grown to a stature never before attained. There has been close competition between all the technologies and the smaller technologies especially have been well represented in intramurals competition. A large amount of credit must go to the sports representatives, Gerry Neuffer, the Men's Athletic Chairman and Mr. Hooks, head of Intramural Coordination.
