Although the N.A.I.T. hockey team isn't doing as well as expected this year they sill have a chance to make the playoffs. If they do make the playoffs a lot of credit should go to number 17 Warren Wagner. For a guy with the shortest legs in the school he sure scores a lot of goals.

Stan Kwong has done it again. Showing his unusual organizational abilities he has engineered a plan to join Alberta's small colleges together with a minimum of red tape. It's been accepted by all the colleges except Mount Royal. The same weekend that Stan unveiled his plan, denouncing Mount Royal's plan, the Mount Royal hockey team demoished the Ookpiks in a series of brawls. Coincidence, or is Mount Royal really that bad a loser?

Don't forget to get your teeth cleaned by a Dental Assistant soon and don't be surprised if there's a lineup. Some of these D.A.'s aren't too bad looking, and the rest are gorgeous.

Surprisingly enough, 200 students did attend the general meeting last Wednesday which was a quorum. The proposed changes in the constitution were voted on and here are some of the more important changes, or non-changes as the case may be. A proposed change to exclude the Nugget, C.H,N,R, the Yearbook, and the P.R. department from voting on the student council was defeated. One might say after that, "Power to the People". A motion to increase the honorariums of the executive from 150 dollars per year to 300 dollars per year was, surprisingly defeated. It had been a general feeling that the executive did more than $30000 worth of work a year and deserved a raise. A $300 honorarium also would have made the positions more desireable and hopefully increase the number of candidates running in the student elections. In past years, several positions have been filled with people who wanted the position only because they didn't have to campaign for it. Article 26 was dhanged to eliminate most of the administrations control on the students association. Before, Mr. Carter had the power to veto anyone nominated for a student executive position and now he has the power to veto on academic grounds only. Two motions that passed very strongly indcate that the students want a better student paper and they also want a Yearbook.

In reply to several letters to the editor from Architecture students in the last issue, I'ld like to say that the main points were that second year Architecture students are going to San Fransisco and they want financial assistance fom the rest of the students. The fact that it's a field trip doesn't mean that they won't have fun and I know that the last trip to Vancouver was a huge fun success.

Student newspapers are difficult to produce at the best of times. Lately the Nugget has seen the worst of times. With no editor and a very small staff of four full time students, the Nugget, last week was doomed to extinction. Since then eleven photography students have donated their services and two secretarial students have agreed to lend the Nugget a typing hand, so the Nugget struggles on. If anyone wants to join the staff there will be an organizational meeting after Friday night's cabaret in the North Cafeteria with free coffee. All positions are available - colmnists, reporters, writers, lay-out artists, and editor. We expect an attendance of at least 75.

Opinions expressed in the paper are not necessarily those of the administration or Students' Association. Staff always comes and goes, so new members are always welcome.

Winter snows don't slow you down

You love long walks in the woods, and even the mounting snows of winter don't stop you. You just take along a pair of snowshoes and set off on a hike.

Menstrual worries don't stop you, either. You just make sure to include Tampax tampons, the internal sanitary protection. They're easy to carry—small enough to fit the pocket of your parka. Yet they do a big job of protecting you, expanding in three directions to fit your inner contours. Such absorbent protection can really free you to enjoy the winter sports scene: skiing, snowshoeing, skating.

So if the urge to be active drives you on—if a heavy snowfall means adventure—then count on Tampax tampons to help you go.

Apathy, as defined by Webster, is a lack of feeling; want of passion or emotion; indeffe rence. Nait is FULL of Apathy. Not the want of passion or emotion kind but the lack of feeling, the indifference.

No matter what we,re talking about, wether it be the paper, the yearbook, the student directory or just about anything else, 95% of the students don8t care. Here's the proof

Since the start of the year, about 30 people have participated on the Nugget with an aver age of 4 or 5 people an issue. Many just cam e once or ~~twice~~ twice. That is less than 5% of the student population.

Last years Yearbook isn't even finished yet because there's not enough people,,from last year or this year, to work on it. Its the sa me with this years yearbook. It has been started but there just isnt enough people. There's more or less 14 people presently working in the yearbook office. That's less than 5% of the student population.

About the same number of CONCERNED students worked on the directory. That's less than 5% of the total student population.

Sports is one of the main areas of any school, for yhat matter, any place where there is a large gathering of people. Only myself and Joe Sports have done anythin g in the sports department, with the excepti on of the coaches of the teams who have written articles on their teams performance, which ~~it~~ is something that should never be done on a newspaper. Coaches tend to have one-sided opinions. Considering the large amount of work that goes into producing a newspaper, and considering that I have done 90% of all the sports news and repoting, I would say that the sports page is..... at least existing. In order to do a FAIR job there should be at least, ~~xxxxxx~~ AT LEAST 7 (seven) people on the Sports departm ent staff. Then all the sports events could be covered, all the ACAC games could be cove ered, all the city league games could be cov ered, all the tournaments could be covered, all the intramurals could be covered, and ou tstanding individuals in sports could be rec ognized. Nait is full of potential super ath eletes, but nobody knows about them. Nait is full of a lot of good teams, but not too man y people know about them.

THINK ABOUT IT!

Brent Stumph
Sports Editor

Joe Sports comment.

Just a brief comment on the troubles the Nugget has been having obtaining staff. I have written for student publications since 1967, and the situation has never changed. Every year, five or six people work hard to turn out the best rag possible in the time available. The results are almost always ignored by the mass of the student body. This is a fact of amateur journalism which will never change.

Hopefully back to a full column next week. See ya then.
