Ooks - Chicks Win Big Ooks V-ball

The NAIT Men's Volleyball team completed their most successful weekend of the season in posting the only 5 and 0 record in the men's competition of the A.C.A.C. interlocking tournament which was held at Red Deer College.

The weekend began with the most important match of the tournament, that against the top ranked team from the South Division, SAIT. Due to injuries, the Ooks attempted to run a new offensive system in the first game of the match with disastrous results. The 4-15 loss appeared to indicate the match would be ended quickly in SAIT's favor but the return to the offensive system that the team has used for 3 months changed the match to a much more even affair. In game 2 Rookie setter Doug Petzoldt was inserted into the line up and conducted himself like a veteran in directing the offense. Then with Roger "The Machine" Steele killing an amazing 75 per cent(23) of his attacks with only 3 per cent(1) errors and 1983 C.C.A.A. all Canadian Loris Campagnolo contributing 12 stuff blocks the Ooks won a very exciting 2½ hour match 3 games to 2. After winning their first match the team played inconsistently against obviously weaker opposition but still won their next 3 matches with 3-0 scores.

The last match of the weekend was against Lethbridge Community College the number 2 team from the south. After winning the first game very easily it looked like another 3-0 match would result. However, LCC had different ideas and in games two and three they got their low percentage, but very quick, outside offense rolling and won both. In game 4 NAIT was ahead 13-2 and it looked like they would win in a walk but again LCC fought back with great serving and blocking to lose a very close game, the Ooks got rolling and led by the great play of Loris Campagnolo and Glen Vigsbol won easily 15-2.

The team plays two matches before Christmas break, first at Grant MacEwan College on Dec. 7 and then Dec. 10 at home to Lakeland College.

On Wednesday, Nov. 30 the NAIT Ooks lost their game against the Grant MacEwan Griffins three matches to two.

The first saw the Ooks jump out to a 4-1 lead. Then the Griffins closed the gap to 4-3.

From there on the two teams traded points until the score was 12-8 for the Ooks. The Griffins tied the score at 12, 13, and 14. In the end the Griffins managed to score two more points to win the match 16-14.

In the second match the Ooks again jumped out to a lead, and again the Griffins closed it up again; this time the score was 5-3. A stunning spike by the Ooks' Roger Steele knocked over Keith Hanson of the Griffins and sparked a five point scoring streak which brought the Ooks up 10-5. The Griffins managed to score only six more times as the Ooks topped them off 15-11. The game was tied at a match apiece.

The Griffins started the third match off well, taking a 7-0 lead. The Ooks' Loris Campagnolo's serves broke the shutout. His serves brought the score to 10-2. The Griffins won this match 15-3.

The fourth game started off much like the third; the Griffins lead the Ooks 6-1 early in the game. Although the pace slowed down the score was upped to 8-1. A fantastic diving save by Rod Klettli kept the serve alive for the Ooks, with the score 11-6. The NAIT wall came to life to save the Ooks, three times in one particular volley no less, as the Ooks powered back to within one point of the Griffins. The Ooks pursued their upward climb to win 15-11. This was not too bad, considering the Ooks were down 10-2 at one point.

In the fifth and deciding game the Ooks seemed to lose some spirit when they fell behind 5-0. They came back a bit, bringing the score to 5-2. Then the Griffins went ahead 12-2. After several changes of serve, a major dispute arose over the rotation of the Ooks. After some deliberation, the decision was to remove the point earned by the Ooks on the improper serve and award the serve to the Griffins, which is what happens in such a situation. Apparently in a substitution, there was confusion as to where the new player fit in the rotation. The Griffins went on to win the match 15-2.

Overall notes: Rierre Baudin received a yellow card in the third game...

Loris Campagnolo, Rob Klettli, and Roger Steele in my opinion were among the better players in the game... the line judge should be watching the lines, not talking to the coaches...the Ooks' next games are Wednesday Dec. 7 and Saturday Dec. 10.

Chicks V-ball

North met South this past weekend in the first of two interlocking volleyball tournaments in Red Deer. The North showed their domination, with Nait, GPRC and Grant MacEwan going undefeated. Although the chicks did not gain any ground on second place Grande Prairie, they played well in all matches. Their test came against Medicine Hat. Not having been pushed in the first two matches (Sait 3-0 and Olds 3-1) the chicks were sloppy in the first game, losing 15-1. Nait came back, however, to win the next three games convincingly. Captain Susan Ouellette played the best match of the year so far, and was a standout all weekend.

Saturday's matches again were no contest, defeating both Mount Royal and Lethbridge 3 games to 0. The chicks' hard work during practices paid off, as they came from behind to win the last game 15-13.

They were down 13-4 at one point.

The chicks record now stands at 7-2, good for 3rd place in the strong North Div Division, but have played less games than the 2nd place Grande Prairie and 1st place Red Deer. The chicks and coaching staff are still optimistic about being in the playoffs. Next action is on Saturday, Dec. 10, at 1:00 pm in the Nait gym, at they host the Lakeland Rustlers.

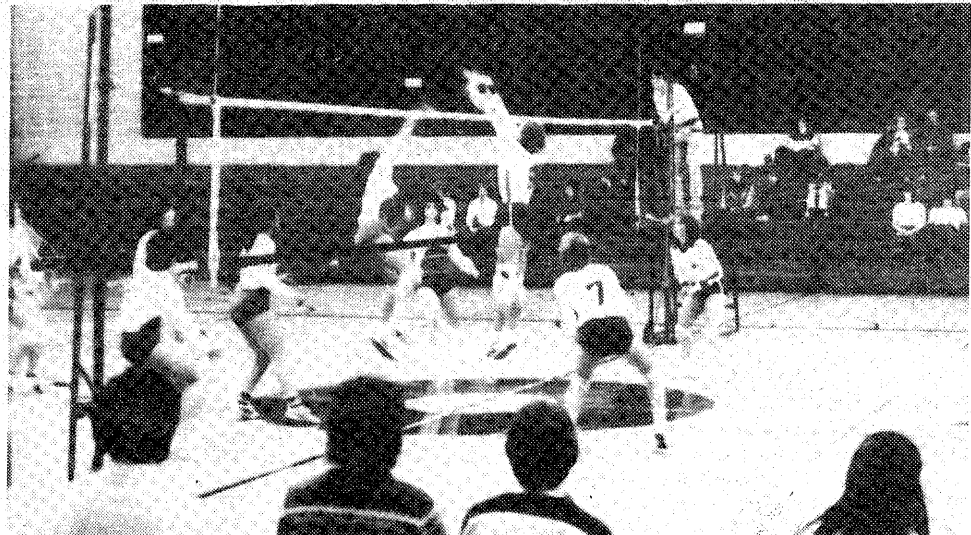

The Chicks won their game against the Grant MacEwan Griffins three matches to two.

In the first match, the Chicks were awesome, blowing away the Griffins 15-0. But in the second match, the girls fell behind from the start and at one point were down 7-1. The Chicks rallied back and tied the score at 9 aided by some killer spiking by Diane Proctor. The game was close to the end, but the Griffins managed to edge out the Chicks by a score of 15-12.

In the third match, the Chicks started out slowly, building up a 4-1 lead. The Griffins turned around and scored 5 consecutive points to lead 6-4. The Griffins employed good spiking and took advantage of an open spot in the Chicks defence. The Griffins allowed the Chicks only 4 more points as they went on to win 15-8.

Early in the fourth match, the Chicks defence tightened up and it was the Griffins turn to scramble around. Although the Chicks improved their spiking, the Griffins made good on several last ditch saves that seemed to be as good as money in the bank for the Chicks. After jumping out to a commanding 10-3 lead, the Chicks allowed the Griffins to come back and tie the score at 10. That was enough for the Chicks; they won the match 15-11. This tied the game at two matches apiece.

The fifth and deciding match was not close at all. After trading serves for a while, the Chicks started piling up their points, not allowing the Griffins onto the scoreboard. Final score was 15-0 and the Chicks won the game three matches to two.

Some overall notes: Dianne Proctor, Jody Herbert, and Debbie Tkachuck all had, in my opinion, a good game...the Griffins coach should get an award for the most line changes ever accomplished in a single game...next Chicks game are Saturday Dec. 10 when they host Lethbridge College at 1:00.

EDITOR'S NOTE

WHATEVER HAPPEND TO BUSINESS STUDENTS, ANYWAY?

Long gone are days when business students supported their technology representatives. Instead the students are ignoring their club which pays for part of their grad tickets. What is wrong with you second year BUSINESS STUDENTS? I realize that some of their functions are on an inconvenient night or weekend, but why would this stop you from supporting your graduation organizers.

A prime example is the MONTE CARLO NIGHT, presently scheduled for the 28th of January. We realize that there are quizzes the next day, but who cares, they are only worth 10 per cent of your final mark and most of them are multiple choice anyways. You can sit home and study your brains out the WHOLE NIGHT, or study until 8:00 pm and go to the EDMONTON INN, and relax a little. Whoever said that you had to stay until 12:00. BAS is planning this whole thing so that the second year students can have a nice grad at a smaller price than you would normally pay.

When talking to the president of BAS, Michele Fitzpatrick, she said that most of the supporters were from FIRST YEAR students and that only a small percentage of second year students were supporting them. I would like to know why you second year BUSINESS STUDENTS aren't supporting your grad club. Instead you will go the AMS Wine & Cheese or the MMS Christmas Party. Neither of these two clubs support your grad. I've been to an AMS function and you definitely don't meet any business contacts at a simple Wine and Cheese. I've never been to a MMS function because it seems that they are only for Marketing Students. We are all Business Students first and I think that our grad is very important.

Could the reason be because there were two other groups running against the present BAS executive? Well I hope not because I also ran against them on a group but that doesn't stop me from supporting them. BAS is not only our graduation organizers but also our representatives in General Council. Just remember that because we elected them, we have to support them also. Whatever happens at NAIT affects BUSINESS STUDENTS because we are the largest technology and we have the power to make some decisions at the top. The problem however is to get 800 people to agree on the same thing. In fact it is generally impossible because everyone has different needs and wants.

I am not mad at all SECOND YEAR STUDENTS, just those who don't give a damn about anything else but their marks. According to Marlene Emerson, employers don't just look at marks anymore, but your extracurricular activities. If the only thing that you are worried about is your marks, finding a job will be just as hard as it is now because employers weigh marks at a lower rate than they used to.

But, is it all BUSINESS STUDENTS' fault? When talking to other Business Students, it was found that there is definite dissension among our executive. We can't have an effective organization with the members of our executive cutting each other down. Another point brought up in their defense was that BAS was'n't communicating with the second year students at all and instead seem to be focusing their attention on the first year students. We have to effectively communicate to all the BUSINESS STUDENTS. But, I have to wonder about this, everyone knows that BAS's office is open to anyone and not just the executive. We should be questioning things that they are doing so that we can get feedback.

I don't know if the other technologies are having problems such as those that BAS is experiencing, and I sincerely hope not.

I think that the words of our NAITSA President, Debra Nykilchuk are perfect to solve this problem, "LET'S COMMUNICATE".

Letters To The Editor

I should like to offer a rebuttal to the garbled editorial diatribe, printed in the Dec 1st issue of "The Nugget"; re. "Breaking the Union Stranglehold".

The whole context of your editorial reflected the misguided, and mostly misinformed attitudes so prevalent in the redder necked right wing in this province.

You implied that union workers receive excessive pay for their skills, indeed, that they even receive pay in "parody" with their non-union counterparts. (It's parity actually) This is true, much to the delight of the non-union workers, who partook of the fruits without contributing anything. As to excessive pay, I dare you to name one Union in Alberta, that has succeeded in securing for it's membership, pay increases that have at least matched the level of inflation of this province over the last ten years.

You stated that you believed Unions had fulfilled their usefulness, and that decent working conditions had been achieved. This is utter nonsense, the negotiations of 1981(not 1881), for example, brought forth the complaint that installing heated washrooms on jobsites made the Union employers less competitive with the non-union sector. When was the last time you used an outside toilet in the middle of January?

You carried on almost monotonously, stating that if it were not for shareholders of companies, there would be no employees. I'd just like to agree with you and just add the bit you missed....As sure as God made the green apples, without employees there wouldn't be any company, never mind shareholders, unless the shareholders happen to be the employees as well.

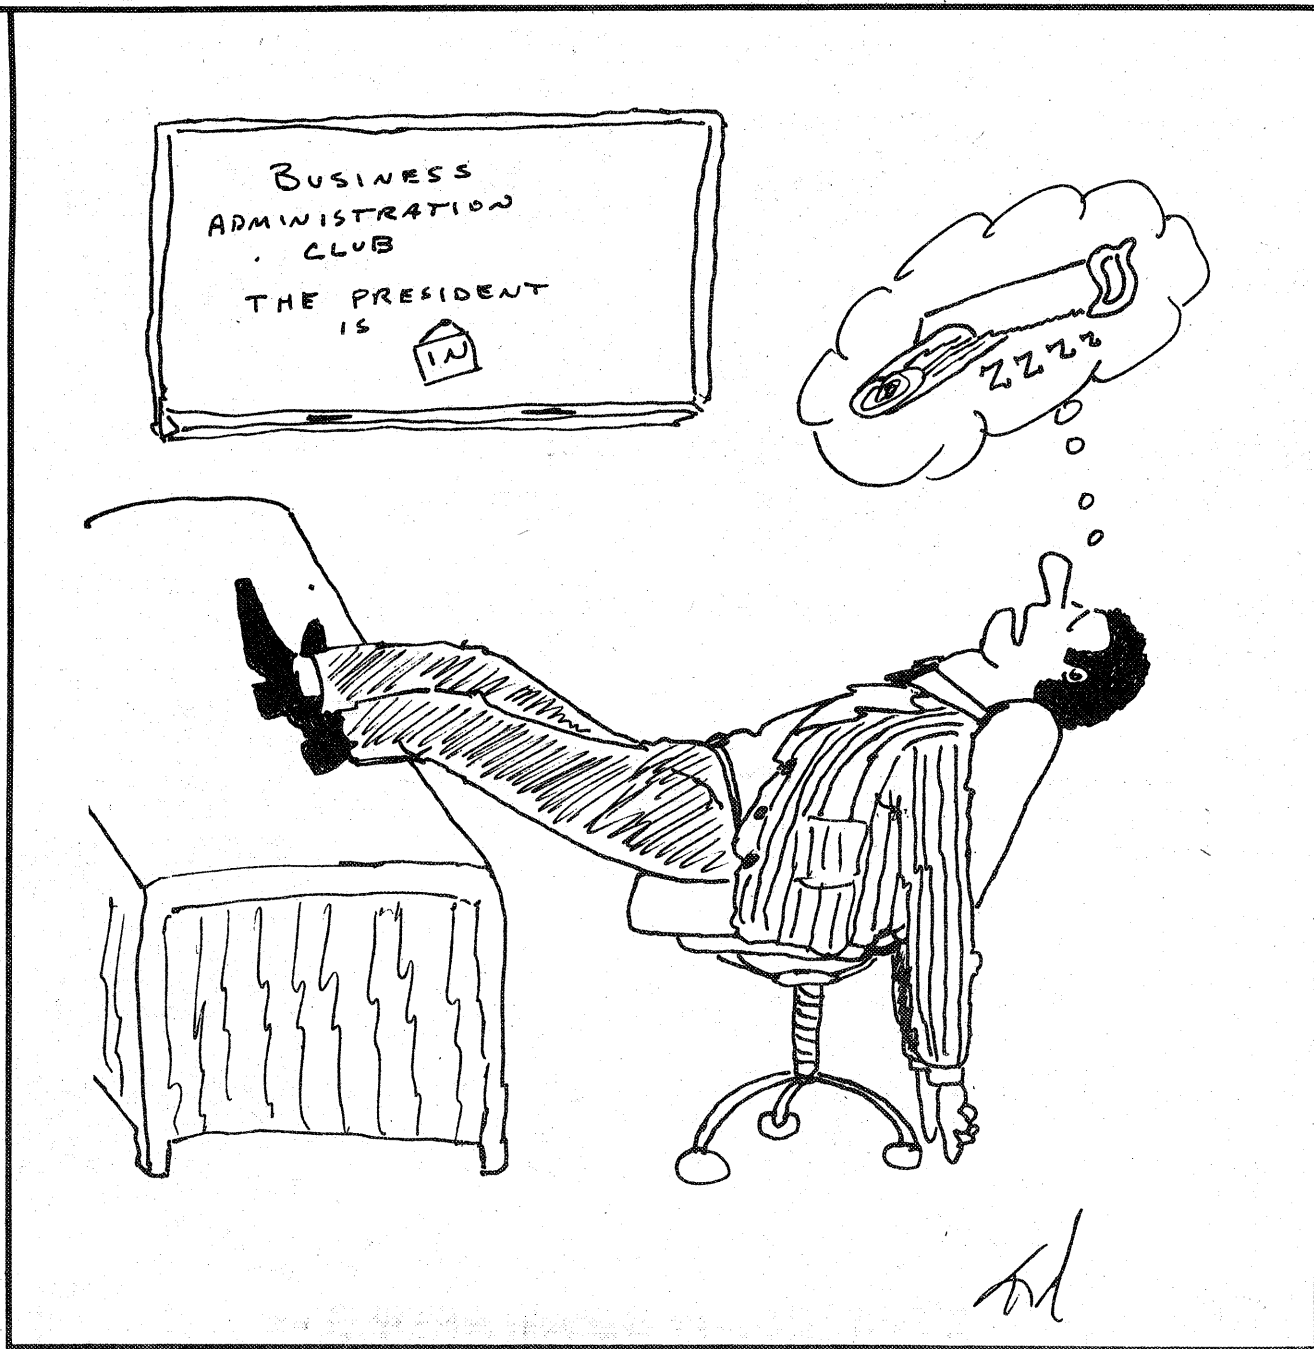

Strikes were almost predictably attacked by you, regardless of the fact that more than 95 percent of all Union negotiations are settled without strike. Incidentally, the United Nations labour amendment states that the right to strike, the right to collective bargaining, and lawful assembly are fundamental basic rights. These same basic rights have either been ignored, or are at present, under attack by the present Alberta Government, and you.

"Condition of the workplace in respect to safety" was explained by you as being within the jurisdiction of the Workers Compensation Board "and if they don't think that the work place is safe then they will close down the business right away" This is a complete fallacy and has no bearing on the real function of the Compensation Board.

In fifteen years I have only once seen an Inspector for the Compensation Board show his face on a job site, much less close the job down. The Compensation Board acts more like an Insurance company taking payments from employers, and increasing or decreasing the payments according to the safety record of the Company, at that particular job. What I have seen over the years though, is a lot of dangerous situations where the employee(usually an immigrant with poor English speaking skills), fearful for his job has undertaken unnecessary risks. The unions try in many of these cases to rectify the situation, but unfortunately can only make their weight felt on the Union jobs.

I believe over the next year or two, we can expect more injuries per capita, that has been experienced in the past ten years of good economic growth..Now that the teeth of the Unions are being drawn.

If Unions have outgrown their usefulness, then so has medicare, and so has the right to free education, so also has human rights for these are issues that have always been dear to the Union movement....Personally I think you suffer from too much second hand news, and a possible addiction to the "Edmonton Sun". Please stick to the facts.

Dear Mr. Boyle:

I am glad that you rebutted my previous editorial on unions. I don't believe, however, that my opinion is just confined to the right wing of this province. Several people that are Ministers of this Province, some Teachers, and business people agree with my statements.

In fact, I don't believe that I am misinformed either. The instructor of my Personnel course, during our chapters on Unions and Collective Bargaining, gave us notes. It was from these notes that I wrote my editorial. Now, I'm not saying that because of one course I am a Union genius, but rather I prefer to say that I am indeed informed.

In your rebuttal, it came across that employers are cold hearted fiends whose only concern is profit. I'm afraid, Mr. Boyle, that that attitude went out about 30 years ago. Employers are also concerned about employees as well.

I gather from your rebuttal that you are a staunch union supporter. Well sir, I am not. In fact, I have not moved from my original stand which was that unions have outlived their purpose.

I shall be more equipped with the correct fact next week when I have the necessary evidence to show that unions are not the best for our economic situation.

One more fact, name me a non-union shop where the employees enjoy the security that union shops do. It isn't fair that someone is kept on longer just because he belongs to the union and not because he is a better worker.

I am looking forward to the next edition when I can try to destroy your "union loyalties" more. Have a nice week, Mr. Boyle.

SCTV

About six years ago, there appeared on the Global Television Network an occasional sign-off card that was reminiscent of the old sign-off card used by the CBC. Who would have guessed then that the sign-off card and everything else in the station of SCTV would become as Canadian as our favourite colour?

This month, the idea will become even better. Starting December 16, SCTV will be appearing on Superchannel-Guy Cabellero's people are moving to Pay-TV. What this move will do to the format of SCTV's skits isn't clear at this time. Whether commercial television will still be made fun of, or more caricature will be made of the Pay-TV world, is something that should become obvious over the next few months. However, given the previous comments of the cast members (who did not appreciate some of the censorship of the NBC and CBC networks), this move to the world of the coaxial cable may provide the lighter reign everyone has been hoping for at Toronto's "Old Firehall Productions".

Since that time, SCTV has evolved from a simple taping of the Second City troupe's stage shows to a slick production that parodies even the parodies of television. The cast has changed slightly over the years (the loss of Rick Moranis and Dave Thomas was made up for by the gain of Martin Short), but the original idea of spoofing television stations, their shows, and their commercials keeps going strong.

What is unfortunate in all of this is that SCTV is not produced here in Edmonton, as it was a short two years ago. Back then, it was fun trying to place where a particular shot was taken, and having SCTV broadcast across the continent proved that Edmonton was not just a centre for football and hockey. However, since Allarcom and ITV are both owned by Allarcom, perhaps the prodigal cast will return.

In the meantime, look forward to some new twists to the old tube. Martin Short as Robin Williams doing an imitation of John Houseman at a McDonald's Restaurant. ### Chem Tech and Instrumentation Cabaret

A short note on the Cabaret presented by Chem Tech and Instrumentation last Friday.

A slow start was noted, taking a long time for people to get up and take the floor. The DJ had a hard time getting the crowd going but once they got rolling, there was no stopping. He mixed up the tunes really good from 50's rock to 80's rock, throwing in a few slow songs for the people who wanted to get-together.

All in all it was a great Cabaret. If you missed it, too bad!

Curly

"Cannibal Girls" (which would be a sequel to a film that Andrea Martin and Eugene Levy actually DID make: "Cannibal Girls"). Dave Thomas as Bob Hope playing a vigilante that shoots drunk drivers in "Get Off the Road". Rick Moranis playing Woody Allen interviewing Woody Allen on the "Talk to Yourself" show. And the possibilities continue.

So, for those who have been lamenting the demise of SCTV from NBC, or were wishing that "The Lost Satellite" would have been found, fear not: in a week, SCTV will be back in force to force you to laugh and force you to see some of the movies and shows that might otherwise be forgotten.

P.S. In case you are wondering, a Canadian's favorite colour is grey....

P.P.S. Michael Jackson's latest rock video was released on Friday. It was produced by John Landis. Now here's the real news about it--it cost a cool one million dollars (that's right, seven figures). Whatever happened to inexpensive home movies?

Next Week: A surprise for those who thought I went too far with last year's Christmas edition of Tube Talk.

OOKS HOCKEY

The NAIT Ooks played two contests over the past week. On Friday, December 2nd, the Ooks were soundly beaten 8-3 by the Red Deer College Kings in Red Deer. At home on December 4th, the Ooks came away with two points by nipping the Camrose Lutheran College Vikings 5-4 at the NAIT Arena.

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 2nd-- RED DEER COLLEGE
KINGS 8, NAIT OOKS 3 at NAIT ARENA

The Red Deer College Kings connected on the powerplay four times enroute to an 8-3 triumph over the NAIT Ooks in Red Deer on December 2nd.

The Red Deer College Kings moved into a 1-0 lead on Bud Langstrom's powerplay effort at 3:52. Nine minutes and 48 seconds followed before the Red Deer powerplay capitalized again. This time Harold Bellerose notched the goal. Randy Repchuk of the Ooks cut the Kings' advantage to 2-1 with 4:17 left in the first period.

With 11:31 elapsed in the second, NAIT's Kevin Imrie tied the game at 2-2. At the 14:35 mark, Rick Hamilton reinstated Red Deer's one goal advantage. John Causgrove increased the Kings lead to 4-2 at 18:04. Hugh McCaskill of NAIT cut Red Deer's lead to one 13 seconds later.

John Causgrove's marker with the man advantage gave RDC a 5-3 lead at the 2:41 mark of the third. Five minutes and 11 seconds Rick Hamilton's second goal of the evening upped the Kings margin to three. Ted Jardine of RDC then found the net at 12:05. One minute and 47 seconds elapsed before Tim Gitzel rounded up the nights scoring for Red Deer.

The NAIT Ooks directed 19 shots at RDC netminder Neal McPheddran. At the opposite end, the RDC Kings blasted 34 drives at NAIT's Cleo Rowein.

SUNDAY, DECEMBER
4 TH - NAIT OOKS 5, CLC
VIKINGS 4 at NAIT ARENA

The NAIT Ooks tallied on three occasions in the final frame to score a 5-4 come-from-behind victory over the Camrose Lutheran College Vikings on Sunday, December 4th at the NAIT Arena.

With 4:45 gone in the second stanza, Kurtis Kuzma tallied for the CLC Vikings. Five minutes and 27 seconds passed before Brad Wagner doubled Camrose's lead to 2-0. At 11:19, CLC's Rob Hamm found the net. Gary Leach of the Ooks foiled the shutout bid of Camrose at 11:32. Two minutes and seven seconds followed before Rob Hamm increased Camrose's lead to 4-1. An excellent effort by Kevin Hayes of the Ooks resulted in a shorthanded tally at 15:54.

At 6:17 of the final frame, Gary Haddon's point shot brought the Ooks to within one on the powerplay. One minute and 16 seconds went by before Mark Schultz of NAIT evened the count 2-20 left in regulation time.

CLC goaltender Wayne Fischer stopped 21 NAIT shots. The Ooks goaltending duo of Preston Yachimec-Cleo Rowein were tested 25 times.

Coach Perry Pearn was very concerned with the showing of the Ooks in their last three contests and commented, "The most important factor in determining our destiny is intensity. Earlier in the season, when we played with a high level of intensity, we had fewer difficulties. This week, we played with half intensity for the first five periods and the team was having problems."

Coach Pearn added that the team will have to have a more even, higher level of intensity throughout the whole 60 minutes. Coach Pearn also stated the team played with an intensity in the third period of Camrose that might have been a bit too high.

One of the major problem areas for the Ooks is penalties. Each member of the Ooks will have to realize the consequences of taking a lazy or retaliatory penalties. The Ooks should avoid retaliation at the point of infraction, but rather take the number of the offender and give him a clean, hard hit on the next shift. In addition, the Ooks must be able to take out their frustrations in other ways than by receiving time in the sin bin.

ON THE BENCH: The NAIT Ooks are in second place in the ACAC with a 7-3 record. Red Deer is first with 9-3 standing... Rearguard Larry Oswald is listed as doubtful for this weekend's action...The NAIT Ooks entertain the SAIT Trojans on Saturday, December 10th in a 7:30 match at the NAIT Arena. On Sunday, the 11th, the Ooks will play host to the Mount Royal Cougars. The action starts at 2:00 pm.

Ooks B-Ball

On Friday, Dec. 2, the Oookpiks travelled to Grant MacEwan to take on the Griffins. The Ooks looked pretty impressive in the beginning; their penetration of the Griffin defence was well orchestrated, their defensive rebounds were crisp, and their movement down the court was well paced. But something happened midway through the first half. The Griffins adjusted to the Ooks offence and began to force it out, away from the key. Near the end of the half the Ooks were forced into turning the ball over a few times. At the half the score was 25-21 for the Griffins.

The second half saw the Griffins force the Ooks defence open at times, enabling them to beat the Ooks to the rebounds. While the Griffins applied tactics, the Ooks applied hard work and sweat as well as their own tactics. Throughout the entire second half, it was a seesaw battle. Everytime the Ooks would tie the Griffins, the Griffins would score to go ahead. With 1:01 to go in the game the score was tied. The Griffins had possession. In about 20 seconds the Griffins scored to go ahead. The Ooks came back but lost possession. In order to get back possession, the Ooks fouled the Griffins. With four seconds left the Griffins make both bonus throws. The final score was 49-45 in favor of the Griffins.

On Friday Dec. 2 and Saturday Dec. 3, NAIT hosted the first ACAC Badminton Tournament of the year. After the dust had settled Red Deer College came in first, SAIT came in second, and NAIT tied with Mount Royal College for third. I talked to coach, Eileen Harle afterwards and she said that the NAIT teams did not play as well as they should have. She said that Les Peterson was the best in the ACAC and that the Men's Doubles team had better "win or Else!". Of Denise Yuha, she felt that she has a "a lot of potential".

Overall Eileen said that there would be changes is all the teams. The next badminton tournament is in March.

Chicks B-Ball

On Friday, Dec. 2, the NAIT OokChicks visited the Grant MacEwan Griffins. Unfortunately they lost 67-47.

The Griffins press early in the game and their zone defence gave the chicks trouble. The Griffins lead until Laverne Holt put the chicks up 19-18 at 6:45. Good offensive penetration by the chicks was not helped by the fact that they had a tendency to stand around on offence. This showed up in the rebounds; the chicks were not getting through enough to get the second shot. To be fair though, there were two fairly hard workers under the backboards: Pattie Marcinyshyn and Susan Tomchuk.

The chicks kept the score close for most of the first half. Near the end though, the chicks ran afoul of some penalties and wound up on the bottom end of a 35-25 score.

In the second half the chicks' luck got worse. Their shots weren't going in, although the shots were on target. To make matters worse, the refs, in my opinion, could not keep a consistent definition of "travelling". There were several instances in which a player would take four steps on her way to the net, or slide when grabbing a loose ball. The obvious call were ignored, while the more discrete infractions were watched and called with a hawk's eye.

But that was not what did the chicks in. The Griffins' fast break was the difference. The chicks were caught up court with the Griffins on the move.

Although they were down, the chicks showed surprisingly defensive tenacity. Several times they either stole the ball or created some other kind of turnover. The bottom line though, was that the chicks couldn't put the basketball through the hoop and had a hard time stopping the Griffin fast break. In the end the chicks lost 67-47.

1983 NAIT Women's Blue-Gold Basketball Classic

Chicks To Host Blue/Gold '83' Basketball Classic

On December 17, 18, and 19, the NAIT Women's Basketball team will host the fourth annual Blue Gold Classic. This tournament will feature four Women's College teams in a round robin competition and light high school girls teams in a single knockout tourney with a consolation side.

The high school division of Blue/Gold '83' features the cream of Edmonton High School teams and the always strong St. Joseph's Ceinahs from Grande Prairie. Defending city champions, Archbishop Jordan Scots will receive strong competition from Ross Sheppard, ME Lazerte, Archbishop MacDonald, McNally, Harry Ainlay and Archbishop O'Leary.

The college divisions will be very competitive with teams from Grande Prairie Regional College, Grant MacEwan Community College, SAIT and host NAIT all having a good shot at coming away with the championship trophy. Grant MacEwan and SAIT are both led by returning conference all-stars Rhonda Wolfram and Lori McNally respectively, while Grande Prairie and NAIT will look to utilize strong team offense and defense to be successful.

The tourney gets underway on Saturday, December 17th at 9:00 AM and continues through Sunday, wrapping up on Monday, December 19th with the College Finals at 5:45 PM and the High School Championship following at 7:30 PM. General admission for Blue/Gold '83' is $2.00 per day or $4.00 for a tournament pass. NAIT students with ID are admitted free.

horoscope

SAGITARIUS: (Nov. 22- Dec. 21) Finances are in a mixed up state today. In other areas, if you make the wrong moves, you'll be able to rectify them.

CAPRICORN: (Dec. 22- Jan. 19)
Friends are willing to do your bidding, (homework too!)-Provided that they do not feel that you are taking advantage in the wrong way. Keep everything on the level.

AQUARIUS: (Jan. 20- Feb 18)
Don't be disappointed if you can't achieve your "goals" today, try again tomorrow. Seek out that special person, and make the effort to keep up the relationship.

PISCES: (Feb. 19- March 20) Friends will want to tell you secrets today, listen and you'll be surprised at what you can learn from them!

ARIES: (March 21- April 19)
Show a willingness to compromise, (don't be a typical Aries)-in other words, in order to get what you want, you'll have to bend a little (heh heh heh!).

TAURUS: (April 20- May 20)
If you fail to appreciate a fellow student's point of view, you could cause more problems than necessary. Try to see things from the other person's point of view. You may get what you set out to in the first place!

GEMINI: (May 21-June 20)
You've been gambling too much again, and this tendency must be curbed! Take the slow and sure way to monetary success. It works! Besides, you find better uses of your time than playing "craps" and listening to "Toilet Rock"

CANCER: (June 21-July 22)
Pleasant experiences are in your future. This is only true though, if you don't go into situations with preconceptions.

LEO: (July 23- Aug. 22)
Attitude is everything today. Especially where school work is concerned. You have not been doing things as they should be done; do what you can to change that.
You should not see things as harder than they really are.

VIRGO: (Aug.23- Sept22)
What you're spending, even though "T's" the season to be jolly, jolly can lead to the "Wallet Blues" later on.
-- Check evrv angle to see how you can save.

LIBRA: (Sept. 23-Oct. 22)
You have a good chance of getting what you want today!
However, be careful that you don't do things selfishly.
This could annoy people, especially that certain someone.

SCORPIO: (Oct. 23- Nov. 21)
Survive to keep your manners and your temper so that you don't react foolishly to the little frustrations. Keep a cool head and all will be okay.
