JUST STUFF

The biggest success of Orientation Week turned out to be a pair of Newfoundlanders with what proved to be a very popular comedy routine. Lambert & James ended up putting on three performances around the school last week. Although I only managed to catch their act in the Naitrium I've been told that audiences at all three showings were equally enthusiastic. The powers that be were so impressed with the way Lambert & James were recieved that they've added the pair to tomorrow's beerfest line-up along with Airwave and Harlequin.

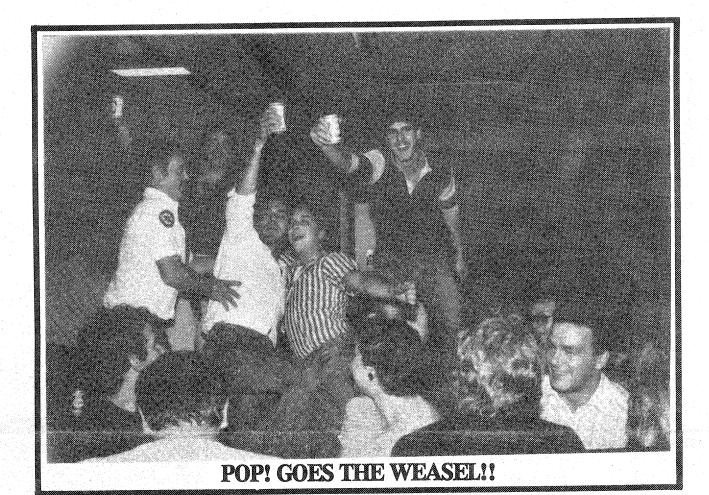

Speaking of Airwave, they are the band that played back up to Doug and the Slugs last year. Looks like we may have the makings of a real fine bash on our hands, but more about that in a while.

Even though Lambert & James were the biggest success of Orientation Week, they were by no means the only. At least four hundred people showed up for the pancake breakfast, with about six hundred more turning up for the Chili supper. The Rock & Talk with Marty Bear proved to be a real fine way to close out a highly successful Orientation Week. Naitsa President Glenn Mason told the Nugget that the student executive had recieved some very positive feedback throughout the week.

well now let's get back to the beerfest. Even though it looks like were gonna have a real good bash, there have been some problems along the way. Naitsa had a verbal agreement with the A.L.C.B. to license the event for two-thousand plus people. Once the band had been signed and the hall rented the A.L.C.B. decided that they were only going to give Naitsa a license for a thousand

It was only through the efforts of Art Hooks that Naitsa was able to get the lords of liquor to increase the license to fifteen-hundred people. If you're having trouble getting a hold of tickets, now you know why.

For those fifteen-hundred with tickets (myself included) it promises to be a good bash. It's due to the fact that it's going to be a good bash that I have to ask a favor of all planning to attend.dont drive There are going to be a lot of beers floating around and the last thing any of us need is to be involved in an alcohol related accident. Use public transit, get together with friends and split the price of a cab, hitch-hike, or get your parents to give you a lift, just don't drive, especially if you're planning on givin er eh!

Marty Bear got the Rock & Talks off to a good start last Friday in front of a pretty good sized crowd. There were some complaints about the twenty-five cent increase in the price of beer, but at a buck and a half it's still a better price than most bars in town. For those of you who don't know, the Rock & Talks are held everysecond Friday in the north cafetorium. Doors open at 4:30 sharp and last call is 7:30:

Here's to a real fine weekend and a slightly bearable Monday.

NAIISA OFFICES COMPLETED

This past summer, the NAITSA offices were rennovated. The total cost came to approximately $55,000. The construction accounted for $36,000 while the rest was placed into dusty pink and pale blue furniture.

The process of redecorating and rennovating was to upgrade the image that our Student Association portrays to those inside and outside the institution. According to NAITSA President Glenn Mason, "We are very pleased with our new offices. With them we hope that people will see that we are professionals acting on a professional basis."

SHINERAMA' 85

Cystic Fibrosis(C.F.) is a non-curable disease which is rated only second to cancer in taking the many lives of children and young adults. One in twenty people carry the C.F. gene, but there is no indication of who the carriers are. Although you or one of the members of your family may never have CF, one of vour children could be afflicted by this disease.

Progress over the past twenty years has increased the life expectancy of a child afflicted from four to over twenty years. These advances have been made possible by continuing research. Due to the fact that CF is such an extremely serious disease, students across Canada and N.A.I.T. are raising money in the annual campaign called Shinerama.

N.A.I.T.s goal for this year is $12 000.00, and many are expected to come out and participate. You can help out by signing your name on one of the many sheets around campus. This years chairman Randy Fibke, is expecting to have many participants join in the shoe-shining blitz. Fot the benefit of those who have CF and for the prevention of CF, please sign up. Shinerama happens Sept.

TAKE BACK THE NIGHT

On Friday September 20, in solidarity with the Canadian Association of Sexual Assault centres, women in Edmonton will be joining women all over Canada on a 'Take Back The Night' walk.

'Take Back The Night 'walks were first or ganized by European women over 10 years ago to protest violence against women, and to symbolically claim their right as women to be free from the fear of violence.

In this society violence against women occur with shocking frequency.

-Every 18 seconds a man batters a woman in her home.

One out of every three women will be raped during her lifetime.

-By age 18, 25½ of girls will have experienced sexual abuse, probably by a family member.

Forty-two percent of working women experience sexual harassment on the job

SHINE TO FIGHT CYSTIC FIBROSIS

More that 450 Edmonton students are expected to participate in the annual Shinerama for cystic fibroses research on Saturday the 28th of September.

Students from N.A.I.T. will nursing students from Royal Alexandra Hospital and Misericordia Hospital, along with medicine students from the Uof a, to shine shoes in various locations around the N.A.I.T. student Randy Fibke the director of Shinerama this year, said they hope to raise $12,000.

'I don't see any problems reaching our goal,' said Fibke. Calgary traditionally raises $14,000, so there's no reason why Edmonton students can't raise $12,000.'

The Edmonton students are part of the more than 14,000 students expected to be shining shoes across the country throughout September and into October.

The money raised will be used to provide support for research grants in the fight to find a cure for cystic fibrosis.

Cystic fibrosis is a hereditary disease affecting the lungs and digestive system, making those afflicted highly susceptible to respiratory infection.

GULP!!!

Overall Orientation Week went over well. Numerous events planned by the NAIT-SA executive were, to say the least very successful.

Although they were well attended and enjoyed, they were somewhat 'DRY' if you know what I mean. The only relief given was on Friday, at the rock'n'talk.

This brings us to the neverending problem that our campus does not have a bar, or lounge, (which ever you prefer to call it). I don't know about you but, I feel like I'm in a temperance colony.

The yearly battle between NAITSA and NAIT will surely surface over the coarse of the year. It's a yearly occurrance, almost a ritual.

The basic argument lies as to where the students could build a facility. NAIT maintains that there is not any room to build a lounge. Their priorities are to find more classroom space, since enrollment has been on a constant increase. NAIT maintains that if there is to be a lounge, that a new building would have to be built.

This is not a very good attempt ot cater to what students really want. My solution would be very simple.

If space is a problem, there is only way, that is up. You know, add on top of the main campus. You could also add a few more classrooms.

When you think about it it's not too bad of an idea . But let's not hold our breaths it'll be sometime before this campus has a bar.

POLICE?

There can be no doubt about man/woman's shoulders. the importance of law and order in society today; therefore, there also can be no Institute and ask the inmates doubt about the importance their opinion on police, the of police officers in today's overall consensus would be society. Once a person has very committed a crime he/she At a correctional institute, with lawyers, preliminary hearing judges, trial judges, guards in rehabilitation centofficers, justices of the peace and/or angry concerned citviewed as the police officer's country. Basically what job to control crime.

The reason for this view is contradicting statements: that it's the police officer's who are out there on the street dealing with the public. Even though a criminal's sentencing is determined by a judge, you won't see a judge chasing drug dealers thru the alleyways downtown. Nor are you likely to teach your child to call a lawyer if he/she gets lost. Those are jobs for the police. and because of their job, society places a great deal of trust, respect and responsibility squarely on a police-

If one were to tour the Fort Saskatchewan Correctional can find themselves dealing this is understandable. What isn't understandable is why the opinion taken from a cross-section of supposedly res, parole boards, parole law-abiding citizens is not much higher than the opinion of those caged up in correcizens; yet it's always been tional institutes across the you've got are two very

1) We as society place a great deal of respect, trust, and responsibility on police officers.

2) An alarmingly large number of individuals in society have no respect or trust for police officers.

Confusing; you bet!

Part of this deterioration of public opinion is due to the fact that over the years, the role of the police has been changing from employees of society to the regulators of society. More and more of our rights and freedoms are being taken away and most of them are done so in the name of justice and/or to make police officers jobs easier.

Police officers are no longer enforcers of the law who have to answer to society; they are the law and answer only to higher ranking police offcers.

Recently a member of the Oilers was arrested for impaired driving. The media got hold of it and now everybody knows. Yet, when was the last time you heard about a police officer arrested for impaired. There are at least twenty times the amount of police officers in this city as there are Oilers, is it conceivable that none of them have been arrested for impaired driving. Or is it dealt with internally and quietly to protect an already tarnished image.

Throughout the last eight years that I have lived in Edmonton there have been numerous cases of people being arrested for no justifiable reason. Reports of people being strip searched on public roadways, a young female diabetic taken downtown and strip searched without due course, a family put thru a night of sheer hell due to a mixup in addresses on a search warrant and a mass murderer paid $100,000.00 and taken back and forth across the country. All occurrences that with a little common sense could've been avoided, but weren't.

Somehow, someway, it has to stop. In order for law and order to work, a police officer has to be able to do his/her job; and in order for a police officer to do his/her job he/she has to have the trust and respect of all members of society. Yet if public opinion continues to deteriorate there will soon be no more respect for police officers in society. It's getting to be time that somebody takes a long hard look at the role of police in today's society.

HELP NOT WANTED

Flora McDonald. Minister of Employment and Immigration has claimed that 100,000 jobs had been created for students this past summer through the Challenge '85 program.

But in fact only 14,000 jobs were created from the past year. This is only one half percentage lower than the previous year. Considering enrollment has increased by approximately 5 percent, there have really been no gains made for students.

The jobs that have been created through the private sector are not always desireable. For example, last year at Student Employment it was not uncommon to see ads that required potential employees to have 2-3 years university plus experience, to work for a wage of $3.80 per hour. The sad thing is that many had no choice and had to take the jobs if to get a student loan.

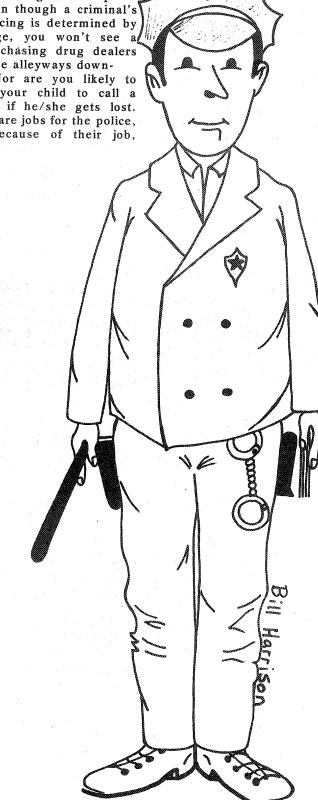

Among the 84,500 jobs created under Summer Employment Experience and Development(SEED), not all were 'career orientated'. Statistics show that 67 percent were aimed at career orientated, 31 percent were work experience, 57 percent were in non-profit organizations, 33 percent in the private sector and 33 percent in municipal government pro-

The SEED programs paid an average of $4.89 an hour and lasted an average 11.7 weeks.

Another program; Student Entrepreneurs was to help students start-up their own business by offering up to $2000 interest-free loan. Only 93 projects got off the ground and they only involved two people per project.

With all the promotion and hype, this past summer, the P.C. government, although creating more jobs this year over last year, failed in building the confidence of students as they intended to.

THANK YOU!!!

Physical Facilities and Services would like to express their thanks and appreciation to the students for their co-operation with the new locker allocation system. Last year at this time we had approximately two hundred students either doubled up with a friend or without a locker. In addition, mid-year students intakes did not have a prayer of getting a locker.

Over the winter and throughout the summer months, with the assistance of the Registrars office and the various departments an allocation system was set up. Based on the number of students registering, locker groups were assigned to the programs then assigned the lockers to the students on an individual basis.

Aword of caution, it may appear that there are empty lockers available throughout the institutuin. Please do not occupy them. They are reserved for programs with staggered intakes such as Hairstying, Business Administration, Apprentices, etc. To those students who hoped to avoid the rush and came in and placed locks on lockers during the summer; if you had books, equipment, etc. in the locker, you may claim your effects by contacting Security at 471-7538.

To The Editor:

Now that everyone is back at NAIT for another year, I have noticed that our old problem is back again.

Garbage!

One has only to look down any hallway, or seating area to find it a great proliferation of cigarette butts, dirty dishes, papers, bags, wrappers, etc.

There are ash trays, and garbage cans within easy reach, and if there is no garbage container in a hall-way, then most classrooms are open, and do have garbage cans.

It never ceases to amaze me as to why people cannot be bothered to put their garbage where it belongs. Perhaps they just do not care.

It is time you, the people of NAIT did care, this is your building to work, to learn, to study, and to play in. So let's all help to keep it clean.

Dear Editor,

Please dont get me wrong. I like NAIT a lot, really. The people are really friendly, as are the teachers, and the cafeteria food is good too. However, there is a matter at hand that really peeves me. This matter is the toilet paper used in a lot of the washrooms I've been in. You know the kind I'm talking about; those annoying little rectangles of wax paper that look more like rolling papers than bumwipe. How does that stuff work? Is there some special technique I don't know about that makes this stuff work? If NAIT is truly a modern institution, then why are we subjected to using W.W.1 surplus toilet paper. The only reason I can think of for this outdated tissue is its low cost.

Perhaps the remedy to the situation is to incorporate a tissue tax into our tuition fees. Now this would be unacceptable to most budget conscious students. Maybe the real solution would be to form a special committee, The Tissue Task Force, to look into the problem and then raise money to buy roll tissue thru a Wipe-o-Rama. Perhaps the bookstore could increase their revenues through the sale of luxurious roll-type bathroom tissue to students in the same boat as me. Thank-you for your time, I needed to get this off my ...

NAIT HOCKEY

Well it looks good for the OOKS again this year. They have 13 veterans back this year and quite a number of talented hockey players are at camp to choose from.As most everyone knows our team won the Canadian College Athletic Association championships last year. Most peole also know of their incredible 53 game winning streak in ACAC regular season and playoff action; their last lost in league play was in Dec. of '83.

Many of the players hope the streak will continue. The first preseason game for the Ooks will be on Friday Sept. 20 against Camrose, bring your i.d. card and your admission is free. The first tournament for the Ooks is in Saskatoon on the 4th,5th, and 6th of October.

There are many new faces at the camp this year Dean Clark-Kamloops Oilers, Darren Schmidt-Seattle Breakers, John Walker and Jeff Pierce- Sherwood Park Crusaders, and Brent Walker-Ferris State are hopefuls and from watching them they should add spice to the team. Of course there are familiar faces at camp this year as well. The Tookey boys are back Mike Spencer, Ross Kenny, Melnyk brothers, Mark Schultz, goalie Kevin Stapleton, and Don Simpson who by the way will be out for a couple of weeks as he 'goes under the knife again on Sept. 27. We did lose a couple of veteran players. Cleo Rowein, Jeff Lastiwka two of our finest goaltenders and forward Sid Cranston are gone and are a loss but it shouldn't hurt the team very much.

The Ooks ore aiming for another Canadian Championship. With the 13 veterans returning, and the strong newcomers we will be hard to Beat. We have a number of goals to accomplish:

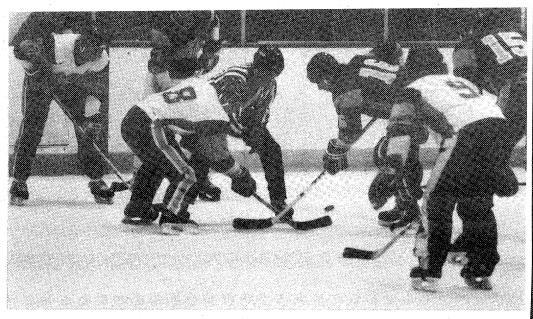

- 1. Canadian Championship title.
- 2. Continue the winning streak.
- 3. Viking International Cup
- 4. University Invitational Tournament.
- 5. Ronald McDonald Cup against the Golden Bears.

Most of the newcomers realize now that the NAIT Hockey program means business. Everyone including COACHES, TRAINERS, AND PLAYERS MUST DE VOTE A LOT OF TIME IN ORDER TO BE SUCCESS¶ FUL AGAIN.

It looks to be a good season and I hope many of the NAIT students will become avid

THE GREAT NORTHERN TOBOGGAN RACES

I'm not sure if many students at NAIT have heard about the exciting sport of concrete toboggan racing, but it happens every year. If you have missed it you'll have a chance at it in 1986, probably during reading week, although the dates haven't been set as of yet. Last year the phenomenal function was held in Winnipeg, Manitoba. 36 students from NAIT attended last year. We chartered a bus, carried on as much beer and other neccessities as possible drove to Winnipeg and had a great lost weekend.

But seriously, it is a great time and becomes quite interesting when building the actual toboggan. The toboggan must be under 250 lbs. and the bottom made out of concrete. There are six members on a team, four riders and two pushers, one of the pushers jumps on a the toboggan hits the start line. Then its a gruelling and spectacular ride down the skihill at breakneck speeds of up to 20 m.p.h. Concrete tobogganing combines the skills of bobsledding, luging and partying together to create a funfilled weekend. If you are interested in this Incredible sport contact me at the Nugget or the Activities. director Jim McCoy at NAITsa offices.

TALK AT THE TALK ROCK

Friday, sept. 13th was the first Rock'n' Talk of the year. As entertainment editor, it was my job to cover this event, commenting on what had occurred, and possibly asking one or two questions about the world around us.

To begin with, this Rock'n' Talk was greatly anticipated. The first week of classes were a virtual battle for all, and everyone wanted to cut loose a little bit.

There were a few standouts in the crowd, who cut loose completely. The first to come to mind is none other that James THE WEASEL, Stewart, Emergency Med Tech. Yr. 1, who, when encouraged by performer Marty Bear, to do an Elvis Presley impression jumped at the chance. Women screamed ecstatically over James'gyrating hips! The Weasel's friends told me was trained by Nando Fernandez because...he looked marvelous!

Cathy, Marketing, Year 2, reflected on the idea for quite some time, and then thoughtfully replied, 'A whorehouse is about the only thing they don't have and I'm not going to say that.' Well, you did Cathy, but wait, listen to this!

But this was not the only discovery of the evening, for, besides being full of liquor, everyone was also full of ideas For example, when asked this questions: If you were one of the Ghermezians, what would you plan next for West Edmonton Mall ? Here were just some of the Frank, Admin Man.yr 2 said he'would like a Mt. Blackstrap like the one in Saskatchewan' so he could ski year round. He would also like to open up a house of ill repute.

replies:

When I posed the same question to a group of Med Lab yr 1 students they responded as follows:

'Build a big whorehouse!' Mark.

'no, no, no,!A chipendale strip joint! 'Lydia.

Carman, also a Med Lab i student was a little more professional, she said, 'I would open up a kinky sex machine service complete with whips, chains and pink fuzzy handcuffs. Also, a participating audience 'Blue Movie' theatre.'

Besides answering pressing questions, people got a little wild too, (thanks to Marty Bear's instructions). Marty told all the males in attendance that if they placed their right hand over their right eyebrow and a finger to their nose while approaching a female, it would mean that they wanted to sleep with that particular woman.

Well, Debbie, Court Reporting, yr.2 was approached by several dashing young fellows at the same time, and when I asked her what she thought of this, she replied, 'Oh well, as long as they're having fun, I guess.'

Debbie, you summed up the evening perfectly, as the Rock'n' Talk was fun, and a wild time was had by all.

KINGSWAY GARDEN MALL

(GOURMET GARDEN)

THE ACCESS BROAD CASTING NETWORK Fridays, 9:00 p.m. - Sept. 20

Set in the 1900s, this absorbing drama tells the true story of Vera Brittain, daughter of well-to-do English businessman. Unlike other girls of her time, she was determined to earn an education at Oxford. Her adored brother, Edward, was expected to go, and Vera could see no reason why her sex should debar her from going to University. By sheer determination and hard work she succeeds all opposition to her plan and gains entry to Sommerville Col-

When Vera meets Roland Leighton, a school friend of Edward's, they fall in love, but are separated when World War I breaks out and Roland joins the army. Vera plunges enthusiastically into Oxford life but, as a result of Roland's graphic descriptions of the fighting in France, volunteers for nursing, eventually going overseas.

Vera's life is radically changed. She experiences the pain and grief of the loss of Roland, of two close friends, and last of all, of Edward, all killed on the battlefield.

The Armistice in 1918 frees Vera to return to Oxford, albeit embittered, lonely, and withdrawn. But, eventually, she recovers from the effects of war and a writer and peace worker.

Join Vera Brittain in 5 one-hour episodes, Fridays at 9:00 p.m., starting September 20th, as she struggles to cope with a tragic, early womanhood and finally meets a man with whom she feels there is a "meeting of minds".

THEATRESPORTS

Theatresports, is a unique, and often hilarious, combination of the worlds of entertainment and sporting competition. It pits two teams of wily improvisors in nose to nose combat, in scenes as suggested by the audience. These scenes are scored by a panel of three discerning judges who award points for entertainment value on a five point scale(zero is boringfive is unattainable). Theatresports, developed in Calgary by Keith Johnstone, and now played world-wide, boasts being the only nonnative art form ingenious to Alberta. The opening of the 85/86 Theatresports season is in two weeks, Sunday, October 6 at 8:00 p.m.If you would like to find out more about this exciting form of entertainment call: 474-6111 or drop into the Theatre Network, 11845-77
