NORTHERN ALBERTA INSTITUTE OF TECHNOLOGY STUDENTS' NEWSPAPER

CLASSES ARE OVER !

Students from Millwork and Carpentry jumped for joy when classes ended on Friday. It was the last day of their first year apprenticeship.

NAIT Bored of Govenors re-elect President

"Hail Schmidty" were the B.O.G.'s words of praise to President Schmidty Van Slouch who was elected for his second consecutive term as NAIT President.

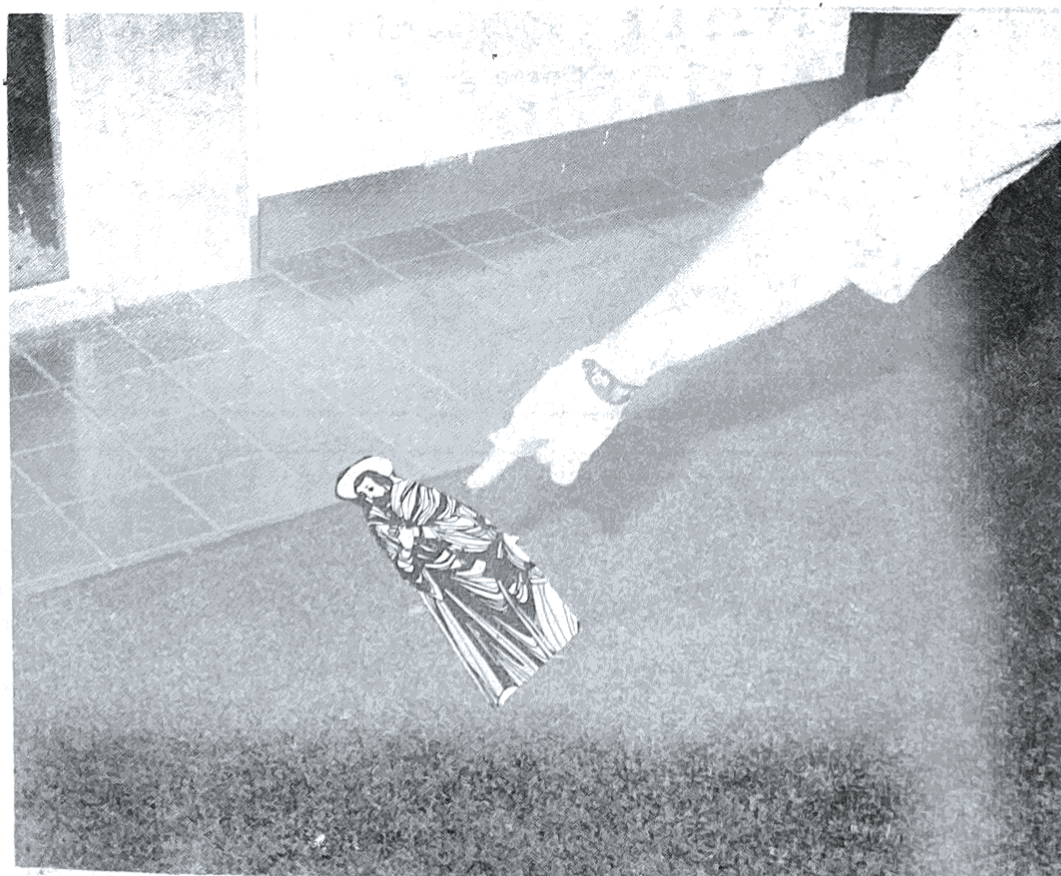

Members gathered at Kingsway for dinner and entertainment (provided by Miss Ivory Towers) for the reappointment of Dr. Slouch. "Oh, he's a regular", stated Miss Towers, "he really enjoys my show, especially the noon hour special".

An identified bored member stated after the meeting, "he threatened us to vote for him. You know, his office is just a facade. There's a gas chamber hidden behind his book-case."

The Fuggit questioned Slouch as to some present NAIT policies. Regarding sexual harassment Slouch was quoted as "I'm definitely working on it." And on NAITSA. "We plan to exterminate NAITSA." They're just a bunch of sniveling brats. They will never get zat campus bar."

At the meeting two NAIT students were inducted into office. The students were forced to read Mein Kempf three times in Hebrew, and then they were shot dead.

Christ appears at NAIT

Thousands of people from Edmonton have lined up to see what has been described as a miracle. A figure of Jesus Christ has appeared in the Naitrium, directly beneath a television which plays MTV.

NAIT janitor Antonio Pascuali was the first to spot the figure during his regular 4:00 p.m. to 12:00 midnight shift. Mr. Pascuali spoke to the Fuggit with the help of his translator.

"You know, I've always been a devout Catholic, but Holy Shit, I never thought I'd see something like this."

NAIT President Slouch has asked the Roman Catholic Church to investigate. There has been, however, some skepticism on Slouch's part. "You know, it just might be those idiots from Chem Tech screwing around with chemicals again. I've told them time and time again, "Never play with nitrogen, bromide, and chloride while watching the Y&R."

The NAIT FOUNDATION has set up a booth outside the Naitrium. An entrance fee of $5 for adults, $2.50 for students, and children under six free has been implemented. "We thought we'd cash in since the car raffle was a flop," stated one official.

"...Chem Tech screwing around with chemicals again."

GARBAGE

Secret Time Distortion Experiments Discovered At NAIT

A NAIT Instrumentation student has discovered evidence of time distortion experimentation in organic chemistry classes. A survey of organic chem students shows startling similarities in the students inability to properly gauge time intervals once class begins. Typically, the student estimates about a half hour has passed and yet when he looks at the clock the class has only been in progress for 5 minutes. The grossness of the distortion increases proportional to the real time length of the period. Most students report that after only 45 minutes of class time they feel as if they had been in class all day long.

Inquiries into the possibility of such experiments have been staunchly denied by the organic chemistry department. Yet, the question remains, are organic chemistry students hapless guinea pigs in sinister secret time distortion experiments?

The investigation continues.

NAIT BABYLONIA

The new plans for the NAIT beautification program were released today, May 23.

The plans call for the demolition of Kingsway Garden Mall, Plaza II, and Trochu, Alberta.

"We've tried to model the new-look after the Vatican Gardens, and we are confident it will be the largest, most elaborate campus grounds in the world", states Gator Gherweezian, developer.

Additional projects currently on the Triple Triple Developer's drawing board call for a blue whale aquarium, launching pad for small spacecraft, and a 65,000 foot high tower with a revolving restaurant. All for NAIT.

Thatchermania at Expo

Guest appearance throws crowd into a cheering frenzy.

Britain's first woman Prime Minister, Margaret Thatcher, was among the high profile figures that made a guest appearance at Britain's Expo pavilion today.

Rock star, Elton John and his date, the Queen Mum, both arrived at the pavilion to an enthusiastic applause by onlookers. However, the crowd went from enthusiastic to frantically cheering and screaming when the "Iron Lady" pulled up to the pavilion in her gray limousine.

"I couldn't believe it!" said one exasperated fan, "Margie is everything a Prime Minister should be. She's just sooo lovely and elegant!"

Said another onlooker: "I've never seen hair look so crisp. It's as if it were glued to her head or something. It just defies description!" "She walks and talks just like she does on TV," added one woman, "and her clothes, ohhh her clothes! Any woman would kill for that dress."

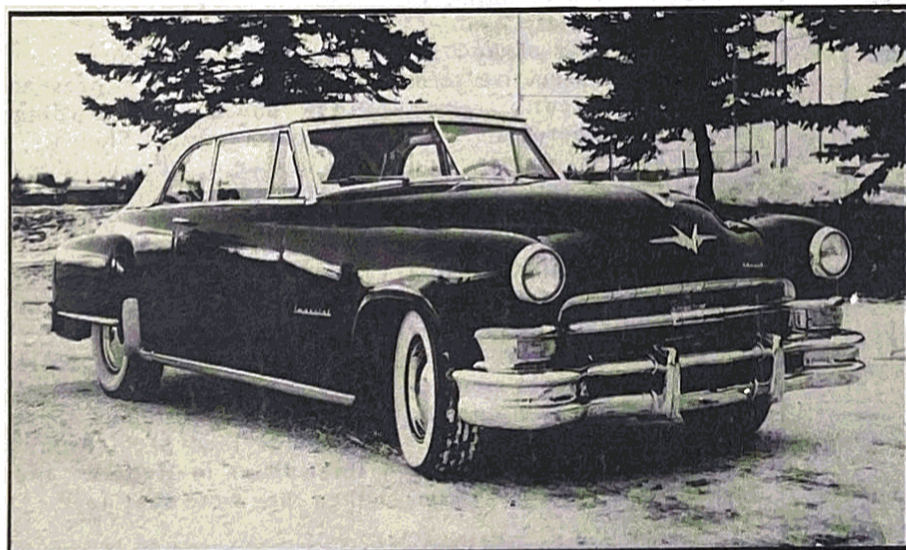

Mrs. Thatcher will be at Expo for one more day and then she will tour Japan.

An Epidemic

It's an epidemic. It's sweeping the world. It's the Brick. Children stop playing with their toys, old ladies drop their groceries in the street, housewives leave pots boiling on the stove when the ever-immortal Michael Bell appears on the screen. Beware. He's watching you.

The Fuggit is not an official anything. It is the product of depraved and overworked minds. It could be published once a year. If it is, it's published at the end of an academic year so no one can give us shit. Some of the articles in here may reflect the views of the staff, but if they do, we're not telling. Anyone offended or turned off by the Fuggit...DON'T COME WHINING TO US. Take your complaints somewhere else. Anyone who enjoyed the Fuggit should slip a twenty under our door and then have their head examined. Submission deadline is Monday at 4 a.m. for next year's issue. ## FLASH!

On Monday, May 19 at 7 p.m. (NBC), Barbara Walters was doing a documentary on the customs of American Indians. After a tour of a reservation they were on, she asked why the difference in the number of feathers in the head-dresses.

She asked a brave who only had one feather in his head-dress and his reply was, "me have onl one squaw, me only have one feather."

She asked another brave, feeling the first fellow was joking. This brave had four feathers in his head-dress, he replied, "Ugh, me have four feathers because me sleep with four squaws."

Still not convinced the number of feathers indicated the number of squaws involved, she decided to interview the Chief.

Now the Chief had a head-dress full of feathers, which, needless to say, amused Ms.

Walters. She asked the Chief, "Why do you have so many feathers in your head-dress?"

The Chief proudly pounded his chest and said, "Me Chief, me fuck-em all, big, small, fat, tall, me fuck-em all". Horrified Ms. Walters stated, "You ought too be hung". The Chief replied, "You damed right, me hung...Big like Buffalo, long like snake."

Ms. Walters cried, "You don't have to be so damed hostile." The Chief replied, "Hoss-style, Dog-Style, Wolf-Style...Me fuck-em all."

Tears in her eyes, Ms. Walters cried, "Oh Dear", the Chief said, "No deer... Asshole too high and fuckers run too fast...Me no fuck-em deer."

NAIT Crimestoppers:

Exclusive Pics of Parkade Molestor

On Tuesday, May 20 between 8 p.m. and 9:30 p.m., an unidentified man was captured on film attempting to abduct women as they walked to their cars. Edmonton City Police have not yet identified the man pictured and are asking for the public's help on this one. If you know this man, please call Detective Fred at 429-TITS.

True Confessions :

"I Walked Into My Interview Cold"

"So, Mr. Jones, why do you want to work for us?" I eyed the man across from me intently. With his gray suit and red tie, he could have passed for a consultant. Wait a second, I thought with a chill. Maybe he is a consultant. It was then that the terrible truth dawned on me: I'd been granted many interviews over the past few weeks: which company was this? "I say, Mr. Jones, why do you want to work for us?" I refused to let my composure be shattered. Two hard years of Marketing Management had taught me never to shy away from subjects I knew nothing about. "Why would anyone with my interests want to work for you? Because your one of the real innovators in the industry. That's why!" My smile stretched from ear to ear.

"And I hear it's a great place for a NAIT Grad to work. The man's face grew cold, quizzical. "An innovator? To be honest, I've never heard us called that before." The pieces started to fit together. Not an innovator; clearly, the company must be in a slow-moving industry, like oil. His eyes narrowed. "Perhaps you'd like to tell me your qualifications for the position. Oil. That probably meant being a foreman in a plant somewhere. I made my voice icy calm: "My primary qualifications stem from my drilling rig experience. I have a great deal of training supervising men." "Supervising men?" He looked incredulous. "But you must know that in our firm it will be at least three years before you are promoted to management trainee."

Damn, I thought. What could it be? Maybe it was that off-the-wall advertising job I had written to. It was worth a try. "You will notice on my resume that I have extensive experience in advertising and communications. That would undoubtedly be useful to you." "Useful?" he said in disbelief. There was silence. It grew oppressive. Marshaling all my resources, I started to laundry list my abilities. "I can write songs."

Silence...Nix Stoney Plain Records. "I'm a qualified colour TV repairman."

Silence...Cross out Shulberger. "I can read upside down in a mirror." Silence...Drop the Progressive Conservatives "I've never written a bad cheque."

Silence...Clearly not the Royal Bank. "I like coffee." Silence...Not even Nabobs.

"I've developed a new concept computer model that forecasts stock prices with unprecedented accuracy."

The man leaned forward, suddenly intense. "Fascinating. And what was the first thing your model told you to do." I smiled. "Sell some short", he beamed. "Mr. Jones, you've got the job. Give my office a call tomorrow and we'll work out the details." I shook his hand and left too embarrassed to ask who had hired me. Now it was too late to find out.

Oh, well, perhaps there would be other job offers. But never again would I dare to enter a interview cold!

Scandal: NAITSA Overbudget! $150,000

Ace reporter Stoney Turkeyloaf uncovered a land mine yesterday, May 22. During an in-depth interview with 1985-86 NAITSA Treasurer Charo Manslowe, it was discovered that NAITSA had a $150,000 discrepancy between budgeted and actual income statements.

Manslowe has flatly denied the interview took place, but when Turkeyloaf presented her with a tape recording of the interview she admitted to the scandal.

"Gosh, golly, it might be a transposition error, but if it isn't, well, I just don't know," Manslowe said.

The tape of the interview had Charo Manslowe admitting to the NAITSA Exec's squandering of student monies. In the recording, Ms. Manslowe said that money had been spent on several Executive trips to Jamaica.

"We are under a lot of pressure. We needed these trips to re-energize," Charo explained in the interview.

Turkeyloaf questioned NAITSA President Glengarry Masson about Manslowe's comments, but Masson could only say, "Shit! She didn't say anything about the parties, did she?" He was later seen scampering into a washroom near the Activities Centre toting several small plastic packages.

Closer scrutiny of the financial statements has revealed that over $150,000 was included under miscellaneous expense.

Assistant Dean of Student Services, Bub Hooks, could not explain the expense. "Well, sometimes these things slip by without anybody catching them."

The investigation continues.

NAIT Paddler Bathes in Glory

NAIT paddler, Bob O'Donnell convincingly beat all opponents at last weekend's ACAC Canoe Paddling Showdown.

"I paddled like a sumnabitch," said O'Donnell, "I did!"

Bob opened the day winning the first heat against SAIT's Ungowa Runningeagle. "I paddled like a sumnabitch against them guys...I did!" exclaimed the accounting student. He went on to win the entire ACAC Showdown by darting past Red Deer College, Camrose, Mount Royal, and Medicine Hat, all decisive victories. "To be good at this business, you gotta paddle like a sumnabitch. I did! I'm a sumnabitch and I won!"

Dave Hunted To Speak at Nait

NAITSA has confirmed that Dave Hunted will be at NAIT next Tuesday, May 27 from 3:30 to 21:00 in the NAIT Little Theatre.

Hunted, Edmonton Tankers hockey superstar, expressed his sincere gratitude for this opportunity to speak to students. "Ishe really think I've got sommin to shhay to dem stu, stu, stude...kids." Hunted said.

Hunted has had a difficult season this year with the Tankers. After the crushing defeat from the Calgary Flames, no hockey player on the team has been the same. Drug problems have infested the ranks. Even Hunted has admitted to the occasional use of illicit drugs.

Hunted has indicated though that his talk at NAIT will leave the problems with the Tankers alone. The topic of his speech will be: "Respect the law, or else...get a good lawyer."

Admission is not free.

McDreary Ends own life.

Fuggit columnist Frett McDreary brought his own existence to an end last Sunday in a southside McDonald's restaurant.

McDreary, who wrote a gripe column in the Fuggit for six weeks, walked into the restaurant with the intention of facing the one thing he feared and hated the most—McDonald's food. He stepped up to the counter and ordered two 20-packs of Mc Nuggets, six Filet-o-Fish, twelve cheeseburgers, nine regular french fries, and seven boxes of McDonald-land cookies—all of which he quickly devoured in a five-minute feeding frenzy. Seconds later, McDreary was on the floor shaking and writhing, as he choked and gasped in a vain attempt to get the vital oxygen he needed to survive.

son who apparently couldn't deal with some of life's little idiosyncracies, things like: why do 7-11 stores which are open 24 hours a day have locks on their doors?

"The man was a fucking cry-baby", says Moron Lovejoy, entertainment editor of the Fuggit. "He was always whining about the silliest things. You know, like, instant teller cards were a conspiracy to invade on our privacy, and stuff. I never really liked his material, but I had pages to fill. I mean, I'm a full time student here and I've got this entertainment section to fill up, so I take whatever I can get."

McDreary was described by his co workers at the Fuggit as a terminally morose person who apparently couldn't deal with some of life's little idiosyncracies, things like: why do 7-11 stores which are open 24 hours a day have locks on their doors?

Blast At Bonnie Doon Hall!

On May 4, 1984, a series of unusual events led to the eventual eruption of energy that shook the neighborhood surrounding Bonnie Doon Hall 3 solid hours.

According to reports from inside sources, the disturbance was due to the "Hydrocarbon Blowout" scheduled by the Northern Alberta Institute of Technology. This experiment was designed to test the endurance and fortitude of approximately 250 selected participants.

It is also rumored that an association going by the name of "Pulsar Music Productions" was involved. A wide variety of musical selections was heard in the immediate vicinity. Mrs. Burnett, an elderly lady residing at 9209-93 street remarked, "Like, unreal! The music was like.... totally awesome!"

Never-the-less, all those present seemed in good repair and it has been heard that another, similar event will be scheduled next year.

Do You Know What Your Business Instructors Are Doing?

Many people ask the question "What do Business Instructors do?" To answer you frankly, they're thinking of striking. It seems like they want what every one wants. More pay, more students, and most important more work to do.

We asked Mr. Wong Tong, a Fait business instructor, how far the teachers are willing to go, his only reply was that they would go to the end of the world for these students. If we have to strike we will." These people are truly dedicated to the students cause. When we asked Sarry Holberman what he thought, his reply was that "We are so o o bored, we had to think up this strike idea just to keep ourselves busy."

When I called Mr. Berry Paired, Head of Accounting and Finance had no comments on the subject since he was winning in a game of hearts with the other instructors. Other "head" instructors were out at a meeting, (hearts) when I called on them.

Most of the student I have talked to have the same opinion that the instructors have. One person said that they do more work than the instructors do. This is very evident since so many projects are assigned as the end of the year approaches. All the teachers have to do is look at a made up copy made by a PHD and other Phsychos who think they know what they are doing. Exams are put on a 4 year rotation so that 3rd year students don't get the same exams. Pretty smart for our instructors.

The strike is scheduled for exam week so that Mr. Seethrum, Seeth can think about the upcoming year. By Over Taxed Return

Introducing - The New Fugget Boss!

SPURTS

SPOOKS X's AND O's

A record crowd of one person (that was me) showed up as the FAIT SPOOKS took on our rivals from SAIT for the intercollegiate X's and o's championship. As usual for this event, only our best jocks get to participate in this prestigious event. Their bodies have to be at least 85 percent muscle with an I.Q. of not over 50.

With Sait's good reputation in this event, FAIT had to practice 12 hours a day. And this year, SAIT lived up to its reputation by barely beating Medicine Hat and Olds College for the Southern Alberta Championship. In the Northern Alberta Championship, FAIT easily won over Grant MacEwan and Red Deer College.

In their earlier match-up this year, SAIT narrowly won the womens and mens events over our members. But at this match-up, our people were at their best in this mind gruelling event, and made up for their near loss and walked all over SAIT.S

In the mens section, 5 of our best nerds were against 5 of their best nerds. Each person won all 5 of their games while in the womens event, it was a bit closer as only 4 out of 5 won their event. It was only by Buleah Ballbreakers fantastic move that stopped her opponents drive for victory.

The only problem with this match was that it took 48 hours to play, therefore our players got no rest.

Good luck to our teams in the Nationals that are going to be held in Ponoka in two weeks. Come on fans, lets go there and support our nerds!

BOMB IN TOWER

On Friday, May 4th, FAIT went through a horrible nightmare when a bomb exploded in the tower. The bomb went off at approximately 12:15 in the tower lounge and 45 people were killed or injured. FAIT Security is trying to clear the wreckage for survivors but almost all hope is given up.

A group from Plaza Two calling themselves BKTA (Be Kind to Animals) is claiming responsibility. Insiders say, this was done because they are upset that the Main Campus has a tower and they don't. They are saying that if we don't give them a tower, they will blow up the appredice wing. Top officials at FAIT are telling them to go ahead, because they never really wanted them anyway.

A person in the tower when it happened, says it went off in the southwest corner where people were playing hearts. Firemen were there in seconds, while flames were getting stronger. Fred said the firemen had there nets set up and 100 jumped to safety when suddenly the flames got very hot and one secretary jumped. According to Fred, who had already landed in the net, a rather large secretary, about 500 pounds jumped and the firemen tried to hold the net but couldn't as it split. She made it, but the 20 who jumped after her didn't. There would have been a possibility of survival if she had stayed on the ground (known as the trampoline effect), but she didn't.

More on this headline at 10:00 o'clock.

"The Change" by Scoop Nosey

The Fugget has just been informed of further changes to the Fait's system. This system quoted by Dr. Starsky Hutch, is said to put everybody's mind at rest. It will change from the present 3 term system to a more satisfactory system.

This system will ensure that the workload will be slackened, tests will be fair and you will get out of school a month earlier than the Arties at the University.

Dr. Hutch informed us that this plan might be put into effect next year if he doesn't lose his job. The plan calls for all the teachers to meet in a remote area to discuss Dr. Hutch's plan. While they are at this seemingly innocent meeting, he will get all the teachers pissed to the gills so that they won't understand his speech. Which incidently will be spoken in an Egyptian dialect.

This is what Dr. Hutch will propose:

- A four day week (to make it to Tessa on time)
- One quarter system (for fewer exams)
- One month off for Christmas (of course to be with our families)
- Two weeks off in March (to get away from our families and go skiing)

The plan had it's downfalls of course. For one, each course has one test, THE FINAL which will be worth 100 percent in some courses. Secondly, there will be 12 classes a day, starting at 8 am and finishing at 8 pm, eliminating night school forever. Lastly, there is no chance to drop a course since it will be your only chance to take it, that means tough luck for you buddy!

This so called reporter interviewed some people on this subject and got differing answers, such as: "Your FUGGETED" or "I don't know BOB" to "Where's the party" or "Good for us acidheads, man". One person did get violent, but it took only four guys to pull me off of him.

The Fugget's view on this change is summed up in this small sentence: We won't be here next year, thank god.

What do you think? Write us, we may even read your letters. We are at BCB, in the CBC building. They will not be published or even considered. The laugh will be on you.

To All Students and Staff

Please answer the following survey. We need your opinion (even though they really won't way our decisions). Save us the trouble of reading them by depositing them in the nearest waste basket.

IF YOU FIND ANY GODAM MISTAKES IN THIS GODDAMN PAPER, CORECT THEM YOUR GODDAMN SELF!!!!!!!

Isreal comes to terms with the Arab World

(-UPI ) Ariel Sharon, Israel's Defence Minister, yesterday gleefully revealed to the World that, yes, Israel has joined OPEC. The Arab World was in somewhat of a tizzy when Israel discovered oil in the Golan Heights while testing their new, direct from Dallas, Hydrogen Bomb. Menachem Begin, that peace loving ex-prime minister of Isreal, seized this opportunity for more press (and more free advertising for his American Corporation) and decided to agree to negotiate with Isreal's Arab neighbors on Isreal's behalf. Said Menachem, as he opened a bottle of fresh goats milk to celebrate the occasion, "If I don't get a Nobel this year, I'll wear a turbin."

In exchange for Israel's cooperation With the Arabs in International Oil dealings, the Arab World has recognized Israel as a nation. This however, did not come about easily as Israel also insisted on at least some peace in the area. The Arabs argued whole-heartedly and the following deal has been made:

In exchange for seven weeks of peace, the Isrells have agreed to train the Arabs in the Israli method of terrorism, which is, by the way, generally accepted to be the best in the world.

Now the P.L.O. and the rest of the Arabs will be able to kill even more people with even fewer Russian made weapons. Moemmar Khadaffi expressed satisfaction at this new deal as the Arab method of fighting inefficiently was forcing the Russians working at the Libyan supply depots to overtime. AK47's shoot so fast says Abdul Dada, a Libyan shipyard worker. U.S. President Ronald Reagan has expressed praise for Israel's desire for peace. "I can't believe it" Ron said, "Israel has discovered a way to screw the great ole U.S. of A twice! Now they make money off of us by charging us inflated oil prices and, since I need the electoral vote of New York, Pennsylvania and Miami Beach to get re-elected, we're still going to send all the weapons that they want, and we'll still happily pay the bill. I sure hope that Nancy taught our kids how to make 72 year old Russian Presidents look as stupid as buddy Menachem has just made me look...Now where did you say we should mine next?...Ottawa?"

with all of this peace going on, you'd think that the powerful Israeli army wouldn't have anything to do. Well Israel got a special treat from Moemmar Khadaffi of Libya as he used his considerable influence in Ethiopia to convince that country's army to start making raids into Israel. Now Instead of Muslim Arabs killing Jews it will be Muslim African Blacks killing Jews.

Hearing this news, Haken Goldenberg, an Israeli General said "Great, a new challenge! I've become so bored blowing up Beirut and you know... I've never killed a blackman." Goldenberg said he hoped that he could start using the newly arrived Napalm on the Ethiopian refugee camps right away. Hopefully our body count should be up to 20000 by the Passover" he said.

Isn't it great, everyone seems so happy. It's almost too good to be true. We here at UPI think that it's about time some good news comes out of the world scene. We sure hope it keeps up.

FARTSA REJECUTIVES PAGE

FARTSA Rejects in their daily routine

T Hello. I'm Blaze Starre. The following is an "exclusive" interview with Dish Looney, Pub. Chairman of Fartsa's Fartsa Rejecutive Committee. Hold on tight, here we go!

FARTSA Rejecutives Comments on their term in office

This reporter was thinking that before he wrote on how he thought the Fartsa Rejecutives did this year that he would listen to them in their office before he asked them. Then he could write up his viewpoints on how they did this past year.

This is what I overheard: Lets start with the President Zebra Dykilchuk.

Zebra: I have so much to do an I have to go to this meeting. By the way Nike, how does my hair look? Nikel, can you handle Fart for me? Tell him I'm indisposed. Don't tell him what we're planning for him, okay? I'm off.

Now let's turn to Nikel Snederick, Vice President:

Nikel: Can anybody help me with the upcoming Mickey Mouse drive for disabled mice? I really could use it. Nina, can you type up a few letters for me? They are going to radio stations for help on this project. Oh, by the way, if Fart comes here to talk to Zebra, tell him we are both going out and to talk to Harry, okay? Tell Harry to tell Fart what we are planning for him, okay? Zebra, said it was so important.

Now lets go to Harry Clearnose, our Activities Chairman:

Harry: Oh gosh (ha-ha-ha), golly the next Rock an Talk is in three days, guess I should get people to help me out! Hey Joe, would you be a dear and help me out with this Rock and Talk? Golly thanks, I knew I could count on your help in this. I am so happy, I could kiss you Joe. But you know, I could never go out with any girl whose bigger than me. Oh my, I better not keep my other harem members waiting. Maybe Bayley can help me also. She's always a sucker for me, she will do anything I ask. Oh Nina, can you type me out a letter to Dr. Sues thanking him for all his help at the Queen's Ball? You know, where he was whispering in my ear, all the things to say, yeah that! Maybe I'll call Weenie and see if I can get lucky tonight. Oh ya, Nina can tell Dish that If Fart comes in the Zebra and Nike told me to tell her to tell him that she is supposed to tell Fart what we are planning, okay? Bye!

Now lets turn our attention over to Dish Looney, our Publications Chairperson:

Dish: I think it's time to bitch at the Fugget staff again, I haven't done that for nearly 3 hours. Let's see, what can it be for this time? Well they are always picking on Fartsa and Snivel and BDIT, so I think we should put them down to their level again. After all they are only paid Fartsa people. Carrot, get in my office now! Now

Carrot, your running of the Fugget has been unfair, you should give Snivel and BDIT whatever they want, is that understood. Good. Oh, by the way, I hired you a new writer. I don't care if you do your own hiring, whatever I say goes, got it? Now scam, scum person! Oh, I wonder how my wonderful and dedicated Yourbook staff is doing? I must help, and give them guidance whenever I can. Then I must tell that darling photographer that his request for more funds has been turned down, I'm not giving him a single cent more. Oh, by the way, Nina, could you tell Bobyn that Fart is coming in to talk to her and Tody about something important? Zebra and Nike told Harry who told me that he was coming to talk to them? See ya later!

Lets read what Bobyn Tree our Athletics Chairperson has to say:

BOBYN: Like, whats Athletics, anyway? Golly, am I supposed to do something with that? What meeting about Intramurals? Like, what's Intramurals, eh? Gooly, look at the time, I have to go to Fabutan for my session and my hair is a mess. I have to get brown before summer, and its only my third session today, gotta go, Toodle-loo! Nina, tell Fart that I had to go and that he can tell Tody, and then Tody will tell me, whatever he wants. And tell Tody that Zebra & Nike told Harry who told Dish who told me that we are supposed to tell him something and that she can tell him whatever? Golly, like, look at the time, like awesome, look at the little hands going around the circle. Totally Awesome! Well, Bye.

Now lets look at what Tody Sherbert, our Treasurer has to say:

TODY: What do I do about this hair? And me nylons have a tiny snag in them, oh, dear! What can I say to Fart, I'm only the Treasurer? But then, what can I say about anything? I'm in training! Nina, I gotta go so tell Fart whatever.

Now poor Nina Bitchie is left there all alone. So she leaves but remembers to leave Fart a note. It says the following:

TO: Fart Books
From: Us
Message: Whatever!(I can't remember)

Well they are all gone from office now, so lets review what their best points from the year are:

ZEBRA DYKILCHUK: Too busy for comment, although her hair looks fine.

NIKEL SNEDERICK: Out looking for another lost cause, gets his messages mixed up.

HARRY CLEARNOSE: Too busy with his "little harem" to care about his job. Basically a bumbling twit.

DISH LOONEY: Definite case for the wierd ward. On a power trip. Doesn't help with Fugget or Photography.

BOBYN TREE: Too worried about her hair and tan to care for her job. Doesn't know what Athletics is.

TODY SHERBERT: Just a Treasurer, what can I say.

NINA BITCHIE: Not like her name. Too busy relaying messages to comment. Her hair looks nice, too!

Education and Background

B.S.: "Dish, where did you go to high school?"

D.L.: "Huh? Oh, I went to Our Lady of Dishpan Hands."

B.S.: "Okay. What gives you the right to be Fartsa's Pub. Chairman?"

D.L.: "I've gone 'pub hopping' since I was fifteen."

Duties

B.S.: "As Pub Chairman, what are your duties?"

D.L.: "I arrange all pub crawls and hops and make sure they are all well advertised in the weekly Fugget."

B.S.: "Are there anymore?"

D.L.: "Uh-h-h, let me think."

[Eight minutes later]

B.S.: "Well!"

D.L.: "I'm thinking, I'm thinking."

B.S.: "Yes folks, you heard it here first. A first for a Fartsa Rejecutive [one from Earth Resources yet], thinking."

D.L.: "Funny, funny, ha-ha! The only other thing I can think of is that I have to attend those boring Fartsa Rejecutive Meetings, where we discuss a lot of boring stuff, except for those concerning my Pub Rallies and Pub Board Meetings."

B.S.: "What exactly is the Pub Board. What do they do?"

D.L.: "The Pub Board is a group of students gathered around planning the Pub Crawls and Rallies, while drinking beer. Oops! Strike that from the record, we're not supposed to drink beer in the board room."

B.S.: "Any other comments?"

D.L.: "Yes, anyone who runs for Fartsa has go to have rocks in their heads. The job is unrewarding, overly time-consuming and totally boring."

B.S.: "Well it might have helped if you had done something other than criticize the Fugget for its content and arrangement. And the Northern Volcano for being behind its schedule."

D.L.: "A lot you know! I don't have to take this from you, I can get this anywhere. I'm leaving."

THE BOSS SPEAKS!

WHERE THE HELL IS "MISS FAIT"?

During the last week of every January, the students from some techs., choose, then spend a whole week promoting their candidate for the title of Miss Fait.

During this week, various campaign ploys, (such as walking through the cafeterias in what is supposed to be a bathing suit,) are pursued in order to grab the attention of the Fait student body. As well during this week, the candidates and their crews go through many exciting events such as bathtub races, and so on to collect points for their illustrious "Miss".

At the end of this week, and after the final balloting is done, the new Miss Fait is "Crowned" at the "Queens Ball" and dinner at the Edmonton Inn. Once crowned, the new Miss Fait is supposed to go to various functions put on by Fait and its technologies, to show her SUPPORT, and to show us how to support our school.

This year's "Queen of Fait" is supposed to be Glorie Hard-up, of Radio and Television Arts. The question which comes to me, as well as to many other peoples' minds is, "Where the hell is Miss Fait?" Many people have told me that they have asked her to come support some events or another and her reply usually is, "I can't I have to work that night." (giggle! giggle!) How can she show support for Fait if she never shows up to anything? Which is her ONE AND ONLY DUTY as Miss Fait.

For example, where was she at the last Beefest? Who knows, and most wouldn't care if she were not our SUPPOSED "Miss Fait". Was she afraid of the competition? Or was she afraid of getting a little beer on her precious (?) little bod? And where was she at the R & T's plus when the new Fartsa Executives were announced? I'll tell you where, no where important.

I guess to Miss Hard-up, the only duty of her "position" is to be able to say, "Yeah, but I was Miss Fait, 84-85!" Yeah, well what have you got to show for it? What have you done to justify your election as such?--A BIG FAT ZERO, that's what! You DO NOT exemplify the spirit of this school. You obviously DO NOT care about what goes on, I have only seen you at a total of two Council Meetings, at which all you did was to make eyes at the Activities Chairman and giggle alot--the only time you came into our offices at the Fugget was to make sure a questionable picture got into the paper when we ran the Queen Week ads. Why don't you show up at the last R & T of the year and do more than sit around and pretend that your special, (don't forget your bathing suit, for this is the only way that we'll know that it's you because we've never seen you otherwise, or elsewhere.)

Futhermore, I know for a fact that even your classmates in RTA are disappointed with the choice they made, it has all gone to your head.

What this whole tirade is trying to point out, is that next year, I hope the techs have more brians than RTA did, and try to get a better choice for Miss Fait elected, by better means than some "droolsome" pictures and sleezy ploys such as the cafeteria escapades, someone who WILL show the rest of us what the spirit of the school REALLY is, and who'll DESERVE the illustrious title of Miss Fait.

HERIOT SIX YEAR OLD BOY CONQUERS LIFE INCH BY INCH

by Paul Crassman
Urinal Wall Writer

reprinted with permission from the Gateway's Yellow Journal, April 13, 1983

Timmy Torseau's mother wipes away a few tears as she recounts her son's incredible courage in coming to terms with his handicap.

Two years ago Timmy, now six, suffered a near fatal accident in which he lost both his legs and his arms. The accident also cost Timmy his head.

"I cried the moment I saw him lying there in the hospital bed because I never, ever thought he would be able to fit in with all the other kids again," said Mrs. Torseau.

But despite his severe handicap Timmy struggled back and now even plays goalie for a local hockey team.

"It fills me with such joy when I see his team-mates dragging his little headless torso onto the ice and propping him up in front of the net," she said with a wry smile.

And Timmy does a respectable job of stopping the puck from entering the net and is carrying his team to a play-off position this year.

Timmy is philosophic about his handicap. When asked whether he felt that being just an abdomen made fitting into society difficult he wagged his upper body in disagreement.

Timmy's mother quickly interjected, "No, the other kids in the neighbourhood are really good and come to pick him up to play British Bulldog and all those other nice little games."

"It's so nice to see his headless shoulders dodging tackles or watching Timmy throwing a block with his stomach."

Timmy attends classes and with the aid of a tape-recorder strapped to his chest, manages to keep track of all the notes. And getting to class did present a problem at first until he mastered an inch-worm motion that he performs by bending his body in the middle and then straightening out.

"His father and I tried to get him to use a cane at first but he wouldn't have it," said Mrs. Torseau.

"He literally quivered with rage whenever we gave him the cane and it was really hard to watch him learning to move."

Timmy must keep trying says his mother determinedly, and when he makes up his spinal cord that he is going to do something nothing can divert him.

"He wants his father to buy him a motorcycle now," said his mother, "but I say no, I don't want to see him get hurt again."

Introducing the Oscar-Myer Clamp

Ever worry about fall-out?

Do you wince when people tell you to "Hang loose!"

Do you fear from the "inferior shorts syndrome?"

Well, no more! Yes we at Oscar-Myer have developed a method of keeping your "weiner" in its rightful place in the briefs that your mother generously bought for you last easter. This break through will allow us guys to concentrate more on the goings on of the world instead of the on going escape our one eyed trouser snake through the relief tunnel of our undershorts. Keep your willing in your camp by the new Oscar-Myer Clamp. Now available at K-Mart, SSKregges and the Goodwill for 29.95 (Watch for our television commercials starring Cathy Rigby's brother, Dick)

Rumor

That a certain Fugget typesetter has been seen gropping about the halls with a certain Electronics Plug!

That a certain Fugget Co-Editor has been seen loitering OUTSIDE a certain bank-lab when he should be INSIDE being a typical useless Finance student.

That a certain Computer Systems student has a thing for a certain somebody.

Heas

POOP: DIDN'T HAVE TIME TO DO PROPER CORRECTIONS. SORRY! Acrop

It...

That a certain Fugget Photo Uh-Co-Ordinator has been using the darkroom for developing other things than pictures!!!!

That a certain Snooze Editor has been seen with a certain Editor in the back of the Fugget Office. What snooze do you think they were "covering"????!!

That another <sup>certain</sup> ~~coratin~~ Co-Editor has been seen lounging around the Fugget Office's Little Editors' Room with a blonde ~~brother~~ <sup>bombet!</sup>

That a certain other typesetter has been seen roaming the dark areas of the halls with an infamous volleybaler. What game do you suppose they were playing?

What's grosser than gross?

When you open the refrigerator door and the rump roast farts in your face.

Why were the circus fat lady and the midget so happy when they were married?
She let him try a new wrinkle every night.

What's grosser than gross?

Feeling your grandpa get a hard-on while you're sitting on his lap.

What's the difference between a fox and a pig?
About 8 or 9 drinks.

What's grosser than gross?
When your girlfriend does the splits and your best friend's class ring falls out.

What's <sup>blue</sup> ~~green~~ and yellow, has cookie crumbs all over it, lies on the side of the road, and stinks?
A dead Girl Scout.

What's yellow and green and eats nuts?
Gonorrhea.

What do toilet paper and the starship Enterprise have in common?
They both circle Uranus looking for Klingons.

What's black and yellow and full of Krispies?
A burnt schoolbus.

Daddy, what are those two dogs doing?
Uhh...one's sick and the other one's pushing him to the hospital.

Mommy, Mommy, why can't I play with the other kids?
Shut up and deal!

What's worse than 1000 dead babies stacked one on top of the other?
One live baby on the bottom trying to eat his way out.

What'll it take to reunite the Beatles?
Three more bullets.

Mommy, Mommy, why is everyone running away?
Shut up and reload.

Mommy, Mommy, this doesn't taste like tomato juice.
Shut up and drink it before it clots.

One's a cunning runt...., the other's a ~~running~~ <sup>running</sup> ~~shit~~.

What's the purpose of a bellybutton?
To put your gum in on the way down.

Why did God create men?
Because you can't teach an electric vibrator to mow the lawn.

What's the definition of macho?
Jogging home from your own vasectomy.

How did Helen Kesser's parents punish her?
-they put extra doorknobs on all the doors,
-they stomped on her Braille books with gulf shoes,
-they left the plunger in the toilet.

What did Helen Keller say when she fell off the cliff?
Nothing. She had her mittens on.

What's small, screams and can't turn corners?
A baby with a spear through it.

What's red and silver and crawls into walls?
A baby with forks in its eyes.

What's red and white and hangs from a tree?
A baby run over by a snowblower.

What's red and crawls up your leg?
A homesick abortion.

What's worse than nailing a dead baby to a tree?
Ripping it off!

What's red and has a million holes in it?
A baby on a bed of nails.

LUBE TALK

Springtime means spring-cleaning, which means sore muscles for our favourite wives and mistresses. As a result, massage is always popular during May, and as a public service, we will review some of the oils you might wish to use whilst kinkily massaging the kinks.

CORN OIL: Especially good for those on low-carbohydrate diets who like to lick their handiwork. "Mazola" is perhaps the most popular, perhaps because it tastes the most like hot popcorn in the backseat of a '57 Chevy parked at a drive-in. Should be heated on a hot-rod before using.

SAFFLOWER OIL: Derived from the spits left over from people who eat sunflower seeds. As a result, good for those who are running out of their own saliva to rub with.

CRISCO OIL: Miracle of modern massage: no matter how much you use on the person under/in/over you, all of it is returned, except for one tablespoon.

JOHNSON'BABY OIL: An old standby. Especially good for parts of the body that are hard, crinkly, and losing hair (like the elbows). Gives a tantalizing gleam to bare skin. Would be even better if the taste was improved.

10W30: Helps reduce the friction for pistons of all sorts. Viscosity slows down rapid motion if applied too thickly (perfect for slow massage). Should be completely changed every 10,000 kilometres.

That's about it for this edition. Experiment to find your favourite and always remember to rub in the direction of the heart.

FUGGET HORRORSCOPES

By Blaze Starre

ARIES
(March 21-April 19)
Imprint your style on somebody's face today to get the point across. Be rude and intimidating, (in other words be your self!) You'll receive credit long overdue, changes will occur and could include travel, loss of promotion and a cut in pay. An all-around loser of a week!

TAURUS
(April 20-May 20)
Restrictions are imposed-improve property, (go on a strealing binge!) You will get extremely lucky with the opposite sex, in fact you'll get lucky numerous times today! You slut, you!

GEMINI
(May 21-June 20)
You may be in for a "Gourmet Treat" if you "eat out" tonight-remember your resolutions against courtesy, charm and patience. Follow through on hunch, reply to special calls and inviations, you too could get lucky., Cancer, Capricorn, Aquarius figure in a "quad" scenario!

CANCER
(June 21-July 22)
Elements of surprise action, and LUCK rides with you. You'll locate lost article, (it's at Karen's house UNDER the BED!) You will be at the right place at the right time. You'll be repaid for a recent "favor". Watch out for Gemini, Sagitarius!

LEO
(July 23-Aug. 22)
Moon your sign today! Today you will be charming, charismatic and personable and romantic, (are you feeling okay?) Those in a "position" of authority will smile at your efforts.

VIRGO
(Aug. 23-Sept. 22)
Temporary seclusion proves beneficial! You'll engage in many activities today that will stimulate your imagination. Obstacles to progress will be removed. Watch out for people who keep charts and unusual records. Much activity happens BEHIND the scenes and discretion is advised about what you'll see.

LIBRA
(sept. 23-Oct. 22)
Keep track of credit cards and other valuables when dining out. You'll be moving from place to place with your mind in the gutter, (again) and you might be careless concerning important aspect of your movement.

SCORPIO
(Oct. 23-Nov. 21)
Order from the top are subject to change. Know this and have "alternatives" in mins. Romances could end in long-range commitment, (and could cause you to be "committed") Do not separate fact from fiction, this could be SCARY! Pisces, Virgo play paramount roles.

SAGITARIUS
(Nov. 22-Dec. 21)
You will be involved in "special studies". There will be pressure relationship grows stronger than you wanted it to. You'll flunk a responsibility test, and you'll loose your job.

CARRICORN
(Dec. 22-Jan. 19)
Your girlfriend will confide an intimate problem which concerns you both. You'll lose your sex-appeal to that special something. Your pets will die, your sink will back-up, and you'll lose your wallet. An all-around loser of a day!

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 20-Feb. 18)
Check your legal rights, you'll need it! Break from your old habits, or you'll be sorry. Consult your legal council. Watch out for Leo, you may get lucky.

PISCES
(Feb. 19-March 20)
Despite temptation from others, stick familiar ground, fulfill commitments and strive for reunion with favorite member of opposite sex!! You may relocate missing articles.

FART BOOKS-

A Spitter?

FIND OUT IN-

A Fugget Interview with FART BOOKS

-Assistant Director of Student Services.

fart-fart Books is our assistant director of student services. Now after several months of dodging our reporters, this Fugget Reporter has finally cornered him in the Games Room.

A few months ago, Mr. Books had to make an emergency trip to the Ponoka Mental Hospital because of his severe drooling problem. When I talked to the doctors there, they were not really helpful, but replied that the problem stemmed from being very poor as a child and that Fart had to watch the local dogs eat. He had a relapse in the cafeteria while watching the apprentices eat. Now Fart looks quite normal except for the large bib that he wears around his neck. In summary, it seems that Fart Books is trying to run Fartsa in order so that he can get his jollies watching people eat. I mean, I brought my lunch in there with me and he went crazy when I started to eat it. He drooled, slobbered and was spitting at me. Fear the interview and see for yourself: I had to stop it, before it got completely out of hand.

Fugget: Tell me Mr. Books, what exactly is your job around here?

Fart: Well...uh...I...uh...tell FARTSA what to do. You see, they, uh...will...uh...do whatever I tell them to.

Fugget: Is there anything else you do?

Fart: Well...uh...I...uh...uh...make sure that the Games Room is running smoothly.

Fugget: How do you, do that, Fart?

Fart: Well...uh...I...uh...uh...go there everyday to make sure that the operation is running well.

Fugget: What do you mean? Do you play the games or just talk to the manager?

Fart: Well...un...I...uh...uh...play games with the manager, you know pool, and those other fun little games.

Fugget: You said earlier that you told FARTSA what to do. What do you mean, tell them what to do?

Fart: Well...uh...I, you see no one is supposed to know this, but I secretly let them do some things on their own, but I have to keep a tight rein on them. That's why I have partial signing authority on their cheques. I can refuse to sign cheques if they won't do as I want them to do.

Fugget: Well isn't this interesting. Tell me Fart, what kinds of things do you want them to pass for you?

Fart: Well...I...uh..., I want them to make a by-law, so that bringing lunches is against our rules. I would like them to make sure no posters are put up and give me an assistant, to lessen my work-load.

Fugget: (wiping off his face from the spit) Why do you want students to buy their lunches?

Fart: (his bib quite wet by now) Well...uh..., cause I want them to. You thee, I neber got one good food as a kid, I hadth to watch all the puppy dogth in the area eat their food. Now I watch the apprenticeth eat.

Fugget: Well, I guess we should go, I'm sorry I brought my lunch here with me, thank-you for your time.
