HAT-TRICK BRONZED

by Alastair Franke

It was two CCAA Championships and three tough seasons of regular play, each with their own nerve wracking post season playoff schedule that put the Ooks in contention for a third consecutive hockey championship. This in itself is an achievement of which NAIT students, staff and especially the players, their coaches and team support staff can be proud.

The Ooks did not return with Gold, instead it was with a third position Bronze Medal and a whole bunch of respect, great memories and a tradition that may well be difficult to surpass.

"Disappointment" is mainly what Coach Perry Pearn felt as he reflected on Friday's 4-2 loss to the Montreal St. Laurent Patriotes. That disappointment, however, plays second fiddle to the class the Ooks demonstrated. "What happened at the tournament not only showed they (the Ooks) know how to win" said Pearn, "but also that they know how to lose!"

As for the player's, most feel anywhere from empty to numb or haven't quite realized it's all over. "We could've been more prepared, mentally" said John Walker, "The coaches did an excellent job. I guess we were relying too heavily on last year's reputation." Perhaps the most bitter of all pills to swallow was watching Humber and Quebec play in the final game on Saturday. "We all just wanted to get on the bus and leave," said Walker. For outgoing veterans like Kevin Stapleton, the ongoing effort in scouting and the excellent training camp, Pearn feels it is possible to produce another team of equivalent calibre and has no plans of turning his back on the NAIT Ooks at this point in time. He has applied to work with the Great thanks go to Brian Stein for his dedication in covering the Ooks hockey this season.

Ron Amyotte, Mario Sicolo and John Walker that illusive third gold is a source of major frustration. However, for those players returning, like rookie center Mike Nottingham, the imminent taste of success served only to whet unsatisfied appetites.

The next Ooks hockey team won't be the same as the present one, but this years team was not the same as it's predecessor. Player turnover for the '86-'87 season was larger than that anticipated for the coming season. Even though eleven men are leaving, three former Ooks, T.C. McEwan (now playing in Germany), Scott Melnyk (of the W.H.L. Portland Winter Hawks) and Ken Snieder may return. All in all only eight players will have to be replaced next season in comparison with ten this season. With NAIT's Hockey Program reputation,

Rick Chauvette creates a little tension!

National Junior Team or with the regional under 17 team. These commitments, however, would be strictly for the duration of the summer and, therefore, would not interfere with his NAIT responsibilities. Perry has also expressed his interest to work with an Olympic squad and hopes that the success of the NAIT Ooks will see him in good stead.

K. Smith
Editor

This is the week of the last big NAITSA event; the Beerfest. It will be a time to welcome the new NAITSA executive and say goodbye to the old, especially Farley MacKenzie, the man who organized everything. Although it took some time, he booked an excellent band. All of NAITSA deserves to be congratulated for their great work, and what better way to do it than by making the Beerfest a success.

For all graduating students this will be the last big party together except for grad, so make a special effort to go and have a great time.

Returning students should also go, this will be a terrific way to end the year and start getting ready for summer.

On a more serious note, no women leaving this party, or any other, should walk to their car alone or take the bus home. With everything that has been happening, it's much safer to go in a group or get a ride home with a friend, that way one will have to spend the night worrying that this might have been your last party. You shouldn't have to be scared to be out alone at night, but it's not a principle worth risking your life for.

IN WITH THE NEW

Because of her step up to Publications Director, Angela Moskal will no longer be editor of the NUGGET. The acting editor for April will be Kristine Smith, and the assistant editor will be Tony Rivard, who is training for his position as editor for the 1987-88 year.

Congratulations Angela and Tony, we hope you have a great time working together next year.

The NUGGET Staff

A Promotion!

I am very happy with the fact that my application for the position of Editor (87/88) has been successful.

Tony Rivard
Assistant Ed.

Applications for all staff positions are being accepted and hopefully YOU will decide to join us at "The Nugget."

As of the Nugget staff you will find that working here totally destroys two evenings a week with very little monetary reward. Although these facts are true, it is the beneficial aspects of the available positions that prospective candidates should concentrate on.

If the thought of earning a few extra dollars while developing the ability to work with others, or just gaining valuable work experience appeals to you, come and apply. Applications are available through Naitsa or at the Nugget office.

I will be spending the summer months in Vancouver and would like to finalize as many of the positions as possible before leaving.

If you feel you have the drive to help make this paper a success and are looking for the satisfaction that comes through participating in a worthwhile cause...

We are for You

9.5 percent Cut in Financing!

Remember the last time you saw this. It was about the 3 percent cut to the Finance Board. Now it is again being run in the light of the additional 9.5 percent cut. Again, I am taking the liberty of running the cut-out at a generous size. This is in hopes that at next weeks General Council Meeting, you the reader will not complain that you did not see it. Along with this cut-out, students are urged to write their own letters to the Minister of Advanced Education, Dave Russell, and express their concerns, if any, about cutting to the Student Finance Board.

Randy Meszaros
News Editor

By cutting the Student Finance Board by any amount, they are limiting an education to those who want to learn but can't afford to without a student loan. If you agree with this, fill out the form below and return it to the NUGGET office or to the NAITSA offices.

General Council Meeting

March 24, 1987

For those of you who missed the meeting, feel sorry. It was a good one.

After the minutes of last meeting were approved, the council was in for a surprise treat. A vintage 1965 movie was shown. This film, shot in black and white with no sound, displayed to the audience life at NAIT, and NAIT related activities from that time period.

Teacher Evaluation

After the fun, the real business began. As you know, the Board of Governors is working on a proposal for student evaluation of the academic staff. An address to the council from both Dr. Souch, NAIT President, and Fred Williamson, Vice-President of Academics, revealed that they are in favor of the evaluations. "This move is felt to be a positive one, and one which comes of need", said Dr. Souch. But there is a catch. It must be handled with maturity by the students of NAIT. So for this, an open forum on the topic has been set for the date of April 15th, 1987. This will be held in the Board room, and will give the students a chance to express their opinions and suggestions to the proposed evaluation system. The idea is to go as a group and have mature good ideas, because if the students display to the Board of Governors that they cannot make mature decisions, then there is no call for the students evaluation of the facility.

Whirlpool Update

The new price is $68,000. The money comes from NAIT, NAITSA, Government Grants, and the Athletic department.

Northlands Challenge

It is asked that the students participating in the races do not get drunk and take bottles of alcohol onto the track. If a bottle is broken on the track a horse running on it during a race may be injured. Also, TSN may be filming the finals of the event to broadcast live on PAY-TV networks, so if you still wish to enter a team, feel free to do so.

ALCB Permits

If you are having a cabaret, please obtain your liquor permit at least 3 days in advance. If not, the ALCB does not have to give you one. Plan ahead folks.

Security Shirts

While we're on the topic of cabarets, if you bring back a security shirt, let someone know. Farley has been receiving shirts just hung on his door, and therefore, if your tech returned but did not leave a note or tell anyone, you are still considered to have the shirts.

Beerfest

Tickets on Sale Now! The Powder Blues will be the headlining act. Get your tickets as soon as possible so you don't miss out. Party!

Car Raffle Tickets

For those students who have graciously helped out selling tickets, please return the booklets as soon as possible. NAITSA will not be responsible for you bringing the booklets back.

BAS BULLETIN

Congratulations are in order for the members of the 87-88 BAS executive.

Dan Zrubak: President
Darrel Yakubow: Vice Pres.
Phyllis Heacock: Treasurer
Jim Romeril: Admin. Assis.

All of the above positions were filled by acclamation. One other position, Activities Director, is yet to be decided. Watch for the campaigns. Voting for this position, as well as approval of the proposed BAS constitution, will take place on April 9th. Only first year Business Students shall vote.

Graduation Tickets are currently on sale in the Tower Lounge from 11am to 1pm for 2nd year business students. Price is $20 until tomorrow (April 3rd) limit 2 per Grad. From Monday, April 6 to Friday April 10, it is first come, first serve for extras. Watch the NUGGET for Grad information next week.

Notes: Business Students need a team for the Sulky races taking place each Friday at Northlands. Prize is $2000. More information in T611. Beerfest tickets - get them in the Main Kiosk or in the Student Store. The $10 gets you a meal, a great band, and a good time.

Investment Development Program

The minister for International Trade, The Honourable Pat Carney, today announced that Canadian Investment Counsellors from nine major foreign posts, including London, Paris, Bonn, The Hague, New York, Los Angeles, Chicago,
Tokyo and Hong Kong,

will participate in a series of meetings in Canada the weeks of March 9 and 16, 1987, aimed at furthering Canada's investment promotion activities abroad. In addition to meetings with provincial officials, the week of March 9, 1987, the Investment Counsellors will meet industrial commissioners, financial institutions and other investment-oriented business groups in Halifax, Montreal, and Calgary and be available for consultation at the Opportunities Canada Conference in Toronto, March 18-20, 1987.

Minister Carney noted that "The main purpose of such consultations is to ensure coordination of federal and provincial activities in promoting investment in Canada and to inform the business community on the assistance available to them in prospecting abroad for foreign investment."

These activities are part of Investment Canada's Investment Development Program, announced by the Minister of Regional Industrial Expansion in September, 1985. The Program is aimed at encouraging the flow of selected types of foreign investment to sectors where there will be a net benefit to the Canadian economy. Posts abroad assisted by specially-designed investment advisors, on loan from private industry, are engaged in locating sources of desired investment including financial and technology-based to fill gaps in the Canadian industry or to locate partners for Canadian corporations to do so.

Summer Employment Funding

This year's student summer employment program, Challenge '87 is being funded for $180 million. Unfortunately, this is $30 million less than the 1986 program.
Challenge '86 was funded at $210 million.

With increasing post-secondary enrollment across Canada, the cuts to this year's program will have an even more dramatic effect on the unemployment rate of students returning to school. In July 1986, the national returning student unemployment rate was at 13.3 percent, with extremes of over 20 percent in British Columbia, and 29 percent in Newfoundland.

Minister of State (Youth) Jean Charest stated that approximately one-third of the Challenge '87 funding will go to the private sector.
This move has been deemed unwise and useless by opposition critics since the private sector has had a poor showing record of career related jobs for students seeking work experience in their field.

The Michael Luchkovich Scholarships for Career Development

An accounting technician with a company in central Alberta is striving to earn certification as a Registered Industrial Accountant.

A business development manager working for a chamber of commerce in a large Alberta municipality is embarking on a management program to improve administrative skills.

A shop foreman with an Alberta engineering company is enrolled in a specialized welding course on steel alloys to improve the company's business prospects.

What could these three individuals with such diversified backgrounds possibly have in common? Each is a recipient of a Michael Luchkovich Scholarship for Career Development.

One of ten programs of the Alberta Heritage Scholarship Fund, the Micheal Luchkovich Scholarships for Career Development have helped numerous Albertans achieve their career goals by assisting them with direct educational expenses.

Intended for members of the province's professional, managerial, administrative and skilled labour force, the Micheal Luchkovich Scholarships are awarded through competition to dedicated individuals striving to upgrade their training or education in order to reach their personal career goals. They are people who are good at what they do and who realize that upgrading skills and knowledge is important in a competitive job market. They are Albertans who know where they want to go and are willing to work hard to get there.

According to Dave Russell, Minister of Advanced Education, the scholarships have helped people from all walks of life. "Recipients have included people who have tremendous potential to get ahead but may be lacking in some specialized skills or training. There are those whose career plans would be enhanced through formal certification in their field. Others are taking specific studies to improve their existing expertise". Mr. Russell adds that each scholarship recipient has the support and recommendation of the employer. "Without a doubt, these are people who contribute much to Alberta by sharing their expertise, energy and enthusiasm. Their efforts have not gone unnoticed", said Mr. Russell.

Micheal Luchkovich Scholarship recipients are selected by a five-member committee representing business, academic and labour interests in Alberta. The applicants must have worked in the province for at least three years and should be pursuing a program of study related to their current employment. The scholarships are intended to assist with direct educational expenses, such as tuition, books and supplies, for short-term or part-time programs of study.

Named in honour of an Albertan who understood both the value of education and of a rewarding career, the Micheal Luchkovich Scholarships for Career Development recognize the contribution of the provinces work force to the development of Alberta's economic strengths and resources. A teacher, parliamentarian, businessman and author, Micheal Luchkovich dedicated his lifetime to working for and with Albertans. This scholarship program recognizes his personal commitment to the province by investing in career development plans of Albertans.

Micheal Luchkovich Scholarships for Career Development are awarded three times a year. Anyone interested in obtaining more information about this program is invited to call the Alberta Heritage Scholarship Fund at 427-8640.

On Campus

What the hell is going on? Three girls are killed in the past few weeks, one is still missing.

Perhaps, if the friends of these people would have watched out for them, it may not have happened. I'm not saying that it is the friends fault, but if there is a psycho out there, lets make it hard for him or her to do their devious deeds.

Here are some suggestions:

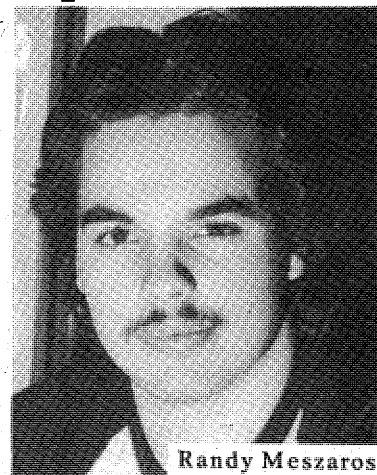

1* When dropping off a friend after work, or from a party, don't leave right away. Watch and make sure he or she gets into his or her house/appt.

SAFELY.

2 When going to parties, go as a group. First of all it is cheaper on gas, and secondly, everyone can watch out for the next person.

3 When it's quitting time at work, offer rides to your fellow workers, regardless if they live within walking distance. Or offer to walk them to the bus stop if they're taking the Transit. Just because they live close by doesn't mean they're safe.

Now I am NOT trying to instill fear into the populus of Nait, but remember what happened to Brenda McClenaghn. If a friend would have walked her to her car, she might be here still today.

And for those people who have to walk distances alone, don't be afraid to ask someone to go with you. If they are your friend, they will go. But if no one is around, do the following. First, consider a cab. Now, if you don't have fare money, and you must walk alone, walk in a busy, well lighted area. If you are seen by others, it may deter an assailant.

Finally, when you are going to your car alone, and it's dark out, get into your car as quick as possible. BUT check your backseats, make sure they're empty before you climb in.

LETS ALL BE CAREFUL OUT THERE!

Blind Date

Blind Date is a hilarious account of chaos, confusion and the limits to which they extend. Nadia, Walters blind date, has a blood sugar problem and has learned that under no circumstances should she have alcohol.

Walter, however, smitten by his date and his luck, feels a celebration is in order and insists that Nadia join him. Walter, unwittingly, has turned Nadia into a hilariously devastating force who wreaks havoc in his otherwise normal life.

Starring Bruce Willis as Walter and Kim Basinger as Nadia, Blind Date follows the effects of Nadia high on champagne, as she manages to insult Walter's firm's new Japanese clients, assault his boss, slander a French waiter and ruin Walters future as a financial analyst. This and much more offers Blake Edwards the opportunity to display his talent for comedy, and offers the viewer pure entertainment.

MANWOMAN

It is a show that contains at least 3 major components. Initially I found it bright and full of happiness but eventually, or inevitably, it was thought provoking. It's a show which cuts a chronological cross section through the life of a very different person. Yet MANWOMAN is only a person, very unique and very spiritual, yet in the end he is only one among us all.

Paintings range from broody to poppy, if that's possible, which means they are not easily taken in without question while others are full of life. Definitely not of this time, MANWOMAN's work creates a different world. One where life is for the living with all thoughts worth giving.

Definitely a show worth taking in because of its many different facets of intelligence and creativity.

The posters stated "The cheapest cabaret in town". After the fact, I have a tendency to rephrase it to "The most value packed cabaret in town".

The only thing better than the mood at this cabaret was the reasonable price of admission, and the two combined proved to be unbeatable.

Many technologies make valid attempts to throw an event like this, yet few succeed (especially at an affordable rate). So thank you very much BCET, this level of performance can do nothing but raise the standards, and we the student body will be the ones to profit.

"Making Mr. Right" is a post-modern girl-meets-boy story.

The girl is Frankie Stone, a high-paid, high-powered, Miami Beach image consultant whose clients range from politicians to rock stars.

The boy, Ulysses, has a shy grin, disarming sex appeal, a head that swivels and a solid state nervous system. He is the first android programmed to withstand the rigors of deep space.

Frankie is hired to humanize Ulysses, to launch him as a media folk hero before he's lofted into the cosmos. The assignment couldn't come at a more awkward time. Frankie has recently removed her principal account, Congressman Steve Marcus, from her client list and bedroom. Her purple-haired kid sister is marrying a career busboy. And her best friend has shown up suddenly on her doorstep, hiding from her husband, a raging TV soap star.

THRASH BASH REHASH

As predicted, here's the review of the SNFU homecoming gig. To start out the show, at exactly 8pm, No Rebate thundered the evening to a start. This quad squad impressed this wary mind into a toe-tapping quiver which, needless to say for those of us who ventured out into the cold to catch the show, built into a full blown slam. The second band to entertain those of the spiked hair was a group called GOD. I was amused, to say the least, but some of the people I chatted with expressed disapproval of the sound that was spewn forth. Still a good show from GOD no matter how real it all was. Big House (formerly Down Syndrome) were an excellent prelude to the Kinetic SNFU.

Big House seemed to inspire slamming to the point where it was trendy to take two giant steps and shoulder some guy across the room. Very inspiring. I, in the midst of writing, have just been told that all the pictures I took at the event were lightstruck. Which in layman's terms means that they're all black. Still despite this mild setback it was a killer bash with good bands.

SNFU the main band that everyone went to see brought the house down. It appeared that everyone was trying to climb on the stage. With many succeeding and in celebration hurling themselves out into the thrashing sea of people. The bassist from SNFU said that when they were in the US they played at many a similar venue with just the same reaction. From what I saw SNFU has a definite following, whoever big or small, and more than an eye for the future.

By the way this was a Neat n' Tidy Production from Cam Bodian himself. If this thrash bash was any indication of Cam's future shows watch for bigger and better bashes.

One thing I would like to express at this moment is that I feel alternative and underground, especially underground, is not getting the exposure that these young musicians need and want. So all of you other entertainment columns trapped in the commercial stream should open the eyes and mind to the vast amount of 'underground' talent that is happening at places like the Ambassador Hotel and other far flung venues.

Give these people the breaks that are long overdue. So with that...

Road Racing Team Runs Red Deer

The third annual ACAC Exhibition Road Race was held on Saturday March 21, 1987 in Red Deer with very good running conditions considering the amount of snow that had fallen in Red Deer the previous day. The asphalt race route was dry, though a little sandy and the temperature was zero degrees celsius with a slight NW breeze.

Competition was close for the relatively small number of competitors who entered, with the NAIT runners placing well. Top placers for NAIT were Chico Morales - 4th, Anita Hessling - 4th, Wayne Pinel - 19th and Bruce Walgren - 20th. Once again the top place finishes went to Mark Staniforth (33:08) in the 10km event and to Shauna Nesson (24:06) in the 5km course.

Olsen Wins Silver at Provincial Championship

NAIT Tae Kwon Do Club and the Blackbelt Instructors, Sawson Butler, Rommel Gorospe and Gil Debrule would like to extend their congratulations to Kim Olsen for his silver medal performance in the Alberta Provincial Tae Kwon Do Championship on Saturday, March 28. Kim himself is a middle-weight but participated in the heavy-weight division.

OOKS TAKE BRONZE!

For the first time in three years, the Canadian College Athletic Association National Hockey Champions are not the NAIT Ooks. The St. Laurent Patriotes of Quebec downed the Humber Hawks of Ontario 4-1 in the championship final played in Camrose on Saturday, March 28th. The NAIT Ooks defeated the Camrose Lutheran College Vikings 5-3 to bring home the bronze medal in another Saturday match.

The top three teams at the CCAA Hockey Nationals each lost one game. Humber lost in the final to St. Laurent. St. Laurent suffered a loss to the Camrose Lutheran College Vikings in the round robin. NAIT's hopes of a third straight CCAA title ended with a Friday night loss to St. Laurent.

Game 1 -- CCAA Hockey Nationals -- Wednesday, March 25th -- NAIT Ooks 4, Kelsey Amarus 1 at Camrose Rec. Centre.

The NAIT Ooks started off the CCAA National Hockey Championships with a 4-1 win over the Kelsey Amarus of Saskatoon Saskatchewan on Wednesday night at the Camrose Rec. Centre.

At 4:12 of the first period, Darren Schmidt scored for the Ooks from Mike Tookey and Murray Melnyk. Only 36 seconds later, the Amarus evened the score on a goal by Bryan Kunkel. NAIT captain Ron Amyotte gave the Ooks a 2-1 lead at 15:05 of the initial frame on a play with Brenn Leach and Marty Volcan.

In the second, the Ooks received a pair of goals from Mike Nottingham. Nottingham's first marker came at 10:55 from Brent Weller and Ron Amyotte. Nottingham then scored at 16:41 from Weller and Darren Schmidt to end the nights scoring.

The third period was scoreless. The Ooks would outshoot Kelsey 16-2 in the third, but could not put the puck in the net, a problem which would also play a role in the next game.

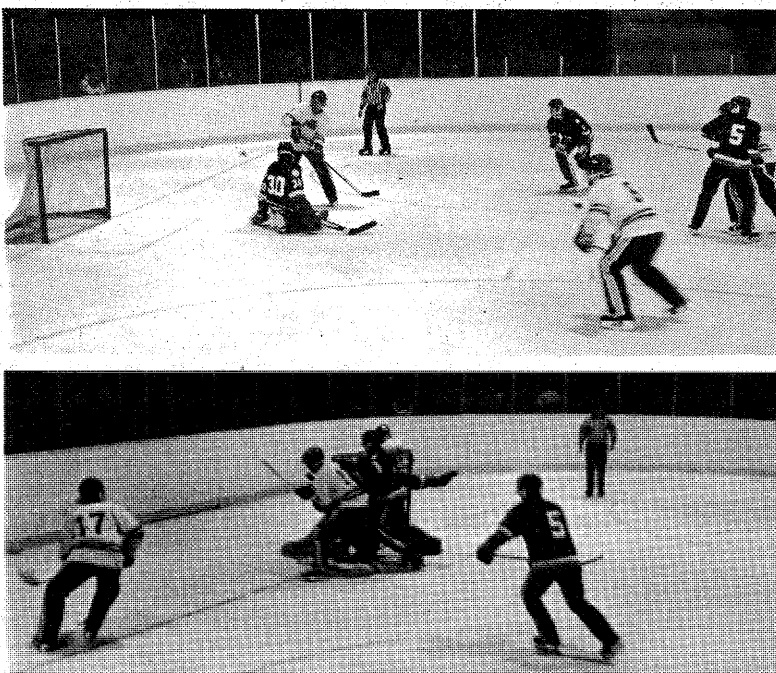

The Ooks outshot Kelsey 43 to 21. Kevin Stapleton was between the pipes for NAIT.

Game 2 -- CCAA Hockey Nationals Semi-Final -- Friday, March 27th -- St. Laurent Patriotes 4, NAIT Ooks 2 at Camrose Rec. Centre.

The NAIT Ooks were upset by the St. Laurent Patriotes 4-2 at the CCAA National Hockey Championships in Camrose on Friday night ending NAIT's hopes of a gold medal.

Mike Tookey opened scoring for NAIT at 3:27 of the first to give the Ooks a 1-0 advantage. The lead was short lived as Steve Lemay of the Patriotes tied the game off a faceoff at 6:01.

The Patriotes gained a lead they would never relinquish at 1:40 of the first on Martin Lachance's power play goal. The Ooks had opportunities to tie the game up but could not capitalize.

While the Ooks were opening up in the third, the Patriotes took advantage with two goals. Eric Collin of St. Laurent found the net at 6:15, and Martin Raymond added an insurance goal at 8:17. With 10 seconds left in the game, Darren Schmidt scored for the Ooks. It was too little, too late.

NAIT outshot St. Laurent 47 to 39. Jeff Lastiwka of NAIT was sharp on numerous occasions. However, it was the Ooks inability to score on empty nets and off goalposts that made the difference. The Ooks had at least two empty nets to shoot at and hit numerous goalposts and crossbars.

Game 3 -- CCAA Hockey National Bronze Medal Game -- Saturday, March 28th -- NAIT Ooks 5, Camrose Lutheran College Vikings 3 at Camrose Rec. Centre.

Camrose's 7-5 loss to Humber on Friday night meant two ACAC teams would be vying for the bronze medal. In the game, the NAIT Ooks scored five second period goals en route to a 5-3 victory over CLC Vikings.

Following a scoreless first period, Ron Amyotte broke the deadlock at 2:16 of the second. The Vikings came back with a short-hand goal from Shannon Irwin at 4:06. The NAIT Ooks moved in front for good on Murray Melnyk's goal at 6:27. Kurt Roebuck of the Ooks then capitalized on a powerplay opportunity at 7:40 from Mike Tookey and Mike Nottingham. Ron Amyotte widened the Ooks lead to three goals at 12:02 with the man advantage. Assists on the play went to Kent Maltais and Mike Nottingham. The Ooks then received a shorthand goal from John Walker at the 15:32 mark.

With 1:26 gone in the third, Rick Dietrich of the Vikings brought the Vikings to within three. Wayne Kope then picked the corner for CLC at the 6:45 mark to make the final 5-3.

NAIT netminders Kevin Stapleton and Jeff Lastiwka split the netminding duties turning away 25 shots. NAIT fired 38 drives at Scott Nelson in the CLC net.

Understandably, NAIT coach Perry Pearn had hoped for better things at the Nationals. "We're disappointed we lost to Quebec as we feel we could have done better against St. Laurent. However, we did not put the puck in the net."

On the Bench: NAIT captain Ron Amyotte was selected to the tournament all-star team as a forward. Two NAIT players were selected as All-Canadians... Goaltender Jeff Lastiwka and defenceman Mike Tookey were named to the prestigious squad on Thursday in Camrose... The NAIT Ooks would like to thank you for your support this past season. It has been a success with the Ooks winning an unprecedented fourth straight ACAC hockey title. The Ooks look forward to your continued support in 1987-88.
