OPINIONS

UNFAIR, AND UNJUST

A. Moskal
Editor

A hot issue at Plaza II concerns the recent decision by Administration to close the Library at the beginning of the 1987-1988 Academic year. It's fact that everyone has to face cut backs, but taking a necessary instrument of learning is no way to absorb the 6% cut-back. There are many things at Nait that could be held off that are not associated directly with learning (ie. the proposed lounge). Many students, especially those at Main Campus, many not be able to associate with this impending loss, but it is equivalent to that of shutting down the Main Library. Many disagree and feel the "Glorified Reading Broom" should go, but there are many reasons why it should stay.

The biggest hassle over the Library going is due to the fact that students will now have to trek over to the Main Library on the average of once to twice daily. Since Plaza II comprises mainly Engineering disciplines, their studies concentrate on the design principles which put these students in the position of utilizing reference material based in the Library. A student will not take a drawing over to the Main Library to find information required for important aspects of the drawings. The only other alternative is to have the Library remain so students will only have to take 5-15 minutes to find the necessary information and bring it back to the class. It's unrealistic to think that instructors will permit students to utilize class time to walk over to main campus to get information, especially since it would take up a good portion of their time.

Another aspect is that instructors at Plaza II have resource material for students. If the library is not there, no reserve material would be present for the students. If instructors are requesting this material, it is for a reason, the items they request are necessary for the projects or assignments the students are undertaking. If the library goes, and instructors want to reserve material, what will happen?

There are many services the students at Plaza II do without simply because of the location, but the services provided by the Library are a necessity. Photocopying, there are two copiers for students at Plaza II, both housed and maintained in the Library. The storage of audio-visual equipment used by students and staff. The staff at the Plaza II library, willing and able five days of the week to devote time to students who require help.

Much more could be brought up, however, the bottom line is: Students at Plaza II pay the same for education and services to attend Nait as Students at Main, why should their education be minus a needed facility just because somewhere someone needs to adjust their socks amidst the cutbacks. The students at Plaza II feel that this is an unfair choice, a choice made without the students in mind.

To the despicable lowlife who broke into my van behind Eastwood Hall on Friday night: It's bad enough that you stole my weight-lifting equipment, but the binders containing three months worth of notes for two of my most important courses takes me beyond anger. These notes are of no possible value at all to you, but are irreplaceable to me.

If you have a shred of common decency, you will contact the Instrumentation Office at 471-8966 and leave a message as to where you will leave my books. I don't care about the other stuff you stole. If you don't attempt to make amends, run the risk of getting caught wearing my new Nikes or sweat pants, or trying to cash one of my checks, in which case I will make your insignificant existence even more miserable than it already is.

Some people are just heartless. We hope you get a response and get at least your notes back.

some ways, harder to work with than women.

Women tend to give others more emotional support and are usually more considerate of others, so there are advantages to working with them.

Women should give each other a break and not say things that encourage prejudice against them in the work force. Women who take their jobs seriously can do excellent work together. Maybe this year's Naita will have a chance to prove it.

Choose Your Exam

63 CENTS

There are problems in some courses with graduates giving (or selling) their old exams to current students. The exams are not changed every year, so these students already know what is on the exam and consequently receive high marks.

We should follow the example of the U of A and have an exam registry where you can go in and plunk down a small fee to get the test of your choice to study from.

If exams are changed every year, everyone will get a fair exam and there will be a more accurate assessment of what is being learned. An exam registry would help the interested students study and understand what is important in a course.

Dan Onischuk
Great idea if the instructors will go for it and NAIT's budget can be stretched for it.

Assistant Ed.

The time has come for me to open my eyes. Any political party needs the attention of the people who put them in power, and I tell you, the present Canadian Government has caught my attention. Responsible people do not spend, over spend, spend some more, and then try to reclaim the losses, via the use of half baked tax scams. The government has already done much for me to remember this year, and maybe the plan was to distract my attention by levying this absurd tax increase.

I am of course referring to the recent 63 cent increase to taxes charged on a package of cigarettes. Well guys, not only will you not get my 63 cents, but the original income from my habit is also history.

So tell me, now that you have eliminated my cigarettes, what are you going to do about my memory.

NAIT NEWS

Thanks From The Canadian Red Cross Society

Another tradition has been maintained - that of the NAITSA - sponsored blood donor clinics.

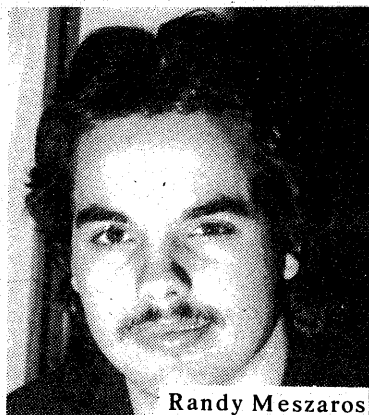

This term NAIT contributed 894 units of blood to the Red Cross. These units had the potential to help over 2500 persons in Northern Alberta continue to lead healthy, productive lives. The NAIT students have every right to be proud of this accomplishment and we are grateful.

I would also like to extend my personal thanks to Mark Grubisich, NAITSA Vice President, for his hard work and professional attitude in organizing and implementing the clinics held this past term at NAIT. His enthusiasm and interest went a long way to ensure the success of the blood donor clinics. If Mark is an example of the NAITSA Executive, you have been well served.

To all of you who contributed to the success of the NAIT Clinics in any way - thank you!

Randy Meszaros

So, you're all upset about the new Provincial Budget. You feel it's a ripoff for you to pay more money for your booze and cigarettes.

At least this is what I have heard so far. The complaints go: "I gotta pay $1.10 extra for beer", or "$3.40 for a pack of cigarettes, the government must be nuts."

Unfortunately, none of you (nor I) heard about the 9.5 per cent cut to the Student Finance Board, the revenues that allow you to receive a student loan. According to the budget, the $116,002,632 that was made available for loans in 1986-87 will now be cut to $104,982,382 for the 1987-88 term. This is a difference of about $11 million dollars.

Now you say, "Yeah, so what does it mean?" Well the "So what" is the fact that you may get a student loan next year. Or at least this is what I've been told by my colleagues. I think the "not get" should be changed to either:

1)...not be able to rip-off the government and get a BIG loan that I really don't need, except for the fact that I want to buy a car...

OR

2)...will only get a loan for what you really need, so other students who also apply will get a loan for their needs too...

Let's face it folks, there's a lot of abuse on the loan system. Recently a student was found guilty of fraud for asking for a big loan. The loan was not necessary, yet it probably deterred money for more loans to students who needed it. The cut of $11 million should eliminate abuse of the system. This could be accomplished by the Finance Board first going after the people who apply for the "above average" loan. The "average loan" could be figured out by what the majority of the students of Alberta apply for, and the government can take it from there. So if any of you figure on getting a big loan after you play the violin for the Finance Board, then going out and buying a car, beware.

As far as I am concerned, students have NOTHING TO COMPLAIN ABOUT. After Health Services, the largest spending the government of Alberta budgets for is Education. 23.1 percent of funds available to the government is used for the education department. This is seen in the lowest tuition fees comparable to other provinces in Canada for the same Education. And it is also seen in the option for a student to receive a loan, something very few other provinces offer.

As the saying goes in the weather forecast: "If you don't like the weather... move...and see if it is nicer somewhere else;" the same goes for the Education system in Alberta.

MANDATORY SEATBELTS

The Alberta Society of Respiratory Therapists members feel very strongly that the Alberta Government should pass legislation regarding the mandatory use of seatbelts by people operating a motor vehicle.

Respiratory Therapists in this province observe human pain and suffering attributable to motor vehicle accidents. They also see the emotional trauma experienced by the family and loved ones. They believe that the mandatory use of seatbelts could make a significant contribution to the reduction of mortality and morbidity in this province.

Perhaps seatbelt legislation may assist in containing our health care costs!

Opponents to their position often cite the basic fundamental freedom provisions in the Canadian Constitution. This argument cannot be accepted due to the vast amount of government regulations that currently exist regarding the operation of a motor vehicle. The Respiratory Therapists of Alberta encourage you, the readers, to initiate meaningful dialogue with your member of the legislative assembly and, if need be, the president of the party constituency associations.

CORVETTE RAFFLE TICKETS DUE

The Nait foundation has been sponsoring a contest in conjunction with Naitsa to see which technology could sell the most tickets on their car raffle. To date the contest has been very successful. At this time Telecom is in the lead for the $500 first prize. Second is Instrumentation with Secretarial in third. The contest is still close so there is still plenty of opportunity to sell tickets.

We will, at this time, remind all students that the contest ends March 31st. They are responsible for returning all books, sold and unsold, at that time. They can return them to the person in their tech who signed them out or to the Naitsa offices in E133. The cooperation of all those who have outstanding books is appreciated.

Parent Counsellor Recruitment Begins

A campaign to recruit a minimum of 10 parent counsellor homes was launched by the Edmonton Region of Alberta Social Services.

This recruitment is part of the Edmonton Region's implementation of its Children's Services Plan, a document which outlines the Region's intention to move to a system of family and community based resources for the children in its care.

Alberta parent counsellors offer a different approach to child care - allowing interested and motivated individuals to become involved with children who may otherwise be placed in institutional settings. The program, funded by Alberta Social Services, was established in 1974. In the Edmonton area, parent counsellors presently care for 50 children, providing them with the help and support they need to resolve their emotional and behavioral problems.

Before assuming responsibility for a child, parent counsellors participate in an orientation and training program. This program is designed to further develop their capabilities as parents and care-givers and to learn helping skills necessary in child care work. As well, opportunities are provided for personal growth and development, as parent counsellors become more aware of their own needs and strengths in working with youth.

Parent counsellors provide care within their own home for children who are unable to remain with their natural families. These children have emotional and behavioral problems, showing their hurt and anger over past experiences. Parent counsellors are people with unique skills and understanding who are able to assist children in becoming responsible and happy individuals.

As part of the professional team, parent counsellors work closely with natural parents, social workers and other professionals in the community, providing a therapeutic family setting for children. In most cases parent counsellors care for two children at a time.

In order to support parent counsellors with their often challenging role, there are bi-monthly support groups and ongoing training sessions.

Parent counsellors must be prepared to meet the challenges and responsibilities this position demands. It requires warmth, flexibility, commitment, tolerance to stress and a stable family unit.

In recognition of the total involvement of parent counsellors a daily remuneration of $30.80 per child is provided. Alberta Social Services also covers all medical, dental and educational costs. Additional funds are available for other special needs or interests of the child.

For more information about the parent counsellor program, please call 431-6691.

NEW AVENUES EXPLORED IN CARE OF TERMINALLY ILL

Music has always helped people relax. Since the beginning of time mothers have sung their children to sleep. For many years, office workers have said music helps lessen stress.

Music therapy has proven itself effective in many facets of health care practice. Maternity wards, intensive care units, burn centres, and dental offices are only a few of the settings where music is used to help patients relax.

However, one of the applications of music therapy still being examined is in the area of palliative care - care of the dying. The Alberta Foundation for Nursing Research recently awarded a $46,739 research project grant to three Calgary nurse researchers to study the impact of music therapy on terminally ill patients. These people, by the nature of their illness, must cope with a number of physical and psychological stress factors, including pain and anxiety.

The research study, based at the Calgary Foothills Hospital, is being done by nurses working at the facility. The research team includes Marilyn Day, the Palliative Care Nurse Coordinator and principal investigator of the study; Judith Hanson, the Director of Nursing for the Hospitals Medical and Surgical Programs; and Norma Thurston, Director of Nursing Research, Quality Assurance and Education. The research project is expected to be completed by the end of 1988.

Thirty-two terminally ill cancer patients are taking part in the investigation. Their comments, suggestions and reactions form the central focus of the study. Patients choose what they want to listen to from four musical selections featuring different musical tempos and keys. They have the opportunity to tell the researcher how the music affected them personally. For instance, the patient may feel the music is beneficial because it reminds him of pleasant things. Or, depression.

This study will look specifically at four research questions. Which types of music do the patients prefer? Do they consistently select the same music over a period of several days? What immediate and prolonged effect does a 30-minute music therapy session have on the patient's moods or pain symptoms, compared to no music therapy at all? Finally, what are the perceived effects of music therapy on the patient's thoughts and feelings?

Obviously, this study has tremendous relevance for palliative care nursing. If proven effective, music therapy may open new avenues and options for nursing care of terminally ill cancer patients. This is in keeping with the goals of the Alberta Foundation of Nursing Research, which is committed to broadening nursing knowledge through research. Since its formation in 1982 through a $1 million endowment from the Government of Alberta, the Foundation's priorities have centred on enhancing the quality and quantity of nursing research in the province for the purpose of improving nursing care.

For information about this research project, contact: Norma Thurston, Calgary Foothills Hospital, 403/270-1441.

For information about the Alberta Foundation for Nursing Research, contact: Cathy Brown at 403/427-8926.

Inequity Funding Study

EDMONTON - Dave Russel, Minister of Advanced Education, announced the appointment of Dr. J. Stefan Dupre of Toronto to conduct a study into the matter of alleged inequities in funding among the Province of Alberta's post-secondary institutions.

Dr. Dupre has been a professor of political science at the University of Toronto since 1963 and has served as a member or chairman of approximately a dozen federal and provincial councils, commissions and task forces. He was the founding chairman of the Ontario Council on University Affairs, created in 1974 as the agency charged with advising the Government of Ontario on the funding of the fifteen universities in the province.

Dr. Dupre has been a member of the National Research Council and of the Social science, and Humanities Research Council of Canada. He is also the co-author of a book concerning federal manpower training policies and community colleges. He is a past president of the Institute of Public Administration of Canada a recipient of the Institute's Vanier Medal and an Officer of the Order of Canada. He received a Ph.D. in political economy from Harvard University in 1985 and holds honorary degrees from Laval, McMaster and the University of Ottawa.

Mr. Russell stated, "I believe the Government of Alberta is indeed fortunate in acquiring the services of Dr. Dupre, who is well able to determine if there is indeed an inequity in funding." Dr. Dupre will then make recommendations to the Minister regarding any changes as may be necessary to rectify this situation prior to the fall of 1987.

84'Charing Cross Road

84 CHARING CROSS ROAD is the story of Helene Hanff and her nostalgic journey into the past. Based on the book of the same title, the letters which were exchanged by Helene and Frank Doel of an antiquarian bookstore in London, are brought alive and tell of a remarkable relationship.

The witty, irrepressible New York writer played by Anne Bancroft, began a correspondence with a reserved Englishman, Anthony Hopkins, who managed a quaint, old London bookstore. What begins as a reply to an ad for second hand books evolves into a transatlantic love affair that spans twenty years, between two individuals who are never to meet yet live in the hope that they might.

Yes, they certainly did pull off another successful Rock and Talk. At times the evening held the atmosphere of a full fledged political rally (elections coming and all), but that helped more than hindered the atmosphere. Now that we have all seen how our candidates handle themselves in this environment, we will be able to compare their performances after elections just to be sure that we have chosen an all round talented individual. HARASSMENT

Policy

The Northern Alberta Institute of Technology is committed to providing a working and learning environment within which all constituent members are treated with dignity and respect.

The Institute recognizes that prevention of harassment is a responsibility shared by all constituent members, however, should harassment occur, the Institute will take appropriate disciplinary action to redress it.

I. GUIDELINES

1. A constituent member is defined as any student or employee, any person who provides a service for or receives a service from the Institute, or any person who interacts with the Institution in the context of its role as a public, post-secondary Institution.
2. The term "harassment" is defined as any unwelcome conduct, comment, gesture or contact, including physical contact, that is reasonably likely to cause offence or humiliation to a constituent member, or that might reasonably be perceived by a constituent member as placing or attempting to place an offensive or humiliating condition on employment or on any opportunity for education, training or promotion.

3. It is a responsibility of each constituent member to maintain conduct respectful to the dignity and rights of others.

4. It is a responsibility of every manager or supervisor of activity to investigate complaints of harassment promptly, seriously and in a strictly confidential manner.

5. Constituent members who believe they have been the subject of harassment are encouraged to make an objection clearly known to the perceived offender and/or the person in authority as may be appropriate. If resolution is not successful at this stage, or if it is considered inappropriate or uncomfortable to approach the perceived offender, the complainant may seek the confidential advice of the Director of Human Resource Services.

6. The Institute shall:

- (a) Inform students, staff and other members of the NAIT community of their rights and responsibilities in the prevention of harassment;
- (b) Develop methods to raise awareness in the NAIT community of issues related to harassment and its prevention;
- (c) establish appropriate procedures for registering and resolving harassment complaints, and inform its constituent members of these procedures;

- (d) Receive and attempt to resolve complaints in a manner that preserves confidentiality for all parties;
- (e) Take appropriate disciplinary action in substantiated cases; and
- (f) Monitor the outcomes of decisions and actions.

II. PROCEDURES

A. Procedures - Filing of Complaints

1. A complaint of harassment must be made, in writing, to the Director, Human Resource Services. The Director will provide assistance in completing a written complaint for those individuals who are less comfortable with the written language. The complainant may invite a confidant when a complaint is being registered.
2. Complaints must be filed within 30 calendar days of the alleged incident. Except under extenuating circumstances complaints shall be investigated and resolved, or a recommendation for action referred to the President, within 30 days of the complaint being made.
3. Complaints of harassment shall be treated in confidence. The name(s) of complainant(s) and the circumstances surrounding complaints will not be disclosed to any person except where disclosure is necessary for the purpose of investigating the complaint or taking disciplinary measures in relation thereto.

plinary measures in relation thereto.

B. Procedures - Resolution of Complaints

1. Informal

- (a) When a written complaint of harassment is filed, the Director, Human Resource Services shall investigate the complaint by meeting with the person(s) against whom the complaint has been lodged to hear his/her response.
- (b) The Director shall carry out an investigation and attempt to resolve the complaint to the satisfaction of both parties.
- (c) In the event the Director is unable to satisfy informal resolution, she/he recommend to the complainant that the complaint be heard by the President's Committee on Harassment.

2. Formal

- (a) A President's Committee shall be established to hear, investigate and handle complaints of harassment not resolved at the informal level.

Committee Structure:

- (i) The Vice President, Educational Support Services shall serve as on-going chairperson.
 - (ii) Two additional members shall be selected by the President; one from lists of up to four nominees submitted annually by NASA, AUPE Local 38, and NAITSA; and one Dean or Director.
 - (iii) Lists of nominees submitted to the President by NASA, AUPE and NAITSA shall be representative of the population mix.
 - (iv) Both Complainant and respondent have the right to challenge, for cause, any member serving on the panel to review a particular complaint.
- The validity of the challenge shall be at the discretion of the Chairperson. Cause may include any direct or indirect involvement with the case or other factors likely to prejudice a fair hearing.

Terms of Reference

The Committee shall have full authority of the President.

- (i) investigate complaints of harassment at NAIT;
 - (ii) seek resolution of problems that have been identified;
 - (iii) refer results of its investigations to the President along with recommendations for disciplinary or other action as appropriate;
 - (iv) prepare an annual statistical report to the President on complaints received and their resolution.
- (b) The Chairperson shall arrange to convene the President's Committee on Harassment to hear and investigate the complaint, and shall notify the respondent a minimum of 5 working days in advance of the scheduled date to allow time for preparation.
- (c) The complainant and respondent shall have full opportunity to be heard and to reply to allegations of the other.
- (d) The recommendations of the Committee following their investigation shall be made to the President and shall be in writing.
- (e) The complainant and respondent, and their counsel (if any) shall have full opportunity to be heard and to reply to the recommendations of the Committee.
- (f) The President shall review and consider the recommendations of the Committee and shall receive and consider any submissions on behalf of the complainant and the respondent, and shall inform both the complainant and respondent, in writing, of his decision and such disciplinary or other action as he determines appropriate.

Records Management

The director, Human Resource Services, shall maintain a confidential record of complaints and their resolution. Records of complaints which have been dismissed at any stage will be used for statistical purposes only. In the event there are no further proceedings in a given case following initial resolutions of a complaint, the contents of the file shall be destroyed after a period of two years.

Scholarship & Award Winners

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE -- ACADEMIC AWARDS

One of the highlights of each academic year at NAIT is the presentation of the student academic awards. These awards provide public recognition for the academic excellence and superior achievement of our most deserving students.

The awards, so generously donated by government, individuals, business, and industry, are received and administered by the NAIT Foundation through the NAIT Financial Aid and Awards Office. Each year the Foundation takes pleasure in hosting an Awards luncheon to honour the donors and to express its appreciation on behalf of the recipients.

NAIT's scholarship program has experienced moderate growth in 1986 thanks in part to increased private donations and to the Advanced Education Endowment and Incentive Plan. This farsighted government plan encourages donations through the provision of matching grants for the purpose of establishing scholarship endowments.

On behalf of the students and faculty of NAIT, I congratulate this year's academic award winners for a job well done. We are proud of you!

S. G. Souch, Ph.D.
President

LITTERBOX

Lisa (Animal Health):

Thanks for making Friday such a wonderful night one I hope to repeat at the next bash that you throw. Just in case you can't wait, I'm listed.

Friend of Animal Health

To Telecom Clown:

Saw you at the Animal Health bash Friday. And although you know me not. I've seen you around alot. And wish to see you more. Much more! See you around.
Natrium Caller

Attention Concrete Tobogganers:

If you want a copy of the raw footage of the event in Calgary, contact Wes Loucks in the BCET office.

ATTENTION CSS Members. Abe Van Dorp needs your vote for presidency to make CSS. More enjoyable in the coming year. Thank you for your support.

Toby:

If you're T.C., I want you to know I like strawberries and whipped cream too. Wear more skirts, they look great!
A Dude

U2 on Canvas,

All I know is that you're from out-of-town and in Pre-tech. Let me learn a little more. (wink-wink, nudge-nudge)

Herb

Tubers (MIET),

Congrats on the Sulky Races, by the way the REAL Men remember those "tubers" who filled the whirlpool with suds last year at the Twisted by th'Pool bash.

Oh Murray, sorry we could'nt dance - how about at the next Rock n' Talk.

One of the REAL Men

Mike,

Congrats on being President, does this mean we can blackmail you? Especially on your behavior when you see women. We never realized being kept in the Basement at Plaza II could do that.

Monika and Angie

To the girl who has her eyes on me,

From the blue eyed guy who is supposed to keep an open mind. Missed you last Rock n' Talk. Who are you? Both motors are running and my red and white truck has only one motor.

To Forest Tech,

You missing anything???

Well you may just find it at the BCET Cabaret on March 27th.

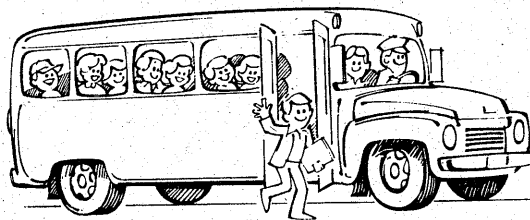

P.S. In order to collect these stolen articles you must bring a minimum of 12 girls and 8 guys.

DESPERATELY SEEKING any young mindless minor female. Enjoys Seafood. Must meet structural requirements. Experience a definate asset. Anyone interested, contact Stu in 1a.

BC NATIONAL BADMINTON CHAMPS

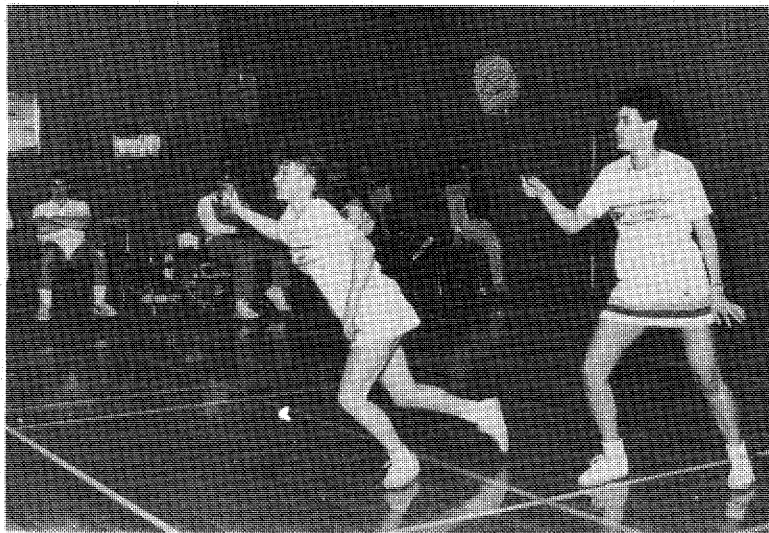

The Northern Alberta Institute of Technology (NAIT) was the proud host of this years National Badminton Championships. They were held from March 18-21, 1987 in Edmonton, where a recent spring snow fall had laid a blanket of white over the city. The anticipation was high when the 56 players throughout Canada met to decide who was best.

Seven conferences competed from across Canada with Alberta fielding a second team as Host Province. There are over 90 colleges competing in badminton across Canada.

The coveted team championship was taken home by BC over Alberta. Third Place was taken by Quebec over Fourth Place Ontario.

A Round Robin event was played for positions with the Medal Rounds consisting of the First Place playing Fourth and Second and Third playing. The winners played for the Gold and Silver while the losers played for Bronze and Fourth Place.

The biggest upsets in medal play occurred in Men's Singles when Fourth seated Roland Cormier defeated his fellow Albertan, First seated Mike Milne, in three games and Third Place Francoise Letarte of Quebec defeated Atul Kaul of BC, who placed second in the Round Robin.

In the Finals, Roland simply had given his all and fell to Francoise Letarte of Quebec scores of 18-17 and 15-11.

Outstanding play was exhibited by Diana Sun of BC in taking the Gold Medal for Ladies Singles. The Silver Medal winner, Shelly Birnke of Ontario, played exceptionally well but lost by scores of 11-6, 11-0. The Bronze Medal went to Sophie Rochefort of Quebec over Kathy Yeats of Alberta. Fifth Place was taken by Sherri Heidle of Saskatchewan, Sixth Place by Kelly Young of Alberta and Seventh Place to Jean Baillie from Nova Scotia.

For the third consecutive year the Men's Doubles title was won by Tom Peat and Mark Nelson of Ontario. They defeated Silver Medal winners Eric Durour and Christian Brie from Quebec by scores of 12-15, 17-15 and 15-5. The Bronze Medal match was won by Jon Parker and Jeff Jarret of Alberta over Henry Szeto and Curtis Brennan of BC.

Fifth Place was taken by Gerard McDougall and Scott McClelland of Nova Scotia, Sixth Place by John Groothuis and Dominic Chan of Alberta Host and Kevin Henschell and Rick Bayer of Saskatchewan took home Seventh Place.

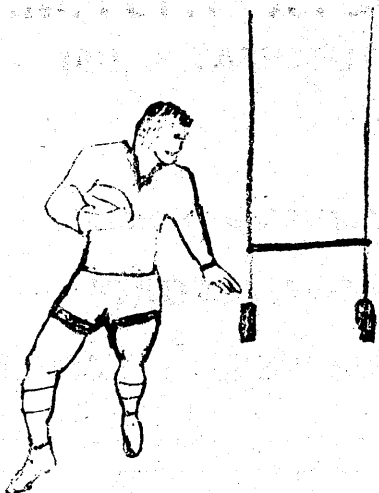

The Ladies Doubles Gold Medal was taken home by Joanne Gillette and Susan Calder of Alberta. They played almost flawless badminton to defeat last years Silver Medallist pair Sylvie Legare and Anne Jobin from Quebec 15-3 and Veronique Page and Hugue Charest. The Bronze Medal was won by Carrie Leung and Brad Johnston of BC over Fourth Place Diane Woo and Gordon Low of Alberta. Kim Briggs and Kirby Nixon of Alberta Host were ranked Fifth over Sixth Place Nancy Barnes and John Suidgeest of Nova Scotia and Seventh Place finishers were Karen Donnan and Calvin Fehr of Saskatchewan.

This years Annual Tournament proved to be a fantastic exhibition of skill and sportsmanship with the level of play much improved, with many of the matches being tests of endurance. Yonex who sponsored the tournament by supplying feather birds and racquets as door prizes are to be thanked. Eileen Harle of NAIT and the Host Committee (who is also the National Convenor of Badminton in Canada) to be congratulated on the organization and well planned activities during the Championships.

Also, thank you to all of the hostesses and hosts from NAIT, who provided many hours of their time to make this years National Badminton Championships a huge success.

April & Rugby Approaching

Spring has sprung and real men are thinking of the fast approaching rugby season. The Nait Rugby Club had its 4th indoor practice on Sunday evening at the U of A Butterdome. Lost winter fitness is returning and early practice aches & pains are fading. The next training session will be Thursday March 26 at 5:20 p.m. in the main gym, everybody is welcome. For those already signed up, attendance is essential.

Ooks Hockey CCAA Preview

This weekend, Camrose will be playing host to the 1986-87 Canadian Colleges Athletic Association National Hockey Championships. The action started on Tuesday, March 24th and continues through until Saturday, March 28th.

Camrose stepped in as host when Brandon, Manitoba pulled out ten months ago.

The format for the CCAA National Hockey Championships is different from past years. There will be two pools at the tourney and each will have its own play-off format. In one pool, the hosts, and teams from Nova Scotia and Quebec will play a round robin series with the best two teams advancing into the finals. In the other pool, the winners on the initial games will move into the semi-final.

The seven teams at the national championships can be divided into three groups. Each entry at the Camrose event has a shot at the CCAA National Championship trophy.

The Kelsey Institute Amaruks from Saskatoon Saskatchewan and the Cariboo College Chiefs of Kamloops, British Columbia are considered to be the longest longshots. The PAC representative from Saskatchewan has almost always been over its head in the CCAA National Championships. Cariboo is considered a good club, but lacks competition in its own conference.

The Camrose Lutheran College Vikings and the University College of Cape

Breton Capers are underdogs going into the CCAA

Nationals. Both Camrose and Cape Breton require strong goaltending, hard work and a little luck to pick up a medal.

The NAIT Ooks, the Humber Hawks of Ontario and number one ranked St. Laurent of Quebec will be strong contenders for the title. Humber was a bridesmaid at last year's CCAA National Championships in Kamloops, and if they have the talent they did last year, the Hawks could be tough to beat. St. Laurent is a skating club, and if they are not pressured, Quebec could have its first CCAA title in hockey since 1984. NAIT needs to play to its potential and stay out of the sin bin in order to repeat as CCAA champs.

ON THE BENCH: NAIT's first action at the CCAA Nationals in Camrose occurred Wednesday night at 7:30 against Kelsey. With a win against Kelsey, the Ooks would then play at 3:30 on Friday in one semi-final against either Camrose, Cape Breton, or St. Laurent. The CCAA National Championship game is slated for Saturday, March 28th at 7:30 p.m. in Camrose.

Don't Sulk; Pull

by Alastair Franke

For want of a nail the shoe was lost. For want of a shoe the horse was lost. For want of a horse the rider decided to pull the sulky himself. Well it was actually a relay combination of three Mechanical Industrial Engineering Technology (MIET) students whom, with sulky in tow, crossed the finish line first at last Friday's Northlands Sulky Challenge.

With only five teams entered two weeks ago, MIET decided to form a second team. Their foresight paid off as they trotted away with the number two spot also.

Last week six teams displayed racing perfection which left four open lanes. "More Teams are needed" said Peter Kool of MIET, "The racing is a lot of fun and with a $2000 stake, it's well worth 'the effort!'"

MIET attributes their success to efficient mid-race change overs and fast starts. Their techniques are wierd, wonderful, and carefully considered. It may take considerable tactical manoeuvres to outwit these veterans of Sulky fame.

When questioned as to the possibility of our south side sister (U of A) achieving Sulky race superiority, both Peter Kool and teammate Murray Badger were adamant saying "A third is the best they (U of A) can hope for!"

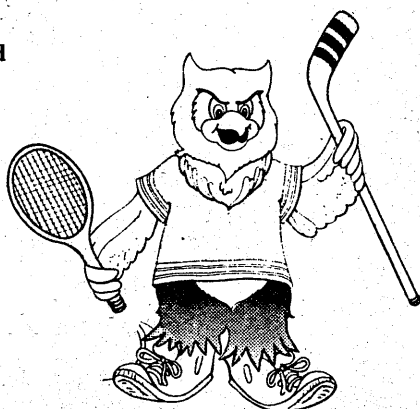

Friday's Harness Race Action is set for 7:30pm at Northlands Park.

BIOTECHNOLOGY TRAINING AT NAIT

DNA The Molecule Of Life

The NAIT Board of Governors has recently authorized funding for a post-diploma program in Biotechnology. This program has been developed as a joint venture between the chemistry and bioscience sections at NAIT and will be offered to students in both programs. This certificate course will be scheduled to run for six weeks in May and June of the two years the students are at NAIT. This twelve week course will consist of nearly four hundred hours of specialized training in Biotechnology. The following background information will be of interest to those who are curious about this course.

No other scientific area has had such tremendous advances as biotechnology has had in the past decade. These advances have resulted in a necessary marriage between biochemistry, genetics and cell biology that few would have envisioned twenty years ago. This new marriage is often referred to as molecular genetics, and involves the use of biochemical techniques in the isolation and manipulation of cellular genetic material.

With today's techniques in molecular genetics we are able to isolate and purify genes for specific proteins, sequence these genes, change them at will and reintroduce them back into individual cells. There the genes will be expressed and produce the desired proteins. If necessary these proteins can then be isolated, purified and put to their intended use in the food industry, agriculture, medicine or other areas of interest. Some well known examples are the production of insulin and the human growth factor.

We have also seen new techniques developed for the culturing of cells from both plants and animals. This has been especially important in regards to monoclonal antibodies, which show such tremendous potential for the treatment and identification of human health problems. Recent advances in carbohydrate synthesis, most notably Lemieux's work at the University of Alberta, have enabled us to synthesize carbohydrates that can be used in the isolation and modification of monoclonal antibodies.

Another area of advance has been in protein chemistry itself.

how the molecule works, and how change through mutations affects the protein.

Our ability to work with and understand how cellular molecules work has also been greatly enhanced by recent advances in instrumental methodology. We now have the ability to purify and identify biomolecules at the nanomole and lower levels using preparative and analytical high performance liquid chromatography (HPLC). New methods are appearing almost monthly.

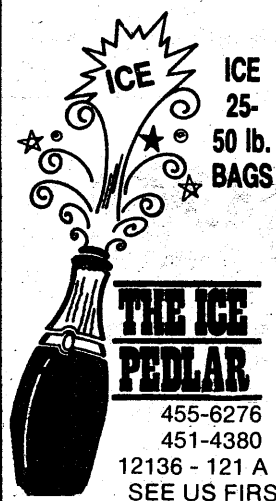

Although the major public focus on biotechnology advances has been on U.S. companies, the research is being done on a world wide basis. Edmonton has been one of the brighter areas on the Canadian scene, where the University of Alberta and local companies have been at the forefront in protein chemistry, carbohydrate chemistry and monoclonal antibody research. The number of people employed in these fields has been increasing steadily, and the outlook is for the creation of many more jobs.

The biotechnology committee has now put together a general course outline streamlined to meet employer requirements. Course content was finalized after analyzing feedback from an industry survey. Major emphasis will be placed on the following topics: protein chemistry and purification; enzyme chemistry, including immobilized enzymes; recombinant DNA methodology; monoclonal antibody generation, purification and modification; cell culture techniques, including an advanced course to bioscience students; fermentation technology including basics in chemical engineering; and radioisotope techniques.

These courses will be taught as a post-diploma program to students in the bioscience and chemistry diploma programs, and will consist of two-six week sessions with a total of approximately three hundred and sixty hours of lecture and hands-on experience. This additional training will be added to the present analytical and organic strengths of the chemical technologists, and the biology strengths of the bioscience technologist. The employer will then have the added advantage of being able to pick a biotechnologist who best suits his needs. The program graduates will have major strengths either in biology or chemistry, and the employer can best judge where his job requirements fit in the broad spectrum of biotechnology.

A possibility for the near future is to offer individual courses or the complete program through continuing education. This would allow our past graduates a chance to upgrade themselves in this field of study, and would offer employers an opportunity to send their employees to NAIT for some upgrading in a particular area of interest. The possibility of this option has already created considerable demand among bioscience and chemistry alumni. If you are interested in this program you are encouraged to contact the registrar at NAIT, or you may get in touch with Don Byers, the Biotechnology Co-ordinator at 471-7767.

Friday night is campus night with student sulky races

Every Friday night between March 13 and April 10 is student night at Northlands Park. Everyone presenting a student card receives free admission to the harness races.

Student sulky racing will pit teams from NAIT against teams from the U of A.

Come see if the U of A is number one in hockey AND sulky racing. Or if NAIT can avenge this year's hockey loss by winning on the race track.
