

Special Medical Committee Finds Dr. Souch and Gord Matthew are Twins!

An Example Of The Group's Findings

Another Example Of The Group's Findings

Several geneticists and medical officials announced today that NAIT President, Dr. Stan Souch, and outgoing NAITSA President, Gord Matthew, are twins. This exclusive NUGGET press conference was held in the NAITRIUM last Sunday, and was chaired by several of the world's top physicians.

"There is no doubt in my mind, although my colleagues have expressed their doubts toward the findings of this group," stated Dr. Rob, the leader of the team. "Some people have also expressed concern that the money of NAIT was being spent in so frivolous a manner, if you have doubts than I invite you to view our findings."

The group consisted of Dr. Rob, Leading Anthropologist, Dr. Fifi Koocho, Animal Practitioner, Dr. Drool Rockworm, Geologist and Dr. Heinrich Willhelm, expert in twins and their behavior. The group's findings explain quite a few mysteries. For instance, why were both gentlemen seen together every so often during the year? The answer of course, is that they are biologically and psychologically joined. This would also explain Gord Matthew's lack of jokes during Awards night concurring with the near comatose look surrounding Dr. Souch.

When asked to comment, Dr. Souch replied, "I have no doubt that a good comedy routine can be developed. I plan to take Gord with me on the road this summer. We will call ourselves The Two Presidents and we will close the tour in September in the new Lounge."

Gord Matthew said, "I have no doubt that a good comedy routine can be developed. I plan to take Stan with me on the road this summer. We will call ourselves Doc 'n Talk and we will close the tour in September in the new Lounge."

Plans for the tour will be released in the next edition of The Nugget.

NAIT Grads Honoured

The American Society of Lubrication Engineers (Alberta Section) recently honoured two NAIT graduates. Konn Carson, graduate of Industrial Heavy Equipment Technology, and Wilf Granger, a heavy duty mechanic apprentice, were each awarded a two-volume Handbook of Lubrication. The Alberta Section is "committed to providing assistance in tribology and lubrication engineering to young technologists, technicians, and maintenance engineers."

Activities

NAIT has a student apathy problem and thus one of the goals of the Activities Director is to increase student involvement in extracurricular activities. The question of why more students don't get involved must be answered. The answer most often given is lack of time. Between the time spent on studies (in and out of class), and working (next to no one gets a decent loan any more) most students count themselves lucky if they get the equivalent of one evening off a week. This precious amount of time must be spent wisely. After all, one evening is not much time to work off all the frustrations built up during the week.

It follows that to increase student involvement more activities that are geared to relieve stress must be implemented.

Students with ideas that would fit this bill are invited to drop them off at the Activities Director's office.

Famed Architect Visits Nait

Students and staff in Architectural Technology program had a special treat on Monday April 11, when Plaza II played host to a world renowned architect and urban visionary.

Dr. Paolo Soleri, who was in Edmonton to deliver the final lecture in Nait's Silver Anniversary Lecture Series, attended an informal gathering of Plaza II staff in the Dock before delivering a fascinating one hour presentation to over 70 second year Architectural Technology students. Equipped with over 60 slides of his new experimental community in Arizona, Dr. Soleri explained his paradigm of combining ecology and architecture to develop communities which are aesthetically pleasing as well as energy self-sufficient. He is considered to be a visionary because of his unusual designs incorporating greenhouses to provide energy to multi-use buildings, his use of "the apse," or quarter sphere structures which can be designed to capture winter sun, but shade out summer sun, and especially for his designs of cities in outer space.

After the student address, there was an impromptu meeting of the minds with Dr. Soleri and the Architectural Technology instructors in the staff coffee room. Chester Zwarich, Program Head of Architectural Technology and Instructor, Bob Spencer, then spent the afternoon escorting Dr. Soleri on a tour of West Edmonton Mall, Canada Place, and other local architectural landmarks. When asked his opinion of West Edmonton Mall, Dr. Soleri remarked that it was "architecturally sterile - which is probably a good thing."

The evening lecture at the Citadel Theatre was the best attended of the series; all tickets were sold out. Dr. Soleri delighted the audience with his somewhat radical ideas, his relaxed style, and clever wit. Those who attended said that he is a charismatic speaker, and whether or not they agreed with his theories of architecture, all who attended enjoyed his presentation.

Attention Business Administration Grads Of 1988

Tickets will continue to be on sale all week in the Tower Lounge between 11:15 to 1:15 until sold out. You are no longer limited to the number you wish to purchase. Grad will be on April 30, 1988, at The Convention Inn South. Tickets are $23 per person.

The Philosopher's Corner Last Time Subject

By John Brownlee

This week is supposed to be Fuggit instead of Nugget so my editor tells me he not gonna fix up what I write this time. Anyway, he tell me he gets lotsa people say to him they like it lots more when I write normal like this instead of him fixing up all of my mistakes I make. Well I still got a lot of things to say but I got some things on my mind that get in the way. First of all there is the job situation. I been here two years and I think I am going out there to pound some more nails which is not a whole lot bet ter than what I been doing before I come here in the first place except now I have $5000.00 to pay off to student loans. Even worse, I gotta go to grad in same old suit I wear everywhere else. They tell me I gonna be some king of validator or victorian or something. They tell me I gotta think something special to say. Maybe I tell them about new religion I have mind to start. It probably got lot more money in that than anything else and you get a lot more attention. And you can fool around with girls if no one finds out. But getting a good job be the most important thing. Maybe I get job writing for newspaper because I am lot better now that I have lots more practice. I try that once. I went to seminar about "euthanasia" but I didn't get a good story because I didn't take no notes. People kept interrupting because they wanted to talk about people dying and they never did get around to talking about the subject. Which is too bad because I am very interested in the Far East and the young people in those kinds of places.

My editor tells me I gotta try be funny some more when I write this week. I got no time for that king of stuff. Now I am getting lots of flak about structor evaluation people saying I got no respect for them, calling them deadwood, etc. I say hey, I didn't write no article like that. Maybe I complain about some things I not agreeing with but I try to keep it in perspectives and you not gonna get far if you talk about people like that. Besides, I got enough troubles getting my instructor to stop calling me worse things than that!

I worked pretty hard while I be here. My marks not too bad and I even get scholarship but the only way I gonna be able to pay off student loan is if I come back to school again in Fall (after borrow more from government) so I can get even more qualify so I can then maybe get better job and maybe pay off loan.

Right now I have 3 big projects to finish for term and lotsa assignments and more term exams and the homework never stops. So I an sitting here writing this and I feel guilty because I am not doing all those things instead. There weather is so nice outside and I have to be here in this basement.

Anyway, I am going to be glad to see the end of April getting here. I will be out there in the real world again and thinking about my next steps. If you want to help me with my religion I will welcome donations (minimum $20.00). That will buy you a good opportunity to bask in the glow of my charismatic personality and will help the cause in ways you could not guess. You can even become a lifetime member with a big enought donation. Just leave a message on my answering machine, OK?

Hope to hear from you soon.

Love,
John

Body Language

By Lily St. Germain

I must confess. I've lied to you all along. Exercising is for the birds. The birds would avoid it if they could get a decent package deal on airline flights south.

To vegetate on the couch and stimulate the intellect by watching movies such as the satire Blind Date or the thriller, Robocop; to keep no less than three kinds of chip dip in the fridge and two party packs of ripple chips on the coffee table; to pig out on pizza and D.Q. Banana splits; to wash it all down with a can of "cold gold"—ah, that's the life!

Who wants to go jogging? That might mean breathing in (shudder!) fresh air. Who wants to swim? It wrinkles and dries out the skin. Who wants to play racquetball or squash or participate in aerobic fitness? Sweat smells, it's disgusting.

Who wants to be slim and trim anyway? Fat's where it's at, man! Blubber is beautiful. And bellybutton dents are fashionable. In fact, the hottest paperback on the market right now is called "How to Create Your Own Lint Trap in 30 days or less." (If interested, see Jim Herron—he wrote the book.)

And don't we all know that eating right is boring? Like, bran muffins and fruit and fresh vegetables and chicken and fish and lean meat make for heavy ZZZZZ's at the dinner table. But bring out whipped potatoes, veal cordon bleu, creamed peas, salad with blue cheese dressing not to mention chocolate cheese cake and an after dinner liqueur and notice how the spirits lift. There you go! That should say it all.

There's nothing more depressing than watching some sparrow pick at their salad with no dressing and their toast with no butter while you're trying to enjoy a good calorie--laden meal.

Enjoy life while you can! So why not eat, drink and be pleasantly plump?

Why put yourself through the agony of sweating three times a week, and why deny yourself the pleasure of gourmet eating when you'll end up like everyone else?

Whew! You can't imagine how much better I feel, having confessed. The bonus is making you feel better. Let's raise our silver Bullets and salute "the good life." Cheers!

Nugget Editor Mutilated

By Baba

Nugget Editor Peter Wilkinson was assaulted and brutally mutilated on Monday, April 11 as he was leaving the school at approximately 9:00 p.m. Police have no suspects.

Despite having all his fingers broken and his tongue cut out by the assailants, Wilkinson still managed to peck out an underground newspaper calling for the public execution of all those opposed to Instructor Evaluation. As well, The Nugget will come out at the usual time.

"We were as surprised as anyone," said a spokesperson for the Nugget staff. "The only enemies Peter may have are deadwood instructors. But we thought nobody listens to him. We certainly never listen to him."

Bil Lowes, Assistant Program Head of 0th Generation Technology, said, "The attack couldn't possibly have been over Instructor Evaluation. All the students in our Technology, including Peter, do everything we tell them to do without question."

However, Lowes refused to answer questions about the discrimination complaint filed by Jewish, homosexual, and Gypsy students over the new dress code implemented on April 1.

A source who asked not to be named assured reporters that Jewish, homosexual, and Gypsy students will each receive their own identifying color, just like 1st, 2nd, 3rd, and 4th semester students. "Because this is the first time we've color-coded our students, we've randomly chosen to do it by semester as a test. Once the system has been refined, we hope to single out all ethnic groups, those born with extra digits, and any other group which we may have overlooked. Our intent is certainly not to discriminate against anyone."

Correction

A NAITSA press release came to this office today, the importance of which is evident. It seems that the Treasurer of NAITSA was the one to tabulate the election results. Unfortunately, the calculator used was switched to dollar function. Therefore, not 800 votes were cast--the number was 80 thousand or 1290% of attending students. We apologize for this error.

Vigilantes

The protest that erupted after NAITSA Administrative Assistant Gladys Smecko disposed of her dying goldfish took a turn for the worse today. Demonstrators broke through commissionaire barricades and flushed Gladys.

Ken Kendall Leaves NAIT

After five long years at NAIT, Mr. Kendall is to graduate. When Mr. Kendall was approached he commented, "Bug off." It is not known if Mr. Kendall will pursue further education or not, but we would suspect he may have reached new heights he thought not possible.

Oh God!

Followers of John Brownlee (the self-proclaimed Messiah of Plaza II) were saddened today to hear that he will indeed graduate, a real surprise to all.

John, a member of Academic Cancel, had much to do with Instructor Devaluation. John's religion will relocate to another institute, as will his followers as soon as they have all been rounded up.

Bye John

Locker Shortage Over

As many of you are aware, there has been a severe shortage of lockers because of the higher enrollment numbers here at NAIT.

The Administration has tabled a proposal that will eliminate this situation. As of August, each and every second year student will receive a locker, the remainder to be raffled off to pre-tech and first year students. So if you are a first year student and are lucky enough to get in, hopefully your admission won't be the only prize you will win.

NAIT Instructor Murdered

By Tyl Eulenspiegel

The body of Magnum, C.A., a NAIT Accounting instructor, was found at 2:30 p.m. Tuesday on the roof of the Tower Building.

Strangulation is suspected as the cause of death, but has not been confirmed by the coroner. Mr. Magnum's seal-skin boots were tied around his neck and his Rolex watch had been forced down his throat. The words "You owe me a beer" were written in green ink on his partially-clad body.

Mr. Magnum was scheduled to be in class at 8:15 Tuesday morning, but it was not apparent that he was missing until two maintenance workers who were investigating a problem caused by the Tower's pigeon population found him Tuesday afternoon. "We thought he'd gone golfing," said a student who wished to remain anonymous.

Time of death has not been established. Mr. Magnum was last seen in class at 10:15 Monday morning. A tall, blue-eyed man with dark curly hair and a moustache was seen leaving the building at 3:00 Tuesday afternoon, but it has not been confirmed that it was Mr. Magnum.

Anyone with any information about Mr. Magnum's whereabouts Monday and Tuesday, or who witnessed any suspicious activities, is asked to contact the Edmonton Police Department.

No suspects have yet been arrested.

JOB HUNTING

PLACEMENT

Let Your Fingers Do The Walking

The "hidden job market" is alive and well: over 80% of all available jobs are never advertised! Studies show that the most effective method of finding hidden jobs is to apply directly to the employer. Of the more than two-thirds of all job seekers who use this method, more than half succeed in getting jobs this way.

To make contact with employers you must make a list of potential employers, including the names, addresses and phone numbers of businesses that might have the job you want. Most people don't think of the local Yellow Pages as a gold mine of information on the job market, but it can be a terrific resource for starting a list of job prospects. You may also find job leads in the white pages of the phone book (not all employers list their businesses in the Yellow Pages). In addition, some phone books now have blue pages for government listings (combined, the various levels of government employ more people than any company or institution). Business-to-business directories are also excellent resources. They usually list companies within a wide area, rather than just one city.

Here's how to use the Yellow Pages and other parts of the phone book to your best advantage:

Step One: Make A List

The phone company has already done most of the work for you, by grouping companies according to the kinds of products and services they provide. Read all the headings from A to Z and list any company that might have the kind of work you want. To make sure you don't miss anyone, there's an index in the front that tells you all the places you'll find listings for any given subject. For instance, if you love horses and know you want to work around them, turn to HORSES in the index. There are at least a dozen different categories of businesses scattered all over the Yellow Pages that have something to do with horses!

Step Two: Call

Call each company on your list and ask to speak to the person who can do you the most good. This would be the supervisor, director or manager of the particular area where you'd be working. In other words, call the person who would hire you for the job you want — not the personnel department.

Step Three: Request An Interview

Explain briefly what position you seek, your skills and unique assets; request an interview. If the call doesn't lead to an interview, ask for more leads!

Using the phone book has many advantages. First, it may give you new and different ideas for job leads. It also saves lots of time, energy and money. You can make 5 phone calls in 30 minutes, instead of spending the whole day pounding the pavement. You don't even have to know if there's a job opening. It's not unheard of for employers to create a position when the right person comes along. Best of all, the employer will be impressed with your initiative and you'll have the edge over all those who just filled out an application or sent a resume!

Formula For Success

1. Yellow Pages = Job Leads
2. Job Leads + Telephone Contacts = Interviews
3. Interviews = Job Offers
4. Job Offers = A Job!

Entertainment

To Whom It May Concern:

My name is David Hanson. If you've been following this section of the Nugget you may have noticed that in my short history as Entertainment Editor this year I've received certain "fan mail" regarding what I've printed on the topic of cabarets that I have attended.

Well people I just wanted to assure you that in the future (yes, I'll be here next year) I will be attending the cabarets that you sponsor and I will be printing my opinions including any names that may pop up. I feel that as Entertainment Editor it is my job and responsibility to inform the students about both your success' and your misadventures.

Now I realize that this may make me unpopular and guess what, I don't care. But it does not have to be this way. I've got the perfect solution for you, do your job right! And do it right the first time.

If you as a responsible people, don't want your name referred to negatively in print, I've got some suggestions that you might try. You might try doing a good job. You might threaten to sue me for "slander?" You might break my fingers. Or you could move to a communist block country where media sensorship is common place, comrade.

Anyway, all joking aside, consider this fair warning that the students at NAIT will know where the good cabarets are and where the dogs are too. Isn't Canada great!

Sincerely,
Dave Hanson

What Happened!

By Me

Good mornin' Campers! This being the last Nugget of the year, you may expect to read some discusting, vile, and absolutely tasteless column by yours truly. Well, I see no reason to change my writing style now, so disgusting, vile, and tasteless is the order of the day.

What does this mean, you say? Well, I'm not all together sure. I guess I'll write about the usual crap and then expound on the topic of how to drink, get drunk, and fall down without Puking in the process.

Ya. Ya. I know all you eager campers want me to get on with it and stop wasting space! Well....

Back to Beulah is still at the Citadel so why don't you shag your ass down there and get some culture into your life!

Edmonton TEEN FESTIVAL of the ARTS is coming to Edmonton May 15, 1988, (that's this year.) I don't know where, or for that matter what it is so I'm not going to tell you.

CATS is coming to Edmonton.

S.N.F.U. and Junior Gone Wild are at Studio 82 April 30th (that's some sub-culture stuff.). I don't know how much $ tickets are but you can get them, I think.

AEROSMITH is in the Coliseum May 12 with special guest, Great White. This is a definite must for those fans of this band.

AC/DC.

INXS and Midnight Oil.

Don't ask me I just heard that they were coming some time in the future.

Boy there sure is a lot of crap here and I'll bet you still have no idea what's going on in the future of Edmonton Nightlife. Well, neither do I so we're even.

As you can see all of the activities mentioned before this particular paragraph are fictitious (or are they? I forgot!) Well the important thing is that my biodex is wrong and astrology is to heavenly and my aura is to bright grey. What that has to do with entertainment I don't know.

Now the moment you've all been waiting for, etc. etc....

AIKIE-HAUL

Rock 'n Talk, April 15. (that's this Friday kids). This is your last chance to act like drunken fools on campus, before the lounge opens next year. After which time you can drink till your liver cries out for mercy and your eyes look like jelly fish. But for this year let's all get out there and "RAISE A LITTLE HELL!"

Dental Assistants Final Brush Up is happening at Northmouth Hall Friday at 8:00 p.m. Tickets are available at the Main Kiosk sometime before then for $5 or you can get a ticket at the door for $7.

Well, "I'm so glad we had this time together, just to share a laugh and sing a song, seems that everytime we seem to get together comes the time we have to say so-long."

Roll call campers-sound off. Are you all here? Good, I want you all to hear this. Oops I forgot what I was going to say. Anyway, remember have a purpose in life; party! Get out there and show them what we're made of! (what are we made?)--mostly water I think. This is me talking to you saying Good Bye.

Sports Comment

by Brian "No Respect-- Nice Guys Finish Last"
Stein,

Ex-Sports Editor

With the presidential elections coming up this fall, it is time to focus on the candidate who should be the next president of the United States. Names of Jackson, Dukakis, and Bush immediately come to mind. However, few people realize the best man is the candidate from the Rhinoceros Party--Bill "the Spaceman" Lee.

The ex-major league pitcher is a man who can deal with controversy. In his autobiography, The Wrong Stuff, Lee recalled his answer to Art Fuss of the Commissioner's office about his alleged marijuana use, "Well, Art, every morning I run five miles to the ballpark. After first waking up, I prepare myself for the arduous task by eating a big plate of organic buckwheat pancakes for breakfast. I sprinkle the marijuana on the pancakes while they are cooking. The moisture of the batter soaks down the pot, enabling the THC to be absorbed by the pancakes during the frying process. That THC makes me impervious to all the toxic bus fumes and other forms of air pollution I may encounter while running."

Lee is honest and stands up for what he believes in. In 1973, Lee admitted he threw two spitballs to protest the fining of pitcher Jim Merritt who also threw the spitter. The American League President, Joe Cronin, fined Merritt a thousand dollars. Lee admitted his guilt to the press and challenged Cronin to fine him. Lee later stated he would have taken Cronin to court if he received a fine on the basis of discrimination against left-handers.

Lee also has a position on drugs in baseball. In his autobiography, Lee stated, "I can think of a lot worse things in baseball than marijuana or peyote, if used in moderation. Things such as walks, designated hitters, and astro-turf."

"The Spaceman" is the best man to become the next U.S. president. It is also time that Canada had a prime minister from the Rhinoceros party.

YEAR END MESSAGE

It's been a year of ups and downs for the sports department at the Nugget. At this time, we, at the sportsdesk, say thank you and wish you the best.

UECKER OR ELSE!

Bob Uecker
Coming to NAIT?

HOCKEY--NO LONGER NATIONAL SPORT?

The Ministry of Sport and Amateur Fitness will announce shortly that Canada's national sport will no longer be hockey. The new official sport will be professional wrestling.

The inside source, who refused to be identified, stated that the federal government felt that the violence in hockey today and the popularity of wrestling prompted the change.

When Otto Jelinek was confronted with this information at the House of Commons, Jelinek was incensed. Jelinek bluntly stated, "You don't know what you're talking about."

Mad Dog Vachon, the legendary wrestler from Quebec, was ecstatic with the announcement and commented, "I was involved in the sport for a long time and without it, I would not be as great as am I today, especially in the mind of Marcel Masse."

Opposition critics reacted to the change predictably. One MP, who asked his name be withheld, summed up the proposal, "Well, at least the federal government has picked a sport with which they are familiar with. The government has been a bunch of bad actors for a long time, and has become famous for taking the money of others doing it."

Alan Eagleson was not too happy about the change. Eagleson stated that now he will have to promote a summit wrestling series between the USSR and Canada.

TALKIN' BASEBALL

The voice of the San Diego Padres, Jerry Coleman, is famous for what he does with a mike. From Voices of the Game, here are ten excerpts of his play-by-play over the past few years.

"Rich Folkers is throwing up in the bull pen."

"There's a hard shot to LeMaster--and he throws Madlock in the dugout."

"He slides into second with a stand-up double."

"Swung on and fouled to the backstop. No, wait a minute, that was a wild pitch and the runner moved over to second."

"They throw Winfield out at second, and he's safe."

"Reggie Smith of the Dodgers and Gary Matthews of the homers hit Braves in that game."

"There's a shot up the alley... oh, it's just foul."

"Royster has gone six-for-seven against Shirley this year... and there's a single that makes him five-for-eight."

"It's swung on and Gamble sends a long fly to right, but Gamble goes back to the wall and makes the catch."

"Bob Davis is wearing his hair differently this year, short and with curls like Randy [Jones] wears. I think you call it a Frisbee."

The students of NAIT who are forced to attend the business conference every February have spoken out. The students have formed a united front and stated they will boycott the conference unless Mr. Baseball, Bob Uecker, is the luncheon speaker.

One of the student leaders stated, "Last year, students were treated to a meal that was mediocre and a speech by Peter Pocklington that made air sickness bags necessary. Pocklington illustrates everything that is wrong with the world today. The owner of the Oilers speaks against social programs yet receives huge loans from his fellow Tories at the Legislature."

The leader added, "There has been an overwhelming response by the students to have someone speak who is successful and entertaining. Uecker has used his mediocrity to become a legend. Who else caught baseballs in a tuba at the 1964 World Series? Who else has become one of the best play-by-play announcers in baseball? Who else is the star of a prime time television show? Only Uecker."

When a member of the administration was asked to comment on the situation, he stated the following, "I don't give a $@*% who the students want, they aren't getting Uecker."

The students have their own plan in the works they are planning on setting up a rival business conference at the same time in Jasper with Uecker as guest speaker.

We attempted to contact Bob Uecker through the Milwaukee Brewers. Uecker is currently doing the play-by-play for the Brew Crew. Uecker has been unavailable for comment--so far.

BATTLE FOR THE FRONT OFFICE

John MacAuley, the NHL Supervisor of Officials, is rumored to be unhappy with his position. Some sources indicate that MacAuley may vacate his post in the future.

As a result, a number of individuals have stepped forward to fill the post. Among the leading contenders are Ron Hextall, Dave Brown, Dino Cicarelli, and Billy Smith. Insiders believe that Brown has the inside track as he will do most of his talking with a stick not too far away.

Some of the NHL's top management are pleased with the number of individuals ready to fill the post. Winnipeg G.M. John Ferguson stated, "I would have applied for the job, but then I would have to hand out too many fines and wouldn't be able to watch any of the live fights in hockey." Pat Quinn of the Vancouver Canucks said, "I would have taken the post, but if my brother John, who's a wrestler, decided to play hockey, I'd be in a conflict of interest."

The NHL tough guys have mixed opinions on a possible change. Glenn Anderson of the Oilers is worried, "With MacAuley, I could spear, slash, maim, and high stick anyone at will. Does that mean if there is a change, I'll have to learn how to play hockey?" Bob Probert of the Detroit Red Wings commented, "I could beat them on the ice, and I can beat the new supervisor up in his office." Tim Hunter of the Calgary Flames reminisced, "I've tangled with each of the leading contenders. I just hope they remember what they did to my nose."

When Harry Neale was asked to say something, he answered, "Well, Madison Square Garden doesn't have the only three ring circus."

THE NALA WANTS THE TOWER

The Northern Alberta Luge Association is about to enter negotiations with NAIT to purchase the Tower Building. An unidentified source revealed yesterday that the NALA wants to have their own track to rival Calgary's at Olympic Park.

The source stated, "The Tower is an excellent training facility. Firstly, we could use it all year round. The tower has no heat in the winter and the air conditioning goes full blast in the summer. Secondly, we could build a number of interesting luge tracks utilizing the current stairwells and elevator shafts. The source also said work around the elevator shafts could start immediately as the elevators do not work half the time anyways."

Tower staff were unaware of the future plans for their building. When asked about a luge track, they replied, "What luge track?"

Civil Snivel

A most peculiar but interesting sight was observed by one of friends and I just the other day. While walking from main campus over to Plaza II, my friend grabbed my arm and pointed out two civil students across the street. He asked me if I had ever heard of civil students who were capable of conversing as typical human beings. My answer was NO, but with my curiosity aroused I sought out the meaning of this strange and never before witnessed phenomena.

disappointing performance my friend dragged me away explaining that they're just brown-nosed wimps. After pondering this statement, I wondered how my friend could detect their foulness and therefore asked him. He laughed and made it aware that for one thing, they both wore civil jackets. The other was either they belonged to a most tanning studio, their fathers rent them to Frenchmen to sniff out truffles, or most likely they had a severe case of brown-nosing.

Upon closer inspection, I discovered they were using a basic form of the English language, they were discussing their humiliating defeat at the '87 Bridge Building Competition. Before I could make a dig about their Requisition is made to all the civil students to be sure to keep an ear out as to whom the next Bridge Building Competition will be held. The challenge also goes to any other tech in NAIT who can endure the event.

Secretarial to Architecture:

There's been lots of talk lately about secretaries. "What party animals!", they say. Geez that cabaret was hot they say. Ok, so you missed the cabaret. Musta been studying plumbing or how to do anything but Doodle Art? Take an example from us:

-awesome cabarets
-concrete toboggan
-Bridge Building 1987
This is a formal challenge to at least you ladies in Architecture to get your butts down to Bridge Building Challenge Cup 1988. (That goes for you interior design...uh, guys too!)

Thanks mom and dad. J.
