

AIDS AWARENESS

In a continuing effort to control the spread of AIDS, NAIT will be promoting awareness of the disease through a variety of programs. For the past several years, NAIT has had such programs in place, but will be trying some different methods this year.

The campaign was started during the November 7 General Council meeting, when Scott Graham of the Academic Council showed a film about a factual American university student who became HIV+ through a relationship with a bisexual boyfriend. The campaign will continue with presentations to individual classes about the disease. Anyone wishing to help with the campaign or wanting to know more about AIDS should go to the Health Services office in the South Lobby.

NAIT Governors Want "Mission Statement" Revision

The Board of Governors recently asked the Academic Council to seek input from staff on revising NAIT's "Mission Statement". The current statement reads: "To design and deliver career training which meets the expectations of students and the manpower requirements of business, industry, and government."

The institution is examining the current statement in light of "our policy statements an instructional programming and institute student relationships" and "the perceived social and economic shifts." Meetings have been arranged for November 29 for staff, either in groups or as individuals, to be heard.

The two questions being asked by the council are whether or not it is "appropriate for us [the institute] to continue the directions we oppose in our statements of policy and guidelines" and if "our mission statement reflects what we do? Will it stand the test of continuing changes?"

Any staff wishing to address the council can contact Stephanie Wilson (7705) to receive an informational package or be scheduled into a focus group.

BUS PASS CARDS GIVEN TO MAYOR

Last Thursday, representatives from various colleges and universities around Edmonton met with Mayor Jan Reimer to discuss a new student bus pass. At the meeting, Reimer was presented with 8000 postcards from students on all city campuses supporting the campaign for a new pass.

Earlier this year, the city's budget committee approved a monthly pass with a 10% discount. This pass, available each month from January to April, will replace the current "Student Pak" of 4 monthly passes. The individual passes will be more suited to students who live on a month-to-month basis and can not afford to spend $152 at one time. If ridership increases and ETS revenues are satisfactory the discount may be raised to 15% next September.

One thousand four hundred of the cards given to Reimer came from NAIT. The new passes could be sold at the Student Store in mid-December.

PLEDGE BANNERS FOR ALCOHOL AWARENESS

With "Alcohol Awareness Week" just around the corner, the Alcohol Awareness Committee has come up with a new promotional idea. "Pledge Banners" have been set up in the main and north cafeterias, as well as Westwood Campus and the Dock in Plaza II. The idea is that people who want to pledge that they do not drink and drive can sign their names to express their opinions. Signatures can be any size. If you want people to know your position, SIGN YOUR NAME!

FUND RAISING CAMPAIGN SET UP

A $4.5 million dollar fund raising campaign involving staff students and Edmonton businesses has been set up to ease "space deficiencies" at NAIT. The program, called "Partners in Tomorrow", will finance a 15,700 square meter Health and Medical Sciences Technology Complex, a new 500-600 seat auditorium, update existing facilities, and various other projects.

A 1987-1988 study showed space shortfall of nearly 17000 square metres. This is about 10% of NAIT's current facilities, and with current projections predicting a student population increase of two thirds in less than 10 years, the space shortage becomes even more worrying.

In order to encourage Edmonton businesses to contribute to the program, NAITSA has come up with a way of showing the student's commitment to the program. Over the next five years, NAIT students will donate a total of $775,000 plus towards the cost of construction and renovation. Currently $15 of each student's fees is put towards a general building fund. However, under the new system, the money will be put in a special fund earmarked specifically for the expansion. This money, totaling $97,500 per year, plus the original $100,000 NAITSA donation and compound interest, will fulfill NAITSA's commitment to the project.

According to NAITSA President Brad Diemert the new system will simply be a "relocation of funds into a separate account" as a goodwill gesture to local companies. In other words, the students are paying the same amount out of their student fees, however now it is being channeled into the future expansion of NAIT.

GRAD GOWN ORDERS

FOR JANUARY 13, 1990

GRADUATION

To add dignity to the occasion and to eliminate the need to spend money on new clothes, graduation gowns are worn by all participants. These are to be ordered through NAITSA Student Stores by November 30, 1989. The rental fee is $10.00

Are You Interested in a Cross-Cultural Experience?

Every year NAIT welcomes international students into a variety of programs. International students must cope not only with the stress of study at a new school, but do so while adjusting to differences in climate, food, social values, modes of behaviour, and verbal and non-verbal communication. This can generate stresses which significantly detract from the benefits of "study abroad".

We are presently looking for Canadian students who are interested in working with international students during their adjustment to life in Canada. If you choose to participate, you will be expected to spend two hours a week with an international student over the upcoming term. You will learn about Canadian and other cultures, intercultural communications, and acquire new perspectives on international issues, international relations, and the role of Canada in the world.

Should you be interested, please contact David Perry at the Office of International Education and Applied Research, NAIT, 471-7524.

Lifestyles of the Young and Responsible

I recently had a conversation with the most wise and wonderful woman I've ever known - my grandmother. She was discussing how impressed she was by the younger generations knowledge and mature attitudes towards drinking and driving. "Today there is such a large amount of information available on the facts about alcohol and the influence it has on every activity a person attempts."

The public has become aware, and along with this has come more responsible actions. Going out and having a good time involves more than peeling back bills and tipping back bottles; it means asking questions like "If I'm drinking whose driving?" And the responsibility doesn't end with ourselves, we have to encourage smart drinking among our friends and families as well. A good place to start is by making up an agreement, written or oral, which might state that each person will be willing to pick up the other anytime they aren't in a state to drive - no matter how late or how far away.

Another good idea is to always have an emergency stash of money, enough to get you a cab home from the party. And something everyone should do is always agree beforehand who is the designated driver (take turns) and informing the waiter, bartender or whoever else might be compelled to offer you a drink that you are driving.

Being responsible and not mixing drinking with driving is the mature intelligent thing to do. And with this week being Alcohol Awareness Week there are banners up outside both cafeterias, and also at Westwood and Plaza II which students are being asked to autograph to show their support of responsible drinking.

Have We Forgotten?

This past weekend saw Remembrance Day come and go for another year. Like most Canadians, I have nothing to "remember" as such, having been born about 25 years after Japan surrendered. Wars were always something on TV and movie screens. Because of this, Remembrance Day doesn't have much personal significance for me.

Unfortunately, this attitude seems common. Most stores stayed open on Saturday and TV specials were scarce. NAIT didn't take a break, although this was due to contracts with employees and instructors. The problem is that over the years, November 11 has become a holiday rather than a day of mourning. Its human nature to lose compassion for other's suffering over time. The numbers of people killed on both sides of the fight are just that... numbers. Large numbers, but numbers just the same. The photos and films of the Holocaust victims, and the testimonies of the survivors, are disturbing, but not meaningful. At least not to us.

The people it is meaningful to are the veterans. They are a dying breed who are our strongest link to the past. In their yearly ceremonies and reunions, they do more than relive memories; they stir our imaginations and take us back forty-odd years. Without them, the victims of war would simply be a nameless mass. With them, however, we are reminded of how blind mankind can be. We are shown what true courage is, as well as true cowardice. The violence in Central America and the Middle East suddenly seem foolish and futile in light of past lessons that are apparently being ignored. The United States, once a reluctant participant in other's conflicts, now appears set on a heavy-handed policy of intervention, despite its enormous casualties in the World Wars, Korea, and Vietnam to name a few.

The point is, if we forget the past, we have no basis for planning the future. Next time you see a poppy, remember why it's there.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

A group of mature students got together last Thursday afternoon and voted to get a mature student group operating. Technically a mature student is anyone who has been out of school for 12 months and is over 18 years of age. This accounts for about 60% of NAIT's student body.

During the discussion several things were brought out that seem to be limiting our acceptance with the student body. The big one was our name, Mature Students. It conjures up images of senile old students sitting around discussing the last major war or knitting. Our group is far from this, we are a varied group with an average age around thirty, and with representation from most of the technologies on campus.

Other topics discussed were; what would we like to see the group accomplish?

- 1) A social support group - someplace where those of us who feel lost on this campus or in the city can come to find other people who feel the same.
- 2) An academic support group - a place where you can meet other people who have gone through the trials and tribulations you are. Who can give encouragement and support.
- 3) Seminars - To set up seminars and workshops to help us relearn how to learn, if we knew how in the first place. Seminars can also be developed to help us meet new people or deal with personal problems.

We can shape the group to meet specific problems of individuals or specific types of problems. For example; if we have enough single parents involved we can set up day care during activities; or married students who want to involve their spouse in activities.

All of these things listed are possibilities, I am sure that there are thousands of things that I have not touched on. If you need any of the things listed or know of something that should be included. PLEASE JOIN US for a policy setting meeting Thursday, November 16, at the counseling office at 4:15 p.m.

YOUR INPUT IS ENCOURAGED!! COME AND HELP SET UP A GROUP TO BENEFIT ALL OF US!!

By Stuart Dobson

Thanks for setting the record straight and for the information on your group and what you are trying to accomplish. Good luck.

Dear Editor:

The Victor Davis 'murder' is another sad illustration of how the legal system and police service in Canada is deteriorating. It is a sad day when a man can run down another and not be charged. Whether or not the victim is a celebrity is of no consequence, it merely serves to bring the situation to national attention. The police service is neglecting its duty by not charging the driver. He made no attempt to avoid the victim, he even accelerated towards him; he did not stop after hitting the victim, but drove away, to turn himself in 30 minutes later - does this not qualify as hit-and-run? In a suspicious case such as this, one would think a breathalyzer test would be taken as a precaution, but no, the police saw no need for it. Allegations that the car impounded by police is not the vehicle involved and other suspicious circumstances certainly merit an investigation. This example makes one wonder how many cases involving John Q. Public are bungled by the police and legal services.

Worried Citizen

Ideally everyone is to be held accountable for his own actions, especially when they effect others. Explanations are definately required, not only from the people directly involved with this crime, as well as from the Police who handled (mishandled?) the situation.

STU MARSHALL: AROUND TOWN

Yes, it is the ski bum's ultimate dream. Free skiing. That's right, powder hounds. Free skiing for New Year's. At Louise. With two ultra fast quad chairs that will whisk you up to the Whitehorn Lodge in ten minutes. All you have to do is buy a ticket to the CSS bash tomorrow night at Northmount Hall.

The small catch, however, is getting your ticket drawn. But with only 250 tickets printed, (and they're going fast) the odds are way better than any lottery I can think of. And by the way, if you think I'm getting special treatment from CSS for writing this, you're wrong. I'm doing it out of the goodness of my heart.

I'll bet everyone who attended Hairstyling and EDD's bash at the Greenhouse on Friday had as good a time as I did. But, as usual, I have my constructive criticism as I do for almost every cabaret. I again felt like a sardine. 10 minutes to get to the bathroom was good timing. The heat was unbearable. When I went outside to cool off, I came back to find out I could not get back in; that I would have to sit in the dining lounge because there were too many people in the bar side. I definitely think the folks from EDD and Hairstyling are a fun bunch, but I may think twice about going to The Greenhouse for a cab.

But, don't get me wrong. If you're the type that gets into packed bars, then Telecom's bash at The Greenhouse would be my advice. Doors open at seven and there will be door prizes.

STU'S PICKS

For the metal crazies, best bet is Laser Rock Wars at the Space Sciences Centre, featuring Metallica and The Cult. This one is not recommended for the faint of heart. Call 451-7722 for show times.

I hope everyone has recuperated from Saturday nights festivities, because our beloved Eskies take on the Roughriders from the west Sunday afternoon. Make sure to bundle up. I have this weird kind of feeling it won't be Coppertone weather.

Next weekend is happening with Air Conditioning and the Grant MacEwan Nurses presenting A Winter Shaker at Evansdale Hall on the 24th, tickets are $5. Seems to Stu these cabaret tickets are getting cheaper. Have a good one!!!! Don't Drink and Drive!!

Back To The Future Part 2 Just One Of Many New Movies This Week

THIS WEEK IN ENTERTAINMENT

Compared to last week, this week in entertainment is quite a bit better. In the theatres on Wednesday is Back To The Future Part 2. Returning are Michael J. Fox, Christopher Lloyd, Lea Thompson and Thomas F. Wilson as Biff. This movie starts where the last one left off as Marty McFly and his girlfriend Jennifer Parker (this time played by Elisabeth Shue) try to "save" their kids with the help of Doc Brown.

Steel Magnolias is a movie about the lives of six Louisiana women. This movie features Sally Field, Olympia Dukakis, Dolly Parton, Shirley MacLaine, Daryl Hannah and Julia Roberts, who are all considered top of the line actresses. For animation fans there are two movies scheduled for release this week. Disney's The Little Mermaid and Don (American Tail, Land Before Time) Bluth's All Dogs Go To Heaven. And finally, Eddie Murphy is back with Harlem Nights, the story of a night club with gangster problems.

At the video store this week are two hit movies. K-9, a cop and his dog movie starring James Belushi and Ghostbusters 2, starring Bill Murray and company. Other summer movies coming your way soon include Star Trek 5, and the hits When Harry Met Sally... and Indiana Jones and the Last Crusade. We'll be back in the future.

Red's Performance Golden

Red Skelton:
A True Legend

Red is a great pantomimist in the class of Marcel Marceau. Some of the gems in the show included, "Fathers in the Maternity Ward", "The First Honeymoon and the Second Honeymoon Fifty Years Later", "The Old Man and the Squeaky Door", and "The Old Man at the Parade".

One of the special guests on stage was the befuddled rustic Clem Kiddlehopper. Clem described his wife and his relatives among other things. About his mother-in-law, Clem stated, "She calls me son, but never finishes the sentence."

Besides starring in 48 motion pictures, Red has penned nearly 5000 musical selections. A couple of gems were in the show including his signature song that brought back memories of days gone by and "If I Were King of the Birdies" which gave the audience an opportunity to join in on the fun.

Red closed the show with the self-written "Tribute to Canada" -- a serious interpretation of our national anthem and what it means through the eyes of Red.

Red brought back characters and brought forth laughter. Although Red's performance was only for one evening, the fond memories will last forever.

THE job MARKET: Smooth System or Controlled Chaos?

by J. Michael Farr & Pamela Smith

"To market, to market, to buy a fat pig Home again, home again, jiggy jig."

"Job market." It has a nice ring to it. The words give a sense of a place (or at least an organized system) where one can go to find a job — sort of like buying a fat pig. Unfortunately, it just isn't so. In fact, our job market is more akin to the disorganized chaos of a food riot than the orderly rows of produce in a grocery store.

"Most people do a very poor job of job finding. After an extended period (currently 17 weeks) of intense confusion, discouragement, and deep frustration, most applicants accept a job — more or less by chance."

—Richard Lathrop, Who's Hiring Who

Is there any help, you ask, in approaching this disorganized process? Yes. Help is on its way in the form of certain revelations which are useful in finding your way through the maze of job-seeking confusion:

Revelation One: Everyone will be a job seeker eventually. Average Americans will change jobs about fifteen times before reaching age 35 and change careers 3 to 5 times in their lifetime. Half of all present jobs won't exist in 10 to 15 years. Job seeking is not just the "other guy's" problem or a skill that will be needed just this once. Every year, 20 to 30 million Americans suffer extended unemployment.

"Because some jobs come easily, and because situations demanding that a person find a new job come only irregularly... many people undertake a job search lacking both critical information and essential communications and interviewing techniques."

—Robert Wegmann, "Job Search Assistance: A Review"

Revelation Two: The jobs are almost always there, but employers have a hard time finding qualified applicants. Even in relatively bad times, it is estimated that at least one million job openings exist at any one time and sometimes considerably more. About 42% of all unemployment is "frictional," where a job opening exists but a qualified job seeker has not located it.

Revelation Three: Only 15 to 30% of all jobs are obtained by conventional job-seeking methods and about 85% are never advertised (the famous hidden job market). Richard Bolles' book What Color Is Your Parachute? does a nice job of analyzing this.

"...you must beware of traditional job finding systems and people who endorse them. The old systems are primarily responsible for over 20% unemployment rate among younger men and women."

—Bernard Haldane, Young People's Job-Finding Guide

Revelation Four: Over 90% of all job seekers have had no training in how to find jobs and consequently conduct it poorly. It may well be true that job-seeking ability is more important in getting hired than ability to do the job.

While all this paints a pretty bleak picture of the job market, it's a dark cloud with a silver lining. If you can discover the mysteries of our job market, you have a distinct edge.

"The people who were getting the best job offers were not necessarily the best qualified in the work, but actually were those who were best qualified in the techniques of job changing (finding)."

—Tom Jackson, How To Get The Job You Want In 28 Days

Fat pigs remain available, if one knows how to find them.

—JMF/PRS

Sports World In Mourning

It is a sad week for Canadians as we mourn the death of gold medal swimmer Victor Davis. Davis was hit by a car early last Saturday morning in a very mysterious incident.

There are several conflicting reports, but the one that stands out is Davis's girlfriend Donna Clavel's allegations that he was purposely hit by three drunks. Clavel claims that they turned around and then accelerated towards Davis before striking him. These allegations leave a lot of people wondering why a breathalyzer wasn't taken the day of the accident? Or why no charges have been laid yet? Or even why nobody knows what really happened four days after the incident? Hopefully by the time this paper comes out these and many other questions will be answered.

Davis will be remembered as a champion who hated losing and would never give up. He won gold and silver medals for Canada in the 1984 Olympics in Los Angeles and held a world record in the 200 metre breast stroke for seven years. Not many Canadians have achieved this type of recognition.

All I can say is if the allegations made by Clavel have any - I mean any - truth to them whatsoever, the people responsible should be dealt with harshly. A manslaughter charge wouldn't be enough. This does not mean that just because he was a celebrity the penalty be unusually harsh. But because he was so well known, a harsh penalty would make news and act as a deterrent to others.

Victor Davis was a true Canadian champion, and his memory can only serve as a model for future Canadian athletes.

Hockey Ooks -- Perfect 7 and 0

The NAIT Ooks extended their winning streak to seven and stand atop the ACAC hockey standings with a 7 and 0 record.

On Friday, November 10th, the NAIT Ooks scored four special team goals en route to a 7-2 win over the Vikings at the Camrose Recreation Center.

In the first, Ivan Krook notched a pair of powerplay goals for the Ooks while Kevin Lovig added an even strength marker.

In the second, Blaine Peerless padded the Ooks lead to 4-0 with NAIT's third powerplay goal of the evening.

In the third, the Ooks received goals from Ted Bradshaw, Ian McAmmond, and Mark Thiessen while Neal Isnor and Jeff Nicholas answered for the Vikings.

NAIT goaltender Rob

McKinley turned away 19 of 21 Viking drives. Camrose netminder Artie Feher turned away 45 of 52 NAIT shots.

On Saturday, November 11th, the Ooks went five for six on the powerplay scoring a 6-1 triumph at the NAIT Arena.

In the first, the Ooks acquired a 2-0 lead on goals by Ted Bradshaw and Randy Wong before Dale Lees pulled the Vikings to within one.

In the second, the Ooks completed the night's scoring as Ted Bradshaw, Todd Lorenz, Craig Sterzer, and Murray Bokenfohr capitalized on scoring opportunities.

In the third, there was no scoring.

NAIT's Derek Shybunka redirected 36 of 37 CLC shots while CLC's Artie Feher blocked 31 of 37 NAIT blasts.

This past weekend, Derek Shybunka and Rob McKinley turned in strong performances in the NAIT net. Defensively, the Ooks have held the opposition to two or less goals in five of the seven league games.

ON THE BENCH: The Ooks are 15 and 5 overall including exhibition play... The Viking Cup slated for Camrose in December will feature the Czechs, the Russians, McGill University, the University of Lethbridge, Red Deer College, and Camrose Lutheran College.

Ooks coach Perry Pearn is an assistant with the National Junior Team... The Ooks are in Calgary this weekend to play SAIT on Saturday at 6:00 p.m. at the SAIT Arena and Mount Royal on Sunday at 2:00 p.m. at Centennial Arena. The Ooks next home game will be on Friday, December 1st when they play host to the SAIT Trojans.

Athletics Happenings

by Justin Dahlen

The Ooks teams had a successful weekend once again. The hockey team took both games from Camrose.

The soccer team finished fourth in the Nationals.

The men's and women's volleyball teams both posted winning records on the weekend.

However, the basketball teams lost their games.

Good luck to the teams next weekend.

Successful Weekend For Volleyball Teams

This past weekend was a successful one for the NAIT Volleyball teams. Both the men's and women's teams lost their first two matches of the season to Medicine Hat and Lethbridge, but after the weekend both teams are at 2-2. Friday afternoon both teams boarded the bus to Vermillion to play Lakeland College. The women's team set an excellent tone for the weekend by beating Lakeland 3-0 on Friday night. The scores were 15-5, 15-2, and 15-4. The men followed that up with another 3-0 victory. Scores were 15-8, 15-10, and 15-5. After both teams added a little nightlife to the town of Vermillion, on Friday night, play resumed Saturday afternoon with the women winning again by a 3-0 score. Game scores were 15-2, 15-10, and 15-10. The men followed with an exciting 3-2 win. Game scores were 13-15, 15-17, 15-6, 15-4, and 16-14. All in all a great weekend for NAIT's Volleyball teams.

Soccer Ooks Finish 4th At Nationals

After an excellent season the Alberta Collegiate champions NAIT Ooks suffered a disappointing 4-3 loss in the bronze medal game on the snow in Calgary. Key injuries and snowy conditions are cited as factors, but not excuses, for the Ooks failing to finish with a medal.

Les Cselinacz led the Ooks with 2 goals in a 3-0 victory over Kings College of Nova Scotia in the first game on Thursday, November 9.

Game 2 was against a tougher team in Trinity Western of BC. The Ooks, thanks to solid performances by Jason Buchwal, striker, and Paul Wilson, goalie, in particular, won 3-1. Day 1 ended with the Ooks undefeated at 2 and 0, but also missing two key players due to injuries.

On Friday morning they played Alhustic of Quebec City and tied 2-2 leaving them tied for first place in their pool. Later that afternoon NAIT was soundly defeated 5-0, by Ontario in the semi-final dropping them down to the Bronze medal game.

Alhustic was NAIT's opponent in the bronze medal game. NAIT started out flying, building up a 3-1 lead, but when it was all over the scoreboard read 4-3 in Alhustic's favor. The gold medal game featured Mohawk College of Ontario and Capilano College of BC (with Mohawk College winning 2-1). These medal games on Saturday were played in fairly deep snow and features some pretty outrageous plays. If this had not been such a widespread tournament the games would likely have been postponed.

The team does not hold any bad feelings about this tournament, in fact they feel it was an excellent learning experience and can only help them next year. With better than half of the team returning next year, NAIT's soccer future looks good. Congratulations to the Ooks on a successful season and better luck in the Nationals next year.

Calder Controversy

The possibility of Sergei Makarov winning the Calder Trophy is turning heads around the NHL. The upcoming decision will be controversial.

On one hand, Sergei Makarov is a rookie in the NHL. However, like the 1981 Calder winner Peter Stasny, Makarov played in countless international contests before coming to the NHL. In addition, Makarov was playing with the Red Army-- the Soviet version of the NHL.

On the other hand, WHA players were not eligible for the Calder when they entered the NHL in 1980 as they were deemed professionals. As a result, a number of quality players were denied the opportunity of winning the Calder in

BOB PRINCE SPEAKS OUT

1981 the year of Stasny's victory.

The decision made by the NHL in 1980-81 is now coming back to haunt the league. If the NHL would have decided that all first year players could be eligible for the Calder or that participants with the national teams and WHA teams would not be eligible for the Calder, this controversy would not have arose again.

Lately, Soviet bashers, Don Cherry and Harold Ballard have been voicing their opinions about Makarov and the Calder. Like lemmings, a number of individuals in the NHL have given these two support.

The hate for the Soviets can be justified. The Soviets were no angels in Afghanistan. Similarly, the Americans were no angels in Vietnam.

As for the NHL, they should do something useful like award a franchise to Saskatoon and get Eddie Shack in the Hockey Hall of Fame.

I.A.B.C. Student Chapter Planned for NAIT

Edmonton --The International Association of Business Communicators (IABC) wishes to establish a student chapter at NAIT. The association plans on recruiting 20 business students to become founding members of the chapter.

The IABC is a credible organization with over 20 years of outstanding service, 12 years in the Edmonton area. The association provides many valuable services to its 11,000 members and will be an asset to any business student.

The student chapter will provide its members with an excellent opportunity to establish contacts in the business community. This networking has allowed many students to bridge the awkward gap between graduation and career commencement.

Student members also benefit from the solid reputation of the association as seen by the business community. Association with I.A.B.C. is a valuable feature to incorporate into ones resume.

Interested students should contact Art Carlzon in T-203 or at 471-8850 before December
