

RED CROSS RETURNS

In a couple of days, the Red Cross will be here at NAIT with needles poised, ready to suck NAIT students dry. Like most people, the students won't give up their blood without a fight. They will have to be dragged kicking and screaming to the 'medical chamber' before a drop is shed.

Now, so far this should be sounding like a B-grade horror movie because, it's not very realistic. True, the Red Cross will be here to collect as much blood as possible, and true, some students won't be persuaded to give. However, many will give, either for the first time or for a return visit.

Those who have given before realize how little time and pain is involved in the process. From the initial blood test to the time you are allowed to leave is about 40 minutes. During that time, you get to lie down to give blood, and then eat free biscuits and drink free pop while you recover. Apart from a quick stab of pain when the initial sample is taken, the whole process is painless.

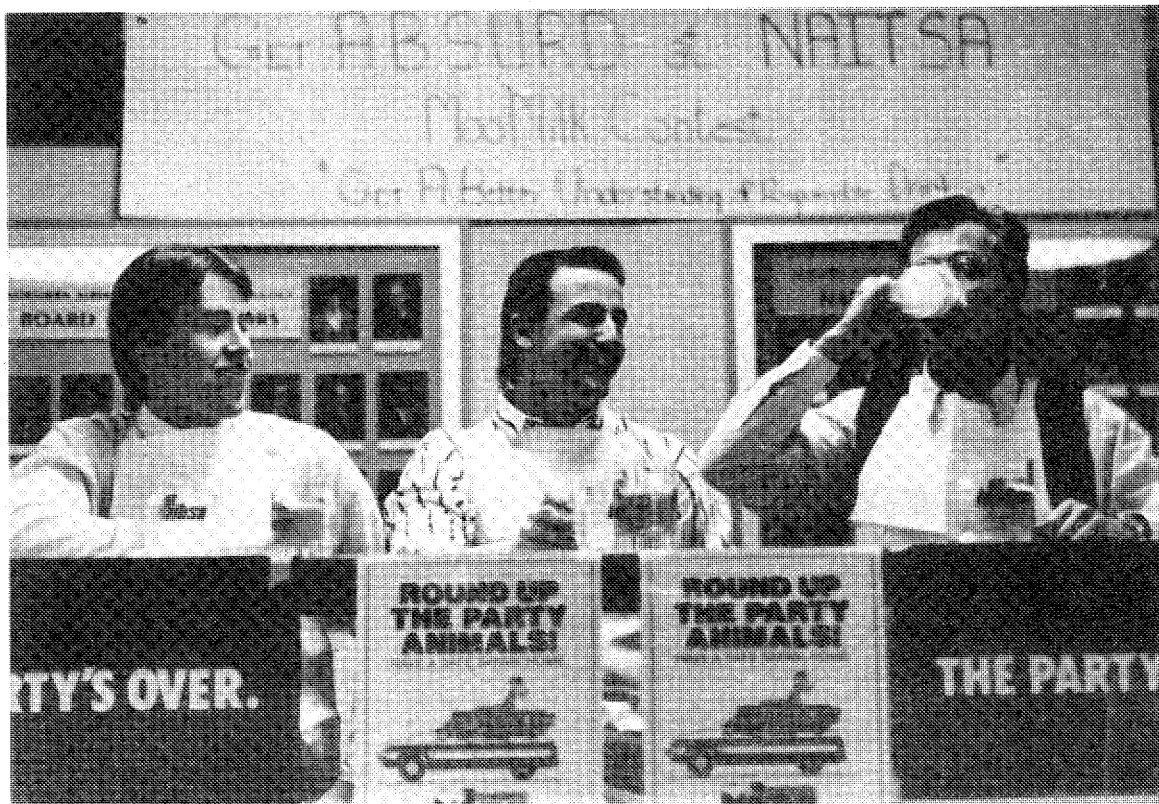

Unfortunately, this is just one of the many things people don't seem to know about blood and blood giving. For instance, the Edmonton Red cross supplies blood to 99 hospitals between Red Deer and (get this) Inuvik, for which they need about 65000 units per year. And, despite people's claims, very few people faint while giving blood.

Of course, there are those who come up with more colorful excuses than fear of pain. In an information packet sent to the NUGGET, the Red Cross included a "Top Ten" list of excuses not to give. Some of the better ones were: "I ran away to the circus when I was 13 and I had an 'I love you Ethel' tattoo put on my arm. Now that I'm married to Mildred, I couldn't roll up my sleeve in public."; "I've been told by a modeling school instructor that I have a very sexy elbows, and I'm rather discreet about who sees them."; and "Normally I am most sincere about considering giving blood. I average three considerations every two months, actually. In fact, I'd consider it today but I'm wearing long sleeved underwear."

Despite the amusement provided by these excuses, they do not fill the need of patients in hospitals. The clinic will be an excellent chance for students to support a worthy cause (maybe even save a life) without taking too much time out of their busy schedules. Show up next week, and "join the lifeline - be a blood donor."

NAITSA MOO TEAM SHOWING THEIR WINNING FORM

MOO DAZE A SUCCESS

Last Thursday, 10 teams competed for the big Moo Days prize in the South Lobby of NAIT. The teams of three each sang the "Moo Milk" song and then downed glasses of flavored milk.

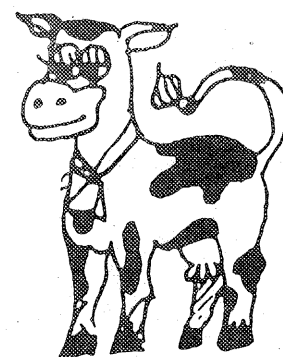

Prizes were awarded in four categories. The team from CISM FM 104 took the award for best version of the "Moo Milk" song. The Edmonton Journal representatives won best time. NAIT's Dean team took the Best Costume award and the NAITSA team (Publications Director, Scott Sugden; Financial Director, Imre Bene; and Nest Manager, Gord Matthews) captured the award for Best Overall team. A large crowd watched the competition during the lunch hour.

In addition, the Bottle Cap contest was won by Trevor Gess. His guess of 1876 bottle caps in the fish bowl was dead on.

Although our own female Nugget team didn't place in any of the categories a fun time was had by all. Our men's team didn't bother to show.

GRAD GOWNS

Have you heard the news?

If you haven't heard yet, NAIT's Board of Governors unanimously approved formal graduation ceremonies to honor students graduating between July 1 and December 21, 1989. This ceremony is the first of its kind in NAIT's 26 year history to specifically honor these graduates. Traditionally, these grads have been invited to an institution-wide ceremony held each spring.

The ceremony will be held at NAIT on Saturday, January 13, 1990. NAIT's Academic Council is currently undertaking a study to determine if more than one graduation ceremony per year is desirable. Attendance at this year's ceremony will help in determining whether NAIT will hold one or two graduations per year in the future.

You've worked hard to complete your program and NAIT wants to recognize this achievement. Be proud of yourself! And help set a precedent by participating on January 13, 1990.

If you're going to participate you must declare your intentions by ordering a graduation gown. Orders are being taken through the NAITSA Student Store until November 30, 1989. The rental fee is $10.00.

R.T.A. UPDATE

It may surprise many NAIT students, but several of the news stories seen on Shaw Cable and Video Tron are written, produced, shot, and edited by second and third semester students from NAIT's Radio and Television Arts Technology. The news items, which are taped on Tuesdays and Thursday, are aired at 4:30 on Thursdays afternoons.

R.T.A., which works on a semester system, has two intakes a year. During the first semester, students are given general training in both radio and television. Specialization occurs during the second and third semesters, when students decide which medium they want to become involved in.

The fourth semester is spent on work experience with various television stations. Although most students settle into jobs in Western Canada, some travel further a field. One radio student, Rick Rasko, even landed a job in Australia.

So far this year, the students have produced stories about the NEST, Yearbook, NAIT sports, the NUGGET, and numerous others. According to student Sherry McGinnis, the idea behind shooting at NAIT is that it is convenient and allows students and others to find out about NAIT. This point is emphasized by the call letters E.N.N. (Edmonton NAIT News) of the "station" the news is broadcast on.

Of course, the students also cover outside events. The class has official press passes for such events as Oilers games. According to McGinnis, if they get stuck, they can usually count on the regular Edmonton media for help. "They're fairly helpful because they know we're students and will help us if we get into trouble."

As can be expected, the group has many different employment goals, ranging from on-air appearances to camera work to production. Anyone who knows of a news story the students might be interested in can call 8529 on the internal phone lines and ask for the "producer" (producers are rotated weekly).

CHARITY?

On December 6, the Alberta Hospital will be holding its annual Christmas Chime Sale from 11:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. The sale allows hospital staff and patients to donate hand-made articles to support patient programs.

According to Kathy McKee of the hospital, the sale will include ceramic ware, silk flower arrangements, children's toys and furniture, crafts, baking, and more. Parking and admission to the sale will be free.

The hospital is located at 17480 Fort Road. Watch for signs heading north on the Manning Freeway. Don't miss this chance to find a unique present for that beloved one.

WINTER FROLIC

Although it is early, I would like to remind you that the annual Great Northern Concrete Toboggan Race will be coming up, more quickly than you think! It is being hosted by the University of Calgary this year, and should be held sometime in February.

What is the Great Northern Concrete Toboggan Race? Just like it sounds. A team of 5 - 20 students get together and pour a toboggan out of concrete. Then we take it with us to Calgary and race it down a hill. Prizes are awarded for the fastest single run, the fastest average run, the team with the most spirit, the fastest braking system, the most spectacular wipe-out . . . the list goes on.

As a veteran of one (1) prior race, last year in Vancouver, I can say this is a good time! Better than any dumb old skiing trip. Last year there were participants from as far away as Queens College, Ontario. Out of 63 teams, our own Building Construction Engineering Technology came in 6th, so it can't be that hard.

Because of the funds involved, and due to the curing time required by the concrete, folks that are interested had better start getting in gear. If you are interested in getting a team together, or would just like a little more information on the event, call Kiwi at 471-8999 (days) or 459-7239 (evenings). We should be having our fund-raising cabaret shortly after the Christmas Break.

EMPLOYMENT POSSIBILITIES

Summer employment is sometimes hard to find. If you are interested in guaranteed employment, have a minimum GPA of 6 and are physically and medically fit you have the potential to earn $5,100.

The Army Reserve officer training program offers summer employment from May-July for up to three years. Free travel, meals, accommodation, and clothing included. Course offers one of the best management programs in Canada. And is a highly respected addition to a resume.

This course is physically oriented in the first year, and it quite challenging. Only very serious applicants are invited to attend the registration date on Friday, December 1 at NAIT Decemter Centre. With a seminar to follow on the next day to registrants.

The personal skills developed, such as: self confidence, leadership, responsibility, and decision making are an asset in any field of employment.

Lt. Charmaine Berestov, Business Commerce Student at the U of A said, "I enjoyed trying new things, which I probably wouldn't have considered doing otherwise, and I liked all the people in the course . . . it increases your ability to co-operate."

Charmaine's first year in the program was in 1986. She is now a Finance Office supervisor in bookkeeping and payroll with the Reserves while going to school.

Another member of this program, RESO (Reserve Entry Scheme Officers), Arnold Neumann is taking his masters of political science at U of A. He is in his third year of the program.

After the basic first year, Arnold branched into the Intelligence section of the program. He considers what he has learned, "very useful in civilian life." He stated also that his University marks increased after starting the program as a result of personal skills learned.

He went on to say, "It's not all glory, sometimes you think 'What am I doing here?' Determination, confidence, and self-esteem helped lieutenant Neumann stick with the program. He is now considering joining the full-time forces, through RESO he has access to Regular Forces, and he will hold the same rank. However, he said a job with the government is a distinct possibility, and his background with RESO increases his opportunities that much more.

A person deciding to apply for the program will be referred to the downtown Recruiting Centre for an interview and physical. The application then goes to Winnipeg and the final decision comes back in March.

Brian Denness, Assistant District Recruiting Officer, told the NUGGET that, "Since 1983 no recruits have been turned down which have been sent from CFB Edmonton."

So, if you feel up to the challenge, and like the wages, come on out to the Placement Centre on December 1, and find out more.

NAITSA FINES TECHS.

Tuesday's General Council meeting might well have set a new record for the quickest meeting ever, taking only about 10 minutes to complete. A lack of new business was the main reason, although NAITSA Activities Director, Kevin Wimpney, did bring up an important item.

According to the NAIT poster policy, posters must be removed within four days after the event they advertise. However, five technologies, namely X-ray, Dental Assisting, Petroleum Engineering, Respiratory and Engineering Design and Drafting, had not complied with this rule. As a result, each was fined $25 (which will be donated to the charity of each techs. choice), they lost advertising rights in the NUGGET, and are not allowed to post any other posters until the fines are paid.

Surprisingly, after the fines were announced, another tech. rep. pointed out that NAITSA posters advertising Lambert and James' October visit were still up in one of the study areas. Wimpney responded by saying he would talk to his "poster guy" and get a cheque out to NAITSA's favorite charity.

Wimpney would like to remind technologies to check the poster policy before hanging any posters. Copies of the policy are available in the NAITSA offices.

JOBS, JOBS, JOBS

Job hunting is often a lonely and intimidating process. I'm sure every student at NAIT has felt this some time or other when looking for employment - full time or otherwise. However, don't despair! Despite what you might think you're not alone out there.

NAIT realizes how hard students might find looking for employment, and it tries to aid them in their search. You may have gotten a sense of this on Tuesday, if you visited the annual Career Fair, in the North Gym and the Main Koisk. And from what I saw, many students did.

This event was a great place to do some personal networking, exchange cards, and find out valuable information about various companies in and around Edmonton.

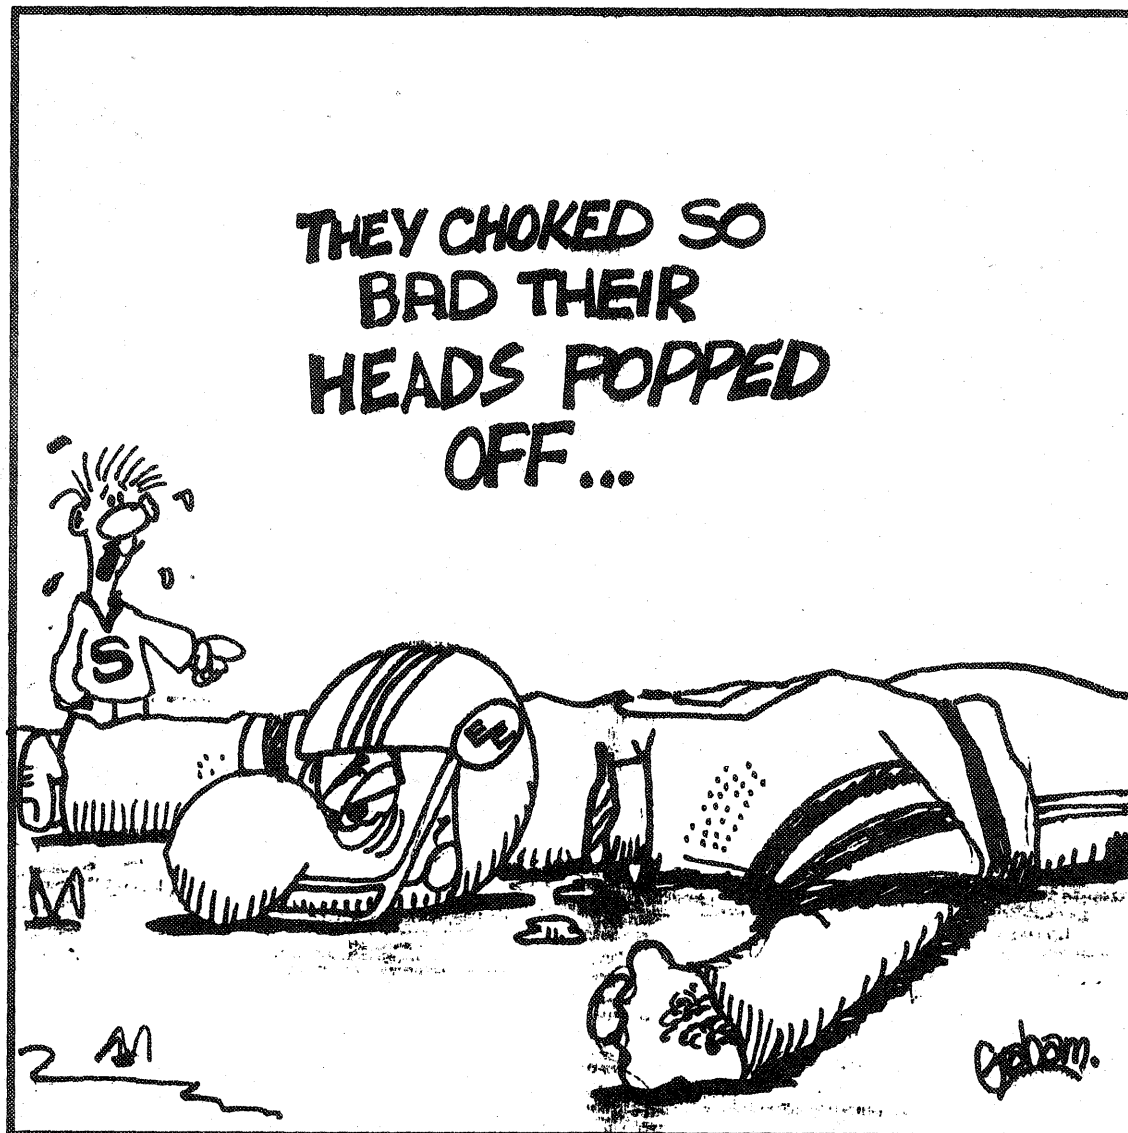

NAIT Placement Centre showed it is an excellent employment Liaison between students and potential employer's, with over 80 different local and national companies participating, it was a very interesting and informative afternoon. This is just an example of what the Placement Centre has to offer.

Many students might not realize the many services supplied by this Centre. Everything from employment counseling and resume writing to arranging on-campus interviews for full-time and part-time employment. The Placement Centre can also give job hunting techniques, job interview preparation and background information on various companies.

Also, take advantage of the NAIT Job Hotline 471-8845, and watch for job search notices posted on bulletin boards around campus.

These services can help every NAIT student fine-tune his job hunting skills, which in any job market is a definite asset. Available to anyone who is registered at NAIT, these facilities are free. It's a great way to get the jump on other prospective job offers. It's a good deal, take advantage of it!

NAIT HOW I LOVE YA

As a student at NAIT, I usually think of this school in terms of my photography assignments, this newspaper, and occasionally the NEST. This means the I, like most students, overlook the many services NAIT offers it's students at minimal cost.

For instance, a student can have his or her hair trimmed and styled for a few dollars by the Hairstyling students while listening to NR92, NAIT's student radio station.

While all this is happening, the student's car is being tuned up downstairs, where the student is only charged for parts, not labour. Meanwhile, the Animal Health Technology can give any small pets such as cats and small dogs a checkup to make sure everything is working properly. The student can then drop by the photo studio to see if any budding photographers can fit a quick portrait session in.

The report due next Monday becomes short work with the typewriters and media production facilities provided in the Learning Resource Centre.

After all this strenuous activity, the NEST, provided by NAITSA, is a great place to unwind. Or, if the student is so inclined, he or she can drop by the Activities Centre for a workout in any number of sports.

The NAITRIUM allows students to unwind with their favorite television program, the games room in the basement of E-wing offers the challenge of bowling, foosball, pool or pinball. Meanwhile, the Main Lobby houses a Health Services office, Security, a Placement Centre, and an Information booth.

Don't just think of NAIT in terms of classes. Think of it as a health spa with homework.

GRAD GOWN ORDERS FOR JANUARY 13, 1990 GRADUATION

To add dignity to the occasion and to eliminate the need to spend money on new clothes, graduation gowns are worn by all participants. These are to be ordered through NAITSA Student Stores by November 30, 1989. The rental fee is $10.00.

SOCRATES SAID NO MAN IS EVER TRULY FREE... SOCRATES NEVER SKIED!!

It's 6 am and as you look out your chalet window, the first signs of dawn start to appear. Looking down at the 6 inches of fresh snow that fell during the night. Your heart starts to beat faster as you wake out of a deep sleep, anticipating the day of skiing that lies ahead of you.

Spending a weekend skiing is starting to occupy the minds of many of us students who thrive for the sport of skiing. The major hurdle that most of us must clear, is the fact that the cost of skiing is not coming down. What can you do as a student to bring the cost down? Where is the best place to ski? What's new in fashion on the hill this year? And which hills offer the best value for your dollar? Questions like these will be answered in the weeks to come. WATCH THE NUGGET FOR DETAILS.

STU MARSHALL: AROUND TOWN

CSS SHAKES NORTHMOUNT

Most people think computer nuts spend the weekend in front of their terminals. Au contraire, mon ami. These people are party animals!!

The D.J. played a perfect party mix all night, with stuff from ACDC and Van Halen to Elvis and the Beach Boys to Milli Vanilli and Janet Jackson.

A little bit of everything for pretty well every college partier's musical tastes. The limbo dance was hilarious with a few people three sheets to the wind making fools out of themselves falling on their heads trying to get under the limbo stick. It was finally won by two people who had to have been gymnasts.

C.S.S. PARTY ANIMALS

Congratulations to Wendy Livingston who won the ski trip to Banff.

She was probably the only one able to focus in on her ticket.

Right now, I'd like to present to you the brilliant work of Marsha Stuart, my assistant party reporter.

TELECOM CABARET RATES A 9!

Ol' Stu was at the CSS cabaret so he sent me, Marsha Stuart, to cover the Telecom Cabaret. Stu missed a great cabaret. It wasn't packed, and I didn't feel like a sardine. I will agree that the Greenhouse does need better air circulation. It was hot! I had my doubts about this cabaret - it started out pretty dead, but by the end of the night I'd never danced so much in my life. I had a great time!! I don't know about any of the other male dominated technologies, but Telecom definitely knows how to show a girl a great time. Maybe Telecom could offer you guys a course. Keep up the good work! See you at your next Cabaret, over to you Stu.

STU'S PICKS

Unfortunately, it's not the Grey Cup party at Stu's house, due to Sunday's performance of our loser Edmonton Eskimo football club's game.

However, there are two hall parties this weekend where we can all talk about how well the Oilers are doing lately; instead of crying in our beers because we no longer care who wins the Grey Cup.

Stu's destination for Friday is Evansdale Hall, where Air Conditioning and the nurses of Grant MacEwan collaborate to present a "Winter Shaker".

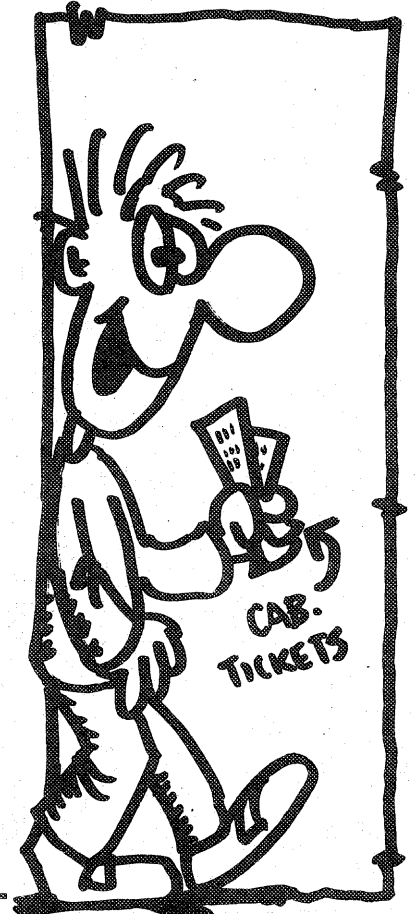

Stu thinks he may have some kind of ailment that needs looking into.

Architecture, the following night, promises a loud one at the Elks Lodge.

With the way this week is going so far, expect to see Stu at both these bashes.

Remember folks, if you're drinking, who's studying?

The Legend of LEON MACGREGOR... PART 3

Messier Having MVP Season

Mark Messier has finally come into his own and is now considered amount the league's elite. Oiler fans knew he was among the best right from day 1, but this season he is opening eyes around the NHL. People are mentioning him in the same breath as the likes of Lemieux, Gretzky, and Yzerman.

Messier is currently third in league scoring and is on a pace to score over 130 points this year. He looks more determined this year than he has ever looked in the past. I believe that Mark realizes this year that he is the heart and soul of the Oilers and he is showing his worth.

The Oilers as a team are struggling around the .500 mark but the team is young and in transition. Messier's play can only inspire the younger members. Remember the early Gretzky years when Wayne's presence on the ice turned average players into stars? Well, players like Martin Gelinas and Joe Murphy will learn in this same manner from Mark and should soon be a force in this league.

Messier is the true Oiler leader and is the key to the Oiler's future. Now more than ever, he is proving that he is one of the top NHL players. As Edmonton begins to round into form look for them to surge in league standings. If Edmonton finishes the season strong and Messier stays healthy, you can say that the sports editor of the NUGGET picked the winner of the Hart Trophy early in the season. by Maury Bautz

Hockey Ooks Now 9 and 0

While the Edmonton Oilers are fighting to stay out of the cellar in the Smythe Division and the U of A Golden Bears are starting to stumble, it is nice to see the NAIT Hockey Ooks on top of the ACAC hockey standings with a record of nine wins and no losses.

This past weekend in Calgary, the Ooks used the steady goaltending of Rob McKinley and Derek Shybunka to full advantage as the Ooks shutout the SAIT Trojans 6-0 on Saturday and doubled the Mount Royal Cougars 4-2 on Sunday.

On Saturday, the NAIT Ooks racked up their first shutout of the season blanking the SAIT Trojans 6-0.

In the first, the Ooks jumped out to a 3-0 lead as Mark Hilton tallied at 5:27, Mark Thiessen scored at 15:14, and Ian McAmmond connected at 16:22. The second and third NAIT goals came on the powerplay.

In the second, Ivan Krook of the Ooks notched the frame's only goal at 14:25.

In the third, Ian McAmmond and Murray Bokenfohr found the net at 9:36 and 11:14 to close out the night's scoring.

The Ooks outshot the Trojans 42 to 19 with Derek Shybunka collecting the shutout.

On Sunday, the Ooks held the opposition to two goals or less for the seventh time this season as NAIT defeated Mount Royal 4-2.

In the first, the Ooks acquired a 2-0 lead on goals from Mark Hilton at 2:34 and Ted Bradshaw at 10:45.

In the second, the teams traded goals with Mark Hilton scoring for the Ooks at the 1:29 mark and Jay Stark replying for the Cougars at 16:19.

In the third, the teams also exchanged goals. NAIT's Randy Wong tallied with 51 seconds gone in the period and Randy Keller of MRC potted the game's final tally at 13:10.

Rob McKinley was between the pipes for the Ooks as NAIT outshot MRC 34 to 23.

ON THE BENCH: The Ooks next action will be an exhibition series in Grande Prairie with the Nordic Wolves on Friday and Saturday. Both games will be at 7:00 p.m. The next home action for the Ooks will be on Friday, December 1 and Saturday, December 2 when they host the SAIT Trojans. The two contests are slated for 7:30 p.m. The Ooks return to Calgary for a tournament hosted by SAIT on January 4th, 5th, and 6th.

PEARN BEHIND THE BENCH FOR 350th WIN

NAIT OOKS COACH PERRY PEARN

NAIT Hockey Ooks head coach Perry Pearn recently reached a noteworthy milestone in his college coaching career.

On November 10th, the Ooks scored a 7-2 win over the Camrose Lutheran College Vikings. For Pearn, it marked his 350 win as mentor of the NAIT Ooks.

In just 519 games, Coach Pearn has a very respectable winning percentage of over 67 per cent.

How About Those Riders!!!!

Actions speak louder than words. The Saskatchewan Roughriders proved that point on Sunday afternoon as they thumped the Edmonton Eskimos 32-21 at Commonwealth Stadium.

Before the Western Conference Final, a number of observers felt that the match-up would be a slaughter. In fact, one member of the Edmonton media even said "Call off the Slaughter" when the Eks opened up an early 10-0 lead. When the final result was in, it was nice to see the dimwits of the Edmonton media eat crow.

Before the game, the Edmonton Eskimo football team lulled themselves into overconfidence believing that they had the game won by just taking the field. In fact, the Edmonton Eskimos had just capped off a very successful season going 9 and 0 at home and 16 and 2 overall.

PRINCE
SPEAKS OUT

However, the regular season does not mean a thing when it comes to a winner take all affair. In boxing, nobody picked Cassius Clay to defeat Sonny Liston in their first title match, but Clay KO'd the champ to stun the sports world. Similarly, the Riders were regarded as cannon fodder for the Eskimos but the best team on the field won.

The Riders heart and desire were the keys to the victory. The Riders used the Eks complacency to their advantage in motivating themselves for the contest.

The nice thing about the victory is that the Riders will have an opportunity to win their first Grey Cup since 1966. There is no doubt that their fans deserve a winner after the setbacks of the past few years.

Let's go Riders!!!!

BADMINTON TEAM NUMBER ONE

The NAIT badminton team put on excellent performance Saturday, November 18 to win the Northern Regional Tournament held at Grant MacEwan. NAIT defeated all four northern college teams in their division to finish undefeated and remain in first place in Alberta's north.

Each college played each other in two mens singles, two ladies singles, one mens double, one ladies double, and one mixed double. The college with the most matches won takes the game. As well, each individual player is allowed to compete in two of these matches only. Team members Rick Hosonan and Shirley Mah led the team in this format.

The first three rounds saw NAIT dominate their opposition, as the Oaks defeated Keyano 7-0, Red Deer 5-2, and Grande Prairie by a score of 6-1. This put them up against last year's ACAC champs and CCAA gold medal winners Grant MacEwan. Both teams were 3 and 0 so the game was for first place. The teams split the first six matches so it came down to a deciding mens double match for the game and thus the championship. Hon Lee and Ming Choi played solid badminton winning 15-5 and 15-12 giving the NAIT team the game and first place.

Congratulations to the NAIT team on their victory and good luck in their next tournament against the southern teams early next month. If this tournament is any indication of the caliber of our team this year it looks as though NAIT could have another national championship team.

SWIM TEAM FAIRS WELL AT MEET

The NAIT swim team finished 3rd in a Camrose meet last Friday. The men dominated their side of the tournament finishing well ahead in points, but as there was only one female member, the team was soundly out scored on that side.

The men's relay team placed first by far in the 4 x 50 medley and 4 x 50 free relays. Craig Ewashco was a standout for the team winning the 50 and 100 metre breast as well as the 100 metre individual medley.

The Oaks that attended the meet were: Peggy Morrison, Matt Rutherford, Craig Ewashco, Marvin Schaaf, Chris Chetkiewicz, Arne Westra, David Vanderkley and Bruce Holman. Swimming exhibition for NAIT were Kate Lavery and Leslie Riddle. The Oaks Swim Team is coached by Jeff Riddle.

The swim season is not that far underway so there is no problem for new members to join. Just go down to the swimming pool and one of the lifeguards will give you all the necessary information. In order for NAIT to have a solid chance of winning any of the upcoming tournaments at NAIT January 20, in Calgary February 10, or the ACAC finals March 17, women are desperately needed. To illustrate this further the team scores at the Camrose meet are listed below. Swimming, especially competitively, is fun and is an excellent form of physical fitness. So come on women, this is your chance to star for a NAIT team as well as display your school spirit.

ODE TO WESTWOOD:

"With exams coming near, I've no time for pain; But I've got to relieve some physical strain. A beautiful girl, with plenty of spunk; Is sought by this overworked studious hunk. A beautiful girl, yes, who's full of desire; Who'll break this ol' habit of pulling my wire. "But safe sex?" you ask, I'll wear two at a time! Contoured and studded, hell they're only a dime. Rock 'n' Talk... "T.J."

To: Peter in Air. Cond. Engineering, thanks for making me smile. Some Wednesday we'll get together for that coffee - there's another "positive" thought. From: "D.P." (or can you say the name?)

To the guy I whizzed by one past Friday looking for "Casablanca". Next time you see me in the library ( and I'm ALWAYS there) don't hesitate to say "HI!" We'll talk for "longer than a few seconds."

Ruth, the one I met in Esmerelda's on October 28, 1989. Sure want to meet up with you again. Write back. Mr. Costume.

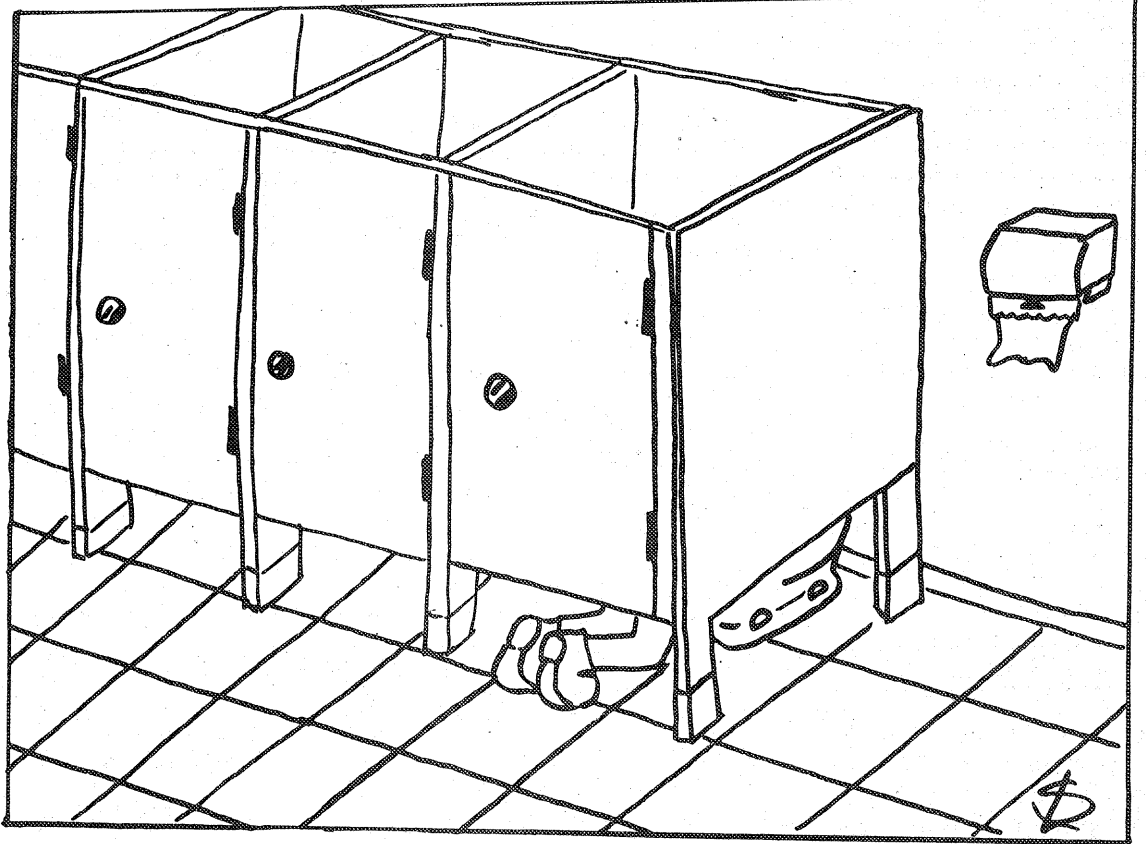

Dear W: You handsome hunk of a man. I heard that it's your birthday on Sunday (THE BIG 20). Please, please I'd like a piece - of your birthday cake. Can we meet? I'll be in the bow tie and birthday suit. From Miss November.

To the guy who gave me the sexy look in the lounge, a week and a half ago; you are the most arrogant, self-centered & hot headed person I have ever meet. But yet you can also be the funniest, nicest and most charming person, when you want to be. Do I miss you bugging the !!!! out of me? Yes!! Your right, (I'm afraid to say) I enjoy your warped sense of humor and my day is definitely boring without it. I don't know what has happened; I'm confused about that as much as you are. I only ask that you be my friend again, Please!!!

From your Favorite Bimbo. P.S. I think its your turn to buy coffee!

To: Cam from Instabox Racers Hall Party. I know you're out there somewhere, but where can I find you? I had a great time at your Mom and Dad's, may be I'll get to meet them next time! Let's meet at the "All you can eat" Bonanza food bar in St. Albert. From Andrea the Goddess of Love.

To: C from B. The results are in, the test was negative!! Are we still on for Friday Night?? BB Coach

OZZY HAD THE CAFETERIAS "SPECIAL OF THE DAY" ... ONCE!

Attention: Two Closet Romantics!! We think our systems can handle the special treatment (we must say). So. Saturday the 25th shall be the day. At 7:00 pm, meet us at "Earl's on Whyte" and we can talk about the rest of the night. Signed, Two Brainy But Beautiful Babes. P.S. We don't need any ESP powers. We'll just look for the guys with the flowers.

To the guy with the nice smile in the CIBC line last Thursday, watching the MOO contest. We were trying to figure out if the "it" was a girl or a guy. Remember? If you want to finish the discussion over a drink, write back. From the girl who thought "it" was a guy!

Drew, since I "piqued" your curiosity, I won't reveal my identity yet. I'm in the business lounge a lot. You should go there more often. What program are you in? What do you do on weekends? Hoping to meet you.

Dearest Rob, Happy Belated Birthday. With Love Twinkie, Trixie, Bubbles, and Easy.
