

DEATH OF NAIT STUDENT SHOCKING;

Leaves
Four Year Old
Motherless

The Commerical Cooking class was shocked and saddened last week when Susan Halter, a second year student, died suddenly as the result of a heart attack. Susan, who was apparently in good health, died on November 20.

According to program head John Barlow, Susan was a "very good student" who was well liked by other students and staff. She died with no warning at all at the age of 23.

Susan, who was a single mother, is survived by her four year old daughter Jamie. The staff and students of Commerical Cooking are setting up a trust fund for Jamie, and are asking that donations be left at either cafeteria or in the staff offices in U105. The money will not leave NAIT until all the legal aspects are fully clear to all involved.

Jamie is now living with her grandfather.

A SKIER'S DREAM

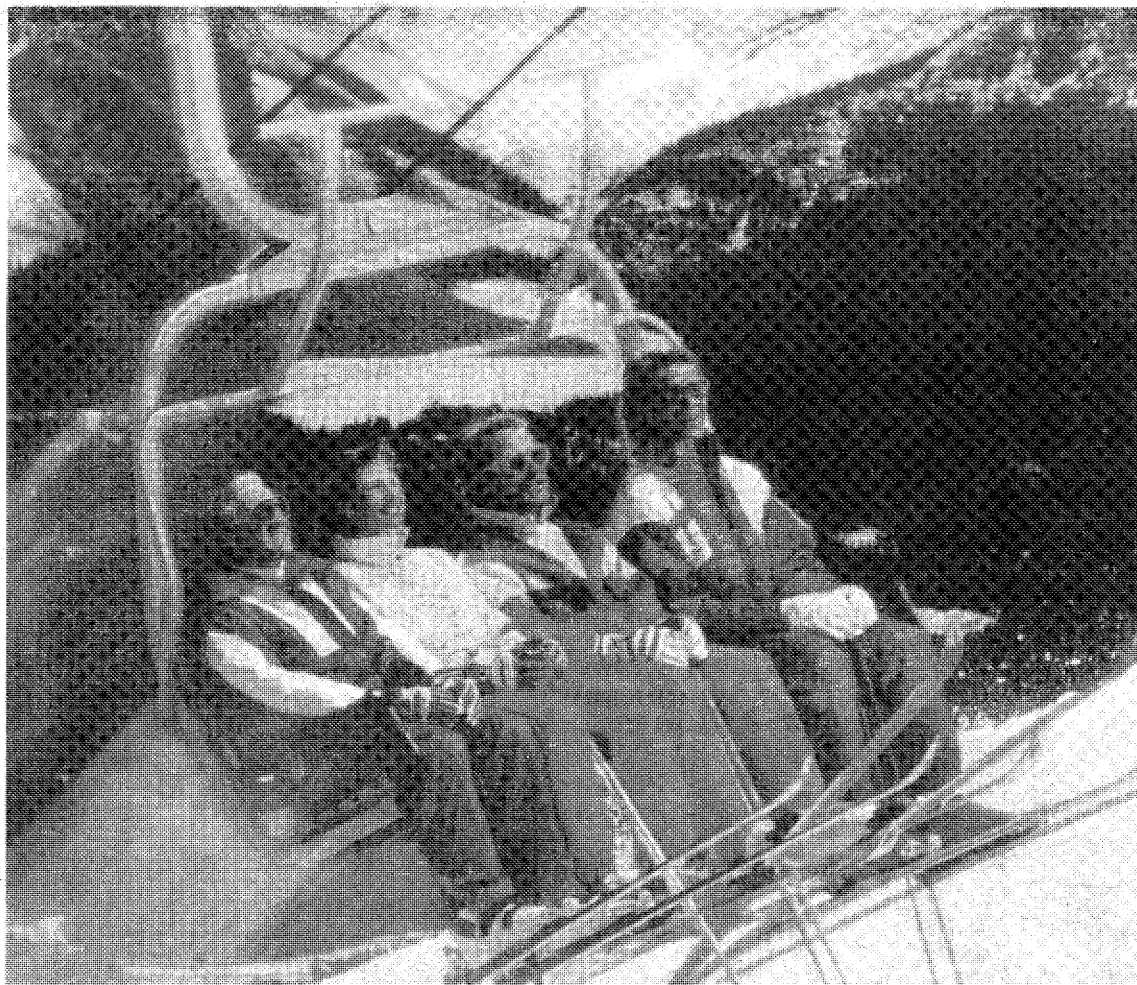

-1 Degree Celsius
Accumulation of 20 cm.
Severe Storm Watch in Effect
It's Going To Be A Beautiful Day

For many skiers, those are the ingredients of a perfect day on the slopes. But for many of us, those particular ingredients do not come together that often. I guess that is why we are such a hardy bunch. Survival of the fittest is the name of the game. The real test comes when you spend most of your day standing in lift lines, or as some people have called them "Life Lines", because you seem to spend your life in them.

Our friends at Skiing Louise Ltd.; the company that operates Lake Louise Ski Area; have been doing their homework over the summer. You see this ski season (which for them in Lake Louise has already started) they are introducing two new "High-Speed Quad Chairlifts" to the front face of Mt. Whitehorn. These new "State of the Art" four passenger chairlifts give you even more skiing for your money. Detachable quad chairs travel at more than twice the speed of conventional double or triple chairs, yet it slows down to a near stop for loading and unloading. These lifts will virtually eliminate "Life Lines" and greatly increases the amount of skiing in any one day. In fact the increase is 100% at the base and 65% of the total lift area. The running time of a person riding these lifts from the base to the top of Mt. Whitehorn is just 10 minutes. A far cry from the 30+ minutes it took riding on the conventional lifts the year before.

Last year Sunshine Village opened their high-speed quad chairlift, known as the "Angel Express." This chairlift replaced the Angel double chairlift, which some say had been there before skiing was invented. The Angel Express, like the chairlifts at Lake Louise, greatly reduced the lift lines at the base of the mountain. And take it from me, an experienced rider on these "Quads," they MOVE.

"HIGH - SPEED QUADS"

Courtesy of the The Banff Lake Louise Lift

You get into line of one of these chairs and there is no standing around; before you know it you're on the chair, up the mountain and skiing again. AMAZING!!

If anyone the many ski resorts want to keep up in the fast paced industry of skiing, they better have themselves a "Quad" to be a real contender. Many ski resorts such as Lake Louise realized this and have done their homework. Places like Fernie Snow Valley; 618 km. south of Edmonton in the B.C. Rockies; is featuring a "High-Speed Quad" this season, better known as the EL-QUAD. As well, Big White out in Kelowna has installed the "Ridge Rocket" over the summer. Last year's ski season brought out "Quadzilla," the high-speed quad at Panorama in the heart of B.C.'s Okanagan Valley.

As you can see the ski industry is alive and well, doing great things now and will continue to do so in the future. So my suggestion is to grab a friend or a group of them and take advantage of the many ski trips being offered by different technologies through out NAIT.

International Student Club Planned

Students interested in forming an International Students Club are invited to an organizational meeting on Wednesday, December 6, at 1:00 p.m. in room 101 of Plaza II. The meeting will be used to determine how much support such a club would receive from students, and to decide what format the club would follow.

International Student coordinator David Perry arranged the meeting at the request of several international students currently attending NAIT. However, he stresses that he is not in charge of the project. It will be the students' decision as to what format and direction the club takes, whether it be a social club or a political forum. Perry does point out though, that the club is not only for "international" students, but also for Canadian students who have been abroad and Canadians who haven't traveled but who are interested in other countries. In short, everyone is welcome.

The club also reinforces NAIT's commitment to international students. For more information, call David Perry at 8668 during NAIT office hours or Ian Ramsingh during the evening at 467-8759.

Red Cross Donor Clinic A Success

by Martin Maltby

This week's Red Cross Blood Donor Clinic is being called a success by Red Cross workers. As of 3:00 on Tuesday afternoon, 341 donors had passed through to give blood.

According to nurse Flo Shandro, "The turnout was really good. We haven't seen numbers like this for a long time." Considering October's serious blood shortage, the turnout is encouraging. In fact, the Red Cross was looking at leaving NAIT off its traveling clinic list if this year's turnout was low. However, there is no danger of that now.

According to Shandro, present blood stocks are acceptable, thanks in part to such traveling clinics. The Edmonton Red Cross conducts such clinics everywhere between Red Deer and Grande Prairie.

The nurses were happy to see a large number of first-time donors coming to the clinic. The worst problem suffered by some donors was apparently only a feeling of weakness after giving.

Blood donations to the Red Cross can still be made at the Red Cross House (9931 - 106 Street) every Monday to Friday between 11:00 - 2:00 or the Blood Centre (8249 - 114 Street) from 10:30 - 8:00 Tuesday to Thursday, 10:30 - 2:30 on Friday and 9:30 - 1:30 on Saturday.

BAS Organizing Auction

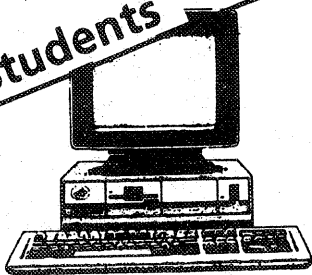

by Martin Maltby

The B.A.S. tech. is organizing an auction on December 6 to raise money for the Edmonton Christmas Bureau. The money will be used to help less fortunate families at Christmas.

The auction will be held in the NAITRIUM, with one of the media personalities from 96 K-Lite FM acting as auctioneer. Posters will soon be put up with additional information.

Donations for the auction so far include a Batman video and movie passes (24 Hour Video), an attache case (Miller Office Group), two tickets to any Shochtor production (The Citadel), a clock (Molson), a skateboard and umbrella (Coca-Cola), movie passes (Cineplex Odeon), and approximately 300 minutes of tanning at a local salon.

ENVIRONMENTAL TASK FORCE

The president of NAIT has assembled a task force to examine environmental concerns within NAIT. The first phase of the committee's activity will be to prepare an inventory of environmental considerations relevant to NAIT's operations as well NAIT's methods of dealing with them. A later phase of activity may be to evaluate the practicability of ideas relating to environmental considerations relevant to NAIT's operations. In this regard, the committee is prepared to receive written submissions from interested staff and students. Those wishing to identify an environmental concern and offer suggestion may do so through the following process:

1. The submission is to be in written form.
2. The issues must address "in-house" concerns only, ie. those areas in which NAIT can affect change.
3. It must be signed and include a return address and phone number (should further information be required).
4. The submission must be received no later than December 21st.

The submission should be addressed to:

Help From Students Needed

Capital Campaign in Full Gear

To date, the results of the employee solicitation meetings for the Partners in Tomorrow Capital Campaign are showing donations totaling over $77,000 from 185 participants. In the first week of the Campaign seventeen meetings were held for management, faculty and support staff. The first presentation was to the Facilities Management group which had an 80% participation level. Meetings are being held for the next few weeks in order to give everyone an opportunity to hear the Campaign "story". As reported previously, the students have given generously in the amount of approximately $775,000 over the next five years. Once the Family Campaign is concluded in mid-December, the Campaign moves into the second phase at the start of the new year. This phase requires volunteers from the business community who will be responsible for the canvassing of major corporations, industries and foundations. The level of the Family Campaign participation is key information for the senior volunteers when making their calls for corporate gifts. It is important, therefore, that strong support for this Campaign comes from the staff and students of the institution that has been a partner in Western Canada's industrial and economic development for the past 26 years.

SMOKING PRIVILEGE NOT A RIGHT

by Audrey Mirlach

Lately, a few complaints have floated back to me about smokers in this school abusing their privileges. Meaning, smoking is only allowed in certain designated areas in this school, and some smokers have taken it upon themselves to extend these areas.

Namely, these complaints are of the NAITRIUM being a smoker's heaven (is that where the cloud effect comes in?). However, I would hate to limit this problem; I'm sure it happens in other smoking areas as well. From experience I can tell you that my non-smoking space has been invaded a few times by the stench of a cigarette, while studying in the Business Centre lounge.

It's true that smoking is allowed in both the NAITRIUM and the lounge in the Tower; however, these spaces allow only partial areas for our friends with nicotine addictions. And it is my concern that they are abusing the privilege this institute allows them. And in the process they may be abusing my health, against my will, in the process. (Since second-hand smoking is more harmful to a non-smoker than the actual cigarette is to the smoker.)

Not only is walking into a smoke infested room inconvenient... this problem goes beyond that. The appearance of many of the areas provided for students leisure are suffering as a result of rampant smoking. The NAITRIUM, in particular, is showing signs of its inhabitants habit. Cigarette burns adorn most of the furniture as well as the floors, and the smell of stale smoke is always the first thing that greets any patron coming in the doors.

Who do these smokers think they are? Leaving the remnants of their unhealthy habit to affect the appearance of our school!! The areas where smoking is allowed are shared by everyone, and in order to maintain this privilege, smokers should show more consideration.

If not, the few spoken complaints could turn into something loud enough to demand the smokers "butt out" everywhere on this campus (which isn't a bad idea).

View Points

Gov't And Strippers

Should governments and banks lend money to strip clubs? Why not? On one hand, they are legitimate businesses just like a bookstore or a clothing store, and as such should have the same rights and privileges as other businesses. Merely because they feature 'offensive' entertainment, they should not be discriminated against. What about stores who sell adult reading material, or department stores advertising lingerie? Some people find these offensive too.

Businesses, especially government, must be run according to the rules, not according to how a manager feels at that particular time.

On the other hand, people argue that strip clubs contribute to the degradation of women and are to the detriment of society. Perhaps true, but the same could be argued for bars. Alcoholism is a major problem in today's society, yet bars get loans quite frequently. What about the fact that women, on average, are paid 30% less than men for the same work? Is this not degradation of women? The government itself is guilty of this practice.

Unless the government is willing to change the rules, the government must apply them equally to all, and not use one man's judgment as to what is offensive.

by Scott Sugden

Good point.

WHO OR WHAT IS GOD?

The Bible refers to the Almighty God as 'Him'. Feminists call God 'Her'. Ah, the makings of a good controversy full of blood, guts, fire and brimstone. I love it. Fortunately (or unfortunately), as a scientist, I am ethically bound to examine the evidence and attempt to determine who holds the correct view. Now, tradition hath it that God is a male. Many of His feats admittedly have a macho aura about them. The parting of the Red Sea, his penchant for revenge as well as other grandiose gestures adequately demonstrate male characteristics. On the other hand, at various times in recorded history, God has shown a remarkable subtlety and sensitivity that belies masculinity. Face it, in some cases, God has done things that no self-respecting man would even consider. The virgin birth of Jesus is a good example. There are others, but let us consider the point won.

So, where are we now in our investigation? Nowhere? God exhibits both masculine and feminine characteristics. To suggest then that God is hermaphroditic is, in my opinion, sacrilegious whereas implying that God is sexless is to side step the issue and solve nothing. A reevaluation is necessary. Let's once again consider the evidence. First, in some instances, God exhibits typically male behaviors. Second, God displays behavioral patterns at times that could only be explained as at times the working of a female mind. In short, God's behavior is erratic and unpredictable. So much for the differences. Does God's behavior (as reflected in God's miraculous works) show patterns that are repeated and/or consistent? Yes, I think so. For example, miracles are always performed at the eleventh hour, in the nick of time. A man falls from a highrise only to have his descent stopped by a freak combination of events—a miracle. God could have prevented his fall altogether, but didn't. Then again, another man falls off a building and dies when he hits the ground. This could be interpreted as inconsistency on God's part. Miracles are a hit and miss affair. Third, God performs miracles that relieve hunger, alleviate poverty, that right the world's wrongs but His/Her miracles appear to be limited in scope. They are never enough to completely eliminate the problems. They merely stave off the immediate problem. I am reminded of the phrases: crisis management and too little too late.

If we take a look at these miraculous similarities, we must arrive at the inescapable conclusion as to the nature of God. Forgive me if I do not yell "Eureka!" as I proclaim that God must be a committee.

ABORTION BILL USELESS

by Martin Maltby

A few days ago, I heard on the radio that the federal government's new abortion bill may die before making it into the law books. It seems quite fitting that this would be the fate of one of Brian Mulroney's greatest achievements.

To start with, the bill can be considered a great achievement because it did what nothing else could; it united the pro- and anti-abortion forces. For years these groups have attacked and slandered each other using terms such as "religious zealots", "murderers", and so on. Suddenly, however, they find themselves on the same side of an argument, trying desperately to defeat a bill that no one, except Mulroney, wants.

The anti-abortionists refuse to accept the bill because, as they see it, it allows abortion on demand to Canadian women. According to the bill, all that is needed for an abortion to be legal is for a doctor to agree that the woman's physical or mental health is endangered by the pregnancy (I'm not quite sure who the doctor has to agree with though). The anti-abortionists are of course afraid that doctors like Henry Morgentaler will never turn a patient away.

The pro-abortionists reject the bill more for what it implies rather than what it says. The final decision on abortion is left to the doctor rather than the woman, thereby ignoring completely the question of women's rights. Also, the bill returns abortion to the criminal code, which is a situation the pro-abortionists can not tolerate. They are also afraid the bill will deny equal access to all Canadian women.

Of course, these two groups are fighting together because they have recognized Mulroney's characteristic side-step of the issue. He attempted to sooth one group by placing abortion in the criminal code rather than the health code, and tried to pacify the other by making the regulations so lax it didn't matter where the abortion ended up. Of course, Mulroney underestimated the depth of emotion on both sides of the debate. Neither group will accept a partial victory. They will stop only when their position is recognized both in theory and in practice. If Mulroney realizes this, he may eventually get off the fence he is currently riding.

STU MARSHALL: AROUND TOWN

PLOW SPEEDING AND MIRACLE WORKING

I got a great dose of live theatre this past weekend at the Citadel, managing to catch not one, but two superb plays.

Speed the Plow, written by David Mamet, appealed to me a little bit more than the other. Mamet, who engineered the screen plays of successful movies like The Postman Always Rings Twice, The Verdict, and The Untouchables showed his true colors again with Speed The Plow.

The play, co-produced by the Citadel and the Phoenix Theatres, takes a poke at the people behind the screens, peoples shoe actions and decisions can be compared to those of someone like Don King.

Karen, played by Jane Spidell, comes across at first as an innocent, naive temporary office secretary. As the action progresses, it's obvious Karen is power hungry, and she attempts to achieve this power by playing with a film producer's (played by Ron White) mind and body. Superb casting and a very well written script make this a must see for theatre lovers that like strong language.

The other play was called The Miracle Worker, written by William Gibson. This is not as wild and crazy as Speed the Plow, and would be a good one to bring the kids to. It portrays Helen Keller as a small child, showing the trials and tribulations her family went through until she is finally taught sign language by her teacher. Very entertaining, and the sensitive spectator would probably shed a few tears of happiness in the end. This play received the only standing ovation I've ever witnessed at a theatre.

ANOTHER CLIFF HANGER

Okay, I admit it. I did watch the Grey Cup on Sunday. I even cheered for (who else but) the Roughriders. And you know what? I had a good time. Maybe it was the cold draught, but I had a good time hooting and hollering with the rest of the party animals at Bleachers Sports Bar. But, I mean, who couldn't enjoy themselves watching a showdown like that that ended up with a 43-40 score? Maybe I'm just happy for Saskatchewan because they haven't won it since 1966. Maybe I'm happy for my friend Barry Gabruch, a die hard Rider Prider, who has been a dedicated fan to a losing team all these years. Anyhow, it's probably almost as good for the CFL as the Gretzky trade was for the NHL.

Definitely Speed the Plow at the Citadel. I almost want to see it again.

Plastics and Court Reporting collaborate to present a Pre-Final Christmas Bash at Northmount (9208 - 140 Avenue). tickets are $7 at the door on Friday, December 1.

STU'S ALBUM OF THE WEEK

FLYING IN A BLUE DREAM

JOE SATRIANI

Satriani, known for his quick guitar playing has finally put out an album on which he sings on six of the tracks. The thing that really got me with this album is the wide range of styles. There's heavy jazz, blues, a southern rock sound, a slow, almost dreamy love song. Satriani does have a good voice. People with a wide range of musical taste, especially guitar lovers, should pick this one up.

Back To The Movie Magic

BACK TO THE FUTURE PART 2

(of 4)

by Bob Siskel (No relation)

Most movies that make lots of money usually end up making a sequel or two. Back to The Future is no exception. Part II continues where the first movie left off, with Marty McFly (Michael J. Fox), Doc Brown (Christopher Lloyd) and Jennifer Parker (Elizabeth Shue) heading to 2015 to save the McFly children. Complications begin when Marty finds a sports almanac that tells the results of scores all the way to 2015. While in the future, Old Biff Tanner (Thomas Wilson) learns too much about McFly's activities. The result is a change that changes Marty's life. To fix things up, he must again go back to 1955.

Back to The Future Part 2 (BTTF2) incorporates BTTF and includes a decent look into the future of Hill Valley. The special effects in the movie are astounding, and includes Michael J. Fox playing three characters at one time in the same scene.

While not having the same type of "warmth" as the first movie, BTTF2 gives the audience the same roller coaster ride of plot twists, action and humor. People who have been living in a cave and haven't seen Part I, rent it at the video store. It will help you understand what's going on in Part 2. Many people who've seen the movie complain that it's too complicated. However, I found that the movie explained what was going on well enough for me to enjoy it.

Michael J. Fox and Christopher Lloyd give great performances. Thomas Wilson's role is increased alot while Lea Thompson's role as Marty's mother is reduced from part one. Marty's dad, played by Crispin Glover in BTTF, is only used in parts due to Glover not returning to this movie.

If you're looking for a movie just for its fun and adventure, you'll enjoy BTTF2, and for big fans of the movie, there's only 7 months until Part 3.

- Read beyond the position title when considering a posting. Opportunities may be overlooked if you do not fully understand the scope of a job.
- If you feel qualified for a job, apply. Often employers will consider a combination of education and experience.
- Apply as soon as possible on postings. Small or medium size employers may hire a suitable candidate before the closing date.
- Job postings are published only once in the Career Section, though it will remain on the posting boards until the closing date.

REGISTRATION WITH THE PLACEMENT CENTRE

- Students are registered with the Placement Centre 2-3 months prior to graduation. A representative from the office will be visiting your class.
- It is important for you to be registered with the Centre if you are available for employment. This information assists us in advising employers' on the number of graduates available.
- Contact the Placement Centre to report a change of phone number or address.

NAIT Hosts ACAC Curling

COLLEGE OLDS, ALBERTA

The NAIT Curling Team

The 1989-1990 curling season begins in earnest this coming weekend December 2 & 3, at the Avonair Curling Club. NAIT will host the first North Regional, a round robin tournament involving five colleges, Camrose, Vermilion, Grande Prairie, Grant MacEwan and NAIT, in three divisions: Mens, Ladies, and Mixed. Camrose will host the second North Regional on February 3 & 4, 1990.

The top three teams in each division after the two round robins will be off to the ACAC Championships in Grande Prairie March 3 & 4, 1990. They will be joined by the same number of teams from the south in a triple knock-out format. The winners of each division will represent the ACAC in the CCAA Championships in Kamloops, March 21-24, 1990.

Last year, the NAIT men were 5-0 and 3-1 in the two regionals. In the ACAC championship, a round robin format last year, the men were 5-1, winning the championship in a play-off game against Medicine Hat. Both teams finished the round robin with 4-1 records.

In the CCAA championships held at Olds March 15-18, 1989, NAIT won the silver medal. They lost the final to Manitoba after earning a bye into the finals with a perfect 5-0 record in round robin play.

DRAW TIMES:

Saturday - 10:00 a.m., 1:00 p.m., 4:00 p.m.

Sunday - 12:00 noon, 3:00 p.m.

LOCATION: Avonair Curling Club.

Hockey Ooks Take Two in Grande Prairie

By Brian Stein

The NAIT Ooks took a break from the ACAC regular season this past weekend to travel to Grande Prairie to play a pair of exhibition games against the Nordic Wolves in front of encouraging crowds.

On Friday, Clarke Polglase of the Ooks netted his second of the game in the third period to give NAIT a 4-3 win over Grande Prairie Regional College.

Marty Volcan and Corey Hastman rounded out the Ooks scoring. Tim Moon with a pair and Wade Wallin with a single replied for the Wolves.

Although NAIT outshot Grande Prairie 54 to 23, the two teams were tied at 1-1 after the first and 3-3 after the second.

On Saturday, the Ooks completed a sweep of the Nordic Wolves with a 4-2 triumph.

Bill Moody chipped in a pair for NAIT while Randy

Wong and Greg Geldhart added singles. Dwayne Skaley and Murray Head countered for Grande Prairie.

Outshooting the Wolves 35 to 28, the Ooks held period leads of 2-0 and 4-1.

ON THE BENCH: The Ooks resume regular season play when they entertain the SAIT Trojans at the NAIT Arena on Friday, December 1st and Saturday, December 2nd. The two contests are slated for 7:30 p.m.

Ooks V-Ball Over The Griffins

The women's volleyball team came up victorious on Saturday when they met their rivals, the Grant MacEwan Griffins.

The scores being:

Game 1 - 15-11

Game 2 - 15 - 4

Game 3 - 15 - 9

All three games were filled with serve aces, (5 by Laura Jost), Kills (Darlene Bernard - 8, Stacey Miller - 6, and Jackie Sioboda - 4) and also a few sessions of crach-up-derby by both teams. The girls know who they are! All and all, a good night of volleyball.

Next home games are against MRC this Friday and Saturday against SAIT.

THE GREAT CUP

with

SPORTS

By Maury Bautz

All colors aside, last Sunday's matchup between blue collar rivals, the steelworkers vs the farmers was the greatest final in CFL history. The game had everything; controversy, character, spills, thrills, cheers, jeers, fears. And when it was all over the Roughies were on top, to capture only their 2nd Grey cup in the long history of the franchise.

The game featured outstanding offensive drives, in fact during one stretch in the first half the teams traded touchdowns on five straight possessions! It looked like whoever had the ball last would win (which is what did actually happen). The teams racked up 907 yards total offense, there were some great catches, long field goals, hard hits, a safety touch, controversial calls, and finally a last second score to decide the game - what more could one ask for out of a football game.

Some Edmonton fans feel ripped off and cheated. they feel that longer series formats should be implemented in the CFL - HOGWASH. The Eskimos, if their 16 - 2 record indicates their caliber, should have wiped out the boys from prairie-town. The roughriders prevailed because they were the better team in a crucial game.

Nobody deserves Saskatchewan's Grey Cup victory more than their fans. They have stayed with the team through many ups and downs (mostly downs), and because of this the Riders are one of the few teams in the CFL with a sound future.

Heading into the 90's, the CFL can only gain much needed momentum from last week's Grey Cup thriller. One can only hope that next year's Grey Cup can provide the excitement even close to what this year's Grey Cup did.

ATHLETIC HAPPENINGS

by Justin Dahlen

There were 32 teams entered in Intramural mens volleyball this year and it came down to an intense match between Finance and Accounting in the finals. Accounting ended up beating finance by two points to win the title.

There were four weight categories in intramural wrestling this year. Kevin Skublevy (Inst.) won the 68 kg class, Gary Mykitiuk (Inst.) won the 24 kg class, Cam Nichols (Inst.) won the 82 kg class, and Ken Sparks (EET.) took the 90 kg class. And finally, civil engineering won intramural curling this year. Congratulations to all the teams.

Calgary: The Sports Leaders

There has been a dramatic change in the attitude of Edmontonians over the past decade in regards to sports. Through leadership and desire, Edmonton played host to the Commonwealth Games in 1978 and the Universiade Games in 1983. Time has turned things around.

Now, Calgary has taken over as the city of movers and shakers, while Edmonton seems content to live on its past laurels.

Calgary has always been known for its hospitality and spirit. In 1948, Calgarians trekked to Toronto and made the Grey Cup a truly national event.

In the past few years, these traits have become known throughout the world. In 1988, Calgary made the Winter Olympics a resounding success. In contrast, Edmonton's fumbling and bumblng almost cost it the 1990 World Baseball Championships.

BOB PRINCE SPEAKS OUT

In regards to Pacific Coast League Baseball, Calgary has upgraded Foothills Park to become a cozy 7,000 seat facility for the Cannons. On the other hand, Edmonton has determined that sinking money into a black hole like Ducey Park is better than taking charge and building a new facility.

In regards to a university-college super league in hockey, the Calgary schools have been making a strong effort to make the league a reality. Without the super league, the colleges with ACAC hockey teams would lose $19,000 in scholarships annually. Although transportation costs for ACAC hockey teams would increase $30,000 under the super league, Calgarians are optimistic that through sponsorship, advertising, and fund raising the additional funds can be raised.

It is high time Edmontonians in the position to provide leadership shed their "wait and see" attitude. If there is no attitude adjustment, international sporting events in Edmonton will disappear, the Trappers will be history, and the NAIT hockey program will be a memory.

Basketball Ooks Drop Home Opener

by Maury Bautz

Last Friday the NAIT mens basketball team did not look like defending national champions as they were whipped by the Camrose Vikings 95-71 at NAIT. Camrose looked like they wanted the game more, dominating all areas of the game.

The Vikings came out flying to grab a 14-1 lead in the first 4 minutes. The Ooks did manage to mount somewhat of a comeback after leading scorer Lyndon Campbell dazzled the fans with a spin around dunk, but the team was never really in the game.

A member of the Grant

MacEwan team, who was in attendance, was quoted as saying "It looks like NAIT won't even make the playoffs this year." "It looks" are the key words here. NAIT lacked effort and enthusiasm all night long. They weren't getting back fast enough to defend and shots that should have been made were missed.

With only two players from last year's national champions on the team this year, the team cannot be expected to repeat last year's performance, but with hard work and increased motivation the team should be able to have a strong season.

ATHLETES OF THE WEEK

VOLLEYBALL John Mazur

Middle Attacker

Technology: Computer Systems

John is a dedicated athlete who returns to the OOKs this year after having played here a few years ago. His skills are as strong as ever and he gives 100% in all that he does. His determination and hard work are a tremendous asset to the team.

John is currently ranked in the top 10 players in the ACAC for kills, stuff blocks and serving aces.

VOLLEYBALL Laura Jost

Setter

Technology: Business Administration
2nd yr. - Finance

Laura is presently completing her 2nd year of the Business Administration Program. Laura is an OOK Volleyball veteran. In her first year, she played the power hitter position. However, because of her athletic ability, she is assuming a setting role. At 5'6", Laura's natural setting talents, coupled with her fierce competitive drive and jumping ability, assure her of a top ranking among ACAC setters.

Laura's defensive skills have helped lead the OOKs to their present 3-3 record. A very aggressive and accurate server, Laura accumulated an outstanding total of 9 serve aces during the GMCC match November 25, 1989.

Laura is an extremely dedicated student and athlete. NAIT Athletics is proud to announce Laura as Athlete of the Week.

COOKING WITH CORA

HONEY MUSTARD CHICKEN WINGS

CALORIES/SERVING - 268
 PROTEIN, NIACIN- EXCELLENT
 IRON - GOOD
 SERVES - 8

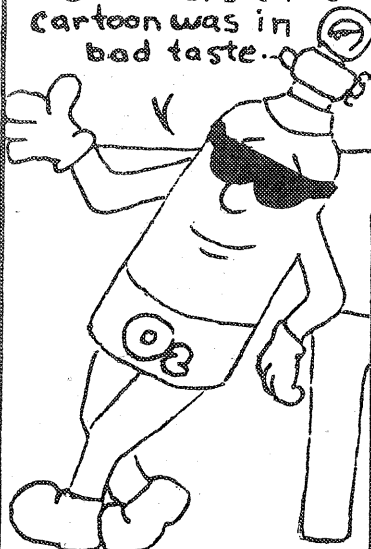

PREPARATION TIME - 15 MINUTES
 COOKING TIME - 55 - 60 MINUTES

3 lbs. (1.5 kg) Chicken wings, trimmed, and separated
 1/2 cup (125ml) liquid honey
 1/4 cup (60 ml) Dijon (or any other) mustard
 1/4 cup (60 ml) grainy mustard
 1 tsp. (5ml) curry powder

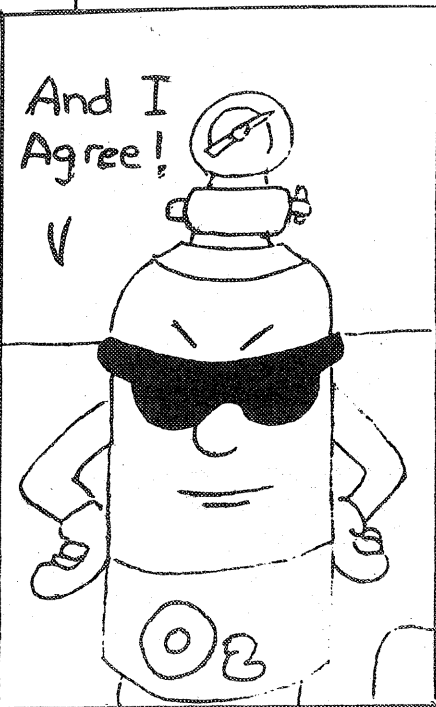

Arrange wings in a single layer on a lightly greased, foil-lined baking sheet. Bake uncovered, in preheated 375°F (190°C) oven for 30 minutes. Drain off excess liquid and turn wings over. Mix honey, mustards, and curry powder in a small bowl. Pour over chicken. Bake an additional 25 - 30 minutes, or until wings are tender, basting once. Transfer to a platter and serve with sauce spooned over.

GRAPEVINE

Let me say to all around,
In the song she'd be the sound.
And of thoughts writ and sent,
N' each word she'd be their print.
N' this verse I've put her fame
And would now play loves' pretty game.
Read of each line, it's first letter,
And, isn't her hope - I'll show better.
Special to she, I've sent this dart;
Especially from my beating heart.

Signed Burt.

To the major gorgeous guy in Pre-Tech: You're the blonde babe with a great smile and a really deep voice! You're kind of shy, but not really. I've seen you in the hallways waiting for class, but it is really hard to see you when you're surrounded by the rest of your classmates

Signed R.

To the brown haired cowboy in electrical engineering: I see you all the time in the study hall, why don't you come over and say "Hi"

From the Blonde haired, blue-eyed business student.

To the guy that was in the study hall on Friday November 24: You were wearing a blue Club Monaco t-shirt and jeans. I was wearing a red sweater and have shoulder length hair. I've seen you in the study hall once before with your friends and today (Nov. 24) by yourself. I think you have gorgeous eyes, you're good looking and have a nice smile. I don't know your name or what Technology you're in. I'm in the study hall everyday. I'd like to get to know you over a cup of coffee. Hope to see you in the study hall next Friday.

Signed N

To Jacuzzi: We saw you last week in the E-Wing on the 15th. What are those marks on your neck? (We're sure we can do much better!) When do we get a turn? Respond via grapevine

Signed Foxtrot, Feely Frannie, and Braless Barbie.

Attention: Two Brainy but Beautiful Babes!!! You came as advertised! We'll have to do it again!

Signed, Two Closet Romantics

To the cutie in the 1st year chem. tech.: Just noticed you when you started wearing skirts. First saw you from behind, you looked fine; then you turned to the side and I was, "knocked"!!!! for a loop. If I could take my eyes of these two great assets you posses I might find the words to introduce myself, and we can talk about Le Chatelier's Principle, and shift the equilibrium in my direction.

Signed From the guy who likes quantity instead of quality.

BML is a course I cannot stand, but my decisions are in high demand. I own the firms in industry nine and my cashflow's done in the nick of time. How I do this you want to know? I'm for real and strictly for show. So all you ladies in BML, I'm all yours so don't kiss and tell. For all you keeners and little boys, my strategies are secret so play with your toys.

Signed Yugo Boss

To the Baby Bunsmaster (the one that wears those Santa Claus boxers):

I saw you coming up from the bakery and I would really, REALLY like to meet you. I really liked those cute little Santas and I would love to see them up close. REAL CLOSE! If you want to meet me, please contact me through the paper. Hope to meet you soon.

Yours in LUST, B.J

To Hoping to meet you: Unfortunately, I try to avoid the business lounge as the smoke is too much. But I am in the Business program and I'm still curious as to your identity. Maybe we can meet somewhere else sometime?

Signed Drew.

To: M-RTA: I think I can, but you must decide. Please let me know 'cause I really have tried. The mistake in the spelling I can try to explain. There's one thing for certain, it won't happen again. Here's to your 10 + smile.

From: P-ACE

To the great guy in his last couple of months in mechanics: (I think) You saw me in the cafeteria on Thursday. Although I didn't say anything to you, I wanted to. I also saw you at a lounge that we both go to and met at, on Friday. Sorry for what happened a few months ago. If you're not taken can we meet somewhere to talk?

Signed. Still Mad about you at Westwood

ODE TO T.J.

There I sat, reading your ode, but all I could think of was a warty old toad. You say you were two at a time. Probably because it's the size of a dime. You are trying to relieve all this tension, by the time you get it, you will be on a pension. You say your "TJ", I think it's a trick, Because I think your name is probably "DICK."

Signed "NOT THAT EASY"

Dearest T.J.: Could it be possible that you're the man of my dreams? I won't be able to tell until you're out of your jeans. I'm a girl who's great in the dark, I have a nice stall for your semi to park! So come and meet me and take a chance; I'll be the one in tight fitting pants. Rock 'n' Talk is the place to meet, let's make it the end of next week.
