Queen week was filled with laughter, excitement, and most of all, fun.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank the Electronics Engineering Technology for nominating and supporting me throughout the week. They were all a tremendous help and a lot of fun. A special thanks to my "Supreme" sisters, Tyler Ostry and Brian Dewald.

I also appreciated all those people who voted for me. Last but not least, I would like to thank my own technology. Court Reporting, for coming out to cheer me on.

Miss NAIT 1990
Karen Wall

Nait King and Queen week was everything I expected it to be, and more. I haven't enjoyed myself more at Nait that I have in the past week. It was also more embarrassing than I expected. The best part of the week, however, was meeting new people. The contestants were great, and the spectators enthusiastic. I would like to congratulate Karen Wall, Miss Nait 1990.

I would also like to thank everyone who came out to the events. I'm sure they enjoyed themselves as much as the contestants. Thanks to Roxanne Beaubien and everyone else who helped to make King and Queen Week so enjoyable. I couldn't have done it without you!

Finally, thank you everyone who voted for me. I am delighted to be chosen as Mr. Nait 1990.

Lady Beware Draws Crowd

by Simon Doft

The Nugget

On Monday, January 29, Constable Paul Olmstead of the Edmonton Police Force gave 2, one hour seminars about protecting oneself from an attack. The seminars were arranged by NAITSA after a NAIT student was allegedly attacked during the first semester.

Constable Olmstead spoke to approximately thirty people during the two hours. He was not disappointed by the turnout, as he has made presentations to groups as small as three people. Scott Sugden of NAITSA, who attended both meetings, was also pleased. Sugden commented "I'd say it was worthwhile", because many "good questions" were asked.

The seminars focused more on ways to avoid unfavorable situations than actual self-defense. The goal of the meetings were to teach people ways of protecting themselves that they normally wouldn't think of. In other words, the focus was more on attitudes than actions.

The entire presentation was taped by members of the Radio and Television Arts Technology, along with the interview with Constable Olmstead. The Counseling Center may also eventually stock printed material supplied by the E.P.D.

For more information, Constable Olmstead can be reached at the Education Unit of the Edmonton Police Force at 421-3426.

New Board of Governors Member

On December 4, 1989 Margaret Graham became the newest member of NAIT's Board of Governors. Ms. Graham, who has worked for NAIT in various roles, replaced Bette Frost upon her resignation from NAIT.

Ms. Graham's term was set by Minister of Advanced Education John Gogo. The appointment was announced after she was elected as a nominee by Local 38 of the Alberta Union of Provincial Employees.

Ms. Graham joined NAIT in 1969 as a secretary in the Auto-Diesel and Related Subjects Departments. However, she moved to Ontario in 1970. In 1973, she returned to NAIT as a secretary to Business Administration, but returned to the Auto-Diesel department five years later. Last August, Ms. Graham became the secretary to Associate Deans of the Industrial Division.

Ms. Graham said she was "very pleased" to be selected. "This is a good place to work, and I will enjoy serving NAIT in a new way."

The Nugget

In conjunction with the upcoming Foundation Cruise, NAIT has announced a raffle to turn someone into the "President For a Day." NAIT President Stan Souch has agreed to switch places with the winner of the raffle in order to promote awareness of the upcoming auction.

Although no solid dates are available yet, it appears tickets will be on sale from about February 5 to 23. the winner will be drawn in the main cafeteria during the lunch break on either Thursday the 22 or Friday the 23 of February. The tickets, which will cost $1 each, will be available from some students, staff, support staff, the kiosk in the main lobby and possibly from the student store.

The winner will meet with Dr. Souch to decide a date that this mutually acceptable. during that day, Dr. Souch will attend classes if a student wins, teach classes if an instructor wins, or perform other duties if a member of the support staff wins. In return, the winner will receive such perks as eating at Dr. Souch's table in the staff dining room.

Dr. Souch will present a cheque to the Foundation Cruise on Friday, February 23 on behalf of the raffle.

Committee Gets Go - Ahead

by Martin Maltby

Selections for the committee which will investigate an alleged incident involving two NAITSA executives began on Wednesday. the committee will conclude its investigation by making recommendations to NAIT President Stan Souch as to what action, if any, NAIT should take.

The committee will be chaired by Seeth Seethram, Vice-President of Student and Staff Relations, and will include a student, a staff member, a member of the support staff, and someone from management (eg. a dean, etc.). Selections can be challenged by either the individual who filed the original complaint or the two accused individuals. Once the final selections are made, the committee will interview witnesses and others connected with the alleged incident.

Firearm Petition

by Simon Doft

The Nugget

A petition calling for new laws controlling ownership of firearms in Canada is currently posted in the NAITSA offices. As of Monday evening, there were about 30 signatures.

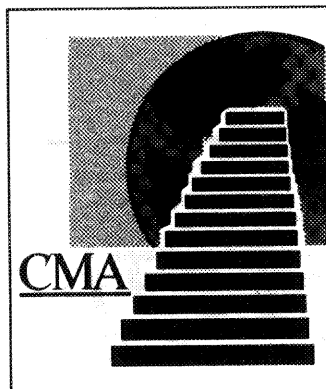

The petition is a direct result of the shooting of 14 women in Montreal last December. It was put out by the Comité Conjoint Pour Le Contrôle Des Armes, Association Des Etudiants De Polytechnique (Coalition Committee For Arms Control, Polytechnique Student Association).

The exact wording of the petition reads: "The undersigned call for the enactment of new laws forbidding the private possession/ownership of any automatic, semi-automatic or modified fire arms in Canada." The petition, which is on the table just inside the NAITSA office door, can be signed during office hours.

TRAY RACKS IN TECHNICAL SECTION

Food Services has recently added three racks on which to stack trays and dirty dishes in the technical building. They will be located in the East end of the NAITRIUM, by the telephones in the basement of H Wing, and in the Lobby at the South end of G Wing. If you are having your lunch or supper in the technical building your cooperation in returning your dirty trays and dishes to one of these areas will be of great assistance to both the food service and custodial staffs.

VIEWPOINT

NAIT PRAVDA

Last week there was an abundance of news articles to report on. This doesn't happen very often in this quiet little institute. Between Face - Off, our sexism story, and another article which the staff put an enormous amount of time on, priorities had to be made.

It is general practice (not to mention good common sense) to put your most readable material at the front of the paper, to insure page turning by readers. This contradicts the fact there was absolutely no news stories on pages 2 and 5 of last week's Nugget. Believe me this was not planned by the editor.

The Nugget staff was busy putting together a story to go into this space, late Thursday night when we were informed by Scott Sugden, Publications Director, that an emergency meeting of NAITSA reached the decision of pulling the article. So our as yet unwritten story had to be withdrawn.

Now according to NAITSA Constitution they are within their rights to do so - they are the publisher.

Hard as it was, we accepted this. But now what to do with the space? Well, I still wanted students to know that there had been an article planned, so I decided to leave the entire space on page 2 (except for the Nait Mate) blank, with nothing but a small tag indicating the word "CENSORED". The same goes for the space on page 5. This is how the paper was delivered to the printers that same night. You may be thinking, "Why didn't I see this in the paper?" Well the answer is simple really. Somewhere between my dropping it off at the printers and it going to print the Nugget was tampered with.

This means that the people who proudly put their names in the credit box are not the people who have the final control over what reaches the eyes of the students of NAIT. That honor belongs to the Student Government, NAITSA Executive Council. Not only was I informed that NAITSA has the right to censor any article they feel, but they can also put any article, ad, etc. in they want.

Somewhat strange bedfellows, wouldn't you say? Ahh, but don't think twice about it. Like Art Hook, Associate Dean of Student Services, was kind to inform me, that's the way it's always been at NAIT. And that's the way it's going to stay.

Well, with NAITSA handling it why worry?

Audrey Mirlach, Editor

What's The Issue?

"My resignation is by no means an admission of guilt. I've been treated well by NAITSA and I wanted to return the favor. I don't think it's fair of me to keep my position there because of the extra pressure it puts on the other NAITSA executives."

Kevin Wimpney made that statement to me on Tuesday, January 30 of his own volition. I had heard rumors, but I wasn't sure what was happening until Kevin spoke to me.

As soon as the charges against him were made, Kevin was placed in a position where he almost certainly would have to resign. His resignation should not be taken as an admission of guilt. Anytime a person in a position of authority is accused of unbecoming behavior it's bound to undermine their credibility, even before innocence or guilt is proven.

That point I feel should be made about the resignation. Despite all that has been said and written, very few people know more than rumors. Until NAIT completes its own investigation, many of the facts will not be widely known.

Along with the resignation, I would also like to point out another issue raised during the last few days. During the NUGGET's investigations, we found a problem with the communication between various departments of NAIT. This became apparent when I talked with Dick Martens-Poole, Head of Security, who took the original complaint. At the time, he had not been informed that NAIT President, Stan Souch was looking into the alleged incident. In addition, some of the information published in the Edmonton Sun and Journal, which was supplied by NAIT's Public Affairs Department, contained incorrect or misleading statements.

I would suggest that NAIT could use this opportunity to decide on procedures for handling future and similar situations. At the outset, NAIT wasn't sure which set of guidelines to follow (eg. sexual harassment, criminal activity).

Security procedures could also be reviewed. The methods NAIT Security uses to investigate future incidents could be looked at, and perhaps improved. Which incidents Security is supposed to inform the NAIT directors about could also be clearly set out in guidelines.

Certainly, no one at NAIT can be proud of the allegations made recently. However, by using the situation to show itself as a truly concerned Institute, NAIT could improve the image that it has worked so hard to cultivate.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

It is truly ironic that the issue headlining "Student charges NAITSA executive with Sexism" and in light of the incident in the women's team room that you chose to publish the first "NAIT MATE." I'm sad that my school newspaper has succumbed to stereotyped images of women such as some magazines and newspapers do to sell copies.

While being constantly inundated everyday with sexual images of women thru advertisements and media, I look to my school newspaper to help change ideas and provide informative journalism.

I sincerely hope that the "NAIT MATE" feature will not continue.

Sonja Scharf

Dear Editor:

I am quite disgusted with the "NAIT MATE." Although I have nothing against the girl who posed for the picture, I can't believe she actually did it. The "NAIT MATE" idea is sexist and degrading, and obviously comes from a man.

I would rather see white space instead of a girl showing herself off!!! I'm sure that if there are more "NAIT MATES," the NUGGET will start to lose its readers pretty fast, and I'll be one of the first!!

Signed, A dedicated Nugget reader, but for how long?

Dear Editor:

I commend your efforts to bring to light the seriousness of "Women's Rights" in your editorial in the January 26, 1990 issue of The Nugget, but at the same time I find bitter irony in the fact that on the preceding page of your article, there is a "NAIT MATE" plastered on the page.

It is a sad testimony to a well written article focusing on sexual harassment, sexism and abuse, that such a tasteless feature be included in the school newspaper.

I wonder why men continue to denigrate women and treat them as second class people, when in fact our own school newspaper promotes that kind of mentality.

In the best interest of all women, I feel that this sort of promotion is inappropriate - our newspaper should report on issues concerning school rather than the latest "piece of meat" on the market - after all, if it is meat we are after, we can all go to our own Retail Meat Cutting Technology and find a suitable piece.

A concerned Student

The Nugget prides itself on printing student contributions - everything from Cabaret posters to cartoons. So we were thrilled with this photo, submitted by the girl featured, Christina.

We hope running our first male NAIT MATE - Archie Miller, Mr. NAIT 1990 will show all the students of NAIT the Nugget isn't sexist.

Dear Editor:

After reading the allegations set forth by Rika Mueller, and the actions set forth by Mr. Wimpney, I feel that Mr. Wimpney's actions are uncalled for and set a bad example to both NAIT and NAITSA. Mr. Wimpney, although right in principle, should practice more on personal relations with both other students and the public at large that he is dealing with.

If Mr. Wimpney's actions are not corrected, I feel that he will inevitably become what many view as (censored). I would like to remind Mr. Wimpney that he is representing NAITSA and NAIT, and should present himself as a true gentleman, not a class A loser.

Dear Editor:

It has been said that the days of the student activist, the student as a concerned citizen, are over. Up until this week I would have argued against this position. I cannot do so now.

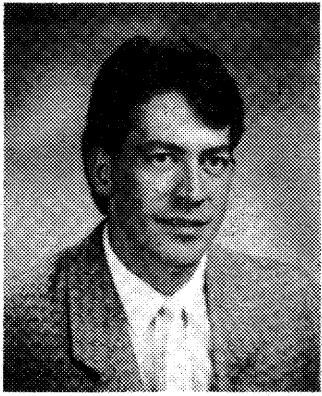

Faced with the violation of a fundamental right, a situation which should have resulted in screams of outrage from the representatives of EVERY technology in this institution, instead was received by blank looks and confused muttering. And that was from the people who are NOT too apathetic to attend the Student Council meeting, or pay attention to what was being said! True, there was some discussion, and it was spirited. Unfortunately those people with a vote (technology representatives) were too apathetic to make the requested motion.

It is not so much the incident itself, appalling though it is, rather it is the lack of support that I received to fight for a basic human right, guaranteed by the laws of Canada and the province.

Such apathy fills me with fearful questions. What does your apathy say about the future of our society? About the role of the professional? About you as an individual? If these attitudes had been widely held in the early 70's Richard Nixon would STILL be president.

R. Mueller

Apathy often stems from ignorance. Perhaps if the council members you refer to were given more time with which to process the information, there would have been an entirely different outcome at General Council last Tuesday.

Former Naitsa Executive,
Kevin Wimpney

Activities Director Resigns from Executive

by Roxanne Beaubien

NAITSA Activities Director Kevin Wimpney officially submitted his resignation to the Executive members on Sunday, January 28, 1990.

In his resignation, Mr. Wimpney expressed his pleasure in having the opportunity to work with general council and the students of NAIT. However, dealing with the pressures of the executive and his studies has affected his personal life and schooling.

On behalf of the executive, I would like to thank Kevin for the effort and input he has given NAITSA since he came to office and we wish him the best of luck in his future endeavors.

Parking Update

by Simon Doft

The Nugget

It is not a break through, but it's a start. Three more parking stalls with meters will be opened up in front of the Activities Center, says parking Supervisor Dick Martens-Poole. The stalls became available several months ago when a garbage dumpster was removed. However, it has taken until now to get everything arranged. The meters will be installed as soon as the weather improves.

Unfortunately, some other parking spaces will stay closed. The fire hydrants on the one way streets across 106 street from the main campus will remain in place indefinitely. The hydrants have been in place since before NAIT owned that section of land. At that time, the area was occupied by private houses, hence the need for hydrants. When NAIT bought the land, the city decided not to remove the hydrants due to cost. Despite inquiries by NAIT, it appears the hydrants will stay in place until NAIT uses the land for the new buildings. Until then, students can still receive tickets for parking too close to the hydrants.

Salaries Scandal

Maur
With Sports

By Maury
Bautz

NHL salaries are no longer under the table—they are now public knowledge and are raising controversy and questions. The NHL provides a product of equal or better quality than that of the other big leagues (NBA, NFL and Major League Baseball), but their stars don't receive near the compensation.

Only three players in the NHL make over $1,000,000 per year and only one is over the $2,000,000 mark. You can be just an average player playing baseball in "the show" and make over $1,000,000. Athletes who make it big in football or basketball are also treated with similar rewards.

The public salaries also bring up questions such as; why Jari Kurri makes less than Larry Robinson? Or why Ron Hextall is the highest paid Flyer? Players in the NHL are going to start demanding answers to these and many other questions. The only problem is that this might cause a lot of resentment, not only around the NHL but within the teams themselves.

Weighing the pros and the cons, making NHL salaries public knowledge is good for the league. It raises more controversy which causes publicity which pulls in more bucks. Now all the league has to do (in the U.S.) is go after the same t.v. contracts baseball has.

If salaries in the NHL don't start competing, gifted athletes are going to start concentrating on the other sports, which will ultimately hurt the greatest game in sports. It must be said that hockey players are definitely not underpaid but if I were four years old again baseball would be my only game.

Squash/ Raquetball Tournament at NAIT

On Saturday, January 26th, NAIT hosted the ACAC Racquetball/Squash tournament. NAIT's Trent Foley won the men's singles, while Red Deer's Kevin Hounscome won the men's consolation.

In women's racquetball NAIT's Joanne Tansey finished second.

In squash Joanne Ernst of NAIT won the women's, while Terry Stychin of NAIT won the men's.

This type of tournament was unsanctioned because some of the colleges dropped out. It is hoped that racquetball and squash will return to normal status next year.

The coaching staff wishes to thank all members of the team for their commitment to this year's program.

Ooks Clinch First

by Brian Stein

The Nugget

The NAIT Ooks clinched first place in the ACAC with a sweep of their Calgary rivals at the NAIT Arena on the weekend. The Ooks now have a record of 17 wins, no losses, and one tie in league play and an overall record of 31 wins, five losses, and one tie.

On Friday, January 26th, NAIT nipped the Mount Royal College Cougars 4-3.

In the first, the Ooks gained a 1-0 lead at the 9:16 mark as Bill Moody scored. Ted Bradshaw and Terry Black assisted on the play. Ian McAmmond increased the Ooks advantage to 2-0 with 58 seconds left in the period as two Cougars were in the penalty box. Murray Bokenfohr and Jeff Wildeboer were credited with assists.

In the second, the Ooks jumped out to a 3-0 lead at 4:43 when Murray Bokenfohr netted a marker from Ian McAmmond and Ivan Krook. The Cougars pulled to within one as Aaron Nosky and Shawn Hendry tallied at 17:03 and 19:39 respectively.

In the third, Randy

Keller of the Cougars tied the contest with 50 seconds gone in the frame. Like Monday night at Faceoff, Greg Geldart scored the game winner from Mark Hilton and Ivan Krook. On this occasion, 3:05 was left in regulation play.

Derek Shybunka in the NAIT crease blocked 27 of 30 shots. At the opposite end, Buddy Brazier and Randy Beekuizen in the Mount Royal net combined to stop 33 of 37 drives.

On Saturday, January 27th, the Ooks triumphed 10-1 over the SAIT Trojans.

In the first, Mark Hilton of NAIT started the scoring with a shorthanded marker at the 4:08 mark. Todd Lorenz then notched two of his four goals on the night for the Ooks. Murray Bokenfohr and Ian McAmmond assisted on the goals at 6:39 and 17:06.

In the second, the Ooks opened up a 4-0 lead on Murray Bokenfohr's tally from Ivan Krook and Todd Lorenz with 30 seconds gone. Todd Lorenz then netted his third of the game from Murray Bokenfohr and Ian McAmmond at 3:09. At 4:45, Chad Onishenko notched the lone SAIT marker to make the score 5-

1. Ivan Krook potted the Ooks sixth goal with the help of Randy Wong and Greg Geldart at 5:21. Ian McAmmond gave the Ooks a 7-1 advantage at 13:04 from Murray Bokenfohr and Todd Lorenz. The Ooks then gained a seven goal cushion at 14:13 from Craig Sterzer. Marty Volcan and Mark Thiessen assisted on the play.

In the third, Ivan Krook notched his second of the game from Randy Wong and Murray Bokenfohr at the :30 second mark. The Ooks then reached double digits as Todd Lorenz scored his fourth of the night from Mark Hilton and Ivan Krook at 12:51. Both third period goals came on the powerplay.

Rob McKinley of NAIT redirected 13 of 14 shots. Ian MacLeod of SAIT stopped 32 of 42 shots.

The NAIT Badminton team travelled to Grande Prairie last weekend to compete in a Northern Regional ACAC Tournament. Although they suffered their first loss of the season, they still remain in first place in the ACAC North.

NAIT defeated Keyano 7-0, Grande Prairie 4-3, and Red Deer 4-3. Their only loss was to the racquets of the Grant MacEwan team four matches to three. Grant MacEwan and NAIT finished tied for first place in the tournament with identical 3 and 1 records.

The depth of the NAIT team showed as they were without one of their star players, Rick Kosowan, who graduated last semester. York Chang of Pre-Business and Nancy Rusclio of Pre-Health were new additions to the team and according to coach James Chan they played well.

Next tournament for NAIT is the Northern Regional to be held in Red Deer on February 10.

NAIT will be hosting the final interlock tournament featuring all 10 of the ACAC teams, (North and South), on Friday, February 23rd and Saturday the 24th. Team finals will be played on Sunday the 25th. All games are to be played in the main gym. Come out and cheer on your number 1 Badminton team.

ASSISTANT COACH: Randy Repchuk

Randy is in his third season with the OOKS in a coaching role. Randy also played three years with the OOKS and was a member of the Canadian Colleges Athletic Association National Championship team in 1984-85. A former assistant captain with the OOKS, Randy's practical experience and leadership skills are assets. His primary concern is developing the skills of the forwards.

ASSISTANT COACH: Cleo Rowein

This is Cleo's second season back with the OOKS after coaching minor hockey. Cleo was an outstanding goaltender in the ACAC leading the OOKS to a National Championship in 1984-85. During his career at NAIT, Cleo was selected All-Canadian three times and was chosen a first team ACAC All-Star on three occasions. Cleo owns and operates Spark Heating and Air Conditioning Ltd. in Sherwood Park.

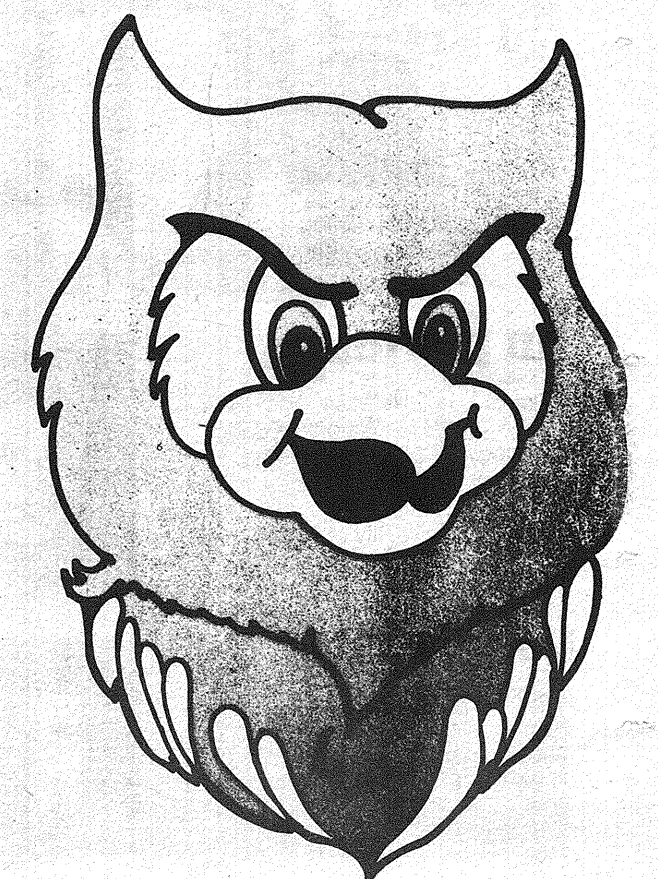

The History

In 1985, the NAIT Oaks and the University of Alberta Golden Bears rallied around the need for a Ronald McDonald House and met in the Face Off format for the first time. Face off '90 will mark the sixth time the two teams will have met to battle for the Ronald McDonald Cup and raise funds for Ronald McDonald House.

Although the Oaks have won eight Alberta Colleges Athletic Conference (ACAC) titles and four Canadian Colleges Athletic Association (CCAA) national championships, they are not resting on their laurels. In the 1989-90 ACAC regular season, the Oaks stand atop the standings with a record of 11 wins, no losses, and one tie. In fact, the last time the Oaks lost to a college with a CCAA affiliation was in March of 1989 in the ACAC league finals against the Red Deer College Kings.

In the 1980's, the Oaks were the most successful team in the CCAA capturing four national championships: 1981-82, 1984-85, 1985-86, and 1988-89. NAIT head coach Perry Pearn, who was an assistant coach with the Canadian National Junior Team at the recent World Championships in Helsinki, has been behind the bench for all four national titles. In addition, twelve members of the 1989-90 NAIT Oaks played on last year's national championship team.

Looking back at Face Off '90 at Northlands Agricon, the game held many positives for the City of Edmonton. After the completion of the game hockey fans in Edmonton went home satisfied knowing that they have seen the top two post-secondary hockey teams in the nation. Currently the U of A Bears are ranked #1 in the CIAU, while the NAIT Oaks are the defending CCAA National Champions. Although the fan turnout was not as high as anticipated the proceeds from the six Face Off games to Ronald MacDonald House now tops $35,000.

Basketball Ooks Continue Downslide

By Rajko Djurisc

Nugget Contributor

Friday the number one ranked SAIT Trojans came to the main gym for one reason only, and that was to prove that they are deserving of their number one ranking in college hoop. The OOKS got off to a slow start and allowed the Trojans to set the tempo of the game. SAIT's point guard Peter Wright continuously penetrated the OOKS defense for easy lay-ups or dished-off to teammates for uncontested shots. While on the other end, NAIT could not find the range from the floor, and found themselves down by fourteen points. At that point, the OOKS picked up the intensity on defense and improved their shot selection. This enabled them to cut the Trojans lead to 32-31 at the break.

In the second half the Trojans came out playing a zone defense, and this look confused the inexperienced OOKS. NAIT refused to penetrate SAIT's defense and chose to shoot from well outside the key. As NAIT continued to miss their shots, the Trojans were picking up momentum and re-establishing the tempo of the game. SAIT took advantage of NAIT's weaknesses and the train started rolling. The OOKS only managed eighteen points in the half, and were unable to stop the Trojan express. When the ride was finally over, NAIT had lost the game by 24 points, 73-49. Clayton Manhertz had ten points for the OOKS.

The OOKS bad luck carried over in the afternoon game on Saturday against the Mount Royal Cougars. NAIT looked tired and slow and their transition game lacked the spark necessary to be a winning team. The OOKS played tough defense but were unable to convert their few chances on offense. As a result, their impatient offense took poor shots throughout the half. This was evident by their shooting percentage, which was well below 50 percent. The OOKS trailed at the half by a score of 36-27.

In the second half, the OOKS continued to slump, and get out-hustled in most aspects of the game. NAIT got close a couple of times, but they could never muster enough energy to overtake the Cougars. Some of the OOKS players said the team lacks intensity and inspiration, and this may be the case, but that is no excuse for losing all season to teams with less talent. NAIT lost another game, but this time by a score of 64-56. Rob Hansuk was the high scorer with 15 points.

Volleyball Ooks Shunned on Road Trip Intramurals

Activites Update

Last weekend, with playoff hopes on the line, the NAIT Ladies Volleyball team suffered two disappointing losses to their Calgary rivals, SAIT and Mount Royal.

Injuries continued to plague the team as the day before they left for Calgary, setter Laura Jost went down with an ankle injury. Jesse Calara took Laura's place in the SAIT game and although Coach Farmer feels she played well, he was disappointed with the team as a whole for their dismal performance. SAIT soundly defeated NAIT in three straight matches.

The team regrouped the next day to meet Mount Royal College. They played much better in this contest but still came up short, losing three matches to one.

Although the ladies weren't victorious on the weekend they would like to thank Doug the bus driver for making this trip extremely enjoyable.

The team is on the road again next week to meet the Lethbridge and Medicine Hat colleges. Playoff hopes are now very slim, but if the ladies can get hot and put together a late season charge they can still do it.

The Rustavi Company

Situated on the Black Sea and bordered by Turkey, the Soviet State of Georgia is noted for fertile lands, rolling vineyards and majestic forests. Georgians are lovers of fine wine and spicy food, and are renowned for their warmth, hospitality and boundless intellectual curiosity. They are also famed for their longevity - at least one in every 2,500 Georgians is over a hundred years old!

Despite centuries of foreign invasions, the Georgian people have held fast to their oral and written languages, their religion and their unique artistic heritage.

The Rustavi Company is a truly remarkable group of 60 performers whose performances testify to this heritage. Drawing on traditions going back more than a thousand years, the company has succeeded in researching, restoring and preserving age-old songs and dances from areas throughout their native homeland.

Georgian folk singing is distinguished by diversity and style of execution peculiar to different regions within the state. The Rustavi singers (all male) are drawn from all over Georgia and the timbre of each voice is colored by specific regional flavor. These masters of virtuoso singing technique serve as both soloists and chorus members, blending their individuality into a polyphonic wonder.

The ancient elements of Georgian folk dance require masterful performing techniques. The women dancers are elegant and reserved in their movements, gliding across the stage as smoothly as swans. Their male counterparts offer a vision of exuberant masculinity as they preen, leap and fly through the performance. The richness and color of the finely-detailed traditional costumes serve to enhance the brilliant spectacle.

Both song and dance are accompanied by indigenous Georgian instruments which have been mastered by the company's musicians. Particularly noteworthy are the chonguri, panduri and the salamuri, or shepherd's flute. The musicians are directed by Omar Kelaptrishvili, a salamuri virtuoso from childhood, whose work has elevated the ancient instrument to the concert stage.

The Rustavi Company has already shared its rich heritage with the rest of the Soviet Union and all of Europe. In the true spirit of glasnost, it now comes to the United States and Canada for its first national tour, offering audiences in this country an evening of truly original splendor.

The spectacular Rustavi company from Soviet Georgia will appear at the Northern Alberta Jubilee Auditorium on Thursday, February 1, 1990. Curtain time for this not-to-be-missed performance is 8:00 p.m.

ODDS AND ENDS

GRAPEVINE

Dear J:

I am often spotted in front of the vending machines, that is where my locker is. I'm often seen in a jean jacket with wool lining. I'm blond of course and about 5'8". My initials are T.K. If i'm mistaken about who you are talking about, I don't care. I'd like to meet you any how, you sound very interesting.

Signed T.K.

Hey, all you single girls out there looking for a tall, dark, and handsome. Well, how about me? Looking for a guy who's sensatinal? Looking for a guy who's got benevolence? Looking for a guy who's fun? Looking for a guy who spends money? P.S. Merry Valentines.

Signed T.D. & H.

The lonely eagle soared the skies, Till he was captured by your eyes. To you he felt such a strong yearn, that alas his wings began to burn. I wish to you that I could speak, but alas my love i'm much to meak. If you feel the same but cannot say, just send your pretty smile my way.

Soaring in Cafeteria.

Dear M:

Me and my bud are both blond. One of us is 6'4" and the other is 5'8". Tell us what the guy you supposedly love is like. If it is one of us we'll do our best to recognize you. So smile at us or give us a little wave, and you never know we could be reaching new heights in the future.

Signed Two Blonds

Dear Serious Blond Guy:

Maybe the reason you haven't found anyone who is serious is because you haven't looked in the right places. We don't frequent Goose Loonies or Barry T's and never Denny Andrews. For you see we country girls like a place where the music is soft and the dancing is CLOSE. Instead of doing the 'night scenes' trying to find the serious girls why don't you and your friends try wandering over to Plaza II (where the girls are very serious).

Signed The Lonesome Hearts

Serious Blond Guy:

I sometimes go to Goose Loonies, Barry T's, and rarely, Denny Andrews; and I know exactly what you mean. I can't seem to find any nice guys these days. If serious includes long walks, long talks, slow dancing, and lots of romancing, maybe we should seriously talk.

Signed Serious Brunette Girl

Dear R:

Are you confused or what? Which guy are you in love with? How tall is he? What color of eyes? What do you see him wear? Come on now. all of us Blond guys in Pre-tech are not stupid. We are waiting for you to grab us and throw us on the floor and have a hair raising experience in the hallway so tell us what the guy looks like and who you are and we will do our best to satisfy your every need.

Signed The Guys

To Sis:

When you walk by in denim or leather, you turn us in any kind of weather. When you walk by in heels so high, we heave and moan and unzip our fly's. When you walk by in a braless shirt, we wish you weren't such a tease and a flirt. So when you walk by in your CFMNB's, don't laugh as we drop to our knees. After all, we like what we see, that's you and your sister, B.B.

Signed The 3 Poets Society (The Originals)

To the Serious Blond Guy:

What about redheads? I can guarantee that you don't know what you're missing, and you're certainly not going to find out from this flaming beauty! I guess you're not ready to have a fantastic time or else you'd have broadened your horizons a long time ago. I don't go to any of your hang outs, and I'm glad 'cuz I wouldn't want to get serious with someone wo limits his fantasies. Why don't you change your tune, and add a little spice to your life? But if you're not ready for a good time, perhaps you should stay in your rut!

Signed Someone who is ready to get extremely serious, but only if someone else would get real!!

To the NEW MR. NAIT and MISS NAIT:

Congratulations Archie and Karen on your new titles. Nice to see another technology take the honors for a change.

Signed Happy Voter

Jacuzzi,

We're getting hungry. We fasted over Christmas holidays. Don't starve us for Valentine's Day. Hungrily waiting. P.S. Licorice whips are our favorites.
