Tragedy In The Pool

Scene of the accident

Photos by Sean Connor

By Rob Binette
Staff Writer

At approximately 12:10 p.m. on Monday, November 19th, a 16 year old boy named Chadi Masir was pulled from the NAIT swimming pool. Although the lifeguards immediately applied C.P.R. and artificial respiration until the ambulance arrived, it was to no avail.

We at the Nugget, along with the entire staff and student body would like to convey our deepest sympathies and most heartfelt condolences to the family and friends of the deceased.

Chadi was last seen floating in an inner tube at the shallow end of the pool, while playing with his classmates. He was over at NAIT's pool on a P.E. class from St. Joseph's Composite High school, taking swimming lessons for the first time.

After the swim ended at approximately 11:10 a.m. the pool was cleared and two P.E. instructors, accompanying the classes, checked the pool and locker change room. At no time until 12:10 p.m., when discovered by a NAIT student swimming lengths, was anyone able to see Chadi laying at the bottom of the pool. He was approximately 5'4" tall and was found in the pool at the 5' depth.

The medical examiners office later reported that drowning was the cause of death and there was no other medical condition that caused his death. Presently, the NAIT administration and the pool staff are investigating ways to prevent this kind of accident from ever happening again.

One important aspect of an accidental death that is often overlooked is the effect that it has on the people who were in charge of the area where the death occurred. The pool staff of NAIT have had a superb safety record for the entire 17 years that the pool has been open, until this tragic incident. The safety standards maintained at our pool are much higher than those required by law.

Rob Binette and Sandy Wright look on

Unfortunately, people can not help feeling guilty, even though there was nothing they could do to prevent this accident. But this is just human nature and is no excuse for the student body to circulate wild rumors about the pool staff's negligence when they don't even know the facts of the case. According to the police investigation, it was an accidental death and no blame has been assessed to the pool staff. What we at NAIT should be doing, is giving our support to the pool staff during this trying period, just as we would appreciate the same support if we were in their position.

BOARD OF GOVERNORS GETS NEW CHAIRMAN

Mr. Jim Shaw, Chairman of the Board of Governors

News Release from the Government of Alberta

John Gogo, Minister of Advanced Education, today, November 15, 1990 announced the appointment of James Robert Shaw as Chairman of the Northern Alberta Institute of Technology Board of Governors.

In making the announcement, Mr. Gogo said: "I'm very pleased that Mr. Shaw has agreed to serve as Chairman of the Board of Governors. With his long record of achievement in the business world and leadership in the community, he brings with him a valuable combination of experience and commitment. I am certain he will make an excellent contribution to the Northern Alberta Institute of Technology."

Mr. Shaw, who is originally from Ontario, received a Bachelor of Arts degree in Business Administration from Michigan State University in 1958. He moved to Edmonton in 1961 to build the western division of Shaw Industries Ltd. (formerly Shaw Pipe Protection Ltd.) and served as Chairman of the Board until December 1988.

As founder and president of Shaw Cable systems Ltd. (formerly Capital Cable TV Ltd.), Mr. Shaw managed the growth of the company from its beginnings in 1966 to its position now as Canada's fourth largest multi-system cable television operator.

Mr. Shaw is Chairman of the Board of Mannville Oil and Gas Ltd., a Director of Melcor Developments Ltd., and Director and President of the Shaw Family Foundation. Mr. Shaw also served on the Board of Directors of Edmonton Northlands, the Canadian Cable Television Association and the Canadian Simmenthal Association. He is a past member of the Board of Trustees of Graceland College in Iowa.

Mr. Shaw serves as Campaign Chairman, Partners in Tomorrow, Northern Alberta Institute of Technology and is a member of the University of Alberta President's Council, the Edmonton Art Gallery President's Circle Club and the Rotary Club.

No Respect, No Respect At All

By Brenda Manser

I can't believe the way some students in this institution treat public property. I'm talking about the abuse of our institution of higher learning.

I've been noticing lately that students don't really seem to care about anything other than getting an education or having a good time. It doesn't take much to notice how much students actually care about NAIT. Just walk past the north study hall in the day or evening and look at all the garbage left on the tables and floor. How much effort does it take to pick up your garbage and put it where it belongs, in the garbage can? NONE!! The same goes for putting your pop cans in the pop can recycling bins around NAIT. Why is it necessary to leave your garbage in the elevators in the parkade, or empty your cigarette ashtray from your vehicle in the parkade. Would you empty your ashtray on your rug in your apartment. I think not!

If you leave all this garbage all over the place, my gawd what does your apartment look like. Or do you live at home and someone else picks up after you? Remember here at NAIT if you want to be treated like a responsible adult - start acting like one!

And one last thing that really irks me. Why must I have to subject myself to your graffiti all over the desk tops, and washroom facility walls and doors.

Christmas, Is It Here Already?

By Jennifer Hawthorne
Assistant Editor

"I'll be home for Christmas..." Christmas carols, it seems you hear them wherever you go. They're blasting from the speakers in shopping malls, constantly playing on the television, and people are even singing them in supermarkets. What on earth is going on here? It's not even December yet and my mailbox is already stuffed with Christmas flyers. I've heard of getting a jump on things but this is ridiculous!

Upon entering any shopping mall to get a package of gum or some new jeans you are immediately taken back by the sights of huge elaborately decorated Christmas trees in all shapes, sizes and even colors. And, the worst part is the hordes of people who are beginning their Christmas shopping early, (can you believe that some people have already finished!). It's dangerous to enter a mall at this time of the year. People push and shove, and it's even possible to be run down by people with their deadly baby carriages (I've seen many near hits). These people are nuts! They've got one thing on their mind--presents, and you had better stay out of their way!

It seems you cannot even watch a movie on television without being blasted with ads for Christmas tapes, records, and C.D.'s at every commercial break. They want our money and they want it now.

Don't get me wrong, I love Christmas. It's the best time of the year. I get to see my whole family together, and they're usually all happy, but why does everyone need to rush things? Why can't we just slide into Christmas like any other holiday? Christmas is getting too commercialized and possibly losing it's precious meaning.

So, let's take it easy. What's the rush? It will come at the same time every year, no matter how soon the stores begin their magnificent Christmas campaigns. Let's not get all caught up in the excitement of the moment, but, rather give Christmas a little thought instead of rushing around like a bunch of lunatics. And, would it be possible to at least hold off until December next year?

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:

Re: "Why is Edmonton more excited about NAIT events than students?" November 8, 1990.

I'll tell you why the outside media gives more attention to the activities at NAIT than the students do. It's because the student's on NAITSA spend more time trying to get their faces on public television than they do networking with the students they represent. When was the last time you saw a picture of a member of NAITSA (including the new Athletics Director) in the Nugget? Even if it's only to tell the students who they are, and what their job on NAITSA entails. Or in other words what can this member of NAITSA do for me as a student?

Instead all that appears is an unsigned article degrading the students and commending NAITSA. The purpose of the student press isn't to justify the neglect of student government, or to stroke their overblown egos. It's function is to act as a link which should bring students in contact with NAITSA. So, next time a NAIT event flops don't shake your finger at the students, instead ask what you could have done to improve awareness of the student population.

Audrey Mirlach
Finance Student

A NAITSA executive wrote the article in question. If you want to see more articles on NAITSA drop by and we'll discuss some ideas.

Dear Editor:

I thought that since a few certain people are so interested in what is up on my walls that I should respond.

First: Where did Crystal and I get the prints? I paid a ridiculous amount of money for mine at the Food Bank Charity Auction put on by BAS last Christmas. Crystal received hers as a gift, when she won the election from her BOYFRIEND. He obviously does not find it degrading to men. Crystal and I both feel that the prints are done in good taste and we plan on keeping them on our walls.

Second: There are so many things going on at NAIT that I would think something else would attract MARD's attention.

Third: I think that the point brought up in MARD's last letter about men's insurance rates is valid and deserves to be talked about. Maybe another area MARD could look at is why men sometimes do not get a job that they are qualified for because a company has a quota of women to fill, but MARD had also better look at why a woman holding an equal position to a man often gets paid much less than her "equal".

One final note. Thank you MARD! Your letters have probably increased Nugget readership!

Roxanne Beaubien

Let's hope this is the end of the issue.

Student Speak

Q: If you could bring a dead rock star back to life who would it be?

Susan Maybroda - Cooking - Roy Orbison - His music is a big influence on the new generation.

Darlene Gerke - Dietary Tech - Elvis Presley - I would like to see him live in concert.

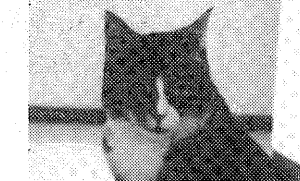

Lorne Humeniuk - Business - Buddy Holly - He was cool, his music was simple but enjoyable. It would be interesting to see what he could do with a synthesizer though.

Mike Seyer - IHET - John Bonham of Led Zepplin because Led Zepplin would still be happening.

Nixer - Bring the dead back to life? No thanks. I don't dabble in the occult. I'm not that sort of cat.

Construction Bulletin

In keeping with the Department's (Public Works - Construction Branch) objective of providing adequate water for fire protection and domestic purposes, it has been found necessary to replace the existing cast iron water main with 20 mm PVC on 103 Street - 117A Avenue - Princess Elizabeth Avenue. Road surface will be restored as soon as is practicable after construction.

This work will necessitate certain lane or road closures, parking restrictions and interruption of water service. We regret any inconvenience which the above work may cause. Work will commence on November 26, 1990. The estimated time to complete this work is approximately three weeks.

It may be necessary, on a temporary basis, for us to connect a hose to your house in order to provide you with a continuous supply of water. Please ensure that a water tap is left open enough to provide an adequate flow (about pencil size) which will prevent the water from freezing in the hose. There will be no additional charge for this.

For your protection, the work site is well marked and barricaded. Please ensure that your family members are aware of the construction activities and that children in particular stay clear of the open excavated area for their safety. Construction sites are dangerous. If you see any vandalism or children playing on our site, please call the Police at 423-4567.

Further inquiries concerning the above work may be directed to the undersigned, 14223 - 115 Avenue, phone 428-3937. After 4:00 p.m. call 428-5145.

The NAIT Alumni services would like to give you a chance to win money. "This raffle has a twist," explains Judy Chichak Alumni Services Co-ordinator.

When you purchase the calendar for $30, the calendar number is placed in a draw drum. Should your number be drawn Monday to Friday you can win $30, but if your number is drawn Saturday or Sunday you will win $100. Also, at the end of the month there's a $1000 bonus draw. The wrinkle is that should you win one of the draws, you can still win even more money because your number is put back into the drum. There is a draw everyday during the year.

All proceeds are for the research and development of programs and services in NAIT Alumni Services. This will benefit all grads, which includes you and me.

Career Fair '90

by Dave Murray
News Editor

Mayor Jan Reimer along with Dr. Souch, President of NAIT, opened NAIT's Career Fair. The event brought 80 employers together.

Mayor Jan Reimer remarked that graduates of NAIT have an established record of success with international, national and local businesses. She also commended the organizers for the work they did to provide this event for the students.

Joan Langely, Human Resources Coordinator for Canadian Utilities, addressed those present at the opening ceremony. She explained the importance and benefits of companies attending the fair. Also, students benefit from the fair because they find out what is happening in the business world.

The placement center along with their countless volunteers made this year's event successful.

Wright Out Of The Ice

By Cary Tarasoff

"It's a tough job but someone has to do it." On last Thursday evening, my friend and I attended the Labatt's Lite "Right out of the Ice" pageant held at Goose Loonies. Needless to say, from the moment we arrived until we finally left - it was a great time; reserved seating, complementary food and beverages, lots and lots of giveaways and eleven very pretty contestants. The contestants ranged in age from 18 to about 23 and came from the greater Edmonton area. The beauties wore clothing in the following categories: evening wear, aerobic wear, athletic wear, one piece and finally, two piece swimwear. The previous eight weeks of eliminations produced 11 very professional looking models or model will be's. The final winner was Sherry Wright of Morinville. First runner up went to Marnie Graves of Edmonton and second runner up went to Judy

The University Hospital Foundation invites you to the 6th annual "Festival of Trees" in support of the University hospital's priority programs. The festival features a four day winter fair centered around displays of over 100 Christmas creations by Edmonton designers -- trees, garlands, gingerbreads, wreaths, cakes and yard arts. The festival also incorporates live entertainment by local performing artists, ethnic displays, a children's world, food services and specialty retail shops.

The winter wonderland event takes place November 22-25, at the Edmonton Convention Centre. You can enjoy the event Thursday - Saturday 10:00 a.m. - 9:00 p.m. and Sunday 10:00 a.m. -

5:00 p.m. An admission fee of $3 for adults, $2 for seniors and $1 for children will go to the hospital based patient related, clinical research and clinical investigation program.

Expectations are high for this year's event. Last year over 35 000 people donated $800,000. Also media and businesses are supporting the event more. For information call 492-4350.

Halfe also of Edmonton. Sherry, besides taking home 4000 in prizes and cash, is now the only poster girl for all of Canada. Over the next year, her picture will appear on 10,000 Labatt's posters. Thank you to the "Goose" staff, Labatt's and all the other sponsors for a very enjoyable evening and congratulations to all the contestants and winners. From our vantage point it was very plain to see the dilemma the judging panel had facing it.

Rotary Joins With NAIT To Assist Swazi Students

A joint project between the Rotary Club of Edmonton and NAIT is funding the education of three students from Swaziland at the Institute.

The Rotary club has donated $30,000 to cover the major part of the students' expenses, and NAIT has waived their tuition fees. The project was initiated by Bruce Basaraba of NAIT's International Education office, who became aware when in Swaziland of the need for technical training assistance for students there. Taking up the proposal, the NAIT Foundation's Bill McCallum persuaded the Rotary Club, to which he belongs, to shoulder the bulk of the cost.

Musa Gama, a carpentry teacher at a vocational high school in Swaziland, is taking the Millwork and Carpentry program. Hector Sayed, a machinist and foundry worker, is enrolled in the two-year Mechanical Engineering Technology program. And Stella Zwane, a hotel receptionist in Mbabane, the capital of Swaziland, is taking the Cooking Certificate program.

Just look what happens when people of goodwill in good organizations get together on a worthwhile project!

Odyssey in OT for Oaks

By Brian Stein
Staff Writer

The Oaks and overtime have become synonymous in the past few weeks and the point was emphasized on the weekend.

The Oaks (6-3-1) split a pair of OT games in the Stampede City with the Mount Royal College Cougars (5-3-0) to stay one point behind the Red Deer College Kings (7-3-0) in the battle for first place.

"We played well and created a lot of scoring opportunities. However, we gave up too many." - NAIT coach Rick Carriere

On Saturday, November 17th, the Oaks had the territorial edge but dropped a 6-5 decision to the Cougars in overtime.

In the first, Mark Hilton started the wheels rolling for the Oaks with a tally at the 2:04 mark. Bob Duchak and Randy Wong capitalized on power-play opportunities at 10:46 and 14:16 to give the Oaks a 3-0 advantage. The Cougars roared back with a pair before period's end as Corey Taylor netted a powerplay goal at 16:46 and Mark Greyeyes tallied at 19:57.

In the second, the Cougars tied the contest on Mark Holick's marker with one second left in the period.

In the third, the Oaks pulled in front 5-3 on goals by Lonnie Spink at 4:22 and Kevin Lovig at 8:34. The Cougars then pulled even as Aaron Nosky and Trevor Pohl found the net at 12:40 and 15:33 respectively.

In overtime, Mark Greyeyes made no mistake on MRC's first opportunity of the extra frame at 4:06 to give the Cougars the victory.

Randy Beekhuizen faced 51 shots in the MRC goal while Rob McKinley was tested on 25 occasions in the NAIT crease.

On Sunday, November 18th, the Oaks broke a two game losing skid with a 6-5 OT triumph over the Cougars.

Shane Morson's point blast gave the Cougars a 1-0 lead at 2:42 of the first. The Oaks tied the game on Randy Wong's wrist shot at 4:46. Corey Taylor of Mount Royal then banged in a rebound to give the Cougars a 2-1 advantage at 5:46. The lead was short lived as NAIT's Corey Hastman evened the score on the powerplay at 8:49. The teams traded goals to close out the period as Lonnie Spink tallied for NAIT at 11:25 and Pat Findlay countered for Mount Royal at 13:14.

NAIT's Kevin Lovig broke the deadlock at 2:12 of the second. The Cougars then bounced back with a pair as Al Stafford and Mark Greyeyes turned on the red light at 5:06 and 6:23 respectively.

Lonnie Spink of the Ooks scored the lone goal of the third at 17:54 to send the game into overtime.

Kevin Lovig's tally at 1:51 of the extra period capped off intense NAIT pressure in the overtime period.

NAIT outshot Mount Royal 57 to 26 in the contest. Rob McKinley of NAIT and Ken Weiss of MRC received the calls in net.

NAIT coach Rick Carriere had mixed feelings about the weekend. "We played well and created a lot of scoring opportunities. However, we gave up too many."

NAIT will play an exhibition game against the Briercrest Bible College Clippers of Caronport, Saskatchewan on Saturday, November 24th at 2:00 p.m. in the NAIT Arena. Admission is free with your NAIT Student/Staff I.D. card.

ON THE BENCH: The Oaks see their final league action of 1990 on Saturday, December 1st and Sunday, December 2nd when they entertain the Grande Prairie Regional College Nordic Wolves at the NAIT Arena. Game time is 7:30 p.m. on Saturday night and 1:30 p.m. on Sunday afternoon.

Nickname: Wonger

This week's feature player is Randy Wong. Wonger is in his third year at NAIT and he is now taking finance. Last year as an assistant captain, Randy was named to the ACAC all-stars. Randy played most of his junior hockey career, traveling from Medicine Hat, New Westminster, Hobbema, Calgary and then to NAIT.

This year as captain Randy is hoping to capture his third championship in a row. Randy is the type of player who plays a Chris Chelios and Steve Smith style of hockey. He plays like Chelios in his offensive style and determination and also like Steve Smith for his hard working, hard hitting play, and also the occasional turnover to the opposition for a goal (only one a year).

This past weekend's trip to Calgary enabled Wonger to play his two favorite past times away from hockey. Crib and wrestling in the WWA (Wongers Wrestling Association).

It is too bad he lost in both as trainer Manny Fernandez beat him in crib and in the second period of Sunday's game he lost his WWA title when he was run into the turnbuckle by a MRC player. After Xmas Randy will get his chance to win back the belt. Knowing Randy's desire to succeed he will be able to win it back. As well, he will help the team to win a third championship in a row.

Basketball Oaks Undefeated And In First Place

The NAIT men's basketball team remains undefeated in league play following a 92-87 victory over the Medicine Hat College Rattlers last Friday in the NAIT Gymnasium. The win improved the Oaks record to 3-0 in league play and first place in the ACAC. The Oaks jumped out quickly to a 17-4 lead but the Rattlers came back and closed to within four points at the half. The start of the second half saw the Oaks dominate and build their lead again, this time to 18 points. Constant progressing by Medicine Hat resulted in the Rattlers charging back to take a one point lead with seven minutes to go. But when they had to, NAIT regained control of the game building a one point lead with two minutes to go.

Norm Barthel had a strong game for the Oaks hitting for 22 points with short jumpers. Rob Hansuk added 15 points, Moe Ameroy and Chuck Royer each had 11 points.

The Oaks play their first road game of the season when they travel to Camrose to play the CLUC Vikings this Friday. Camrose has a strong, talented veteran

The NAIT swim team returned victorious from the fall ACAC championship meet this past weekend. Five colleges participated in what proved to be a very exciting competition.

The Ook men once again showed their dominance in the pool, nearly doubling their nearest competitor.

"There were a lot of good races, but the other teams just could not match the strength and depth of our men's squad."

-Coach Jeff Riddle

Coach Riddle was equally impressed by the women's third place finish. "We knew that the determining factor in the combined team title would be how the women scored. They came through with flying colors!"

While it is an accomplishment for the team to do so well at this meet, it is not a given that they have the title yet. Scores from this meet will be combined with results of the second ACAC meet March 16, 1991 in Red Deer to determine the 90/91 ACAC champions. As coach Riddle stated, "We will have the jump on the other teams going into the March meet. However, they will be gunning for us and we'll have to perform our best to finish on top!"

Ladies Split Down South

The NAIT Oaks Volleyball women managed to return from a long road trip with a split. The team lost 3-0 in Medicine Hat and edged Lethbridge three games to two.

The Oaks started well on Friday, but due to some errors, particularly with serving, they got off track. Distraction was evident and focus was lost.

"Focusing is the ability of the athlete (student) to block out all noise - what is noise? Noise can be stress, music, reality of consequences, etc. From my experience you are alone with yourself hearing nothing but your own heartbeat which is racing to the anticipation of the result of your action."

-Coach Glen Farmer

On Saturday the ladies settled down and managed to defeat Lethbridge. Their serving picked up and according to Coach Farmer, played more as a team.

The Oaks are at home this weekend to serve off against Red Deer on Friday and Olds on Saturday. Red Deer is the class team in the women's ACAC and Olds is no slouch, so both games promise to be entertaining. Action begins at 6:00 p.m. Friday and 1:00 p.m. Saturday.

It Must Come From Within

By Maury Bautz
Sports Editor

The men's volleyball team are now 3-1 after dropping a 3-0 decision to Medicine Hat and coming away with a 3-1 victory in Lethbridge.

Medicine Hat's dominating quickness overpowered the Oaks Friday. This match proved to the team that it's going to be tough to make the playoffs in the ACAC this year. The team must play consistent throughout each game to be successful.

According to the players, the team seemed to gel better on Saturday and through a solid team effort defeated the Kodiaks of Lethbridge three games to one.

Improvement in setting and focusing on working together are cited as factors as the guys go into games against Red Deer and Olds. The games are in the NAIT gym this Friday at 8:00 p.m. and Saturday at 3:00 p.m.

Red Deer is another ACAC team fighting for the playoffs and must be reckoned with. The guys will remember:

"It must come from within."

That's More Like It

Maur with Sports

by Maury Bautz
Sports Editor

Life in Edmonton's sporting scene seems to be back to normal at least for now...

Normal, in the City of Champions, means wins. The sports fans here won't settle for anything less. And that's exactly what has transpired over the last week. The Oilers have vaulted out of their slump with three wins in four games and the Eskimos are on their way to the Grey Cup for the 12th time in the last 18.

The Oilers and Mark Messier are finally starting to get the goals to compliment Ranford's goaltending - that combination can only spell victory. Statistically the Oilers aren't that bad off. A few more wins, with their games in hand and they can be in 3rd place in the Smythe within striking distance of the top. Say bye-bye to the Maple Leafs, but you can't say it wasn't funny while it lasted.

Tracy Ham and the Eskimos literally stomped on the Stamps and nobody can say "If". This referring to the two dropped passes by the Stamps. "If" they would have been caught it would have only produced an extra eight points (due to the field goals made on each drive) they would have still been whipped.

So it's a chance for Edmonton to capture two championships in one year again. Too bad the Trappers choked in the final otherwise it would be three.

Although this sports editor should retire from making predictions (A's in four), an Eskimo victory looks safe. Wagers are welcome.

OOKS Badminton Finish on Top

The Ooks Badminton team completed their second regional badminton tournament with a first place finish.

NAIT, Grande Prairie and GMCC all finished with 3-1 records but NAIT led all teams with 20 game wins.

"From top to bottom we had a solid team effort. I was pleased that we had such a strong all around performance going into the interlock tournament at SAIT."

-Coach Mark Bosworth

The team has two weeks to prepare for the interlock tournament where the colleges from Northern Alberta (NAIT, Red Deer, Grant MacEwan, Keyano and Grande Prairie) play against colleges from Southern Alberta (SAIT, Olds, Medicine Hat, Mount Royal, and Lethbridge).

"I feel with a week of solid practice and preparation, we should do very well at the interlock" stated coach Bosworth.

Gigantic George Getting Gold

Bob Prince Speaks Out

by Bob Prince
The Dean of Sports Columnists

With Rocky V opening this weekend, the eyes of the entertainment world have turned to boxing once again.

While Sylvester Stallone raked in millions for his continuing saga of Rocky Balboa, George Foreman has done the same with his quest for the heavyweight title.

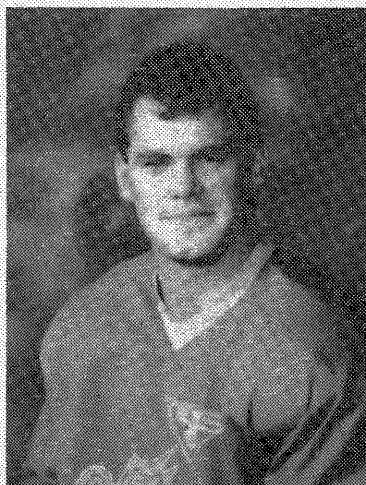

When George decided to do his preaching in the ring instead of in the steeple, many people were shocked with the announcement. Methodically, the ex-champ has padded his bank account while moving back into the top ten.

Foreman's next fight will be against Evander Holyfield on April 19th, the current heavyweight champion. Win or lose, the Texan will be raking in the bucks.

You can't blame George for taking the money. You can blame the promoters and the press who are heralding the 260 pounder as the next champion.

The rise of Foreman brings home the point that scripts aren't only found in movies.

Nugget Production Manager, Cary Tarasoff would like to apologize for the tattoo changes which appeared in "Off the Post" in last week's Nugget.

Predator II
6 out of 7.5 Bucks

Last week was the opening of Predator II. Usually, sequels don't have what the original had, but it was an interesting movie. The major character "Danny Glover," is a lieutenant in the L.A.P.D. in 1997. There is war in the city raging between Jamaican and Hispanic drug gangs. "Gary Bussie" plays a government agent who is called in to observe an unusual presence.

While the movie has a lot of conflict, the message can be understood if you don't become overwhelmed by the violence. These action type movies are a dime a dozen and this Christmas we will be bombarded by action movies. The rating is fair, but if you are thinking of spending the money, think about renting it in three months first.

Steve's Albums of the Week

by Steve McGuire
Entertainment Editor

"The Rhythm of the Saints"

Paul Simon

Paul Simon's new album "The Rhythm of the Saints" is a compilation of his present feelings and how he thinks he fits in the world today. His musical craftsmanship and writing on this album reflect a light change in direction from "Graceland". A hard time in assessing this album. The most I can say at this time is, "I like, but I really can't put my finger on what I like specifically." Worth the money if you like Paul Simon.

"Hi Five's"

Self-titled Album

"Hi Five's" self-titled debut album is not rap. The production qualities are more reflective of a mid-70's Motown sound. There is a computerized drum machine, but there are actual musicians on this album. The songs they released on this album maybe aren't the best choices. My reason for saying this is, the sound is a lot like "New Kids", and too many tracs for my liking. Maybe "Hi Five" should try and be themselves instead of somebody else. Not worth the money.

Out and About

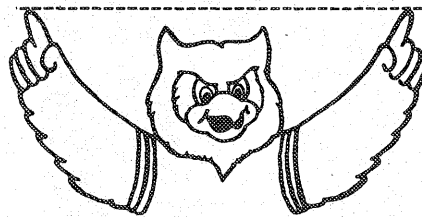

by Cabaret Clairence

The next big cabaret will be held at the Castle Downs Community Hall on November 30th. Your host will be the PMT Dudes, the GME, GWE and PCT dudes. This is one of the larger techs and with little or no female population in the body of these courses. So ladies if you would like some tickets, the best place to pick one up would be the "Dock" in Plaza Two over the next week and they're going fast. This cabaret will also help the Edmonton Food Bank. If you bring a can of food, you will receive a shot - what a deal! This cabaret is almost a sell-out, so act fast.

Naitusa PRESENTS
"Look Who's Talking"
Saturday,
November 24 and
Sunday, November 25
at 7:00 p.m. in the Little Theater (H-005)

Director: Amy Heckerling
1989-92 minutes

A movie with lots of comedy, the first movie that has the thoughts of a baby, the voice of the baby belongs to Bruce Willis. Mollie is an accountant who gets pregnant by her married boyfriend: being a single mother

The Myer Horowitz Theater will have a new rock band, "The London Quire Boys" on November 30th. The band has a good sound and will entertain the audience with catchy licks and a danceable back beat. The band is worth seeing.

Mollie sets out to find the perfect father for Mickey. James is a cab driver who helps deliver Mickey. Mickey favors James who becomes his babysitter, only if Mollie could hear Mickey's thoughts!

Cast: Kirstie Alley, John Travolta, Olympia Dukakis.

Moon 44
No Bucks out of 7.5

The premise of "Moon 44" is non-renewable resources have become scarce on the planet. Multi-national groups are mining moons and other planets for profit. Pirates are raiding many semi-automated mining equipment and the Multi-nation Businesses are using a new helicopter to combat the pirates.

This movie is an unbelievable and cheap production. The writing is second rate at best, the plot drags, and the direction is a joke. I suggest you don't go to this movie and never think of renting it.

Smith Principle

This week's column; Service Areas - People to People.

Yes, Virginia, there's a real world out there with real live people that go to work everyday, support families, and pay bills on low wages and high expectations. But they smile and they're happy, take pride in their work and enjoy themselves and the people around them.

Yesman's Restaurant is an example of this. What a change! No pushing trays along and waiting in line and while you're waiting in line when some instructor in white comes in behind the service area and rips the head off a student from commercial cooking.

Yesman's did more. The service was friendly and efficient right down to the selection of wine. Real tablecloths and real napkins fit right into the decor. A professional waiter dressed in black and a bow-tie served with class and the best part--it was affordable and good. The lounge was packed with friendly people and the music good. This place five stars all the way, right down to their washrooms.

And speaking of washrooms, the Health Centre, must have been doing a roaring business last month. In a test run through the female washrooms in the college $1.25 was dispensed into different machines with no result except a loss of $1.25.

Thank goodness for Glenda in the registrars office she herself does not realize the respect other depts. have for her, such as Continuing Ed., who will suggest to students to ask for Glenda because she goes that extra step when you have a problem sorting things out. She doesn't treat you like a piece of meat--one out of 5000 and shoves you over to counseling only for counseling to shove you back.

It's too bad that the mature student comes back to school, only to be totally disorientated even after orientation, until they learn how to play the games, and then to be treated with disrespect instead of used as extra learning tools. Most, not all, come back knowing they have holes in their education due to the vast speed of advanced technology, but already they have up to 20 years in many phases of the labor market. These students have the best teaching tool there is--real life-combined-work experience. Why not use them in spite of their marks; they are up-date on the labor market and the actual company needs because they have to be.

One instructor who isn't very much noticed in the crowd is Brian Yahn. He always has time for a student even if the student is not his own. He can take a bland straight out of book subject and teach it with a sense of humor and give that subject interest and spice. He never gives the impression to any student that he has no time for them.

The easiest thing to do is take a deep breath and no matter what is happening to you or around you--you smile. Believe me, it passes on, and on. Even when the $1.25 passed on to eternity there was a reason to find the humor in the situation. All it ever is--is people to people.

Academic Council

Are you interested in what happens at NAIT, and the students?

Are you interested in representing the NAIT student body?

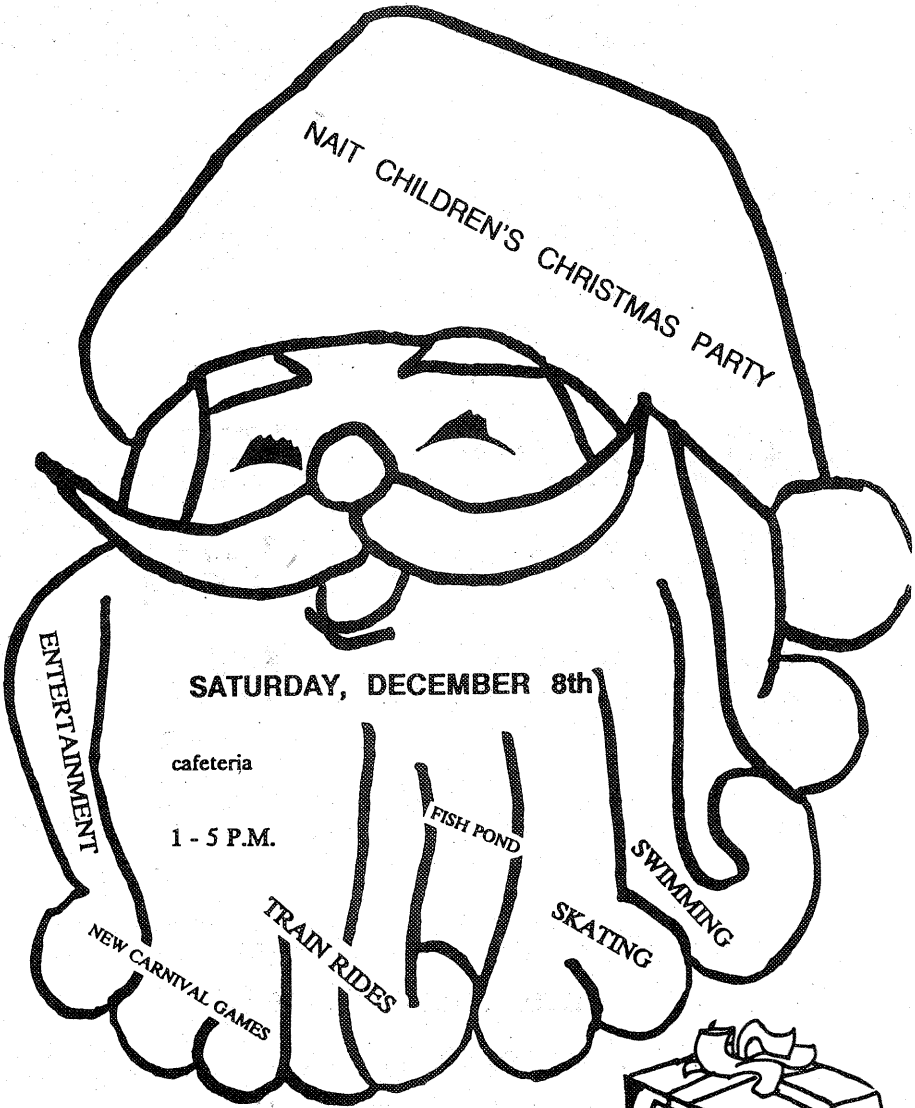

If so, you are the person who should fill one of the three vacant student positions of Academic Council.

This council is a division of the Board of Governors, and deals with issues that affect NAIT. An example of a topic being discussed is evaluation of instruction. Academic council has already completed two meetings, so your input is important.

So what do you need to do to fill one of the positions is:

1. Come and see Crystal at NAITSA offices (E-133) for a nomination form.
2. Show up at the General Council meeting on Tuesday, December 4, 1990.

So get involved and help represent the students of NAIT.

"Poetry in Motion"
Say what? He drives a sprint!
OK, I'll give you another hint
He waits on tables at Red Robin,
His favorite pass time is serious bobbin;
He's cute with an irresistible smile, sometimes grumpy, cause he hasn't had it in awhile;
You may think he's a hard guy to get to know, but he'll loosen up once you give him a (censored)
Likes to force-feed girls J.D. says it makes them go crazy!
So one last point I'd like to make clear,
If he offers you J.D. take a beer!
Luv, "The Bookmaster"

Stukerman
Stukerman, stukerman, does whatever a stuker can,
spins a bed, any size, catches girls, just like flies,
Hey there, there goes the stukerman!

In the heat of the night, he pulls out just in time, he's got so many chicks, my Gawd, it's a crime!

Stukerman, stukerman if he can't get her, no one can,
in the woods or in the van,
no one tops, stukerman!
Hey there, stuker's a forestry man!
Signed the bush boys

To the guy in the neon green cap (Friday). I think you've noticed we've been watching you and we must say we're impressed! Stay tuned for next week. P.S. you have gorgeous eyes!
Signed C & C

To the two blondes from dental assisting, who hung a poster in forestry wing.
We miss your eyes, your lips, the wiggle of your hips, your features are still so clear, your hair so blonde, your buns so near.
Please come back, we do have morals.
We know you are into anything "oral"?
Signed the bush boys

Dear Lady:
"I stop and stare too much, afraid that I care too much, and I hardly dare to touch, for fear that the spell may be broken"
I see you everyday on the towers second floor, you own a locker just like mine, you make my passion soar.
You were at Amnesias Friday and so was I, You allowed me one dance, and gave me a caring glance, but then like Cinderella U had 2 fly.
I looked high and low just to say hi, but when I saw U, U were, dancing with another guy, I felt so bad inside I just wanted 2 cry.
I wore a grey suit, with a purple shirt, U wore pants instead of a skirt.
So much 2 do, So much 2 say, I just hope and pray, You know it's U.
I watch U go 2 every class, and everyday we seem 2 pass.
If I wrote a hundred love songs, and they were all 4 U, then would U realize my love was true, If I gave U pearls 'n' diamonds, and showered you in wine, then would there B a chance that you'd B mine.
Your beautiful blonde hair, I just wonder if U know I'm there.
I hope you're going 2 the Bus. Bash, and my chances don't crash, if U need a ticket just let me know, then off 2 the ball we will go.
I hope U read this and know it's me, together with U I want 2 B.
Am I still in the picture, because U and I would B a great mixture.
Signed The Gentleman

To Kara,
The guys call her "legs" because they just do
We think she's real special 'cause it's her B-Day too.
She's our Business bud and she's a dating stud
And oh! By the way she'll show up at DA's on the day of 2-6

She'll be chuggin' the mix
Were sure she'll be (?) (in more ways than one)
So wish her a big 1-8 before it's too late.
(it's sad, Kara. But hey! We tried)
From 2 Business Buds.

To the Booter Cuter Babe:
Illl'mm back!, with a brand new edition,
Brains I don't lack, when I'm makin' a decision.
With the bass kickin' in, I'll start on my mission. I think that you realized, that with your beauty I'm hypnotized.
When I see you I get excited, I got this feelin' for you, and I just gotta write it,
Yes dear the following is true.
I think that you're pretty, the prettiest girl in the whole darn city.
With you by my side, you'd enhance my pride.
I look to you, and you look so sweet,
When I'm close to you, I can feel your heat.
The fact that you may be taken, makes me rise and awaken.
It time that I compete, and make all other guys obsolete.
Yo Man, I'm pumpin' it out and bustin' loose once again.
Kickin' it into gear, this has got to be our year.
Love at first sight, I'm dreamin' of you every night.

Ladies and Gentlemen of NAIT:
The Petroleum Engineering Technology Department would like to congratulate our top student Mr. Darren (Cliffie) Jackson on his engagement to Miss. Nadia N (the little woman). Way to go Cliffie (Ya big stud).
PMT 2A & 2B

To the adorable petite blonde on the sixth floor:
I have read the sometimes crude letters being written in the grapevine. I do not feel that is the suitable approach to address you. I was intrigued the first moment I saw you. you have beautiful, NATURAL, long blonde hair. My one hope is that you are not committed to anyone at the present time. I noticed the ring you wear on your finger, is it a symbol of unavailability? I believe your locker number is 6044A, mine is across the hall number T6. Please respond in the next issue so I know whether or not to drive you from my thoughts. If you are interested in meeting, pick a time and place and I will be there. Perhaps a drink at the nest, or lunch.

Signed, Captivated

Dear farmer John with the big green truck
Your beautiful green eyes, make me think of no other guy,
Your big strong arms, could do no harm.
I'm getting so hot, just thinking my thoughts, And now when I see you, I want to reach out and touch you
I'm tired of giving you clues, stop making me feel so blue,
With your hair so midnight black, please take me to your (censored).
You can't hide and you can't run, quality with me is always job 1.
Pussy Willow

To the black haired and beautiful eyed lady in B.A.S.:
I've dreamed of you since the beginning of school.
You're so darn beautiful, you make me drool.
Your black hair glows like the midnight sky
So guess what baby, I think I could die
If you are curious, write back to me in next week's Nugget and then we'll see.
The unknown
(Curious Cory)

To the Blonde Girl with glasses in Architecture 1A:
Although you're not in my section I see you when we have a common class. There's times I've come to talk to you when you're out smoking but, there's usually other guys around. I hope that in the future I will have an opportunity to talk to you and ask you out.
The first time we briefly talked was at Club Malibu. If you remember this then you will most likely remember who I am. If you do not remember I will be wearing a red shirt this Friday in our common class. If you don't talk to me I'll understand.
