COURTYARD CARNIVAL

SUCH CONCENTRATION ON THE DART THROW

On Thursday, September 6, 1990 NAITSA held its first Courtyard Carnival. This was one of many events put on by NAITSA during Orientation week '90. For those of you who did or were not able to partake in the festivities here is a run down: •Tuesday was the comedians in the NAITRIUM. •Wednesday was the free chili dinner to first year students, with music by Face the Music. •Thursday was the BIG day with the Courtyard Carnival. The carnival consisted of such games as ping pong, pistol shoot, milk bottle throw, dart throw, and milk can toss. Food and beverages were at rock bottom prices like you'd never seen before - hot dogs 25¢, pop 5¢, and popcorn 5¢. According to Activities Director, Archie Miller, they sold out of hot dogs (over 800). Some of the performers that were featured were - Natasha, the fortune tell (who had a line up all day long, she was that popular); John Charles the hilarious and entertaining magician; a juggler who was very talented (even our own Archie Miller tossed a few battons back and forth); and last but not least Face the Music who provided music for your listening pleasure all afternoon long.

Archie would like to thank the following sponsors for helping make the event such a success: The Brick, Wendy's, Bun Master, Burns Meats, The Nest, Boston Pizza, Maxwell Taylors, The Edmonton Eskimos - #43 Jed Roberts, #53 Mike Dumaresq, #24 Mike Hildebrand, #19 Dave Shelton, and #81 Todd Smith, The Original California Club, and Dana Mauer of 96-KLITE.

A special thanks to the NAITSA executive, Art Hooks (said it was "The Best Frosh Event Ever"), Linda Hood, Bob Short and his staff from the NEST, Michelle Haylow, Christine Turgeon, and everyone who showed up. Oh yah, and a special thanks to the weather man for providing the sunny and hot weather that made this event complete.

Head coach Mike Trent and his coaching staff of Richard Cunningham and Pat McFeely, will be beginning their second season with the NAIT Men's Volleyball Team.

The team will begin the year with great expectations, which is in direct contrast to last year's rookie laden team. Allstar middle John Mazur will be back along with power Wes Grenke, middle Glen Mundy, setters Garrett Wilkie and Terry Maik, as well as technique Dean Paquette. The return of All Canadian allstar Jamie Nashim will also strengthen this year's team.

The 1989-90 team finished 5th with a 8-10 win-loss. the playoffs are the place we're shooting for this season.

COUNCIL GIVES WELCOME AND BIDS GOODBYE'S

By Ray Garcia
News Editor

General Council held this school year's first meeting Tuesday, September 11. For those new to NAIT, the General Council is a body of representatives from each technology lead by the Naitsa Executive's through parliamentary style discussions on issues affecting the NAIT student body.

Naitsa President Roxanne Beaubien began by welcoming representatives from Westerra Campus in Stony Plain to the proceedings. Relan Crosby will be representing Westerra at the meetings which are held every second Tuesday here at NAIT.

Four student positions for the Academic Council were filled earlier on in the meeting. After brief speeches, from the five candidates, the council voted in Dwayne Nargang, Taras Kaznisty and Derek Oler, all studying at NAIT and Corinna Lee from Westerra for the positions. The issues these representatives will face this year are not yet defined. Whatever the issues are, the four new student members of the Academic Council will work with four instructors and four administration executives to help Naitsa better serve the student body.

It was also announced that Jeff Hilbrecht has resigned as Naitsa's Athletic's Director for academic reasons. This position has yet to be accepted starting, Thursday, September 14 until September 22. Anyone interested in filling Jeff's shoes may contact Naitsa Vice President Crystal Mechor.

The election will be held on October 5, 1990.

NUGGET UPDATE

By Brenda Manser
Editor

The second week of school (for us 16 weekers) is just about over. Only 14 more weeks until Christmas and final exams. Lovely thought, isn't it.

The NUGGET is now fully staffed, with the exception of a Typesetter. Yes, you read correctly we are in desperate need of a Typesetter. This position requires a minimum of 55 net words per minute (accurate) typing speed. It also involves putting in some time on Monday and Tuesday nights, for typing the articles using a Xerox computer with desktop publishing. Training on the computer is provided, so as long as you know how to type you are off and running. This is even a paid position - $120 per month. A great way to earn a little extra spending money and get to meet and work with a great group of people.

This brings me to my next bit of information. The NUGGET Staff for the 1990-91 year is: Brenda Manser, Editor; Jennifer Hawthorne, Assistant Editor; Maury Bautz, Sports Editor; Ray Garcia, News Editor; Stephen McGuire, Entertainment Editor; Cary Tarasoff, Production Manager, Sherry Lohner, Production Assistant; Taras Kaznisty, Distribution Manager.

Our objectives for this year are: (1) to provide the students of NAIT with the information that they want, (2) keep the students of NAIT informed of issues that affect them, (3) provide a clean yet informative student newspaper, and (4) to provide a paper that is consistent in format so that you "the students" know where to find the articles you want to read.

We look forward to a very busy and exciting year, serving you the students of NAIT via the NUGGET.

CRISIS AT OKA STILL UNSETTLED

By Jennifer Hawthorne, Assistant Editor

Weapons, ammunition, fear, anxiety, and rebellion, it all came to a head on July 11, 1990. I am speaking of the crisis in Oka. As Canadians, we are dealing with a very explosive and touchy situation in our country. This is possibly the most important event presently effecting our citizens. The way in which this crisis is eventually dealt with will undoubtedly weigh heavily upon us and also upon our children.

Does any nation have the right and privilege to promise land to a group of deserving citizens and then later proceed to take that land back? And does any group of people, minority or not, have the right to block the passage to arteries of traffic/roadways as a place to make a stand for their rights? These questions give us something to think about, and hopefully will lead to a solution to this crisis in our country.

On Saturday, September 8, 1990 during a confrontation between the Mohawk Warriors and the Army a warrior was shot. This crisis has led to blood shed, where will it stop? Do people have to risk their lives in order to take a stand for their rights?

Kim Campbell, The Minister of Justice, stated that it is necessary for the Mohawk Warriors to surrender before anything can be accomplished, but will their surrendering really solve anything?

One of the natives outside of the barricades summed up the situation perfectly when he stated, "Canada will never be the same again." How can it?

Assistant Coaches Key for Oaks

By Brian Stein

NAIT Hockey Oaks head coach Rick Carriere acknowledges that one of the assets going into his first season of running the team is his strong core of assistant coaches. For the 1990-91 campaign, the Oaks will have four assistant coaches all of whom have played with NAIT in previous years.

Randy Repchuk will be returning for his fourth year in a coaching role. As a former assistant captain with the Oaks, Randy played a key role in NAIT winning a national title in 1984-85 and is still in NAIT's top ten scoring list with 73 goals and 93 assists for 166 points in three seasons. Randy's primary concern will be working with the forwards and the centers.

Cleo Rowein will be back for his third season as goaltending coach. As a player, Cleo shut down the opposition in 1984-85 as the Oaks capped off an undefeated regular season with a national title. During his career, Cleo posted a 2.94 goals against average, won 78 per cent of the games he appeared in and was named All-Canadian three times.

J.C. McEwan will join the coaching ranks of the Oaks after being a member of the St. Albert Saints coaching staff during the 1989-90 season. As a player, J.C. played an instrumental part in NAIT's national championship seasons of 1985-86 and 1988-89. J.C.'s leadership will be one of the foundations the 1990-91 team will be built upon.

A member of 1988-89 and 1989-90 National Champion Oaks, Marty Volcan will round out the NAIT coaching staff. After four seasons of wearing the blue and gold, Marty will instill his inspiration and dedication into the players who represent NAIT.

NHL Mishandles Chemical Dependency

Editorial

Bob Prince Speaks Out

by Bob Prince
The Dean of Sports Columnists

The NHL's mishandling of substance abuse in the past is coming back to haunt them. When the Edmonton Journal reported the substance abuse of Grant Fuhr recently, the story did not go by the desk of John Ziegler unnoticed.

The likely scenario is one in which Fuhr meets with the gurus from Ziegler's office and subsequent punishment is handed out.

The NHL has taken the stand that substance abuse is not a significant problem. The substance abuse of Bob Probert, Don Murdoch, and Borje Salming is public knowledge and may very well be the tip of the iceberg.

The ultimatum that a lifetime ban will result from the use of certain substances has caused many players to live with their addiction rather than seek treatment. In all likelihood, if the NHL had stressed rehabilitation instead of banishment, the Grant Fuhr case could have been put to rest much earlier.

A strong supportive rehabilitation program supported by both the teams and the player's association is the only way to deal with dependency.

Luckily, Grant Fuhr's problem did not cost him his life, but it could have. When the NHL lost Pelle Lindbergh, steps should have been taken to see that substance abuse be dealt with fairly, honestly, and openly. How long will it be before another life is snuffed out due to the NHL motto of "Let's keep it in the closet."

RIDING HIGH

Things are upbeat around the Women's Basketball squad these days as head coach Gregg Meropoulis prepares for the upcoming season. "We've already had a couple of unofficial offcourt training sessions and I like the attitude of the newcomers and returning veterans." With only four girls back from last year's team coach Meropoulis has recruited hard in the offseason and if looking forward to having one of this best teams ever. "We should be much improved in the back court and overall our team speed will make us very competitive in the ACAC." NAIT's annual All-City High School Basketball games have produced four grads which should play important roles in this year's team; Jodie Defard (Jasper Place), Luan Tran (Eastglen), Meagan Gorman (Bev Facey), and Erica Price (Devon). While coach Meropoulis has tried to identify as many players as possible prior to the teams organizational meeting there are a number of quality players at NAIT who haven't been identified and they are urged to show up for team tryouts. The practice and game schedule is posted on the Basketball board just outside the gym. Tryouts continue until the end of September with the first game action scheduled for mid-October.

Hockey Oaks Exhibition Season Finalized

By Brian Stein

The NAIT Oaks under rookie head coach Rick Carriere will face some tough competition in the exhibition season as the team will concentrate on playing ACAC rivals and CIAU counterparts.

The Oaks opened up the preseason slate of games on Tuesday and Wednesday against a pair of AJHL opponents who have supplied NAIT with some outstanding talent in past years. The Oaks hosted the St. Albert Saints at the NAIT Arena on Tuesday and visited Fort Saskatchewan to meet the Traders on Wednesday.

From September 21st through the 23rd, the Oaks will play host to the NAIT Blue/Gold Invitational Tournament which will feature Red Deer College, Camrose Lutheran University College and the University of Alberta. All games will be at the NAIT Arena.

From September 28th through the 30th, the Oaks will compete in the U of A Invitational with the Bears, the U of

C Dinos, and the U of L Pronghorns at Clare Drake Arena.

On Friday, October 6th, the Oaks travel to Camrose to take on the Vikings.

The Oaks then close out the preseason in Red Deer at the ACAC Preseason Tournament which runs from October 12th through the 14th.

EDMONTON'S BASEBALL DOWNFALL

MAUR WITH SPORTS

By Maury Bautz Sports Editor

How can dedicated Edmonton Trapper baseball fans enjoy watching their team win a PCL Championship when they know they won't be around next season?

The Trappers, who compiled an astounding 47 - 25 win - loss record and a 12 1/2 game division win, are now in the finals fighting to capture a PCL title. The problem is that they are almost certain to leave Edmonton and find another home south of the border.

The reasons are many, but mainly it's because City Council is too cheap to build a better baseball facility than the aged John Ducey Park. Another alternative would be to upgrade Clarke Stadium which is due for a facelift. The city would rather spend taxpayers' money on building or upgrading government buildings. This doesn't sound like a city who prides themselves on being called the "City of Champions."

Even Calgary Cannons owner Russ Parker has been lobbying to keep the team in Edmonton. He views Edmonton as a great sports city and feels there is no need to move the team. He points out that attendance in this city is among the league's tops despite the facility.

A lot of people would blame Peter Pocklington, say it's all his fault, but this is not entirely true. Sure he could have looked harder to find local buyers but he is a businessman and he knew there would never be a new stadium built in Edmonton.

There is nobody to single out and blame entirely for the
