All You Need To Know About Graduation

Few graduating students need to be reminded that graduation is coming up - April 13 to be exact. The Class of '91 joins the ranks of the more than 46,500 men and women who have graduated from NAIT since it opened its doors in 1963.

Approximately 830 students (out of 3,000 eligible graduates) will be in attendance at the graduation ceremony. Because of this large number, and the fact that only 1,900 seats will be made available on a first-come-first-served basis, we ask that you bring only two guests to the ceremony. If guests are unable to obtain a seat, they may watch the proceedings on television monitors which will be set up in the lobbies of the Jubilee. Please remember to tell your guests that there is a $2 charge for parking.

The doors to the Jubilee will open at 12:45 p.m. with the ceremony beginning promptly at 1:30 p.m. Graduates are asked to line up according to the signs, by technology, between 1:00 and 1:20 p.m. The general outline of the proceedings is as follows:

- President's Address
- Guest Speaker's address (Honourable Don Mazankowski, Deputy Prime Minister)
- Distinguished Friend of the Institute Award - Dr. Brian Sproule
- Farewell address
- Presentations of the diplomas (you will receive your actual diploma in the mail but the President of NAIT will present you with a diploma holder as a gift from the Institute).

Once you have received your diploma holder, please return to your seat until all of the presentations have been made. The ceremony will last for about two hours, after which a reception will be held for all the graduates and their guests (between 3:30 and 4:30 p.m.). Before you leave the Jubilee, please make sure that you have returned your gown to the coat-check area.

If you have questions, please call Mark Dixon in Marketing and Public Affairs at 471-7519.

Newest Board Director Named

Ron Hodgson, Chairman of the NAIT Foundation Board of Directors, is pleased to announce the appointment of Gordon Gent to the Foundation Board.

Owner-Manager of Westgate Chevrolet Ltd., Mr. Gent has made significant contributions to the automotive industry as past-president of the Alberta General Motors Marketing Association and as a member of the President's Dealer Advisory Council based in Detroit, Michigan.

Edmonton and the surrounding community have benefitted from Mr. Gent's active community service, most notably through his role in the United Way Campaign as Chairman in 1986 and as Chairman of the Motor Dealers Gold Classic for Special Olympics in 1989.

There's only "1" paper left!!!

That's right, there is only one more edition of The Nugget.

Deadline for all submissions is Monday, April 8 at 4:30 p.m. Please place all submissions in the news service box outside of The Nugget office, E128.

CORRECTION NOTICE

On the front page of last week's paper we printed the election results for the different candidates.

For Board of Governors Candidate Kevin Stepanick the total number of no votes should have read 57.

For Academic Vice President Candidate Rob Binette the total number of votes yes should read 353 and the total number of no votes should read 359. This change is due to the elimination of a spoiled ballot during the recount.

Violence in Society

By Brenda Manser
Editor

Twelve policemen hurt in a high school dance brawl. Politician admits to beating wife and remains on city council. A Los Angeles police chief remains on the force after two officers are charged with beating a black motorist.

Why do all these "crimes" take place? Is it the changing values of society? Or is it a result of the violence on television?

Can watching cartoons that contain violence at a young age influence the psychological make-up of a teenager to commit criminal activities?

Have the police forces of the nation (US, Canada, etc.) become frustrated with ensuring law and order when it seems that criminals have more rights than the innocent? Has this frustration lead the police to use methods outside the law to maintain peace? With the ensuing increase in violence, it kind of makes you wonder what is the key to decreasing it.

Lunatics on the Loose

By Jennifer Hawthorne
Assistant Editor

I decided to go home to B.C. for the Easter long weekend. I was prepared for a calm, peaceful and basically stress-free drive. Think again.

There should be a law stating that upon passing the test validating your license to drive you should have to commit one simple phrase to memory. "Keep to the right except to pass." What is the problem with these lunatics (and yes they are lunatics) who travel at an unbearably slow pace in the fast lane? Is it just too hard for them to keep in the right lane? Or maybe they don't understand which is the right lane and which is the left lane.

There is nothing like being stuck behind some idiot who is going slow in the fast lane (especially, when you feel the need for speed).

I offer no solution to this problem only alternate modes of transportation. I think I'll be taking a plane on the next long weekend.

CORRECTION NOTICE

In Dave's editorial on the Board of Governors in the March 28 edition of The Nugget, he incorrectly stated that the marketing project was awarded to a company owned by David King. It should have said the marketing project was awarded to 3 companies, one of which was owned by David King.

Also, the Board's travel business was not handled by the AMA but rather by Holiday travel, which was owned by Bill Graham.

Student Speak

Spring seems to make drivers more aggressive. What in particular annoys you about Edmonton Drivers?

Note: Due to a problem with the film there are no photos this week. Our appologies to the students who participated and to our readers.

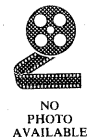

Aubrey Breitzkreitz - Pre-Bus - They have no respect for other individuals on the road, which would include pedestrians, cyclists, or other drivers.

Heath Schneider - Forestry - They don't signal when they change lanes.

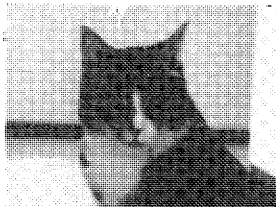

Alan Wardale - Forestry - Driving through the puddles by the sidewalks and spraying me.

Shay Adams - RTA - Not signalling. It drives me crazy.

Chere Lachance - RTA - Having no respect for pedestrians. It seems like when they get in their cars they forget what it's like to be a pedestrian.

Nixer - Their very existence annoys me.

Newspaper Editor: A Demanding Job

By Dave Murray
News Editor

With only 1 paper left in the year, not including this issue, the Nugget is looking for a new Editor next year.

Not only do you have to meet weekly deadlines and ensure high quality of content that is expected from the readers, you are responsible for the operation of the newspaper within a budget and must ensure that the staff works well to produce a high quality paper.

Brenda, the current Editor, has many good memories of high points. But the highest point was when she interviewed Jo-Anne Polak, G.M. of the Ottawa Roughriders, during the NAIT

Business Conference.

Although the job has many benefits, the job is more demanding than many may think. Regardless of outside commitments--your schooling comes first and then the paper. Everything else is last.

For advice, Brenda says two things, "Do not apply for this job for the money, apply for it because you enjoy working as part of a team in putting together a weekly student paper."

Also, "Although no experience is necessary for this position, it is recommended that individuals applying for this position have some basic knowledge (of any kind) of the running's and workings of a newspaper."

Yearbook Editor: A lot of Work But Fun

By Dave Murray
News Editor

The Northern Torch will be needing a new Editor next year. Do you have what it takes to be the Editor? The editor of the yearbook needs to be able to meet deadlines, and be able to interact with people. "The most important skill is to be able to laugh at everything. Be able to roll with the punches," says Victoria Blezard, this year's Editor.

Victoria Blezard has many memories as Editor of the yearbook. Everything from Awards Night to Open House. Also, you get to meet a lot of people. People such as Dr. Souch, the senior members of administration, and the students. Also, you build outside contacts.

With every job there is a downside. Sometimes the problems may be with layout or the pictures or other things. As said before, you have to roll with it.

Victoria's advice to anyone interested is, "Get started early on photos--layout can be done later."

Remember, something like this looks good on a resume.

Year End Locker Procedures

Lockers MUST be cleaned out by the expiry date on your ID card.

Non-returning and graduating students: the lock and towel are yours to keep.

Returning students: take the lock and towel with you. Return them in the fall to E-32 or S7 and your fee will be reduced.

A Record-setting Third Foundation Cruise

NAIT Foundation Notes

Four hundred passengers, a gourmet dinner and entertainment with a German flavour, dancing, the conviviality of happy travellers, silent and live auctions featuring more than 260 items...it was the Foundation's third sailing of the SS Benefit NAIT. This year's "Cruise on the Rhine," on February 23rd, saw the most successful auction to date, with a panoply of goods and services going under the hammer to the tune of over $90,000—a 25% increase over last year's take. With the addition of the dinner tab and several donations, the total receipts tallied $155,000!

Such a success is a tribute to the many generous friends that NAIT has within the community and to the hundreds of volunteers from both outside and inside the Institute.

Funds raised by the Cruise are dedicated to NAIT's major Campus Development Plan, which includes:

- Relocation of Health and Medical Science Technologies to a new 15,700m<sup>2</sup> complex containing state-of-the-art labs and classrooms, an auditorium, lecture theatres, and student amenity areas; and
- Renovation of space vacated by those programs to provide for expansion of other programs on main campus.

Student Loans

Application forms for student loans for 1991-92 will be available in the Counselling Office after May 1st. If you received a student loan in the current academic year and will be continuing into the second year of your program, the Students Finance Board will be sending you a 1991-92 application form.

With respect to your summer earnings, you are expected to have a minimum amount of savings of $1,250 - more if your earnings were very good. To calculate the amount of savings you should have, below is a simple way of calculating:

Example:

Single Student Living
Away From Home:

Monthly SFB Living
Expenses:

$615 x 4 months of employment + 110
(expenses related to e m p l o y m e n t )
= $2,900.

You deduct the amount of $2,900 from your gross earnings and the remainder is the amount you should be saving. The Students' Finance Board uses gross earning as opposed to net earning because it is aware that students will receive a refund when filing their income tax returns.

When completing your application for a student loan, you must estimate what your savings will be. If you are unable to provide an estimate, the Students' Finance Board will automatically reduce your budget by the amount equal to the minimum savings, i.e. $1,250. If your savings were less than your estimate, you can submit an appeal to the Students' Finance Board. If your savings were greater than your estimate, you must notify the Students' Finance Board.

Students' Finance Board Monthly Budget for the 1991-92 Academic Year should be available in May, as well as the cost of books and supplies. These two documents can be obtained at the Office of Student Awards and Financial Aid.

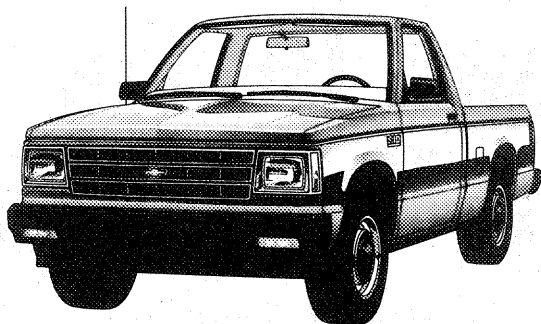

For more information
please contact:
Student Awards and Financial Aid
Counselling Centre

PMT Challenge

The Petroleum and Minerals Engineering Technology students at NAIT have a large fund raising event every year in conjunction with the Petroleum students from SAIT. The challenge is a relay race to Red Deer on April 5.

The race begins at 6:00 a.m. with PMT starting near Leduc and SAIT starting on their campus. The finish line is at the Drummond Brewery in Red Deer and it has been said that Drummond will donate some beverages to the teams. If a person wants to run in the race he must raise donations for the Heart and Stroke Foundation. After the race a cheque for the total amount raised through donations will be given to the Heart and Stroke Foundation.

Last Word from NAITSA Executive

Roxanne Beaubien

The most demanding job on the NAITSA executive is the President's job. Not only does the person have to know what the rest of the members of the executive are doing, they also sit on numerous committees and partake in the decisions affecting students. There has been a number of triumphant events and a number of low points. For Roxanne Beaubien, the highlights have been the success of events like Alcohol Awareness Week, Environment Action Week, Orientation Week, and Oaks kicking SAIT's butt. Roxanne can't understand why some events did well and others did poorly especially the events she thought would do well.

"Always listen to the students, work hard to keep communication open."

- Roxanne Beaubien, advice to the new executive.

Roxanne would like to thank NAIT staff for the support and assistance. She would like to remind the new executive that, "you are starting one of the best years of your life. Remember to work hard, but take some time to play". To the students she asked you to take off your blinders, get involved with your technology club and the student's association because it can make your year much more enjoyable.

Crystal Mechor
Being Academic Vice President takes a lot of work, just ask Crystal.

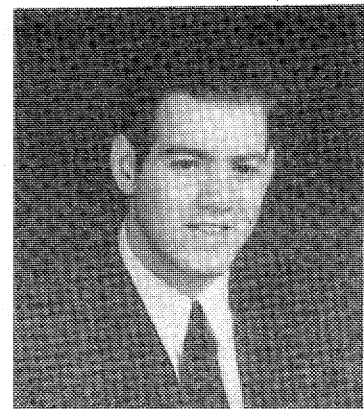

During the last term, she has worked hard to provide the students with a voice on Academic matters. Crystal has learned that being on the executive doesn't end when you leave office. Also, she has realized that your whole life is dedicated to NAITSA.

"I would like the new Academic Vice President to develop their position to deal with more student concerns, and provide more base for student clubs to form and continue through the years."

- Crystal Mechor

Last words - P.S. The heat control doesn't work, the office is always on a constant temperature "hot" and the windows don't open because NAIT administration is scared we'll jump.

Thanks to the old executive for a terrific year. Special thanks goes to Roxanne, Art Hooks, and Lynda Hood.

Moe Rahall

In becoming part of the student executive as Athletic Vice President, Moe has learned that with this position you meet a lot of people and make contacts all the time. You find that you are able to fulfill many goals and you get a certain amount of self satisfaction.

He encourages the new executive to be a cohesive group acting together, and not to become divided. Also, Moe says that the new executive has to respect others and their opinions and to leave personal goals out to obtain group goals.

He would like to thank the NAIT students for letting him become part of NAITSA and to become involved with the athletic program. Special thanks go to Irwin, Art, Myrna, Vicki, Lynda Hood and last but definitely not least Jody.

Kirk Spence

As a member of the Board of Governors, Kurt Spence was in a unique situation. He was elected by the student body, but doesn't actually represent the students. But, he brings to the board a voice of a student.

In his term, which was marked by the problems with the board's tendering practices, he has gained valuable insight in how a board operates. "After a turbulent first half for the board, Kurt believes that Jim Shaw will help the Board of Governors gain the trust of the institute back."

"The new student members of the board are going to be responsible for doing homework. Find out the figures and facts," advises Kirk Spence.

He wishes the new Executive the very best in the new year.

Lisa Meilen

After a term as being Communications Vice President, Lisa's life has changed. It has taught her how to work well with a group of people with differences and how to appreciate these differences. It has also taught Lisa that the most important thing was self-discipline, which is not always easy to implement. As advice to the executive, she suggests that they do what their capable of doing. Also the new executive should enjoy the challenge and changes it will presented to you. "Thanks to everybody who had shared with me through the past year," says Lisa.

Carrie George

"One of the best things about being a student member of the Board of Governors is the people you meet,"

- Carrie George

Like Kirk Spence, Carrie has seen the board come under the scrutinization of the public. Also, she had to ride the goods and bads out. All in all, she believes that the term has been a great experience.

She advises the new student members to keep an open mind, communicate ideas and don't be intimidated.

Carrie would like to thank those who have supported and helped her.

Archie Miller

Being Activities Vice President has taught Archie how to relate to people. During his term, Archie has also learned how to coordinate activities that are wanted by the students. His motto in life:

"Don't let anybody tell you can't do the job-- because you can."

- Archie Miller

He passes this advice to the new executive. His last words-- "To all the people who say I couldn't do it, HA!"

BAS Election Candidates

Dan LaChambre
President, BAS

I know, I know, everyone's upset because the Easter bunny is gone and we've all had our fill of chocolate but the fun doesn't have to stop. Actually, let's back track a bit. A couple of months ago I was approached to run for both Activities VP of NAITSA and President of BAS. After a long and serious debating process, I chose the NAITSA route. Unfortunately, I did not win.

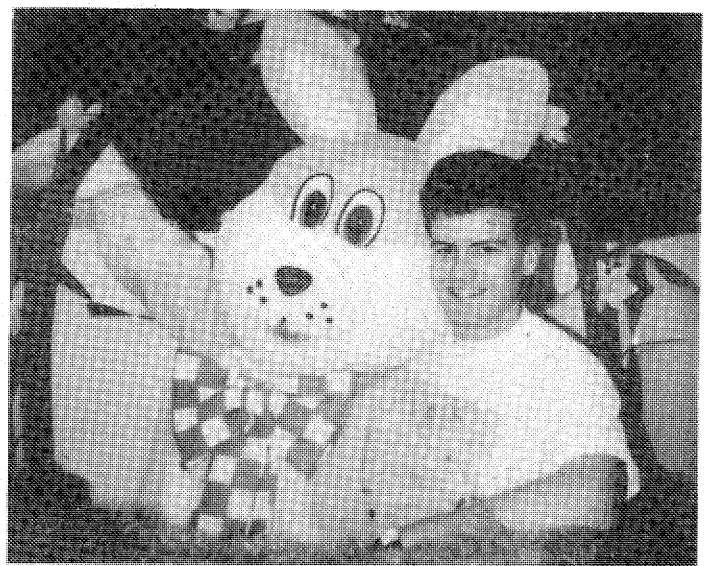

I was then approached a second time to run for president and since the experience and skills needed are again up my alley, I still have a chance to represent you, the business student. The position doesn't stop here, however. The areas most noticed by the students are cabarets and grad. Well, in fear of repeating myself, I've organized plenty of both, successfully. Do I have any other interests for BAS? YES!

1. Based on a student survey, low volume music in the tower lounge directly from NAIT's own radio station.
2. A huge kick off cabaret the first week of each term to help promote ALL cabarets. These will include door prizes donated from local sponsors and many extras. Most of this is already temporarily arranged in the event

CALLING ALL BUSINESS STUDENTS! It's time for the Business Administration Society (BAS) elections. Be sure to attend class on Friday, April 5th so you can cast your vote. My name is Brad Balkan and I'm running for the position of first Vice President, and on that day, I'm asking for your support. As you've probably noticed, the Easter bunny has given me her support, and it is for good reasons. I believe in having fun, yet at the same time I have a strong desire to do the best job possible.

What exactly is the job I want? The First Vice President's job consists of support and representation. Support and feedback to the president on all issues concerning us, the business students. The First Vice President is also a liaison to the executive council (NAITSA) and is a representative of business students to general council. I will

Brad Balkan
1st Vice President,
BAS

effectively voice all your concerns to general council, and will entice action where action is needed. Moreover, the First Vice President is a representative to the community at large, and as such will provide a strong and effective voice for us to prospective employers and contacts. To this end, I want to help put a more effective after-grad job placement program into effect.

Last, but certainly not least, the First Vice President helps organize cabarets and many other fun activities. I guarantee, if elected, you WILL have an exciting year as a NAIT business student. Remember - FOR A NEW TWIST, VOTE BRAD BALKAN FOR FIRST VICE PRESIDENT OF BAS.

I win. The sky's the limit.

3. Having past experience on a grad committee, a more eventful and memorable grad than ever before. I don't know about you, but I'm gonna graduate in style and fun. Don't you want to as well?

4. Any ideas or concerns you might have I want to hear them. Let's cooperate!

Speaking about graduation, mine is normally scheduled for Dec. '91 but I plan on staying until April '92 and cutting my course load in half giving me twice as much time to organize better events. YOUR events.

Thank you and remember, FOR A NEW TWIST, please vote on Friday, April 5, 1991.

NAIT Athletes Recognized

By Moe Rahall
Athletics VP
1990-91 NAITSA

Well, this year is almost over, with only ball hockey, floor hockey and tennis remaining on the schedule and this Friday, April 5, NAIT will honour the best athletes of the 1990-91 schedule. This includes the intercollegiate athlete, intramural male and female athletes, the overall standing winners and all other contributors.

I would like to take this opportunity to congratulate all finalists in the male and female categories and thank all the participants, meaning you, for making the athletic program strive for excellence. This couldn't be more evident with the mens overall standings. Three points separated Plastics and IHET, while 25 points separated LET and Bio Sciences. Well done!

We again proved that NAIT is a dominant force in ACAC and CCAA. The NAIT hockey team proved to be untouchable once again by winning the ACAC crown only to be denied by cowards from the east. Dave Hoy rebounded the mens basketball team to another strong year and finished a strong fourth. The list is endless. Badminton, swimming, curling, soccer teams all had winning years. Congratulations to all players and coaches.

Awards night is probably the most enjoyable event that takes place at NAIT and everyone is invited. If you are interested in becoming involved, tickets can be picked up at Student Services, E134. See you there!

Stanley Cup Fever

Maur with Sports

by Maury Bautz
Sports Editor

Stanley Cup fever is upon us. This is the time of year where hockey fans are verbal, and everybody knows something that everyone else doesn't. But, please, leave it up to the sports columnists like us to set you fans straight.

The Campbell, ah, an interesting conference this year. The top four teams in the league skate in this conference. Meaning, throw five or six teams up in the air and you might catch the winner. Right ... er ... no .... Well, here's the story.

The Smythe Division is probably the hardest to pick. You've got to like the LA Kings though. Gretzky wants the cup and he's got some back ups. Calgary has class, but they must get past the Oil. The obvious team for a surprise (if you can call it that) is Edmonton. Watch for Vancouver to give LA some trouble though (remember 2 years ago). LA should take this division.

The "Snorris", not anymore. This division has the top two teams in the league. Chicago and St. Louis battle it out after first round sweeps. Chicago, with Mike Keenan and Ed Belfour, should take them through to meet LA. This series will be a battle. But four out of seven games in the loudest stadium in the league will be the difference. Take the Hawks.

Over to the Wales. The teams in this conference are up and down, meaning no single team, excluding maybe Boston, has been consistent. So it looks like the team that comes out of the Campbell will have a cake walk. But beware.

In the Patrick division, the New York Rangers started the season good, but realistically cannot challenge. Pittsburgh is the team. They proved themselves without Mario Lemieux and with the trade deadline acquisitions and magnificent Mario they will be tough. Look for them to easily take the division.

So who does this guy think he is picking all the first place teams to win? Well, here's the hitch. The Adams division. Boston is the obvious choice, but Buffalo has finally got it together, and at the right time. Buffalo to face the Penguins for Stanley Cup contention rights.

My projection for The Stanley Cup finale will feature the Pittsburgh Penguins and the Chicago Black Hawks. Chicago, being one of the original six, has not drank champagne from the cup for decades. If they make it this far, they're not going to blow it. 1990-91 Stanley Cup Champions - the Chicago Blackhawks.

Badger Bob the Best

Bob Prince Speaks Out

by Bob Prince
The Dean of Sports Columnists

The former coach of the Calgary Flames is now turning the Pittsburgh Penguins from pretenders into contenders.

With the Stanley Cup playoffs getting underway, few members of the media are giving the Penguins the chance to go all the way.

When one looks at the Pens, one sees a club blessed with great offense and not-so-great defense. However, the man behind the bench with his notepad will make the difference come the post-season.

In 1986, when the Flames upset the Edmonton Oilers in seven games, Badger was the difference, not Steve "Wrong Net" Smith. Badger had devised a sound strategy to shut down the explosive Oilers.

A prolonged series against the Blues cost Badger a Stanley Cup ring in 1986. A few breaks may bring him one in 1991.

The Pens are not in the inner circle of teams to contend for the Cup, but they're the best of the longshots.

Steve's Albums of the Week

by Steve McGuire
Entertainment Editor

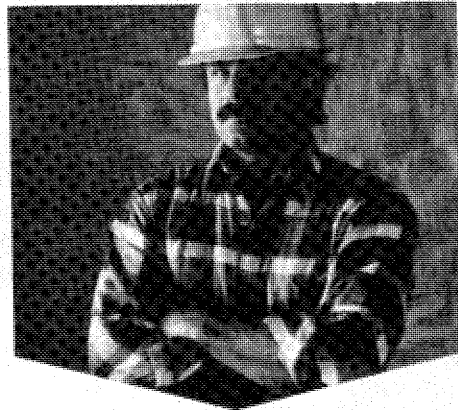

Rick Astley's "Free" has differing styles and the title of the album is quite a departure from Rick's previous works. Rick Astley has compiled some very astonishing musicians to play on his album. The thing I like the most about this album is the song writing has a "Motown" sound. The brass arrangements are musicians who have played for Luther in the past, but on "Free" the production by Gary Stevenson doesn't seem to be as heavy handed. The album contains eleven songs in which Rick has written eight. "Free" represents a large step away from Rick's past (from the Formula Pop Song). I can say Rick has matured as a song writer. The problem for the radio stations who used to play his old songs is there are no pop songs on this album, or what they would consider Top 40.

Graham Parker's new album "Struck by Lightning" contains many songs with social grumblings and retrospective tunes. The retrospective songs are rather depressing like Bob Dylan on Methladon, but Graham can carry a note. The songs with the social grumblings are the material which makes the album listenable, for one can sense that the band members get to play something other than Graham's depressing songs. They cut loose on a couple of numbers. There are fifteen songs on the album, five are worth listening to.

"Career Opportunities"

5 out of 8 Bucks
Last weekend I went to the opening of "Career Opportunities" starring two relatively unknown performers, but both have that familiar look. The movie was a fresh look at an old teenage fantasy; to be trapped all alone with a beautiful woman. (The old wanting the most - something you can never obtain syndrome). The movie has little social redeeming qualities but some very funny moments. It may be your cup of tea if you need a laugh, but rent it, don't go and see it.

THE MOUSETRAP

By Agatha Christie

NEWS RELEASE:
THE CITADEL

"Don't get caught . . . without a ticket?" has become a familiar phrase when talking about THE MOUSETRAP according to Director General, Robin Phillips. After announcing in February that THE MOUSETRAP had been extended for an extra week due to the high demand for tickets, advance casual tickets are still selling fast. THE MOUSETRAP will play on the Shctor Mainstage from March 24th to April 27, 1991.

Playwright, Agatha Christie is celebrated world wide as the Queen of Crime, Mistress of Mystery, Duchess of Death. She spent 50 years writing about murder, hatred, jealousy and guilt with a cool skill that made her one of the best-selling novelists ever.

In 1947 when the BBC was preparing an 80th-birthday tribute to Queen Mary the Queen Mother, she suggested she would like to hear something by Agatha Christie. The royal wish led to a 30-minute radio play called THREE BLIND MICE. Expanded for the stage, it became a thriller called THE MOUSETRAP.

THE MOUSETRAP opened November 25th, 1952 and played at the Ambassadors for more than twenty-one years prior to moving to the St. Martin's Theatre on March 25, 1974. Still going strong in London after 38 years, Agatha Christie's most famous play, has been seen by more than 8.5 millions people in more than 41 different countries.

Marketing Students Learn Maturity

By Marv. Marketer
Marketing Major

There seems to be a rumor around the school that the Marketing students have it easy. It is coming from students who really do not know what the program is all about. These people simply do not know the facts.

Sure the Marketing students do not have many classes at this time of year, but have you ever considered the reasons why.

It's called "self generated study". The Marketer is given deadlines and huge projects at early dates in the year. But nothing really happens until the deadline is near. Everyone knows that this is common human nature.

The Marketing student then has to learn to get along and work with fellow students. This sounds easier then it really is. Everyone has got different ideals, habits and time values. When your not working towards a pay cheque, this becomes extremely hard to coordinate and execute.

Take an exam for instance. Everyone has to be there or else fail. This is not the same for getting so called "group meetings" together. For one, if it so happens that everyone shows up for a meeting, all these "creative people" in one setting is cause for major uprisings. That may be why we are notorious for our library or study hall habits.

All things equal, the Marketing student does end up working as hard or harder than the average student, if they want to do a good job. So next time you see a Marketing student in the hall and they look tired and stressed out you will know why. Just say hi, but DO NOT mention the words "group project".

We have a FREE

KNOW WHEN TO PUT A LID ON IT.

"Here's to your good health!"

A fine sentiment. And drinking in moderation won't undermine that well-intentioned toast. But, if someone takes several alcoholic drinks a day or despite periods of not drinking goes on benders, they run the risk of real physical harm.

One of the real dangers of alcohol is that it sneaks up on you and the damage may be done by the time you become aware it's happening. The following health risks apply to all of us; they're not reserved for the down-at-heel, they can apply to you or your colleagues.

- Ulcers. Alcohol irritates the gastrointestinal tract. Taken with aspirin, the risks are even greater.
- Liver damage. Irreversible liver damage is a major cause of death, but other disorders, like hepatitis, may result.
- Neurological disorders. The effect of excess alcohol on the brain is to accelerate the natural loss of brain cells which can seriously deplete the body's surplus. Symptoms associated with the aging process develop—clouded thinking, memory failure, disorientation, stiffened limbs and poor co-ordination.
- Cancer. Abuse increases the risk of certain types of cancer, including mouth, larynx and esophagus.
- Malnutrition. If your lifestyle interferes with your getting proper nutrition, you're a candidate for this problem. Alcohol does have calories— you get heat and energy, but little nutrition.

If you drink in moderation, you may never face any of these. But it pays to have a healthy regard for the potential problems associated with that common social acquaintance—alcohol.

This is one of a series of alcohol and health-related messages. If you or your company would like a complete set, contact your local AADAC office.

GRAPEVINES

To all the brown leathered jacket and blue eyed men of NAIT who hang around the study hall:

Since a representative of you guys wrote to me last week asking for more information about the man I admire, here is some more descriptions to pin point him out:

- Your hair is the same color of your jacket.
- Your around 5'8" and nicely built.
- I think you're in business.
- you hang around the NAITRIUM a lot, plus you've been spotted in the tower lounge.
- I believe your name is Mark.
- I've seen you wear a mustard yellow shirt.

Hopefully, these descriptions narrowed down the man I admire.

Now, your representative also stated that I should describe myself. So, here it is:

- I'm in business, 1st year, and I also have a brown leather jacket.

Okay, that's enough about me. (I'm suppose to be an admirer.)

Signed, Brown-Leathered N' Brown Eyed Admirer.

To Anita in Electrical. A.K.A. The Little Redhead:

I am not your "admirer" but I think you are quite attractive. I first noticed you several months ago. I assumed correctly that you were seeing someone so I never hassled you. I interpreted the smile you once gave me as meaning you were friendly and had a propensity to smile, period. Where such matters are concerned, my ego is probably smaller than you are. I may be flattering myself by thinking you still give me any kind of reaction but lately the smile seems to have become an irate glare. Since the locations of our respective classes and my locker almost ensure that our paths will cross again, why not let me in on what I have done or what it is about me that seems to offend you.

Confused.

GC:

You've got great taste, I'll grant you that. Sorry though, you're chasing an unavailable pair of coveralls!

(PMS: Hey, you're welcome to come gaze into Jason's "Hypnotic Eyes" at our wedding May 16, 1991!)

Signed, Woman with a Braun Mixer.

To Kyla Peets (Pre-Bus):

Your company was Thursday memorable.

Our talk that night was pleasurable.

Your presence is what I missed.

That night when we kissed.

"What a wicked thing to do,

To make me dream of you!"

P.S. Stay real.

Signed, Heavenly Dreamer.

To Rus GS:

Remember the times having dinner in the NAIT cafeteria, waiting for you in the parking-lot walking in the waves of Washington's ocean--plane overhead. Now there is a lot of emptiness, resentment, thoughts...

Missing your smooth soft skin,

Your silky dark hair,

Your dark fiery eyes,

Your soft sensuous lips,

Your long deep kisses,

Your hugs, .....And all of us. P.T.A.U.

Your Gypsy L.

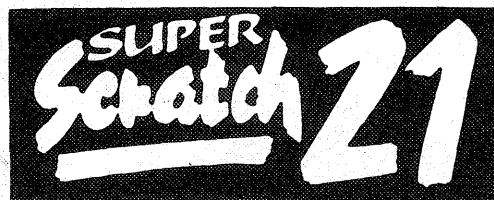

To the Admirer:

I am sorry to have to tell you this but this little redhead has confused herself with some other redhead. Your first description applied in every way to me, but your second description told me I was mistaken. I sincerely hope that the girl who you want to reply will, because she will be a really lucky little redhead if she does. I apologize for any "heartache" this may have caused.

The Mistaken Little Redhead.
