OOKS CAPTURE 10th ACAC TITLE

By Brian Stein
Staff Writer

The NAIT Ooks defeated the SAIT Trojans 5-2 at the SAIT Arena in Calgary on Friday night to win the best of five ACAC final series three games to none. For the Ooks, it was their tenth ACAC title and their second in a row.

In the first, the Ooks gained a 1-0 advantage as Jeff Wildeboer scored on the powerplay at 9:44.

In the second, Grant Chorney increased NAIT's lead to 2-0 at the 5:26 mark as he rang a shot off the post which then bounced off SAIT goaltender Ian MacLeod before crossing the red line. The Trojans pulled to within one as Dean Rutledge scored on a goalmouth scramble with 7:03 elapsed in the frame. Jeff Wildeboer then netted his second powerplay goal of the game from a bad angle at 9:44 to reinstate the lead.

In the third, Kevin Lovig poked in a rebound at 3:32 and Scott Melnyk added a powerplay goal at 10:09 to place the Ooks ahead 5-1. SAIT's Randy Keller closed out the scoring at 13:12 to make the final 5-2.

Following the triumph, NAIT coach Rick Carriere cited the difference in the series clincher.

"I think game three was a question of our team coming out with intensity right from the start showing SAIT we were going to be there."

-Coach Rick Carriere

Overall, the Ooks were content with the sweep. "It feels good!" stated second year veteran Corey Hastman.

ON THE BENCH

The Ooks previous ACAC Championship seasons were: 1967-68, 1970-71, 1971-72, 1975-76, 1983-84, 1984-85, 1985-86, 1986-87, and 1989-90. . . Two men who guided the Ooks to ACAC titles in the past, Dale Henwood and Perry Pearn, were in attendance at the deciding game.

Baby Making Business

By Brenda Manser

Paying people to have babies. It's not a new concept. The Quebec government has decided to use a rather inventive way to increase the population of Canada.

This is quite different from Japan, where people are encouraged through incentives of some sort not to have large families.

The other alternative to paying individuals to have children is to increase the number of immigrants being allowed into Canada. Are things really that bad population wise in Canada? What's wrong with the size of our population? The population is getting older which is forcing the government to re-evaluate its health care system. This is something that would eventually happen.

Trust the Quebec government to think up this one.

Another Yawner

By Jennifer Hawthorne
Assistant Editor

There is nothing like the power of a good yawn. What else in this world has the ability to be passed on, unconsciously, from one person to another in a matter of moments? Yawning seems to be one of those uncontrollable urges that upon sight renders you helpless. Quite often you're left with no other choice but to follow the suit of your fellow sleepy heads and reciprocate with a yawn of your own.

Have you ever wonder why this is so? Is the sight of someone opening their mouth in a sign of tiredness really that appealing that you feel compelled to do-as-they-do? What a concept!

Whatever the reason behind this contagious mouth opening reaction, you can rest assured that more often than not, once you yawn you'll pass it on!

Who Are You Voting For and Why?

By Dave Murray
News Editor

As you all know, NAITSA elections are on Friday. Each of the positions will be taken over by someone new. They will have different ideas and different ways of doing things. It will be new blood for NAIT's student body.

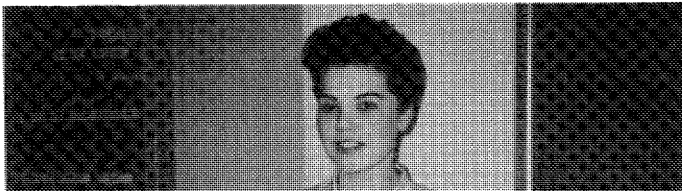

With all that in mind, consider one thing: is the person running for the position, whether it be Academic VP or Communication VP, qualified? Are they the type of person you want to represent the NAIT student body? Forget about the "pie in the sky" promises. The niceties and the perception they give you. Many can turn into the exact opposite.

When you vote, remember what each candidate has said. Listen for content...listen for sincerity and honesty. Also, look at how they handle themselves with you; the student body and the public--is that the perception you want to give to the community about NAIT? Keep in mind the past involvement of each candidate and their success. Don't be fooled by the mask they wear.

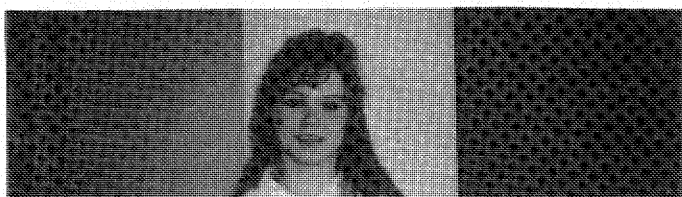

For those who will not be coming back next year, leave NAITSA in good hands. Leave proudly because you left NAIT in capable hands. Don't take the attitude that you don't care because you know deep down you do.

Student Speak

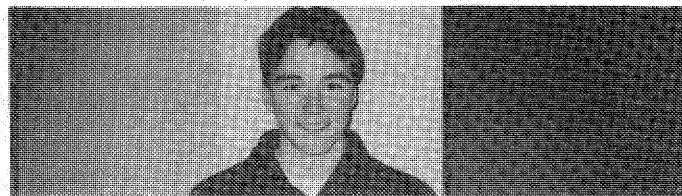

What's the most exotic food you've ever eaten?

Jackie Jessome - Pre-Tech - Frog Legs. They don't taste as bad as it sounds.

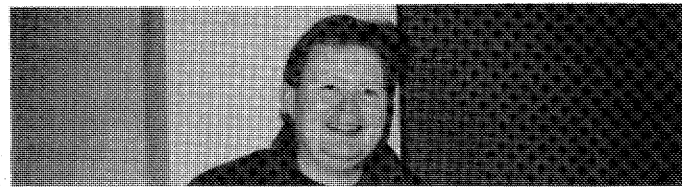

Taryn Coyes - Business - Sushi. You definitely have to acquire a taste for it.

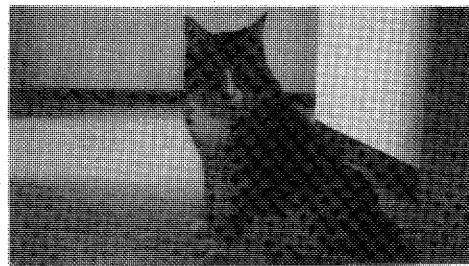

Robert Yager - Accounting - A monster burger from the Motoraunt.

Paul Fafard - Forestry - Octopus. It's very chewy.

Alan Boyle - Pre-Tech - Squid. It was rubbery and tasted like gummy bears.

Nixer - You'd probably consider most things I eat pretty exotic. One thing I really enjoy is catching a moth right out of the air on a hot summer night. You should try it.

Remember also, many candidates are running on a yes/no vote. This does not mean they are the best person. You have the right to vote no against any candidate you don't want as a member of the student government. If you don't know the person(s) who is running for a position, it doesn't mean you have to vote for that person. Do not worry if you don't make a choice for any candidate--you are simply abstaining.

Remember, get involved and vote! You are making a decision that will affect NAITSA next year. Remember, March 22, 1991 is the day you make your voice heard!

The 1991 Open House was a success. Thousands of people converged at NAIT. Many left with a good impression of NAIT. In travelling from display to display it was easy to see the hard work that went into making them look professional.

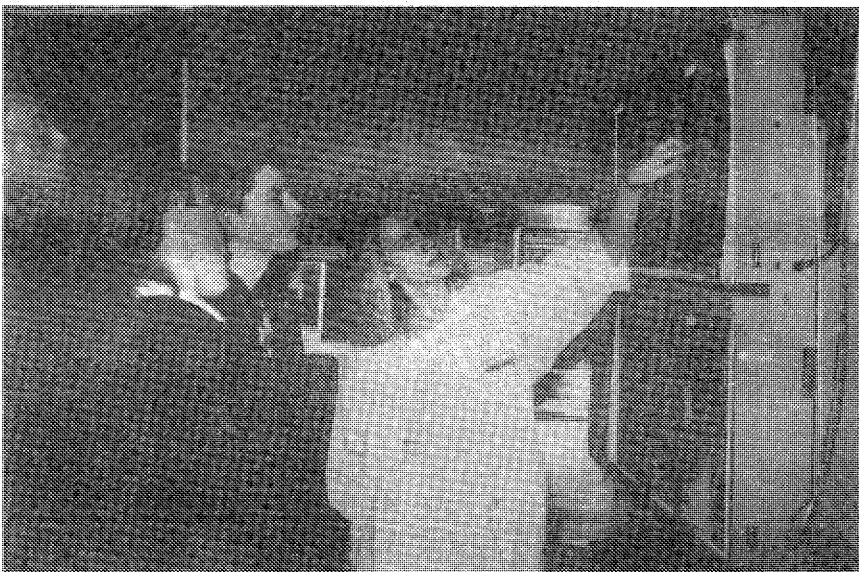

Congratulations goes to Dietary who won first place for the best mascot. And also, congratulations goes to Heavy Equipment who won second place in the mascot entry.

After the War--The Rebuilding Process

News Release--Red Cross

It was nicknamed the "Nintendo War". It was portrayed as a strategic, tactical war.

In the Persian Gulf War many of the victims weren't named. Many of the victims weren't counted and they weren't seen.

The war is over for the military but the battle has only begun for the people left to rebuild their homes and their country. It's difficult to imagine their sense of utter despair as their lives are drastically changed by a war over which they had little control.

To many Albertans and Northwest Territories residents the war became like a noisy game that they quickly tired of. What they couldn't see, hear, touch or smell seemed unreal. And the only window on the war they had--the media--was severely restricted.

In the post-war phase, the Red Cross needs to take up the challenge of changing the rules of the game--convincing people to believe what they cannot see.

The Red Cross needs to convince people that there are victims in this war--innocent civilians who are homeless and who need help starting over again.

The fate of these victims rests with the success of Red Cross fundraising campaigns. Without money to buy the goods and transport personnel to help rebuild the lives of these innocent civilians, their future looks bleak.

The citizens of Alberta and the Northwest Territories were generous, contributing a substantial amount of public donations for the Persian Gulf assistance across Canada.

The work of the Red cross does not stop because the war has ended. Every dollar raised is giving the victims, 90 percent of whom are civilians, another chance at life.

And isn't life the most precious gift one can give!

So, leave the flashy "Nintendo" game behind. Find the reality in the war. Help the victims of the war rebuild their lives.

NAIT Swim Team New ACAC Champions

Front row: Barry Saretsky, Paul Sinclair, Diane Hays, Tammy Caines, Staci Stenson, Jennifer O'Connor, Darren Wong. Missing: Carla From, Annemarie Hent, Kevin Golightly, Adrien Lemoine, Jill Rowley

With the swimming over, all that was left was to wait for the bean counters to tabulate the results of what proved to be an excellent ACAC championship meet hosted by Red Deer. The swimming had been tough with some close races going both for and against NAIT.

The team swam great with noteworthy performances by all.

"Every person on the team contributed to the resulting win, which says a lot for the strength and depth of the team."

- Coach Jeff Riddle

Both Barry Saretsky and Jennifer O'Conner anchored the effort with wins in each of their four individual events. Paul Sinclair, Gerald Wong, Chris Chetkiewicz, and Darren Wong also posted individual wins with Quintin Pomeroy, Trent Plester, Sandra Wilson, Staci Stenson, and Diane Hays rounding out the top three performances by the NAIT squad.

The results were announced, "Third Place, Keyano College, Second Red Deer College and the 1990/91 ACAC Championship team...NAIT!"

NAIT Ladies and Mixed Win ACAC Gold

Mixed Team
L to R: Karl Myziuk, Aaron Westgard, Dawn Arklie, Cory Wilson, Terri Uzelman, Jules Owchar.

Ladies

Mixed and SAIT's Men's teams, this is the end of the line. The CCAA championships slated for March 24-27 in Thunder Bay, Ontario, was cancelled.

This year's Ladies team was one of the strongest teams ever in ACAC competition. Brenda and her team of Terry Peterson, Cindy Westgard (1990 CCAA silver medalist) and Terri Uzelman, entered the Provincials as favorites due to their victory in the Winter Regionals in February.

As a result of finishing first in the regionals, the Ladies received a bye and then beat Medicine Hat 9-7 to reach the A final. It was no contest as NAIT crushed Olds 10-1 to win that important A berth. They continued their mastery in B, beating Medicine Hat 11-4 and then Olds in the final 8-4. Slightly overconfident and needing only two more wins in C to become the champions, the ladies were edged 5-4 by Medicine Hat.

For the Ladies the script was simple, beat Medicine Hat, who defeated Medicine Hat for the C berth, one of the next two games and the gold was theirs. Not wanting to go to a sudden death game, Brenda and mates curled superbly in beating Medicine hat 9-6.

For the ladies, it culminated a brilliant year in which they compiled a 13-2 record.

Congratulations Brenda (Business), Tracey (Photography) Cindy (Medical Transcription) and Terri (Dental Assisting) on winning the gold medal.

The Mixed were a team on a mission. Aaron Westgard and teammates Dawn Arklie, Cory Wilson and Terri Uzelman, got stronger every meet and were virtually unstoppable in the Provincials. They posted a perfect 7-0 record in capturing the gold medal.

In capturing A, they edged Olds 5-4, crushed Medicine Hat 10-0, and beat their old nemesis Grant MacEwan 6-5. In B, they edged Lethbridge 6-4 and Grant MacEwan again 5-3. In taking the surest route to the championship, they overpowered Olds 8-2 and Grant MacEwan again 8-6. They were in complete control in the C final. They took five in the fifth end to open up a 7-2 lead and although Grant MacEwan fought back, the outcome was never in doubt.

The mixed had a brilliant year. They were 3-2 in Regional I, 4-0 in Regional II and 7-0 in the Provincials. They played Grant MacEwan five times, winning four of them.

Aaron, Dawn, Cory and Terri are in Chemistry, Secretarial, Building Construction and Medical X-Ray technologies respectively.

Congratulations team on a fine season.

For the Men's teams, who finished first in the regionals with a perfect 8-0 record, the Provincials were a struggle. Tim Schneider and teammates Neil Odegard, Pat McCallum and Scott Fisk lost their first game in A to the powerful SAIT team 5-4 on the last rock. They rebounded in B crushing Medicine Hat 10-1 only to fall to SAIT again 7-4. They beat Medicine Hat easily 12-4 and then lost 7-5 to Camrose when the Vikings stole two in the 11th end. A victory would have assured them a silver medal. Now they faced Medicine Hat for the bronze and lost 6-3.

Tim is in Petroleum Engineering, Neil in Electrical, Pat in Marketing and Scott in Business. Great effort guys!

NAIT curlers finished the competition with a 14-5 record and two gold medals. Combined with the regionals they won 37 games and lost a total of 8. Congratulations to all three teams for an outstanding season.

Outstanding performances by the NAIT curling teams added two more gold medals to NAIT's already impressive collection.

Teams skipped by Brenda Coswan, last years Ladies CCAA silver medalist, and Aaron Westgard, dominated the college playoffs.

A total of 48 games were played in the three day triple knock-out format tournament hosted by Grant MacEwan at the Balmoral Curling Club March 1-3. SAIT captured the Men's title winning seven straight games. Unfortunately for NAIT's Ladies and

Bob Prince Speaks Out

by Bob Prince
The Dean of Sports Columnists

Players come and go but the SAIT Trojans Hockey Team still think of themselves as the ACAC's answer to the Broad Street Bullies.

A few years ago, the Trojans had acquired the services of Cam Lazoruk. In a game against the now defunct Medicine Hat Rattlers, Brian Varga of the Rattlers and Lazoruk had a fight on the ice. Lazoruk didn't like the outcome and then went into the Medicine Hat dressing room to settle the score.

This year in the ACAC semi finals, the Red Deer College Kings and the SAIT Trojans almost waged a pre game brawl.

Fortunately for the league, the talk did not escalate into a free for all.

This year in the ACAC finals, the Trojans almost outdid themselves. If anyone was watching the penalty box in the first period of game two, they would have seen Scott Blakeman ram the butt end of his stick into the facial area of the person who was letting him out of the box. Later in the game, Blakeman attempted to butt end NAIT's Lonnie Spink. In the third game, Blakeman continued his rampage by delivering a senseless cross check across the back of NAIT goaltender Rob McKinley and a vicious slash behind the knee of NAIT forward Kevin Lovig.

If the ACAC considers itself a league of substance, it will crack down and make players accountable for all actions. However, if the ACAC decides to let the issue slide and mask such activities, the Trojans will have the green light to bring in the Hanson brothers for the 1991-92 season and see the league be the setting for Slapshot sequels.

High School Basketball Invades NAIT

ALL CITY XII, MARCH, 1991

By Maury Bautz
Sports Editor

The top high school basketball players from the Edmonton area are at NAIT this week to show their stuff.

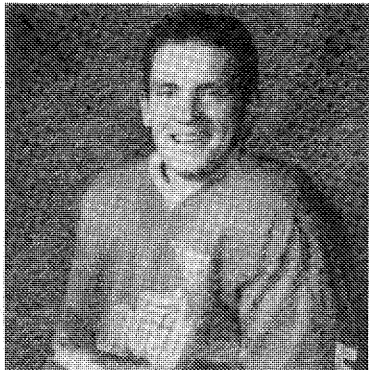

As a major recruiting ploy, NAIT Athletics organizes this event called the All-City Classic. In its 11 year history, the NAIT basketball program has benefited greatly from this tournament in that the best basketball players get the opportunity to see NAIT. The All-City Classic has attracted around 50 players who have subsequently studied and played basketball at NAIT.

The most valuable players from their respective high school basketball teams are invited here so some excellent basketball talent can be seen. The games were played Tuesday, March 19 and Wednesday March 20. Championships are on Thursday, March 21. All games are in the NAIT gymnasium.

Jeff Wildeboer

The Edmonton native played his junior hockey in Sherwood Park for the Crusaders of the AJHL. Three years ago Jeff came to NAIT and entered Business Administration. This year Jeff is taking Finance after completing his Marketing Diploma in December.

The past two years Jeff has been a major part of the NAIT hockey team, making the ACAC 2nd All-Star team two years in a row. His loud, boisterous chatter is always heard before a game in the dressing room. Even when he is on the ice Willy seems to be able to make his emotions known by communicating loudly to his teammates. This year Jeff has shown some great offensive rushes which have ended up in hard drives to the net and a goal.

With Nationals still on the line, Jeff's attitude on and off the ice will be needed in order for the team to keep focus while the waiting game is on.

IN THE CREESE

Grant Chorney scored his first playoff goal of the season in the second period against SAIT and Jeff Wildeboer added two of his own as the Oaks swept SAIT three games straight. The post game action saw first year coach Rick Carriere thoroughly doused in ice water and Assistant Coach Dwayne Bolekway lead the team in turnovers at the post game party.

the Oilers championship last season.

Two short years after joining the Los Angeles Kings, Gretzky finds himself with a team that is one of the top runners for this year's cup. No doubt Bruce McNall is the mastermind behind the team, but without the "Great One" the Kings wouldn't be anywhere.

Other players around the league like Mario Lemieux and Mark Messier can be said to have similar effects on a team, but still not comparable to Gretzky.

It can be said that Gretzky put Edmonton on the map. It can also be said that he has established the game of hockey in Los Angeles. All that is left is for the Kings to win the Stanley Cup. This could be the year.

It was only a matter of time before Wayne Gretzky took the Los Angeles Kings to the top. Now that he's done it, nobody should doubt what he can do for a team.

Gretzky, with the Oilers, took them to the top, meanwhile making great players out of average players. Even when he went to Los Angeles his mark was left. A championship attitude that must be considered a factor in

Odds & Ends

Substance Abuse Equals Psychiatric Illness

There are a number of drugs which are toxic, thereby producing a variety of mental illnesses. You've no doubt heard of these drugs--cannabis, LSD, heroin, morphine and cocaine.

You've also no doubt heard that these substances can't hurt you, at least not if you use them "socially". But, where do you draw the line between social use and abuse? And how does one condone using just a little, as compared to using a lot?

Among those of Alberta Hospital's patients who have a substance abuse history, the substance of choice is cannabis, otherwise known as marijuana and hash. Cannabis possesses a toxic agent which affects the frontal lobes and frontal limbic parts of the brain. Symptoms of abuse include impulsive, irrational behavior, depression, paranoid anger and mood instability. The result: chronic psychiatric disability.

Abuse of LSD or "acid" results in chronic depression and anxiety which is quite difficult to treat.

Heroin and morphine abuse can make you quite indifferent to life and eventually cause withdrawal.

Cocaine, like amphetamines, can produce delusions, paranoid mood swings, rage and pathological excitement. Mix cocaine with alcohol or valium and you run the risk of convulsions. Cocaine abuse has also lead to cardiac arrest.

At this point you may be saying, "I don't take drugs. I just like my beer." Alcohol is the most abused "drug" on the market. A chronic alcoholic knows full well the terrors of coming down off a drinking binge: disorientation, shaking, and D.T.'s or visual hallucinations. Chronic alcoholics are also prime candidates for Korsakov dementia which involves the complete destruction of short term memory.

The bottom line is that alcohol abuse causes brain cell death. In later stages, the brain actually shrinks. This is the cause for concern given that Alberta has the dubious reputation of having the highest per capita consumption of alcohol in Canada.

A Head Start On Summer

By Lori Holmes
Staff Writer

Summer is definitely making its presence felt early. The annual Canadian Boat and Sportsman Show, presented by Outdoor Canada/The Sportsmen's Shows, went this past weekend at Northland's Agricom. And the event not only made people think of the warm summer months that are approaching, but it presented to them all of the innovative products that are available to use during the summer.

This year's show brought with it new products, new business ventures as well as exciting events. The Thai Stone Deodorant, which is new to the Edmonton market, was brought to the Agricom via Valbren Health Distribution Inc. from Regina. The stone sells for $21.95 plus GST.

As well new business ventures were presented. Art Bredo's RV Centre, which began in February of this year, boasted new products in camping tent trailers.

For spectators who wanted a few minutes to relax after walking and seeing all of the displays, they could sit and observe the National Sports Climbing Challenge where competitors climbed up a wall similar to that at the University of Alberta. As well there was the Living Trout Stream Demonstration and the Fly Casting Pool. For the children there was the live Cajun Crocs and Gators Show and the Natural Facts Theatre.

As always, the event proved to be a success, and if you missed the event, be sure to attend it next year.

"Guilty By Suspicion"
6 out of 8 bucks

This is a true story depicting a dark chapter in American history where innocent Americans' lives were ruined by anti-communist enforcers during the 1940's and 50's.

To receive the most publicity, these groups targeted Hollywood "Big Names" who had even the slightest involvement in so called Anti - American activities. Focusing on the life of one Hollywood Director, David Merrill (Robert De Niro), the movie dramatizes the hardships he encounters. David was labeled a communist for attending an anti-nuclear rally twelve years previously. To clear his name he must "rat" on some of his friends including his closest friend Bunny Baxter (Goerge Wendt-Cheers).

A six buck rating is given to this picture due to the outstanding acting of Robert De Niro. This one is not for the action seekers. Save a five spot and wait for the video.

"The Tragically Hip" ROAD APPLES

The follow-up album to their very well received debut album has gone platinum in just over two months. While listening to "Road Apples", one can sense a driving force within the band to stay true to what they hold as significant in today's troubled world. Many bands feel the pressure from the producers. They always want hits, but the "Tragically Hip" must have a great deal of freedom in their writing. There is no real standout pop hit on the album and the producers can see by the sales that it has been well received by the public. The music industry has not engulfed the band yet, but if the record company tries to control this band, I am afraid it will disband like so many good bands in recent memory.

"If Looks Could Kill"
6 out of 8 bucks

Last week, at the 630 CHED screening of "If Looks Could Kill", starring Richard Grieco, I was entertained and that was about it. The movie was a light spoof of the secret agent movie. Richard Grieco plays a high school student who didn't pass French. The only way into college is to go to France with the French Club as summer school. In France, he is mistaken for an American operative who will be investigating the murders of the treasury ministers from the European countries. From looking at the ads for this movie and the commercials, people may get the wrong impression of this movie. One must consider that this is a light comedy spoof of world spies. But, the movie also plays off the "Bond Series" most of the time. This movie plays with you, not down you. For a first movie, many actors have done worse than Richard Grieco. If you want to see the movie, wait for the video release.

GRADUATION

Planning has begun for the April 13 Graduation and the planning committee is looking for input from students on the following:

- Guest Speaker - suggestions are welcome. All suggestions will be considered by the committee and should be submitted to Roxanne Beaubien in the NAITSA Office.
- Distinguished Friend of the Institute - Forms are now available for nominations for this award and can be obtained by contacting Mark Dixon at 471-7519.

Information brochures will be distributed to students eligible to graduate within the next couple of weeks. Students should note the March 1 deadline for booking gowns through the Student Store.

You've got a future. Don't take your student loan for granted.

PAY BACK YOUR STUDENT LOAN

Your student loan isn't a grant or a gift from the Government. It is a debt you owe to a bank. You are legally obligated to repay that money when you stop going to school. It is also your responsibility to contact your bank when you start each school year, and if your address or enrolment status changes. If you default on your loan, it will affect your eligibility for other student loans and you'll establish a poor credit history which can affect your future. So if you're having problems, contact the people at your bank - they can help.

GIVE YOURSELF CREDIT. PAY BACK YOUR STUDENT LOAN. CONTACT YOUR BANK TODAY!

Grapevines

To my business man on the 2nd floor:

I see you everyday at the end of the hall, You are dark, handsome, and almost bald.

I see you ride up in the morning on your bike.

You're the kind of guy I could REALLY like.

So if you ever want to get together, don't look far,

Because I'm everywhere you are! Always, The business woman you'll never know.

To B & B Rugby Dudes:

You're right, I should have been more specific. Two weeks ago I overcame my shyness long enough to ask you to dance at the Business Cabaret. I also saw you at the Instrumentation Cabaret wearing pink shorts--cute! According to my sources, you're the Sports Director of your technology. I'm sure it's true. Next time we meet--should you have any suggestions--can we dance again?

Signed, Black Polka-dot Shirt Lover.

To My Admirer:

Thanks for your interest in this little redhead. I am presently seeing someone. If you are still interested though, why not introduce yourself. I would enjoy meeting you.

Signed, A flattered Little Redhead.

To Colleen in Pre-Tech:

Yo, CPB Let's Kick It!

All right, stop, collaborate and listen.

Today's your birthday and you're really missing.

Someone grabbin' hold of you tightly.

Blow out the candle and wish for blondie nightly.

Will we ever stop.

Yo--you hop so.

When Jason calls you can't say no.

To the extreme we overdid China Whites.

Hopefully leading to successful nights.

HAPPY, HAPPY BIRTHDAY!

HAPPY 21ST BELLA.

Friends always,

Brenda and Terry-Lynn.

To the guy who hangs out in the study hall:

You have the most gorgeous blue eyes. You wear a brown leather jacket. I see you only in rare occasions. I think you have a spare at 1:00 p.m. I want to see more of you!

Signed, Admireress.

To the blond guy that always wears the cap:

You have blond short hair and extraordinary blue eyes! You look like a nice guy. Write back.

Signed, C.

Roommates Nick & Nick:

When we saw you across a crowded room, we were held frozen. Watching you, the heat intensified, we both knew it had to be soon. The girating hips, those luscious lips, nothing seemed wrong. We could not believe how such beauty could possibly exist. Witnessing your escape in a flashy blue Dakota, headlights on, front end aligned, and oh what a view from behind. The moment will be right, the time will come, you'll wonder why we waited so long. See you sometime at the Greenhouse.

Signed, The Underground.

To the "special" Kathleen in RTA:

I didn't hear from you....what sadness my heart feels. To see your soft blond hair and your sensational smile is what I wish. But we must hurry for the year is almost gone and I fear so may you. So can you and I be friends?

To the man who drives the dark-dark grey Camaro:

Hi! You don't know me, but I sure want to know you! You park near the library, and sometimes I notice that you're not in school that much. Where are you? Where do you go? I always wonder what you name is. Do you have a girlfriend? (If not, I would love to have a "ride" in your car!) Write to the grapevine. I would LOVE to hear from you!

Signed, IROC Lover.

To Jason the twin:

You look x-tra hot in your coveralls. You have awesome eyes that hypnotize. Are you single? You're perfect. Write back.

Signed, G.C.

To Randy the hockey player:

You're pretty decent! Wooooooo! Are u single?

Signed your admirer.

To the gorgeous twin:

I know your name is either Barry or Jerry. I saw you last week Tuesday, on the 5th floor. You were going to your 1:15 class. You are an absolute beauty and I'd love to meet you, but I'm so shy I can't approach you. I'd like to meet you before school gets out. I know you know who I am because when I see you I can't keep my eyes off you. I try to say HI, but I don't know if you want me to. All I want is a chance to know you.

Breathless.

The Little Redhead:

I saw you at the Open House, Guiding people around,

Then I saw you leave on a bus downtown.

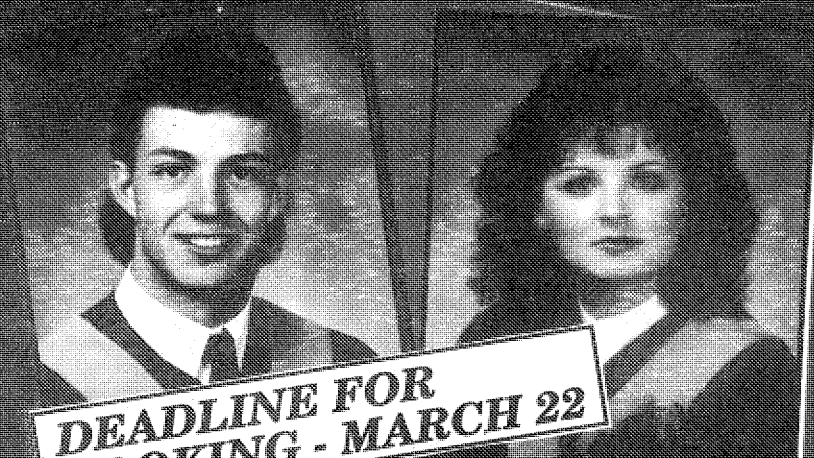

When you head for home, would you be so kind.

As to take this poor besotted soul.

Along with you some time?

Signed, your admirer.
