Academic Council

This group is required by the Technical Institutes Act and exists chiefly to advise the Board of Governors on academic matters. These include programs of instruction, academic awards, and standards and policy respecting the selection and admission of students. In practice, the Board may refer any matter it wishes to the Academic Council, and the Council may make any recommendation it chooses to the Board.

NAIT's Academic council consists of 21 members:

- the President - who is the chair
- three chief academic officers
- seven members of the academic staff (elected by their association)
- seven members of the student association (elected by their association)
- the registrar
- one member appointed by the board
- one member of the support staff.

Their terms of office may vary.

Meetings of Academic Council typically occur on the second Monday of each month, and, with the permission of the Chairman, any member of the Institute community may attend. Any such member who wishes to make a representation to Council must do so in writing to the Chairman at least five days before a meeting.

Members for 1991 Academic Council are:

- Cliff McLean
- Mark Harasym
- Harry Dorn

Please note, however, that two positions have yet to be filled. Please contact Academic Council Student Representative's office in E133J or at 471-8820.

If you would like to speak with any member of the Academic Council for any reason, you can leave a message in their mailbox located in Student Services Office (E134), or ask a N A I T S A Representative to contact them for you.

Designated Driver Program

In the launching of the S.U.D.S. Squad Campaign, Roxanne Beaubien, 1990-91 NAITSA President, presented sweatshirts to the Board of Governors Chairman, Jim Shaw; Dr. Souch, President of NAIT; and 1991-92 NAITSA President Chris Horne in April, 1991.

Responsible use of alcohol is an important topic on post-secondary campuses across Canada. Many universities and colleges are establishing programs to promote awareness, discussion, and education on the subject of alcohol use. Some post-secondary institutions such as the Northern Alberta Institute of Technology (NAIT) are striving to educate their students before unfortunate situations occur.

This is the objective of the S.U.D.S. Squad (S t u d e n t s U n d e r s t a n d i n g D r i n k i n g S e n s i b l y). In 1987, staff and students at NAIT established the NAIT Alcohol and Drug Awareness Committee. The committee has used a variety of campaigns to promote responsible alcohol use to the NAIT student body including speakers, displays, and entertainment activities.

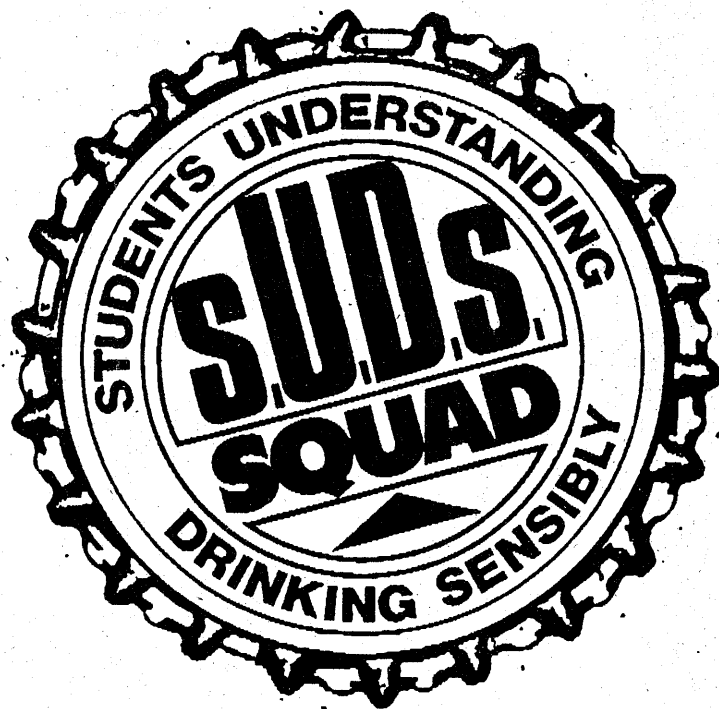

By 1990, NAIT had developed a series of successful programs to educate and raise awareness of responsible drinking, constantly striving to become more visible on campus. Last year, the Committee changed their name to the NAIT S.U.D.S. Squad and developed a new ongoing project called the S.U.D.S. Squad Designated Driver Program, sponsored by Molson Breweries.

The Designated Driver program will be used in the student lounge (The Nest) and at all NAIT Student Association (NAITSA) sponsored functions (Rock 'n Talks and Cabarets). All student clubs on campus will be strongly encouraged to use the program at their functions.

Each table or group will select a designated driver. Once the driver is selected, he/she will be given a S.U.D.S. Squad bracelet by the serving staff which entitles them to complimentary non-alcoholic beverages for the evening. The bracelet is designed so that it cannot be re-fastened if it is removed. This ensures that the bracelet is not taken off one person and placed on another individual who may have been drinking.

Posters will also be displayed in The Nest, at NAIT and student club events to show that the Designated Driver Program is available. The posters will be used to promote Alcohol Awareness Week and other S.U.D.S. Squad Activities. S.U.D.S. Squad Sweatshirts will be used as giveaways for promotion of the program.

The Designated Driver Program works in several ways. First, alcohol servers - 'bartenders' and 'wait' staff will wear buttons with the S.U.D.S. Squad Designated Driver logo to show patrons that the program is available. These buttons will also be used for promotional purposes during Alcohol Awareness Week and Registration.

Letters to the Editor

(Due to space restrictions some letters may be edit. Ed.)
Dear Editor:

Hello fellow NAIT students and welcome to a special learning experience. I came to NAIT a few years ago because I wanted a better job. I wanted a more rewarding life with a future. I wasn't sure how to get it but I knew that NAIT was the best choice for me.

I had poor marks in high school and had a below average standing in the classes that I stayed in. My attitude towards learning failed so then I dropped out of high school. I felt that I could find a full time job with a future, was I mistaken! I found employment in various warehouses lifting boxes, complete manual labour. A trained chimpanzee could do the same job as me. After 10 years of this I had to do something.

I was fortunate enough to come to NAIT for a few short years. I started off in Pre-Tech, then Power Engineering. I have worked full-time for Johnson Controls where I got my 3rd Class Ticket. Excellent company and fantastic people. At the present time, I am an Assistant Shift Engineer at a meat packing plant and am working on my 2nd Class Ticket. Thanks to NAIT I am enjoying a salary of approx. $40,000 per year.

Even though my marks at NAIT were usually not very high, some of the marks just barely got me through the course, persistence paid off! All I did was just hang in there.

It didn't bother me to spend a couple of extra hours to grasp a simple concept the rest of the class got in 10 minutes.

It didn't bother me to spend a couple of extra hours in the physics or chemistry department trying to understand a failed examination.

It doesn't bother me to concentrate, to shut-up and listen to the instructor.

It didn't bother me to get regular sleep, to use the physical education facilities and to eat regular meals.

My advice to new students, succeed in your technology and don't ever give up!

Learn some meditation skills and open up the mind. Discover a very powerful tool that you never knew existed.

NAIT was and still is a special place for me. I use the facilities and the library with my Alumnait Card.

For me, NAIT really is the most incredible time of my life.

Signed, Neil Armstrong (Always great to hear good things from an AlumNAIT!)

Dear Editor:

We here at Westerra have one of the most unique libraries that I have ever seen. There are no books, no magazines, not even a newspaper in our entire library. There is no explanation for this phenomenon, one is left only to assume that it was done for cost effectiveness.

My question would be this, where do we go for reference material? Are we expected to drive all the way in to main campus to look up a pin out for a 37 cent IC. Is that cost effective? What about time? With a round trip taking better than an hour we certainly are not going to be able to do it during class time, so naturally it is going to be expected to be done on our own time.

That is bordering on the insane since the reason this second year (Computer Engineering & Technology) was run out here was so that students who choose Westerra because of the location would not have to commute to NAIT.

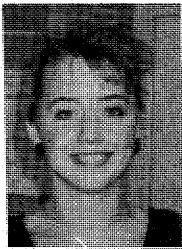

Actually the very idea of moving the library is ridiculous. Our library may have been small but it was adequate, moreover it was highly technical in nature and it had all of the reference material and resources necessary to our course. If you stop and think for a moment, Stony Plain is not Edmonton, where else out in a rural community do we go to get that kind of information, to the CO-OP, or perhaps the Safeway magazine rack?

I realize that there are budget restraints, and cutbacks have to be made, but there are some things that are integral to the learning process. I don't think that cutting students off from resource and reference material is the way to save money.

NAIT's New Fire Alarm System

The installation of NAIT's new, state-of-the-art fire alarm system has advanced over the summer, to the point where it is almost ready for service.

The new fire alarm has been installed on the main campus buildings only. The information and instructions below apply to those buildings only. Buildings not affected are: Westwood Campus, Patricia Trades Campus, the Trailers, Medical Technologies Annex, Westerra Campus and the Distribution Centre.

As of this last week of August, the detecting devices, pull stations, annunciation panels, control panels, speakers, horns, conduit and wiring were installed in all affected buildings, with the exception of the Activities Centre (S). Some installation work remains on less visible parts, such as ventilation and sprinkler systems. The Activities Centre is scheduled to be completed during September. The central command centres, including graphic displays and emergency voice communication facilities, will be installed and connected in later in the fall.

Currently, the system is being verified by the consulting engineers and the contractors as required by the Alberta Building code. Every detection device must be proven by simulation of the normal triggering action to send a signal via its zone control panel to all the alarm speakers and horns in the zone. The verification alarm sound is the peculiar, rhythmic, rasping noise many have heard. The sound is being suppressed as much as possible. By the last week of August, most of the building zones will be verified, with Engineering Technologies Annex (L), the Continuing Education Centre (K), the Mechanical Trades Annex (N), the Industrial Trades Building (V), in progress. Following later in September will be the verification of Mechanical Technologies Annex (B), the Services Building (C) and the Activities Centre (S).

The fire alarm zones are being turned over to NAIT and placed in interim service as they are being verified building by building. Watch for removal of the "Not In Service" signs from the pull stations; announcements should appear through "PROFS" and other NAIT publications. When they are in interim service, a fire alarm will be sounded as a loud whooping noise. When the alarm is sounded, the building should be evacuated per normal procedures. Further information will be made available concerning the audible alarm in its final form when the system is completed later in the fall.

Arrangements are being made to inform the Fire Wardens, in more detail, of the interim and permanent capabilities of the system.

NAIT Ooks 91/92 Season

The NAIT Men's Basketball team will gear up for the 91-92 season with their annual training camp starting Tuesday, September 3. With a strong nucleus of returning players and promising rookies the Ooks should once again compete for the ACAC Championship. The 1991-92 schedule looks to be a good one as the team will compete in three exhibition tournaments in Alberta, and during the Christmas break the Ooks will travel to Phoenix, Arizona to play against American colleges. With training camp set to begin, Ooks head coach Dave Hoy looks forward to a good season.

"Our schedule should help us get ready to compete successfully in the ACAC.... I believe with the players we have returning we will challenge for a playoff spot."

-Coach Dave Hoy

Hoy adds that there are several positions open for talented rookies. The Ooks will start on court on Monday, September 9, at 5:00 p.m. Players interested in trying out should contact Dave Hoy in office S-105 or phone 471-7621.

The coaching staff for the Ooks Men's and Women's Volleyball Team are looking forward to the upcoming season! This season will be a rebuilding one for both teams as they have few veteran players returning.

The Lady "OOKS" are hoping to improve on last year's 5th place finish in the ACAC league (Alberta Colleges Athletic Conference) consisting of 11 teams. The women's team will be anchored by veterans Dana Koska, an ACAC All-Star last season and Corry Bepoyasny. There is a strong base of talent entering NAIT this season and we hope to see all interested players at the Organizational Meeting September 5.

The Men's team is coming off an injury-riddled season which contributed significantly to a disappointing finish last season. However, Coach Trent is optimistic that this season will be much better and is encouraged by some of the new prospects entering NAIT this season. He is eager to see all interested parties come out to the Organizational Meeting September 5.

If you are interested in playing volleyball this season come on out to the Recruitment Night, Thursday, September 5, at 5:15 p.m. in H-5 (Little Theatre). Both volleyball teams will meet following Recruitment Night. If you have any questions or concerns contact Dianna Paton at 471-7613 or drop in to S-105. See you on the 5th.

September and The Blow Jays

by Bob Prince
The Dean of Sports Columnists

As the pennant race heads into the stretch drive, the fans can count on the major league team that plays out of the Skydome to fade.

The Toronto Blow Jays as they are known outside of Hogtown know how to choke. Some how, some way, the Jays find a way to falter and this year will be no different.

The confrontation on the mound a while back between Cito Gaston and David Wells was not spontaneous. Friction in the Jays dugout did not disappear with George Bell and Tony Fernandez. The tensions are still there and are evident to anyone who watches a game on TSN (Toronto Sports Network) or gets the game when its half over on CFRN (Can't Find Ratings Now).

The Jays play most of their remaining games against the toughest division in all of baseball -- the American League West, while the Detroit Tigers get to feast on the AL East.

A team reflects its manager. Cito is nervous and it's starting to show in his players. Sparky Anderson, skipper of the Tigers, is confident and relaxed, and the Tigers are playing in the same manner.

When it comes down to the crunch, the Tigers will roar while the Jays will lay an egg.

Not if you want increased enrollment and not if you have a reputation to maintain.

I think possible alternatives would have been a reduction in hours, or student staffing. If nothing else, why not bring back our periodicals and just have them in the library to read and not let them be signed out. Like a resource room that does not lend anything. How about it NAIT?

Of one thing I am certain, because of our limited size the books we did have were the books that mattered. So much so that I know NAIT would already have copies of them. So now the book that I need is sitting on a shelf 45 km away beside about 4 other copies of the same book. Sounds like an intelligent distribution of resources to me.

I think the thing about this that got me the most was the periodicals. As you probably know the computer field is constantly changing. The only thing that we can even hope to be current are the periodicals. In order to keep abreast of our field we read almost cover to cover any computer magazine we can get our hands on. Our technical reports are derived from them, we correspond with the columnist to clear up any problems related to our field.

Unfortunately now we do not have that option and since we can only keep them for a short time, it is unlikely we are going to go into main campus to sign out a magazine. How are we to maintain an edge in our field now...watch ITV news? Is this the kind of education a NAIT student can look forward to?

(After investigating this event, I found that Westerra still has access to library materials through your library. All you must do is put in the order to the staff member at your library and the material will be brought out to you in less than 24 hours and magazine articles in less than 1 hour. Contact 471-8819 for Resource line requests.

POLITICAL HACKER

A REGULAR WEEKLY COLUMN

Will Mr. Mulroney please stand up? Thank you. Now, Mr. Mulroney, will you please explain to the voters of this country where you came up with the word 'nincompoop' to describe us. You say you only used it to describe a few radicals. Fair enough, but where did you get the word? I see, you have adopted from the vocabulary of the general public. Now Mr. Mulroney, how educated can the general public be if words such as 'nincompoop' are in their everyday language. Not very, you say.

Well then, Mr. Mulroney how do you propose to go about educating this "not very" educated public. You don't? And why is that sir? Because you like the idea that only a few people know what's

"TUNED IN" CONTEST

NAITSA is pleased to present its first contest of the year. It's really easy (sort of) and it will help you get acquainted with your student handbook.

HOW IT WORKS

Throughout the NAITSA student handbook (you got one at registration) are quotes from songs. The following are riddles about the quotes. Each riddle contains a clue about the quote or the singer and a clue about the location of the quote in the book. All you have to do is find the quote and fill in the blanks after the riddle. Then fill in your name, ID number and phone number and drop the whole thing off in The Nugget Submission Box at E-128.

WHAT YOU CAN WIN

- A brass music note coat hook from Just Image Gifts in Kingsway.
- A NAIT Knapsack from the Student Store
- One of 3 Molson Canadian Sweatshirts
- One of 4 Molson Canadian Totebags
- Two pita pizzas from The NEST
- A pair of beer mugs from Marlin Travel
- Calendar from Hug-A-Bear Express
- Discount Card from sweet Street
- Six Rock 'n' Talk tickets from september 20th Rock 'n' Talk.

GRAND PRIZE

- A $40 Gift Certificate from Grand & Toy
- A Molson Canadian Sweatshirt

We will draw winners after each edition of the paper in September. Then we will draw a grand prize winner at the end of September from all entries received. So, you have lots of chances to win neat stuff.

Grab a pen and a couple of friends and see if you can solve these riddles.

This Dutch band who were named after a yellow earlobe decoration blamed it on the devil. Light up a cigarette (but "only in a designated area") and solve this one.

Oops! When putting the quotes in we goofed. One quote got in twice. This is a "Challenging" problem but if you "elect" to try it then think of "sports" and "democracy" (and read between the quotes too!)
