OOKFEST
TIX!

Are you ready to rock 'n' roll?

Ookfest serves up a feast of tasty talent to kick off school year

By STEVE TILLEY
Special to The Nugget

What could be better than starting the school year by getting naked? That's easy: starting the school year by getting Naked! As in Bif Naked. That way nobody has to see the extra 15 pounds you put on over the summer, surviving solely on ice cream sandwiches and beer at the lake.

On second thought, what would be even better is not starting the school year at all, moving to the Mayan Riviera and setting up a surf and snorkel shop on the beach, renting gear to tourists by day and sipping tequila in the warm ocean breezes by night. Which isn't an option for most students. Sadly.

For those too responsible to abandon post-secondary education altogether but too old to get excited about pencil cases, Spider-Man backpacks and fresh sheaves of loose-leaf paper, there's Ookfest. The NAIT Students' Association's eighth annual back-to-school bash isn't just an excuse to drink and meet people and listen to music. wait, that's exactly what it is.

So what's wrong with that? Better to have this kind of party now, at the start of the year, before you're stressed about exams and missed assignments and having blown your entire student loan in the first month. On pie. Mmmmm, pie.

Three of the most recognizable names in crowd-pleasing Canadian rock headline Ookfest 2005, running Sept. 10 at the NAIT soccer field: the aforementioned lovely and talented Ms. Bif Naked, Little Nickelback One and Little Nickelback Two. Just kidding, Theory of a Deadman and Default! We don't think of you as just being clones of Chad and the boys. Even if we sometimes think you all sound eerily alike.

Music will switch back and forth between two stages, with one band beginning just moments after the band on the opposite stage ends, which means less time staring at roadies' butt cracks and listening to "check check, check one, check, check, check two, ssssilbance, check three" etc. If hot roadie butt crack action is what you were planning to pay your $25 for ($29.50 for non-students), then you're going to be way disappointed.

For those too freakin' lazy to type www.ookfest.com into their web browser, the line-up is as follows: Everett (1:30 to 1:55 p.m.), Chyshuga (2 to 2:30 p.m.), Long Way Down (2:30 to 3 p.m.), Deep Fine Grind (3 to 3:30 p.m.), Drive By Punch (3:30 to 4 p.m.), Aaron Pritchett (4 to 4:45 p.m.), Social Code (4:45 to 5:30 p.m.), Vanilla Ice (5:30 to 6:15 p.m.), Grady (6:15 to 7 p.m.) Tupelo Honey (7 to 7:45 p.m.), Bif Naked (7:45 to 8:30 p.m.) Default (8:30 to 9:30 p.m.) and Theory of a Deadman (9:45 to 11 p.m.) Tickets are available at the NAIT Students' Association office, room E131.

While corporate sponsorship of academic-related events is an uneasy (or unholy) alliance at times, Molson isn't just plastering their branding on the stages, they're also coughing up a $2,500 tuition giveaway. You can fill out an entry form at the Molson tent on site, and the draw will be made just before Theory of a Deadman takes the stage.

Student ID is required to enter the tuition draw, naturally.

(And that's NAIT student ID, just so we're clear. Sorry, Southern Illinois University students.) And while it may be $2,500 towards your tuition, nobody's going to tell you that you can't spend your now freed-up savings/student loan/parental bequeathment on beer if you so desire. Or pie. Mmmmm, pie.

As cool as it is to see local Ookfest veterans like Social Code and Deep Fine Grind on the bill once again, the biggest curiosity of the day will easily be Robert Van Winkle, aka Vanilla Ice. Did you know he's deadly when he plays a dope melody? Anything less than the best is a felony. So he says anyway. Word to your mother.

While some NAIT students were probably still playing with Barbies when Vanilla Ice peaked on the charts, it looks like he never quite went away for good after that. He's reinvented himself a couple times, first as a dreadlocked wannabe gangsta, then as a bleached-blond wannabe nu-metalhead.

Because the world just doesn't have enough of either of those.

It's anybody's guess what his 2005 persona might be, but he'd better at least roll out Ice Ice Baby for the crowd. Because what could be better than starting the school year hearing a cheesy rap anthem from 1990? Besides getting naked, that is. With Bif if possible.

You could be a winner!

Who says there's no such thing as a free lunch?

This is even better than munching on lunch.

We're going to offer you a chance to win a pair of free tickets to the best on-campus bash in the nation - Ookfest.

Fill in your name and phone number and you'll be eligible to win a pair of tix on us for the Sept. 10 blowout.

Drop it off to the NAITSA office at Room E131.

We'll call you to tell you if you got lucky.

Deadline to enter is Aug. 24.

Don't take chances though. Buy your tickets anyway and if you win some, well, you can treat a buddy with the freebies and they'll owe you a favour big-time.

It registered with me

By DWAYNE WILLIAMS
NAITSA President

Ah yes, I remember the first day of registering for NAIT. It was my first year here, and I was your typical new person to the big school.

My bright idea for registration day was to wake up early and beat the lineup. Alas, as we all find out, everyone decides to wake up early to beat the lineup! What followed was the most boring and awkward waiting of my life.

I mean, waiting in line with hundreds of other people who don't know anyone else, is similar to riding on a packed bus. Everyone tries to avoid eye contact with those nearest to him or her, while subtly listening in on any loud conversations in the near vicinity.

Except this time, the typical conversations of high school kids trying to act cool, was replaced by the latest gossip of nearby girls about one of their old friends. Every now and then I would see people who had completed the registration process walk back past the line, blank looks on their faces. I kept thinking: what did I get myself into!

After what seemed like weeks, I finally made it past the doors to the giant opening of the Fresh Express cafeteria. The next few minutes would happen as a complete blur.

I was told to move in front of a camera, where a horribly contrasted picture would be permanently placed onto what would be my student ID card for the next two years. Then I was bombarded with books and reading material from all sides. I was under attack it seemed!

Next, I was asked and begged to volunteer and work for multiple sections and areas of NAITSA, which, it turned out, became really awesome experiences.

Then I bought some tickets to what would become the craziest party of my life!

Five minutes after entering the room of energy and excitement, I was free – let loose, and sent back into the real world. Now it was simply a waiting game for the countdown until the first day of my courses. All in all, it was an experience I'll never soon forget!

Strut your stuff for The Nugget

Write on!

Name a famous journalist or author and odds are they likely got their start at a student newspaper.

Everyone from gonzo journalist Hunter S. Thompson to master of the macabre, Stephen King had humble beginning before they found fame and fortune.

Here's your chance to follow in their footsteps.

We're looking for keen, talented writers for this school year's editions of your student paper, The Nugget.

We need people to write about politics that matters to students – everything from campus politics to pressing international issues.

Sports is a way of life for millions of students – and we need sports writers to cover the scene like a blanket – especially NAIT's renowned clubs.

There are few better areas in the nation for entertainment. If you love rock 'n' roll or great theatre, we need you to pen reviews and do feature stories on all the hottest acts and shows that come here.

Opinionated? Yep, you've come to the right place. We want opinion writers to tell it like it is too – on a wide array of topics. If you've got a way with words, you could be on the path to being the next Hunter S. Thompson.

No newspaper would be complete without great photography. You know how to capture a moment in time? Well, we've got time for you.

We're also looking for good cartoonists – whether you've got a flair for editorial cartoons or comic strips, show us your work.

The best part is, we'll pay cold, hard cash for your contributions.

Show us your stuff.

Drop off a resume at the NAIT Students Association office at the main campus along with samples of your work. Include a brief cover letter and tell us what kind of work you want to do for The Nugget.

Include some contact information. Send it to the attention of Jon Hoffman, VP Student Affairs, Room E131 or e-mail: jonh@nait.ca.

No phone calls please.

If you've got a solid background in writing and editing and a desire to help lead a team of fellow student writers you might also consider applying for the job of editor of the Nugget.

This is a challenging and rewarding position that pays a competitive monthly salary – something that will go a long way to covering your expenses while you're going to school at NAIT.

And just think how that title would look on your future resume!

Send your application to Jon's attention for that position too.

But whether you're looking to be an editor, writer, photog, cartoonist or opinion columnist, get your material to us pronto.

We've got regular weekly editions of The Nugget to produce beginning in September, so get on it quick!

A Summer of change – NAITSA Style!

By DWAYNE WILLIAMS
NAITSA President

Welcome to NAIT, or perhaps I should say welcome back to NAIT! I'm Dwayne Williams,
President of the NAIT Students' Association (NAITSA). We exist to make sure that you all have a great experience while in the halls of the NAIT campuses.

It was a busy summer gearing up for this 05/06 school year, and we attended many more conferences and planning meetings than ever before. It's all to ensure that you,
our fellow students, experience
the best year ever.

With the creation of the new student government – the Senate –
the format and staffing changes with the student newspaper, The Nugget, and activities and events like never before, this has been the wildest year to plan in NAIT history.

So everyone keep your ears and eyes open and always on the lookout for many surprises we have coming your way. Also, be sure to check out naitsa.ca for more information on what we are constantly doing.

Don't be a stranger. If you have any issues or ideas or if you want help or feedback, swing down to the NAITSA office (E-131 by the Business Tower) and talk to me or the other executives. We'll be sure to help you out.

Have a great year, and see you around school!

Do you have the write stuff?

By JON HOFFMAN
V.P. Student Affairs

Welcome to NAIT from you to me – Jon Hoffman, your Vice-president of Student Affairs. I hope you had an awesome summer. It is so good to have you here.

We've been working hard on your behalf all summer. As such,
to have students back makes it totally worth it.

I assume that if you are reading this paper you have made it through all the lines at registration and reluctantly figured out where to pay for your tuition.
Good work!

The biggest project that I had
this summer was making sure you have a great handbook full of useful information. Most of the answers to questions that you may have about the school are found in this book. If you haven't received a book yet, drop by the NAITSA office (E131).

My two main roles with the students association are to oversee our student newspaper, The Nugget and to deal with your academic concerns. There will be some great, new changes with our paper. This is a special abbreviated edition. Truth is we're now looking to drum up some eager talented writers from the thousands of students returning to school.

If you love to write, get involved and make a difference at this school. Also, we are looking for one special person to fill the role of editor of The Nugget. Contact me for more details.

Last year we implemented a new way of trying to hear what the students wanted. If you have a problem with something around campus, a compliment or a suggestion, fill out one of the Speak Out forms that are available on poster boards around campus.
Return the form to the box outside the NAITSA office and I will make sure the appropriate person is either congratulated or notified about the issue.

If you have any problems or you are looking for a way to get involved at the school, come and see me or e-mail: jonh@nait.ca.
Let's make this a great year!

She'll shine in job

By ELAINE DEVINE
V.P. Finance & Administration

Hello everyone. I am Elaine Devine NAITSA's Vice-president of Finance and Administration for the 2005-2006 school year.

As VP of Finance and Administration, I will be in charge of NAITSA finances, preparing next year's budget, setting up clubs and planning Shinerama.

This year, I am taking on the role of NAITSA's Shinerama Campaign Director. Shinerama is a fundraiser organized by post-secondary schools across Canada to fight Cystic Fibrosis.

On Sept. 24, 2005, we need students to come out to volunteer to wash cars, shine shoes – do whatever it takes it raise money. What's in it for you? You get a free breakfast, a free shirt and you get to meet a bunch of new people. After a day of fun comes a night of partying with all the new people you met – and of course there will be tons of prizes.

Did you buy a VIP card at registration? If not, you need to come to the NAITSA office (E131) to get
one. All proceeds from the card go towards our Shinerama Campaign.

What do you get with the VIP card? No line, no cover to almost every bar in Edmonton! The card is only $15 and it is good until April. If you use the card twice this year it has more then paid for itself.

If you are looking for some extra cash or you just want to help out,
I hire students to work at all of NAITSA's events such as cashiers for OOKFEST. It is a lot of fun and you get paid to be there. So stop by and fill out an application.

Check out The Nugget for my updates throughout the year. This will be a great year so don't be shy, drop by and make yourself a part of it.

There's spice in campus life

By CARRIE CREASER
V.P. Campus Life

Hey everyone and welcome to NAIT! My name is Carrie Creaser and I am your VP of Campus Life
with the NAIT Students' Association. I am excited to tell you about all the crazy things happening
around campus to make your NAIT experience the best of your life.

So I am sure you are wondering
– what am I going to do for you?
Well, it's my goal to ensure that every student gets the most out of their college experience. I will help all of you to plan your activities and fundraisers to make them successful.

Aside from your activities, we have plenty of events happening around campus to fill your free time. On Sept. 10, we have the biggest party of all, OOKFEST!
Come meet all your fellow NAIT
students at the largest on-campus concert in Canada!

After the biggest party in Canada comes the largest post-secondary fundraiser across the country, Shinerama. It's a fundraiser for the Canadian Cystic Fibrosis Foundation. Our goal this year is to raise $20,000, so come out and volunteer to raise money for a great cause while having the time of your life.

Make sure you check out the NAITSA website (www.naitsa.ca)
for a complete listing of the events that are happening right here on campus.

If you ever need a good meal and a great college bar atmosphere,
make sure you come to The Nest.
It's located next to the pool in the main Edmonton campus. The food is cheap and the menu is awesome!
Parties at The Nest are happening
all the time, so make sure you come check it out.

Every Monday it's Movie Night
at The Nest, while Wednesday it's Karaoke Night.

Keep in touch for all event info.
My door is always open, so come by to room E-131 and say hello or contact me by e-mail at carriec@nait.ca or phone 471-8883.

We're here to help you through the year

If you want to choose a program at NAIT, contemplate a career change, find a job, improve your marks, get assistance with a disability, or deal with personal concerns - read on. Here is some information about NAIT Counselling and Career Services for enrolled and prospective students. We are here to assist you!

Student Counselling Services

Who are we? A team of professional counsellors experienced in the areas of academic, career and personal counseling.

What do we do?

Counselling Services are available to all NAIT students to promote and encourage student success. All counselling is free and confidential. Our individualized counselling includes:
Academic Counselling: Assistance with study skills, exam preparation, exam writing techniques, time management and other skill-building techniques to enhance academic success.
Personal Counselling: Assistance with personal concerns that impact your success as a student and with enhancement of personal skills to help you succeed in an increasingly complex environment. Referrals to outside agencies for longer-term counseling. All individual counselling sessions are confidential and free of charge.

Career Counselling: Assistance with career exploration and planning.

Seminars/ Workshops: How to Study, Memory & Concentration, Time Management, Exam Writing, Exam Stress, Stress Management, and other seminars on request.

Peer Tutoring Registry: We maintain a roster of names of students who will tutor for a reasonable hourly fee. There is also a free Tutorial Centre in Room A133 - specialized tutors can help you with math, physics and chemistry.

On-line Information: Rate your study skills on-line at www.nait.ca/studyskills and tips for academic and personal success at www.nait.ab.ca/counselling.

How can you access our services? Appointments can be scheduled in person at Room 0117 in the South Lobby, or by phoning 471-8874. Office hours: 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday to Friday. Information on services, learning skills or personal concerns can be accessed on our website: www.nait.ca/counselling

Career Services

What do we do?

Educational Advising: Career Advisors provide comprehensive information on NAIT programs, application procedures, and upgrading needs. We are available on a drop in basis to answer your questions and guide you through the resources available on the Career Services web site to help you with your educational planning.

Employment Services: Career Services staff help students and grads connect with employers and search for work. Thousands of program related and summer jobs are posted each year on the Job Opportunities web page and you get convenient access provided only to NAIT students and grads. You can also register for our Job Alert Service and we'll e-mail you whenever there is a job opening related to your chosen program. Add your resume to our online database for free as another way to market yourself to employers. If you need help with your resume, interview skills or job search strategies book an appointment and we'll give you some helpful feedback.

Grant Funding: Career Advisors assist students in determining their eligibility for Alberta Works Income Support Grant funding and assist with the application process. Alberta Works Income Support Grant funding may include funding for full time and part time upgrading, as well as funding available in association with Employment Insurance benefits.

How can you access our services?

You could be an elected senator

By DWAYNE WILLIAMS
NAITSA President

Ever wonder how it would feel to be part of a council of students who help decide the future for over 60,000 NAIT students? The opportunity has now arrived for selected (and elected) individuals to do just that!

Introducing the brand new student government body known as The Senate! The Senate will consist of 18 elected student representatives from nine NAIT schools:

- School of Business
- School of Hospitality
- School of Building Science
- School of Academic Foundations and Bridging
- School of Applied Media & Information Technology
- School of Electronics Technology
- School of Health Sciences
- School of Manufacturing Technology
- School of Resources & Environment Management

These students will be taking part in deciding what the future holds for NAIT students.

Spawned by the original concept of General Council (the former NAIT student government body), the Senate will decide on what actions to take in order to meet the best interests of the students!

Senators will be required to meet twice a month for meetings in which current issues and problems around NAIT will be discussed. Food and refreshments will be provided as well as a monetary compensation for your time. And how cool would it look to have "Senator of the School of Business" on your resume! Exactly!

Interested? Well, with the Senate election happening in late September you better move fast! Swing on down to the NAITSA Office (E-131 by the Business Tower) and pick up a nomination form. Nominations close September 23, 2005, and the day of voting will be Sept. 28, 2005.

If you have any questions, swing on down and ask for me, or you can reach me via email (dwaynewi@nait.ca) or phone (471-7608). Good luck and here's to a great year!

On the prowl – and more howls for you

(Have a crush on someone? Wanna get a rant off your chest? Fire off your two cents here to the Nugget's best-read feature. Address it to: nuggetgrapevines@hotmail.com)

Did you know the the new V.P. Campus Life is now single and on the prowl?

What was Kevin Lowe thinking when he traded the sexiest man in town away, Eric Brewer.
- Carrie Creaser

Well the good news is I only had to give half an arm and leg to afford this year's tuition! Ugh!
- Jimbob

Who farted? Not me! Or was it me?
- Tim from CONSA

When did we elect a comedian in this city – that Mandel guy? He cracks me up.
- Janie

Okay first off, Vanilla Ice at OOKFEST? How did NAITSA go from Swollen Members and Finger 11 to him? Crap I say! But it's a wild party, so I'll still go. Bastards.
- Rex

Anyone know when the first beer gardens is? I wanna get crunked!
- CrunkMan

To the guy who I met at Sylvan Lake taking "business at NAIT." I'm late.
Please call me. - J

The Nugget better not suck again this year! Though it made great toilet paper last year! Ha! Ha! Watch those idiots not even print this. -Biff B.

Just wondering: Would Ralph Klein be more generous with student loans if he like, went back to drinking?
-Jay T.

It's a Nexopia party up here in the Computer Commons! Finally some people back at NAIT!
- Mr.Wizard

A student walks into a bar...ouch. Har! Har! -Jimbo

Yo, is that Ashley chick from the Annex still around? If you are, keep an eye out for me!
- Johnny Blue Eyes

Book prices at the book store are insane. Give us a damn break will ya!
- Jeter

First 20 people to the NAIT Pool get to see me do a double backflip from the diving board! Wooooooooooooo!
- Damon

Someone get sexy girls in the Annex dammit!
- Mr. C.

Another year, another expense. Sigh.
- Broke Student

Mmmm ... business girls are Le Hawt! Oui! Oui!
- Josh

Hey what happened to all the teachers? I think some even got tanned during the summer!? Don't tell me they might actually smile this year! Ha! Ha!
- Zippy

To My Boo, I love you...will you marry me?
- You Know Who

TOGA! TOGA!
TOGAAAAAAAAAAAA
- G.T.

Anyone feel like crashing Grant Mac's party? Bunch of lame Emo kids over there!
-H.G.

Welcome back to all the hot girls! Come party at the HP Building (and grab some Timmy's too)
- Steve in CST
