2008 Pow Wow Recap

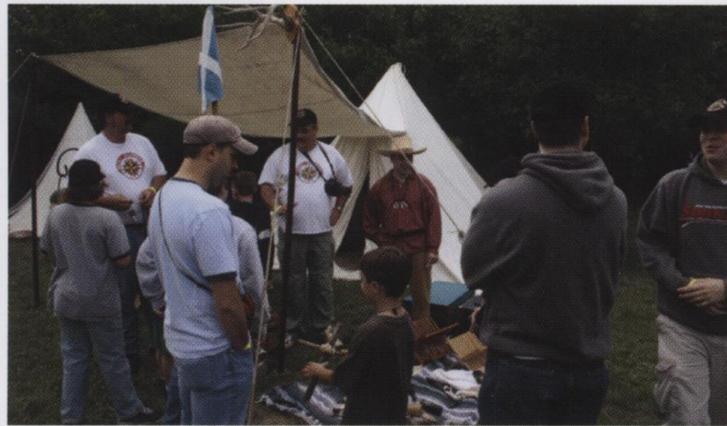

On the last weekend in April, 677 leaders and boys gathered at Lakeview for the annual Royal Rangers Pow Wow. Rev. Jeff Hunter and his wife Stephanie were the speakers for this camp. We had great weather, and a great response to the altar services. Friday night we had over 100 boys RUN to the altar to accept Christ as their personal Savior. Saturday was so full of activities the boys ran out of time to do everything. Saturday night's altar service was a challenge to walk closer to God, and many of the boys accepted that challenge as well.

Thanks pastors whose Royal Rangers were able to attend the entire Pow Wow. Sunday morning's devotion was on communion, and it will be a long time before the boys and leaders forget the message that was preached through drama and painting.

Yes, we got wet at camp, but that's typical for a Royal Rangers camp. And we even got cold with Pow Wow in April rather than June. But overall, the boys had a great time and the Gospel message yielded much fruit!

2008 Junior Leadership Training Academy

Every June Royal Rangers host a week-long series of camps for all boys ages 9 and older. In the past this was called the Sarge Training Academy. This year we are introducing a new name for the academy, new camps, and a new approach to the existing camps. Boys will still receive outstanding training in leadership and Royal Rangers camp craft, they will be mentored by some of the best leaders in Royal Rangers today, and they will benefit from the great evening services as the Holy Spirit falls and lives are changed.

This summer we will be offering seven different camps. There is a camp for every boy. More information about the Junior Leadership Training Academy is available on the district Royal Rangers web site at <http://ntd.royalrangers.net>. Applications are due by June 2nd to receive a $25 pre-registration discount. A discount is also available to boys who are members of chartered outposts.
