from the Editor's

Dear Rangers,

It is such a rare opportunity to be part of history in the making as you are doing during the Camporama.

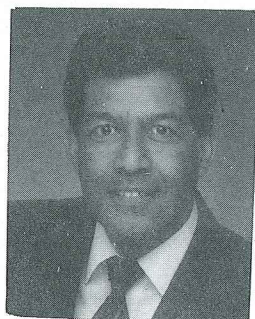

This first Camporama will usher us a new era of the Royal Rangers Ministry.

As we go forth in the name of our Master Ranger to establish outpost in every corner of this beautiful land of ours and make every Ranger as disciple of our Lord.

Aren't you excited about this?

Celebration of Harvest

REV PRINCE GUNERATNAM D.D., D.Litt
General Superintendent

Dear Royal Rangers & Commanders:

Greetings!

On behalf of the Assemblies of God of Malaysia, we congratulate you on your 10th Anniversary! We are pleased to know of your success in meeting the objectives of the Royal Rangers by the training and equipping our youth to meet the challenges of tomorrow.

We hope your participation at this Camporama will be a wonderful experience for you and that you will also take this opportunity to widen your circle of friendship and enrich your fellowship one with another.

May I encourage you as leaders of this ministry to be faithful and committed to the total program of the Royal Rangers. Let each activity be one that will instruct, challenge and inspire boys and girls. Our young people need to know the importance of their salvation, the baptism of the Holy Spirit, the Biblical moral values and Christian service. I believe your time, energy and resources invested in them will not be wasted. If Jesus tarries, they will be the future leaders of the church and the nation.

Sincerely,

Rev. Prince Guneratnam, D.D., D.Litt.

CAMPORAMA - A DECADE OF HARVEST

"Praise the Lord" - Congratulations! on your 10th Anniversary. The fruits of this ministry is seen all over the nation. Your sacrifices and labour of love has yielded a bountiful harvest of young people.

My prayer for you is that you continue to delight yourself in the Lord and in His Word. And you will be like a tree planted by the rivers of water that produces fruit in its season, your leaves will not wither and whatsoever you do will prosper. (Psalms 1:3)

The Lord has used the past decade to establish and mature you with the intention to use you for this decade of Harvest.

May the Lord of the Harvest, bless you richly with happy harvesting!

Assemblies of God Boys & Girls Program

MESSAGE FROM THE ROYAL RANGERS DIRECTOR

Our first Malaysian Royal Rangers Camporama - a wait that all our Rangers has been waiting for. It marks our progress, growth and above all the Faithfulness of God. Praise the Lord!

I remember the middle 1982, where we first met to see the possibility of starting a National Committee to plan for the advancement of the Royal Rangers Program in our country. Five existing outpost leaders came and met at Bethany Chapel, Kepong. All the leaders who came were excited and very positive. A year later the Protem Committee were officially recognised by the Executive Brethren of God of Malaysia. The Royal Rangers since then has progressed rapidly. Organising our first rendezvous, we progress on to State Pow Wow and various camp for children, Leaders Training Seminars, Frontiersman Camping Fellowship, Junior Leaders Training Camp, National Training Camp and now after all these years, we are now ready for our First Camporama in Malaysia. Praise His Wonderful Name!

I would like to take this opportunity to thank the National Staff and Committee for their support and also all those who in one way or another have sacrificed time and leave to be involved in our National Program. It is your willingness to be involved and dedication to serve God in this ministry that has cause the program to be successful. May all of you Commanders out there, keep up the Spirit and continue training boys and girls to grow in maturity, physically, mentally, socially and above all spiritually for God's glory.

MOTTO: " BE READY "

Sincerely,

Rev. Michael Song.

RE: CAMPORAMA 1992 - CELEBRATION OF HARVEST.

Just like the Psalmist I will said REJOICE AND AGAIN I SAID REJOICE. I'm so excited to be part of this celebration. It's a great honour for me to write a message for the Royal Rangers souvenir magazine.

It's hard to believe we have reach the 10th milestone. Looking back, Royal Rangers have a very rich experience. There's so much laughter, joy, fellowship and of cos' the other side of sharing losses, sadness, weakness and those long night hours of dicussion. I believe we have done all this with one thing in mind, that's the benefit for "the lost children". And I also believe we have run a good race, not finish, though!

I will like to encourage all Royal Rangers to always remember the Golden Rule - Do unto others as ye would they do to you. And to keep looking at our Master Ranger not only at good times but also the bad times. He's OUR SOURCE for Strenght, Understanding, Courage and Help.

Another mile, another step will be another time of communion with our Master Ranger. Keep up the good work all ye Royal Rangers till He, our Master Ranger come.

READY

Albert Ong.

an assemblies of god programme for children & teenagers

In the ten years of great achievements in the Royal Rangers ministry, I want to congratulate you, Bro. Albert, for being the key-mover of the Royal Rangers programme in Malaysia; and your group of dedicated leaders all across peninsula Malaysia who have been wonderfully used of God to meet the spiritual, physical, mental and social needs of boys and girls.

It is most befitting to coincide your celebration of the Decade of Royal Rangers Ministry with the First Malaysia Camporama from 20th to 24th November, 1992. Once again, it proves the solidarity of the Royal Rangers leaders and members despite distance and individual group's tight schedule. I pray for the greatest blessings and presence God to be upon all leaders and campers and that there be a good salvation of fresh kids and teenagers for the Lord.

MALAYSIA ROYAL RANGERS SOUVENIR PATCHES AND BADGES

Shepherd for a Day

By Barney Schwartz

"Dad, I don't think we should let her do it. Being a shepherd is too dangerous." Joan Newton was worried.

"It's not that dangerous," Debbie replied. "And don't forget, you've been shepherding since you were my age."

"If you run into trouble, what'll you do?" asked Joan.

"Big Rex and I can take care of it." Big Rex was their large Merino ram.

"I'm the only one of us who can take the sheep out tomorrow," Debbie insisted. "Besides, I won't be alone. God will be with me. Remember how God helped young David in the Bible kill a lion and a bear?"

Finally Mr. Newton agreed.

"Great!" Debbie shouted. "It'll be a great time to try out my new boots."

Joan made a face. "You and those boots. That's all you talk about."

"And you," said Debbie, "are always talking about listening to those pilots on your short-wave radio."

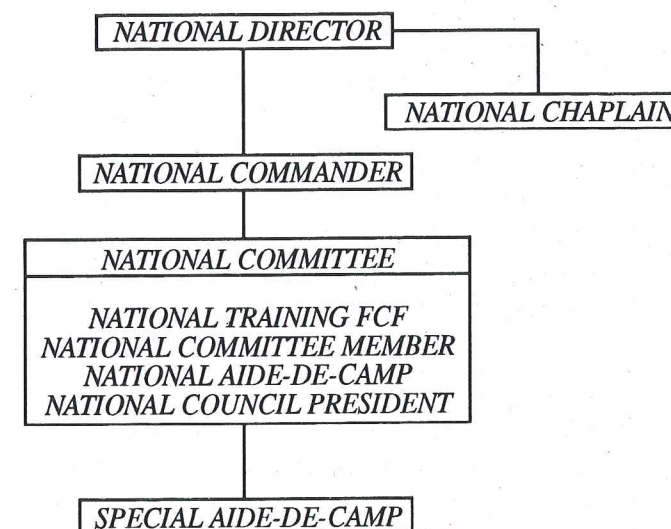

The next morning Debbie was up and ready to go very early. Moving across the dry range, the sheep fed on stubble and grass. Debbie thought about the people of Bible times who did shepherd's tasks. Shepherding was a big responsibility. The sheep would have been lost without their shepherd. They depended on the shepherd to lead them to food and water and to protect them from wild animals.

The heat became more intense at midday. Ahead Debbie saw where the animals could rest on a ridge half a mile away. She prodded them with the stick she used as a shepherd's crook.

Royal Rangers Selangor #1
Grace Assembly of God, Klang.

In 1975, Pastor Henry Ramaya planted a vision to start the Royal Rangers in our church. After six years of silence in 1980, Bro. Rajendren and Bro. Albert Ong took the challenge.

Contact was made with Bethel Assembly of Singapore, and we received our first letter from Senior Commander Steven Teo on 3rd October, 1981. The Royal Ranger office of United States and Australia also responded and encouraged us. On 31st August, 1982 we became the first Outpost in Malaysia to charter.

We started with 5 Pioneer boys and 23 leaders. We held our first Outpost campout on 3rd October, 1982 with an attendance of 32 rangers and 13 leaders.

By September 1982, we had 5 Pioneer Patrols and 2 Trailblazer Patrols.

On 27th August 1982, 5 of our leaders had the privilege to meet our founder Johnnie Barnes and his wife, at the first leaders conference. The privileged 5 were Chan Ching Chung, Elvis Chan, Arumugam, Benjamin Keng and Albert Ong.

By God's Grace, we have 95 rangers and 30 leaders with an outstation Outpost in Port Klang.

Royal Rangers Selangor Outpost #2
Salim Gospel Centre.

The Royal Rangers ministry was introduced in December, 1984 by Selangor Outpost #1. Our Sunday School Superintendent, Sis Evelyn decided to start this program and many Sunday School children joined the Royal Rangers. In April, 1985, Sis Prudence Kim was sent for training at the Leaders Renevous, Port Dickson.

The Outpost Council was formed in May, 1985 and we chartered on 6th June, 1985. We started with six TrailBlazers, three Pioneer boys and three Pioneer girls. The Buckaroos Outpost was formed a year later. Commander Prudence was our first Senior Commander, the first lady Senior Commander in Malaysia.

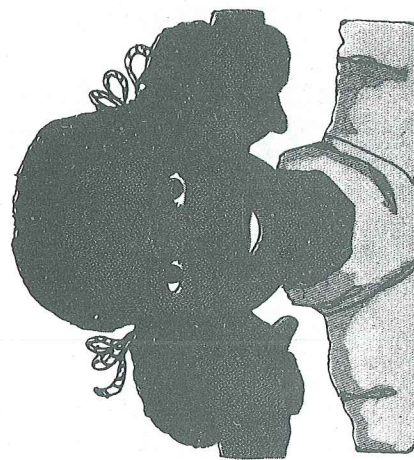

At present, we have temporarily closed the Outpost due to lack of leaders.

DISCOVERING GOD'S LAWS

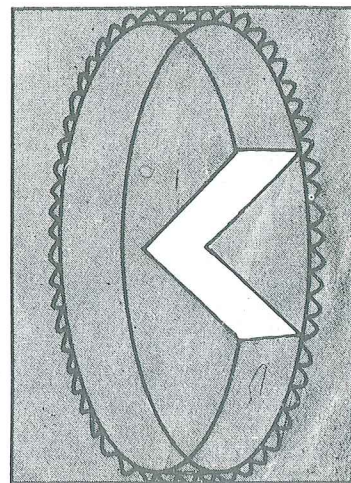

Your Floating Finger

Want to watch your fingers come off and float in the air before your very eyes? It's easy.

Put your index fingers (those next to your thumbs) together as it shows in the picture, keeping them about three or four inches in front of your eyes. Focus your eyes across the room. Now gradually pull your fingers apart. You will begin to see a finger float in between your two fingers. If you don't see it at first, keep trying.

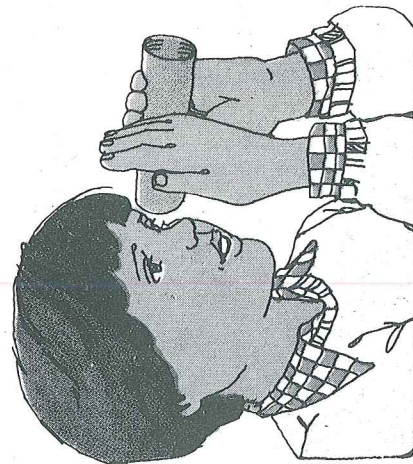

What Happened to Joe's Pie?

Joe ate one piece of a pie he made at school. When he got home, the pie was upside down. Joe was shocked. Only the piece he had eaten was there. The rest of the pie was gone. Turn this page upside down and you will see what Joe saw when he got home.

That Hole in Your Hand

Did you know you have a big hole in your hand? This trick makes it look like you have.

Roll up a sheet of paper into a tube. Hold one end of the tube to your right eye and look across the room through it. Now turn your left hand with the palm toward you and put it against the tube.

Be sure both eyes are open. Suddenly you will notice a big hole in your hand and you are looking right through it.

What Does This Say?

Read what it says in the circle. If you're an average person you thought it said THIS IS THE TIME. It doesn't say that at all. Keep reading until you see another word. Often the eye passes over things that are there, such as this extra word.

Your Eyes Were Tricked

These simple experiments show how easily your eyes can be tricked. Often you think you see something, but you don't.

Your eyes told you that you saw something, but you knew better. Some people say they cannot believe in God because they cannot see Him. But our eyes don't prove everything, do they—especially the fact that God is real?

The next time some friend tells you he can't believe in a God he can't see, show him some of these tricks. Would he let those same eyes that were tricked so easily decide if there is a God?

Read I John 4: 12, 20.

Make a

Trick Notecase

Make someone a present which will give a lot of fun.
PERCY W. BLANDFORD
shows you how it is done.

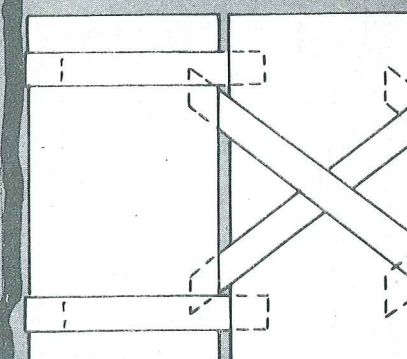

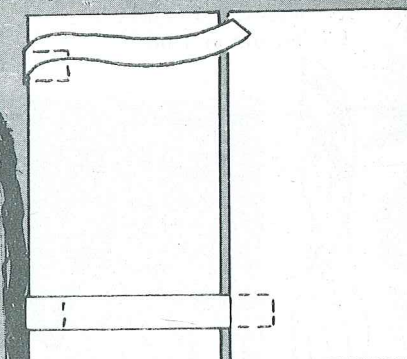

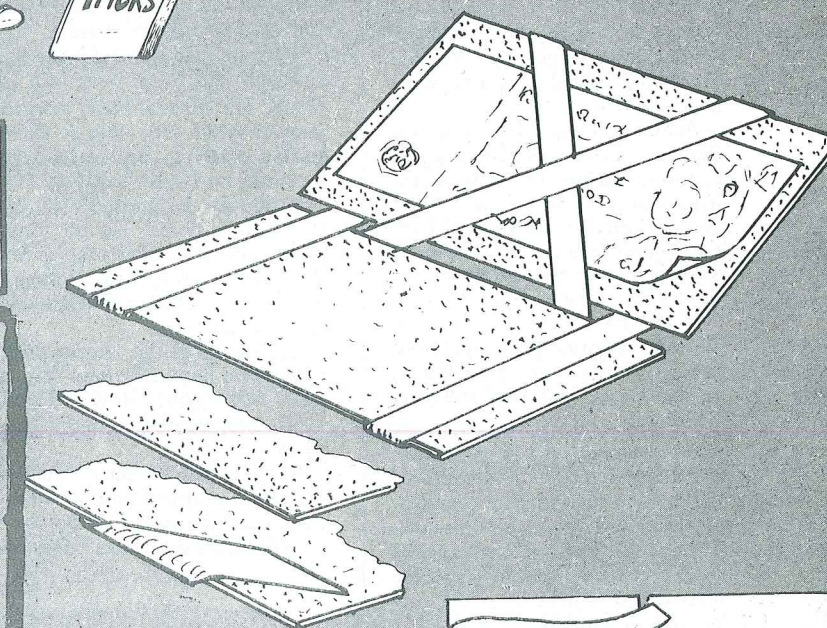

You can make a wallet for one pound notes to give to your mother or father, or a bigger folder to keep notepaper together. You can also make a pocket-size notecase to use as a trick. The two sides of the case have tapes across, which are parallel on one side and crossed on the other. You show the case with a note under the tapes at one side, then close the case and open it again and the note will be under the tapes at the other side. Or you put a note in the middle of the case on top of the tapes, then close the case and open it again. This time the note has got itself tucked under the tapes at one side! The case opens either way and to make the note change sides or tuck itself away you close the case and open it the other way.

The outsides can be made from postcards, which are the right size for one pound notes. Your mother will have some narrow tape – about 75cm of 12mm tape will be plenty. You need a fairly strong adhesive to stick the tape to the card.

Put two cards side by side. Put on the parallel tapes first, near the ends. Stick the tapes under the outside edge of one card and take them across to stick under the inner edge of the other card. Now do the same the other way round with crossing tapes – stick them under the outer edge of the second card and under the inner edges of the first. Turn the whole thing over and stick two more cards over the backs to cover the tape ends. Put the case under a pile of books or some other heavy weight until the glue has set, then you are ready to try out the case on your friends.

If the case is to be kept as a trick, you could leave it at that, but for use as a notecase the outside can be covered with fancy paper or decorated by painting. You can use picture postcards for the outside and end up with an ideal Christmas present for your parents.

A Stranger's Gift

WHEN A MAN NAMED V. P. Menon first arrived in New Delhi, India, to seek a job in government, all his possessions were stolen at the railroad station. He would have to return home on foot, defeated. In desperation he turned to an elderly Sikh, explained his troubles, and asked for a loan of 15 rupees to tide him over until he could get a job. The Sikh gave him the money. When Menon asked for an address so he could pay back the rupees, the Sikh wouldn't give it. He said the help had come from a stranger and was to be repaid to a stranger. Menon never forgot that debt and eventually earned a reputation for his charity.

Some time ago I was in the Bombay airport at the baggage counter, trying to reclaim my bags. But I had no Indian currency left, and the agent would not take a traveler's check. A stranger standing beside me paid my claim-check fee—about 80 cents. He then told me the story of Menon in refusing my attempt to figure out how to repay him. His father, he explained, had been Menon's assistant.

From a nameless Sikh to an Indian civil servant to his assistant to his son to me, a foreigner in a moment of frustrating inconvenience. Though the gift was not large, its spirit is beyond price and leaves me blessed and in debt.

blessed and in debt.

SOMETHING MORE...

As Dave wandered down the street and approached the Arcade Palace, he heard the familiar music and the buzz of arcade machines. He rammed his fists into his pockets and stepped through the open door. The games didn't interest him today. Still, he walked over to Al Caretti, who was racking up a score. When the game was over, Dave spoke up. "What's new?" He asked.

"Ah," Al moaned. "Look at that stupid game! I was robbed!" He slammed the machine with his hand and gave it another quarter.

Dave glanced around but a feeling of loneliness hung over him like a cloud. He turned back toward the door. It was a nice day, so Dave just started walking. Before he knew it, he stood on Baylor's street.

Suddenly, he smiled and hurried to Baylor's home. He ran onto the porch and tapped at the side window. In a minute, the curtains parted and Baylor looked out. "Come on in," he said, smiling.

Dave opened the screen door and headed for Baylor's room. "Hi," Dave said with a grin. "How's it going?"

"Good," Baylor smiled. "I'm glad to see you."

Dave walked around the wheelchair and plopped on the bed as Baylor closed the bedroom door.

"Where are your folks?" Dave asked.

"Shopping and running errands," Baylor said as he glanced at his watch. "But they'll be home soon. I was going to watch a TV show about whales. Would you like to watch it? If you don't, I won't turn it on."

Dave shrugged and settled against the pillows as Baylor turned on the TV set. As the program began, Dave suddenly leaned forward, pointing. "Look! Do you believe that? They're shooting harpoons at baby whales!"

The boys watched closely as adult whales tried to guard the herd. The program's narrator told about whale hunters and efforts to save the whales. At the end of the program, an address was given to which people could write to protest the killing of whales.

"I'm going to write a letter," Baylor announced.

"Yeah? Do you think anyone reads them?" asked Dave.

"Sure. If enough people write, even senators pay attention," Baylor said. "I wrote to Senator Felding in Gulligan's Settlement, and he wrote back thanking me. Later he even sent me a report of a committee's findings. Then when they were going to build a bar only a few blocks from the elementary school on Route 19, I wrote a letter and got all kinds of signatures protesting."

Shepherd for a Day

It wasn't long before Debbie heard a fierce, high-pitched growl. From out of a nearby thicket a mountain lion appeared. Some sheep spooked, but Debbie quieted them.

Rex placed himself between the ewes and the mountain lion. He stood motionless, staring at the intruder. The lion became cautious and made angry noises.

Debbie moved stealthily. Her eyes were fastened on Rex. All at once the toe of her right boot caught in a hole. She tripped and fell facedown. There was a terrible pain in her leg!

"I'm useless like this!" she cried. She must not fail. A prayer came to her lips. "Lord, I need Your help."

At that instant she heard a crackling in the underbrush. A deer leaped into the open. The mountain lion, startled by the noise, turned its head. Rex charged forward, butting the lion on the side of its neck. Rex caught the lion off-balance.

The mountain lion rolled over and over downhill. Its paws thrashed the ground and the air. It was dazed by the force of Rex's 130 pounds. The great cat shook itself, growled in defeat, and slinked away.

Tears of happiness crowded Debbie's eyes, but the dust in her throat seemed to choke her. And the pain in her leg was worse. "How will I ever get the sheep home?" she wondered. She prayed again for God's help.

Sometime later, Debbie thought she heard galloping horses. It was Dad and Joan!

Shepherd for a Day

By Barney Schwartz

Dad took Debbie home on the horse while Joan stayed to round up the sheep and bring them home. On the way, Debbie told Dad the whole story. "I'm sorry, Dad. If only I hadn't tripped in that hole."

"You did fine, Debbie," Dad assured her. "The sheep are safe, aren't they? An accident like you had could happen to anyone."

As soon as they reached home, Dad called Dr. Bossert. While they waited for him, Debbie asked, "Dad, how did you know we were in trouble?"

"Joan heard a pilot report that something unusual was happening on the ridge, but he couldn't see exactly what it was. So Joan and I took no chances. We rode up to see if you needed us."

By the time Dr. Bossert arrived, Debbie's leg was very swollen. He had to cut her boot off. She hated to see her new boots ruined, but it did make her leg feel better.

"It's a bad sprain," announced Dr. Bossert. "You'll have to use crutches for a while."

That night in bed, Debbie thought about everything that had happened—the mountain lion, Rex's bravery, her fall, her prayers. She thanked God for His help.

Then Debbie went to sleep with a smile on her face, remembering Dad's good-night promise: "As soon as your leg is better, we'll go into town for some new boots. You're not just 'Shepherd for a Day,' you know. You're going to have the job all summer."

God's Animal the Monkey

When you go to the zoo, chances are that one of your favorite animals will be a monkey. For thousands of years, monkeys have been popular with kids of all ages because of the way they imitate people. Of all the animals, monkeys and apes most resemble and act like humans.

Monkeys belong to a class of animals called primates. Primate means that these animals are of the highest order and are most intelligent. The primate class of animals consists of monkeys, apes, orangutans, lemurs, and tarsiers.

Monkeys have the unique ability to grasp objects with both hands and feet. In fact, the monkey's feet are only slightly different from his hands. That's why monkeys are such great climbers. Imagine how you could climb if you had fingers on your feet.

Because primates so closely resemble humans, many scientists believe that humans evolved from them. And in many ways, primates have people-like characteristics but there is a very great difference between apes and men.

The Bible tells us that God created man in His own image and in His own likeness. For that reason, man is a spirit being. Animals do not have spirits nor do they seek after God. Of all the creatures on earth, human beings are the only ones who have religious beliefs. Why is that so?

Man was created by God to be His friend. God wanted someone that He could talk to and have fellowship with. For this reason, God gave man a spirit in addition to a mind and a body. Animals have minds and bodies but they do not have a spirit. They do not understand right and wrong as humans do. The sense of right and wrong that people have comes from the spirit.

So, we can enjoy our monkey friends because God created them for our pleasure. But we must realize that mankind did not evolve from apes or any other creature. God made us in His own image.

CHILDHOOD

SIXTIES

FUTURE

"I remember that," Dave nodded. "They decided against it."

"Because they got a lot of protests," Baylor replied.

"Why do you do it?" Dave asked. "A lot of people wouldn't take the time to do stuff like that."

Baylor shrugged, "I don't know. I guess because God gives us the choice to make up our own minds about things. I mean, it's not like we're stuck in a groove somewhere like a broken record. We can decide to do something about injustice, or we can decide not to. I decided I wanted to, that's all."

Dave's face flushed. He realized again that Baylor had continued to grow, even in a wheelchair. And Dave felt as though he had stood still. He felt bored and useless. He wasn't sure who was more handicapped—him or Baylor.

"Want to help me write a letter?" Baylor asked as he turned off the TV set with a grin.

Dave laughed. "I've never written a letter about anything important."

Baylor shrugged. "You just tell your opinion."

Dave looked at his friend, then grinned. "Okay," he replied.

They worked over the letter until the wording sounded just right to them both. Reading it, Dave felt a growing sense of pride. He grinned and said, "Thanks Baylor."

"For what?"

"For letting me help."

There was a knock on Baylor's door and his mother poked a smiling face around the frame. "I thought I heard voices. Nice to see you, Dave. Can I get you boys something?" she asked.

"No, thanks, Mrs. Grimm," Dave said as he looked at his watch. "Oh, boy! I had better get home." He reached for his jacket, then spun around. "I know what! How about if I take the letter and make some copies at the library. Then, after church tomorrow, you and I can go out together and get signatures from others who want to protest the killing!"

"You mean it?" Baylor asked in surprise.

Dave nodded. "Sure I do. I'll be here about 2:00."

Dave hurried along the sidewalk with a new spring in his step. It was hard to understand. He could have spent the whole afternoon in the Arcade surrounded by people and flashy games. But spending time with Baylor had really been worthwhile.

Ahead of him, Al Caretti was coming along the sidewalk. "What have you been up to?" Al asked.

"I stopped over and saw Baylor this afternoon," Dave replied.

"I played games at the Arcade," Al replied as he headed toward his apartment building. "I'm really beat. See you later, Dave!"

"Okay," Dave called with a wave. Dave continued toward the library, smiling. He didn't feel beat at all—he felt good. Maybe that was the secret—using your energy productively. Using his brain to write the letter had made him feel good. Yeah, he had chosen between playing games all day and thinking about something important. That was it! Choosing! He had the ability to choose. He didn't have to do what all the other guys did. God gave him choices!

Dave ran up the steps of the library. Quickly, he inserted the proper coins, laid the letter face down on the copy machine, and pushed the button.

The first copy slid from the machine. He lifted it with a smile and turned to the librarian. "Would you care to sign this?" he asked as he gave her the copy.

She raised her eyebrows and peered through her glasses, reading the letter carefully. After a minute, she looked up and nodded, then reached for a pen.

Dave smiled. Inside, he felt really, really good.

Paper Cutting Fun

Amaze your family and friends with new skills! Make a hole in a postcard large enough for you to climb through, for instance . . . PERCY W. BLANDFORD shows you how to do this great trick.

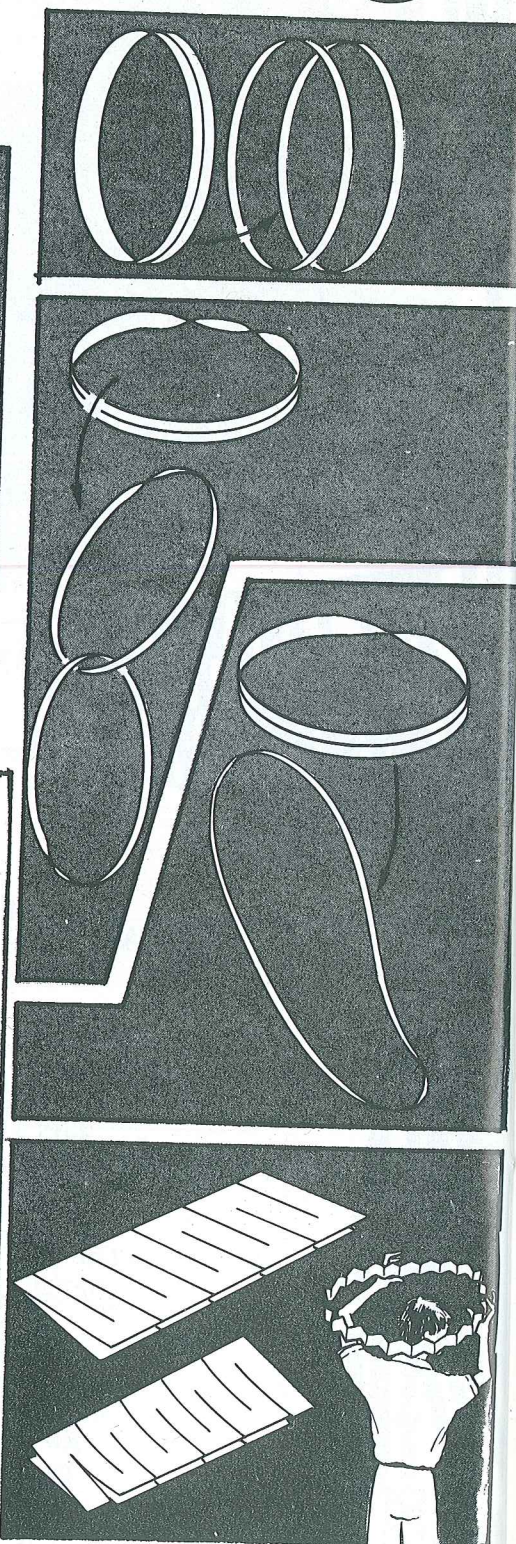

There are several ways of cutting paper so you finish with something bigger than you started with. For instance, tell your friends you will cut a hole the size of a coin and pass a larger coin through it. Draw around a 1p piece in the centre of a piece of paper and cut out that hole. Now, if you fold the paper across the hole and bend the paper back, you will make a gap wide enough to push a 2p piece through edgewise.

What about making a hole in a postcard large enough for you to get through? This needs practice as cutting must be carefully done, so try it a few times before using the trick to amaze your friends. Fold the postcard in half lengthwise. Start cutting with scissors into the card, as shown. The cuts next to the ends should be into the folded part. The more cuts you get in, the larger will be the finished ring to get through, but if you try to make too many cuts, the whole thing may break. When you have made all the cuts from the edges, cut along the fold, except for the end pieces. Now you can open the card out carefully and get through it!

If you make a long paper loop with the ends of a strip stuck together and you cut around its centre with scissors, you expect to get two narrow rings. Let a friend try this, then when you cut another loop tell him you will finish with one bigger loop. While he is wondering how you did it, tell him you will cut around the next loop and finish with two rings joined together.

Make the paper rings or loops fairly long, so what you have done to them will not show. If you stick the ends together without twisting the paper, a cut will produce two separate rings. For the next one, turn the paper over before you stick it, so the inside of one end is turned outside. That one finishes as a large ring. For the third one, give the paper a complete twist before sticking. The outsides of both ends are the same way, but around the ring there is a twist. That can be cut carefully so there are two interlocking rings.

12th SELANGOR OUTPOST, RADIANT ASSEMBLY OF GOD
29th of March 1992, remains an eventful and memorable Day for chartering the new 12th Selangor Outpost of Malaysian Royal Rangers.

Our Guests of honour were the Malaysia Royal Rangers Director, Reverend Michael Song, and the Senior Commander Albert Ong of 1st Selangor Outpost, Klang. Both men gave a commendable history of the Royal Rangers' foundation and the part it played in the lives of the young people in the churches in Malaysia.

Thank God for the operation of Royal Rangers in our church that we might reach, teach and keep children for our Lord Jesus Christ. Activities such as campings and swimmings serve well in bringing in new children to our church.

We would like to express our heartfelt gratitude to the Australian Royal Rangers' National Office for the chartering and to the 7th Selangor Outpost, Petaling Jaya for its tireless support in our initial programmes.

ROYAL RANGERS K.L. #2
BETHANY CHURCH

In August, 1982 our church sent a delegation to the Royal Rangers Pow Wow in Singapore to observe and learn more about the Royal Rangers program. These men came back impressed and after several meetings, we chartered in March 1984. We became the 2nd Outpost in the Federal Territory.

Our first recruits were Sunday school children. Later their schoolmates were also recruited. The Outpost started with three leaders and ten boys. We have then grown to 12 leaders and thirty-six Rangers.

The Outpost is now temporarily closed because of the lack of leaders.

A POEM FROM OUR RANGER

STRANGERS ARE STRANGERS WE HAVEN'T MET ...

God knows NO STRANGERS, He loves us all,
the poor, the rich, the great, the small.
He is a friend who is always there to share our troubles and lessen our care,...
No one is a stranger in God's sight,
for God is LOVE and in His Light.
May we too, try in our small ways to make NEW FRIENDS from day to day ...
So pass no stranger with an unseeing eye,
for God may be sending a new friend by.

Love in Christ

HE WAS SORRY

Chided by his Sunday School teacher for misbehaving on the playground, six-year-old Peter was told to stand by the fence as punishment. Obediently, he went, but soon the teacher saw him playing as if nothing had happened.

"I thought I told you to stand by the fence", she said reprovngly. "I did", Peter answered, "but I told Jesus I was sorry, and he said, 'Okay, Pete you can go play ball now'.

NATURALLY

"I wonder why people say 'Amen' and not 'A women'?", Bobby questioned. His little friend replied, "Because they sing hymns and not her, silly.

God Holds Your Hand

God understands each burden
.....you bear,
He knows the trials of each day,
And sympathising, lends an ear
To hear you even before you pray.
He walks with those who
.....trust His love,
He holds them by hand to guide;
What need to fear or be dismayed,
With His dear Presence by your side!

*"He knoweth the way that I take; when he hath

WHY GOD MADE FRIENDS

God made the world
With a heartful of love,
Then He looked down
From Heaven above,
And saw that we all need
A helping hand,
Someone to share with,
Who'll understand.

He made special people
To see us through
The glad times
And the sad times, too;
A people on whom
We can always depend,
Someone we can call a friend.

God made friends
So we'll carry a part
Of His perfect love
In all our hearts.

TALES FROM A STORM

During the last 100 years, over 100,000 photographs have been taken of the heavens through a large telescope at the Royal Greenwich Observatory in England. Many of these photos have appeared in encyclopedias, textbooks, and other publications around the world.

It was in the news recently that a common housefly has halted the telescope's astronomical services. Somehow, the fly managed to get into the telescope's long tube through the eyepiece, became entangled, and broke the cross hairs. The cross hairs are used to align the telescope so that stars and planets will be centered precisely in the field of view.

The Scriptures tell us, dead flies can make a whole bottle of perfume stink (Ecces. 10:1), and one fly can also tear up an entire telescope.

Repairing those cross hairs is not easy. They are made of delicate strands of silk from a spider's web, and no one seems to know how to attach new cross hairs.

Additionally, there's the problem of locating the right kind of silk strands for cross hairs. All spiders have at least three different kinds of silk glands. Each gland will produce a certain type of silk for a particular purpose. Consequently, the silk threads will vary in texture, thickness, and stickiness.

When conditions are right, a spider will produce thin silk strands of even thickness that would be just right for cross hairs. But no one at the observatory seems to know what these specific conditions are, nor how to select the appropriate strands from a suitable web.

Using something other than spider's web for the cross hairs won't work either. One astronomer tried hair from his own head, but it was too thick. Under the viewfinder, human hair looks like telephone poles. Even super thin nylon will not work because it absorbs moisture and swells.

The Word of God is proven to be true again. "The spider taketh hold with her hands, and is in king's palaces" (Proverbs 30:28). She also shows up in telescopes, and catches a fly with her web although the spider is not even there!

The British astronomers are trying to locate a retired scientist who knows how to repair the cross hairs and bring him out of retirement long enough to fix the telescope.

Just as the housefly became entangled in the web and lost its life, so are many becoming entangled in the web of sin, and will lose their own soul.

SOME PROBLEMS

A new Sunday School teacher had to iron out some problems with the Lord's Prayer. One child had to be corrected after repeating, "Howard be thy name". Another youngster prayed, "Lead us into Penn station". Still another surprised the teacher with, "our father, who are in heaven, how'd you know my name?".

EXPECTING TOO MUCH

A young woman boarded a crowded bus. A tired little man got up and gave her his seat. There was a moment of silence. "I beg your pardon?" said the tired man, "I didn't say anything," replied the young woman. "I'm sorry," said the man, "I thought you said 'Thank you'."

YOUR WONDERFUL ELECTRIC BRAIN

YOUR BRAIN RECEIVES AND INTERPRETS THOUSANDS OF SIGNALS FROM THE NERVES IN YOUR BODY EVERY MINUTE YOU LIVE, DAY AND NIGHT.

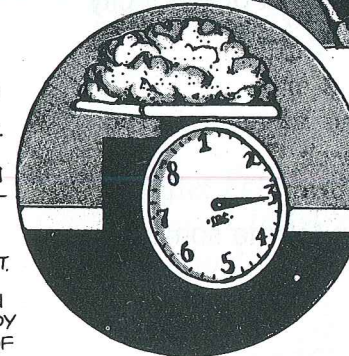

FOR EXAMPLE:
YOUR BRAIN GETS SIGNALS FROM
130 MILLION LIGHT RECEPTORS IN YOUR EYES...
100,000 HEARING RECEPTORS IN YOUR EARS...
3,000 TASTE BUDS IN YOUR MOUTH...
30,000 HEAT SPOTS, 250,000 COLD SPOTS, 500,000 TOUCH SPOTS ON YOUR SKIN.

THE LEFT HALF OF YOUR BRAIN CONTROLS THE RIGHT SIDE OF YOUR BODY... THE RIGHT HALF THE LEFT SIDE OF YOUR BODY.

WHEN YOU WERE BORN, YOUR BRAIN WEIGHED A POUND, OR ABOUT 1/8TH OF YOUR BODY WEIGHT. WHEN YOU ARE GROWN IT WILL WEIGH AROUND 3 POUNDS—DEPENDING UPON YOUR STATURE AND BODY WEIGHT.

THIS IS LARGER IN PROPORTION TO BODY SIZE THAN OTHER OF GOD'S CREATURES.

GOD DESIGNED YOUR BRAIN TO OPERATE BY ELECTRICITY. EACH NERVE CELL IN YOUR BODY GENERATES AN AMAZING VOLTAGE FOR ITS SIZE. IT PASSES THIS ELECTRIC IMPULSE ON TO THE NEXT NERVE CELL.

GENEROUS

A church needed new choir robes, so one Sunday the pastor asked the members who would contribute $5.00 to the robe fund to stand-up. Then the alert organist began a lively rendition of " The Star-Spangled Banner ", with the astounding results.

Teacher : What is usually used as a conductor of electricity.

Student : Why, er....

Teacher : Correct, wire. Now tell me what is the unit of electricity power ?

Student : The what ?

Teacher : That's absolutely right. The watt.

Teacher : I'll give you an A in history if you can tell me something about Benjamin Franklin.

Student : Hmm.... He's dead.

YOUR WONDERFUL
ELECTRIC BRAIN

YOUR BRAIN CELLS GENERATE A SIMILAR
CURRENT TO SEND BACK ORDERS TO YOUR MUSCLES AND OTHER ORGANS.
THESE ELECTRICAL IMPULSES FLASH ALONG
YOUR NERVES AT 393 FEET PER SECOND, OR ABOUT 270 MILES PER HOUR...SO YOUR REACTIONS ARE MIGHTY FAST!

THE PITCHER THROWS THE BALL...YOUR EYES FLASH THE MESSAGE TO YOUR BRAIN—
"LOOKS GOOD"—YOUR BRAIN FLASHES THE MESSAGE TO YOUR MUSCLES—"SOCK IT!"—
AND IN THAT SPLIT SECOND YOU
CONNECT FOR A HIT!

SOME PARTS OF YOUR BRAIN SERVE AS A
"CENTRAL" TO RELAY MESSAGES. SOME PARTS
CONTROL VITAL PROCESSES SUCH AS BREATHING.
SOME DO YOUR THINKING, OTHERS HOLD YOUR MEMORIES IN STORAGE UNTIL YOU CALL FOR THEM. HERE'S A "MAP" OF THE THREE
MAIN PARTS OF THE BRAIN AND THE CHIEF
FUNCTIONS OF EACH.

No wonder David sang, "I am fearfully and wonderfully made."—Psalm 139: 14.

YOUR NERVE CELLS USUALLY PRODUCE 2 TO 50 IMPULSES PER SECOND, BUT THEY CAN PRODUCE UP TO 2,000 PER SECOND. THE IMPULSES ARE ALL THE SAME, WHETHER THEY'RE FROM YOUR TOES, EYES, TONGUE,
OR ANY OTHER PART OF YOUR BODY.

Tales from a Tricky Tongue

by Marshall Shelley

No one likes to admit being a liar. But often we say things that aren't really the truth. Do you see yourself in these cartoons?

I practiced a whole hour!

All right! I'm sorry.

I asked Mom and she said "yes."

I did my homework but I guess I lost it.

She started it. I didn't hit her—I just pushed her.

I didn't hear you say to take out the trash.

It didn't touch me! I'm not out!
