This is the first attempt, to our knowledge, for a listing of the many patches that have been utilized in the Royal Ranger program.

This booklet attempts to list all known patches used in the United States. There are patches that have been used in foreign countries for the Royal Ranger program and they are highly valued by U.S. collectors. We did NOT list the patches used on the uniform such as Advanced Awards, Rank Insignia, etc. This booklet only lists the patches used for special commemorative events.

We realize that since this is a "first", there are many errors and omissions. We respectfully request that you write a letter to the publisher carefully explaining all that is known about the patch(s) in question.

TRADING VALUE

The "worth" of a particular patch is determined only by the persons that would like to have that patch. This "worth" cannot be set or determined by anyone else.

With the help of Butch Kiefer and Dade Massey, we have attempted to average the trading value that the three of us personally place on the patches listed. It is to be utilized only as a "starting point" of reference, primarily by those beginners in patch collecting that are unsure as to the desire of a patch. (We have seen instances where a newcomer Ranger to the swapping game is fast-talked out of a highly prized patch because the boy doesn't have any idea as to the value of the patch he wants or that he owns.) Also, many boys try to assign an unreasonably high value to their own patches, which is natural, but go home empty-handed.

Do not take the "trading value" listed in this booklet as a set figure. You might want to trade for something much less in "value" to complete a collection. Likewise, you might not want to trade a patch you've earned for another one even though the other one has a much higher "value". USE SOME HORSE-SENSE.

The "value" is determined by many things--among them being quantity made, attractiveness, number of people wanting the patch, etc. etc.

EXPLANATION OF DESCRIPTION

3

The patches described in this booklet are divided into five(5) sections; the first four being divided into slash marks ( / ), and the fifth is in paranthesis.

FIRST: shape of the patch

SECOND: Basic scene or design ON the patch

THIRD: Predominate colors

FOURTH: Wording, lettering, numbers

FIFTH: (Any descriptive notes about number made, designer, errors, two runs of same patch, etc.)

SHAPES

Patches can come in an infinite variety of shapes and sizes and our Royal Ranger patches are no exception.

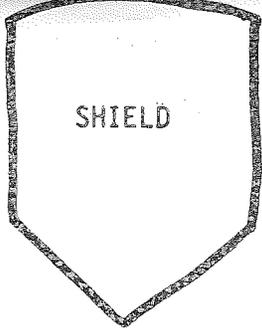

By far, the majority of patches used in the Royal Ranger program are circles. But patches can be any shape the designer chooses. Many of the Pow-Wow patches are in the shape of the state.

We have attempted to draw the most commonly used shapes for Royal Ranger patches on the next two pages. These are by no means the exact shapes used. In our descriptions of the shape of the patch, this will give you an idea of what is meant.

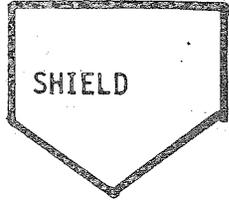

NOTE OF INTEREST: During the 1973 National F.C.F. Committee meeting, it was decided that the arrowhead shape of a patch be strictly limited to National or Territorial FCF events. There are a few patches with the arrowhead shape given for Royal Ranger events, but these were used before 1973. None have been used since that time except for FCF Rendezvous.

COMMENT: There are patch companies in the United States that prepare extremely large order of "stock" patch designs to be sold to any group that wants them. Many Boy Scout troops use these, but so do many Royal Ranger groups. Quite a few Sections hold "Camporees" and use this kind of a patch. Although the trading value is not as high as a personalized Royal Ranger patch, they are nevertheless authentic souvenirs of a Royal Ranger event.

The Trading Value of Sectional patches is usually not as high as a District Pow-Wow or Regional or National event. Although most Sectional patches rate a "1" here in this booklet, it must be recognized that the District Pow-Wow patches are much more desirable in trading value.
