Eurasia Royal Rangers: Leading Along the Black Sea

by John Wilson

Just down the road from Orlyonok, one of the largest Communist Young Pioneer camps of the Soviet era, Eurasia Royal Rangers (ERR) hosted the first Eurasia Regional Leaders Conference as well as national and regional leadership meetings in October 2010.

National and regional Royal Rangers leaders, as well as many outpost leaders, traveled from all over Russia and Ukraine to be a part of this event. Many spent up to six days traveling by train across these vast countries to attend the five-day conference.

Mark Broberg teaching

Mark Broberg, ERR regional director, presented what is known as the "Johnny Barnes Excellence Initiative," a vision and process that helps leaders perform and expand their ministries to impact more young people for Jesus Christ. The timing and inspiration of this initiative is sure to produce incredible growth throughout the Eurasia Region.

When more leaders arrived the second day for the official start of the LEAD Conference, a clear sense of anticipation arrived with them. Leaders experienced the presence of God in a powerful way. They worshipped together, were inspired by daily presenters, and spent time seeking God's equipping and empowering grace.

- > Andre, missions pastor from Krasnodar, Russia, presented a powerful message on evangelizing our world.
- > John Wilson, ERR staff member, spoke about the first Royal Rangers outpost in Eurasia (Outpost 1), which had the children of Israel with senior commander Moses, and how God, through the wisdom of a father-in-law, equipped the Israelites for success.

National Commander of Ukraine, Ruslan Bachansov

> Ruslan Bachansov, national commander of Ukraine, concluded the final evening with an empowering message entitled "Keys of the Kingdom."

> Mark Broberg spoke daily about people who put their believing and doing together to accomplish incredible things.

The number of countries using Royal Rangers continues to grow in the Eurasia Region! It is inspiring to witness and be a part of the work of God on the cutting edge of His kingdom's advance.
