First Issue of a Practical Leaders Guide

Commander's Corner

Dear Commander:

We are quite pleased with the "new look" of our leader's DISPATCH. Les Smith, our new Layout Editor, has done an excellent job in the layout and design of this new issue. Our new format is designed to do an even better job of assisting you as a leader.

May we call your attention to the Bible Study Courses contained in this issue of DISPATCH. Bob Reid, our National Training Coordinator, has once again prepared top notch Bible Study Courses for your Rangers. Please use the usual method of mimeographing or dittoing extra copies for each of your boys.

Here is a brief Royal Ranger progress report. Total enrollment in Leadership Training Course, 1,414; number of outposts chartered, 979; number of men and boys enrolled, 11,779. There is an estimated additional 2,000 groups participating in Royal Rangers who have not chartered, and an additional 32,000 men and boys who have not enrolled. Please pray with us that these groups will soon become chartered too.

The success of our program depends largely on dedicated men such as you. We on the national staff want you to know that we deeply appreciate your effort. It is our wish to assist you in everyway possible. If you should have suggestions on how we can better serve you, please share them with us.

May God richly bless and guide you in all your endeavors during this quarter is our prayer.

Sincerely,

ROYAL RANGERS DIVISION

DEVOTIONAL GUIDE

DEVOTIONAL LEECHES

Purpose:

To emphasize the fact that only Jesus can cleanse and remove our sins.

Story:

There was a man who was going through a river in a foreign land. When he came out of the river he found that many leeches were clinging to him. They had fastened on him while he was in the river.

Leeches are little water creatures that fasten themselves to animals or man by suction.

He started to knock them off.

"Don't do that!" exclaimed his attendant. "You'll only make them stick harder. I will prepare you a bath which will bring them all off." He then prepared a medicated bath of some kind, which made the leeches release their hold and fall off.

Sins are like leeches—they stick. Knock them off we cannot; or, if we succeed in some instances, they get hold of us again in other ways. The only way of getting rid of our sins is God's way and that is by yielding ourselves to the Saviour, and letting Him rid us of them by his redeeming power.

Ceremony:

Fellows, wouldn't it be ridiculous if some of our group walked around for days and weeks with a lot of horrible leeches clinging to their bodies. Yet, there are fellows who go for weeks and even months with unforgiven sins in their hearts. This is far more serious than allowing leeches to remain on your bodies. There is only one way to get rid of sin and that is to ask Jesus to forgive you and let him apply his cleansing forgiving power to your heart.

As we pray together, let us ask Jesus to forgive us of any sin in our lives.

DEVOTION: SOMETHING YOU CAN'T RUB IN

Purpose:

To show boys the damage words can do.

Story:

"Don't write there," said a father to his son, who was writing with a diamond on the window.

"Why not?"

"Because you can't rub it out."

Did it ever occur to you that you are daily writing what you can't rub out? You made a cruel speech to your mother the other day. It wrote itself upon her loving heart and gave a pain. It is there now, and hurts her when she thinks of it. You can't rub it out.

A parrot copies words—people express ideas. Don't parrot.

You whispered a wicked thought one day in the ear of your playmate. It wrote itself on his mind, and led him to do a wicked act. It is there now. You can't rub it out.

All your thoughts, all your words, all your acts, are written in the book of memory. Be careful. The record is lasting. You can't rub it out.

Ceremony:

Fellows, when we sin, if we ask God's forgiveness He will rub out our sins. However many of the words we have said and deeds we have done will leave their scar on the heart of those we have hurt. We should be very careful regarding what we say and what we do. The Royal Ranger pledge states, "With God's help I will do my best to . . . make the Golden Rule my daily rule. If we will live by the Golden Rule and treat others as we want them to treat us, we will not regret things we cannot rub out.

Let's join hands and repeat the Golden Rule. Then let us pray for strength to live by it.

DEVOTION: LIVING LIGHTS

Purpose:

To encourage boys to become witnesses for Christ.

Do you get the point?

Equipment needed:

One large candle and a small candle for each boy.

Story:

To many sea creatures God has given torches so that they become living lamps. There are over five hundred varieties of sea creatures that glow with a continuous light. Often the waters are just like a sheet of flame, and each wave is like liquid fire. This is caused mostly by a vast number of creatures called "Noctiluca Miliaris." These lighted creatures have gathered together in large numbers in the Atlantic Ocean. Ships have passed over many miles where they were, and while in that district it has been possible to read a book on deck by their light.

Fish aren't the only ones who can let their light shine. All Christians are told to: "Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works and glorify your Father which is in heaven."

Ceremony:

Fellows, there are two major ways we can let our lights shine; by our Christian conduct, and by witnessing to others. We are going to give each of you a small candle. After we light our large candle, we want each of you who want your life to shine like a light for Jesus to light your candle from the big one.

Have you noticed how much more light there is in the room since you lit your candle. As we hold our candles let us pray that each of us in this outpost will shine in our every day life for Jesus.

DEVOTION: DANGER

Purpose:

To emphasize the danger of looking at, or reading the wrong thing.

Story:

"Danger! Do Not Look!" are the words stamped on the casing of the acetylene torches that workmen on street railways use for welding the iron rails together. The flame of these torches is so intensely brilliant that unprotected eyes may be seriously injured by even a momentary glance at it.

What a fine thing it would be if these words could be stamped upon other things than acetylene torches. They might be placed across the pages of the cheap books that are daily flooding the market. Or above the doorways of certain places of entertainment; or even placed along our city streets and roadways where glaring posters seek to lure the mind to unworthy thoughts.

"I always turn my face in another direction when I pass that news stand," said a fine Christian boy to his companion. "I know my weakness and I find I am all the better for not letting my gaze rest upon the cheap magazines that are always on display."

Ceremony:

Fellows, there are three things that strongly determine what we think; they are: what we see, what we read, what we hear. The Bible says: "For as he thinketh in his heart, so is he" (Proverbs 23:7). Therefore, in a sense these things determine what we are. The Ranger code states, "A Ranger is clean." He is clean in body, mind, and speech. As Royal Rangers we should be very careful regarding what we look upon, the books and magazines we read, the TV programs we watch, etc.

Don't be fooled. The old serpent is just as real in the space age.

Now, let's form a friendship circle and pray for God to help us to look at the right thing and to keep a clean mind.

DEVOTION: INVESTING YOUR LIFE

Purpose:

To help boys see the importance of yielding their lives to Christ.

Materials Needed:

A piece of paper for each boy with the words, "I'll invest my life for God" written on it.

Story:

It is said that five dollars' worth of raw steel, when taken into a watch factory and made into hairsprings becomes worth many thousands of dollars. This same steel may be made into knives, or a number of other things, but no one of them will be worth as much as the springs.

In every piece of steel there is locked up the possibility of hairsprings. The steel may go to make something else worth less, but all the time it has the possibility of being greatly increased in value.

The life of every young person is like that piece of steel. You may not appear worth much to the world now, but your value is not altogether in what you are now, but what you may become.

How can you make your life reach its highest value? By investing it in the place where the greatest and highest use of it can be made. There is only one such place and that is in serving God. The life that is devoted to God's service always brings out its greatest possibilities and increases its value to the highest degree.

Ceremony:

Fellows, the greatest investment you can ever make is to invest your life for Christ. He can take your life and really make it worth something. We are going to give each of you a slip of paper that contains the pledge "I'll invest my life for God." We want you to sign this pledge and then we will pray for God's help in keeping yielded to His will for our lives.

DEVOTION: I'D RATHER HAVE A BIBLE

Purpose:

To encourage boys to read the Bible more.

Material needed:

A Bible and a road map.

Story:

There was a boy who wanted a Bible very much indeed. He wanted it more than anything else he could think of. But he was a poor boy and could not afford to buy one, because he lived a good many years ago when Bibles cost more than they do now.

One day two strange gentlemen came to his house and asked his mother for something to eat. Although she had only plain food she made them welcome to what she had. As they ate, they saw the boy looked sad. They asked him what he wanted, and he told them that he wanted a Bible.

His mother said, "Never mind. Don't fret about that. I'll take you to see General Washington next week."

"But I'd rather have a Bible than go to see General Washington," the boy said.

One of the gentlemen seemed much pleased with this and told him he hoped he would always be so fond of the Bible.

The next day the boy received a beautiful Bible, and on the flyleaf was written, "From George Washington."

The boy did not know it, but he had been talking to George Washington on the day before. Do you value the Word of God—and read it often?

Ceremony:

Fellows, in my hands is a Bible and a road map. People who make trips or journeys find a road map invaluable because it will guide them to their destination. The greatest road map of all times is the Bible. It will guide man on his journey through life. It can be a wonderful guide for your life. We should consult it often so that we may know we are on the right road.

Let's gather around the table and lay our hands on the Bible. Then let's pray together "Dear Lord, I will do my best to follow the instruction in your word as the guide for my life."

Read the Bible for bullseye living.

IDEAS

For Leaders

PROJECT IDEA

Would you like to have an American flag for use in your outpost that has actually flown over the United States Capitol? You may obtain such a flag by writing to your congressman or senator in Washington D.C. He will give details on forms, address, cost, etc.

You may also obtain a free booklet on how to respect and display the American flag, by contacting your local Army, Air Force, Navy, or Marine Corps recruiting offices.

GAME IDEA

CATCH YOUR TAIL

Divide players into two teams. Each team lines up, single file, members clasping each other around the waist. The player at the rear end of each team has a rag or handkerchief (his "tail") tucked into his belt at the back. Each team chases the other, so that the captain, or first player on each team, can try to capture the "tail" of the opposing team. No member of a team may lose his hold of the man ahead. This game is sometimes even more fun when three teams are in action.

KNOT RACE

Equipment: A 6' length of rope for each boy.

Have the boys line up at one end of the room. Assign two boys as judges and place one at each end of the line. Then call out names of knots such as bowline, square knot, sheepshank, etc. When the name is called, every boy must tie the knot before the caller counts to 10. Judges quickly check each knot. All boys who tie their knot correctly move one step forward. This is repeated with other knots until a boy reaches the finish line. He becomes the winner.

CATCH THE STAFF

Equipment: A broomstick.

Number the boys from one to the number playing. Have them sit on the floor in a circle. The leader, standing in the center of the circle, balances the staff on the floor. Then he calls a number and lets the staff fall. The boy whose number is called must catch the staff before it touches the floor. If he fails, he must go to the center of the circle. Repeat game by calling different numbers at random.

PROMOTIONAL IDEA

Perhaps you would like to begin a Royal Ranger newspaper. It can be mimeographed and published on a monthly basis. The newspaper could feature articles on subjects of interest to Royal Rangers. It can also serve as a means of reporting on past Royal Ranger activities and also to announce future events. If you wish you may use the paper to honor boys for special achievements.

(This idea was sent to us by outpost commander Tom Hiegel of Delphos, Ohio.)
