safe FIRE BUILDING

Fire is the greatest danger to our woods. Build fires by permission only, and treat it with respect.

1. For a safe fire select an open place where you can see the sky. Build your fire only on solid earth, surrounding sides all limbs, leaves, roots or twigs. Clear an area at least 10 feet wide.
2. Before starting your fire, have 100 gallons of water around the cleared area. Materials for preparing the ground of fire with wet turbid bog, dirt, dirt or water.
3. Remember! Always have plenty of wood before starting your fire. Put wood where wind will blow sparks toward it.

PURPOSE

This quarterly magazine is designed:

- To provide boys with worthwhile, enjoyable leisurely reading.
- To challenge them in narrative form to higher ideals and greater spiritual dedication.
- To perpetuate the spirit of the Royal Rangers program through stories, ideas and illustrations.
