

Dominican youths enjoy Royal Rangers and Missionettes programs

With the growth of the national church, the missionary is often called upon to help in specialized areas. Such was the case when the Eugene Hunts arrived in the Dominican Republic in 1972 to begin their first term of service. Help was needed to organize the Spanish Royal Rangers and Missionettes.

They visited interested churches and prepared leadership training materials. Over the past 12 years the Lord has blessed these ministries as the Hunts have sought to reach the young Dominicans through them.

National Commander Dr. William de la Cruz was senior guide at the 4th National Training Camp. At right, he discusses plans with Eugene Hunt.
