

Support for Refugees

We are students who attend a multi ethnic Islamic independent school in Hendon called Barnet Hill Academy. Our school is guided by an Islamic ethos; strong moral, ethics and character with a focus on character reflection. In this project we each have specific roles. Our project is based on supporting refugees who face hate crime on a regular basis. We plan to hold a series of events including educational activities around other schools to raise awareness of the negative perceptions refugees face in their daily lives. Our anti-discrimination project focuses on the importance of race and religion as outlined by the equality act 2010.

The discrimination refugees face is contrary to the equality act. Many refugees face discrimination after entering the UK due to reasons ranging from misplaced prejudices because of lack of education to the widening political divide.

We believe that all Muslims are together as an ummah and we are tolerant to other beliefs. We are not bias, and we do favour other beliefs. We also believe in equal treatment and basic human rights for all humans.

We hope our project spreads awareness of the discrimination refugee/immigrant face and stop the stigma around the word 'immigrant'.
