Procurement

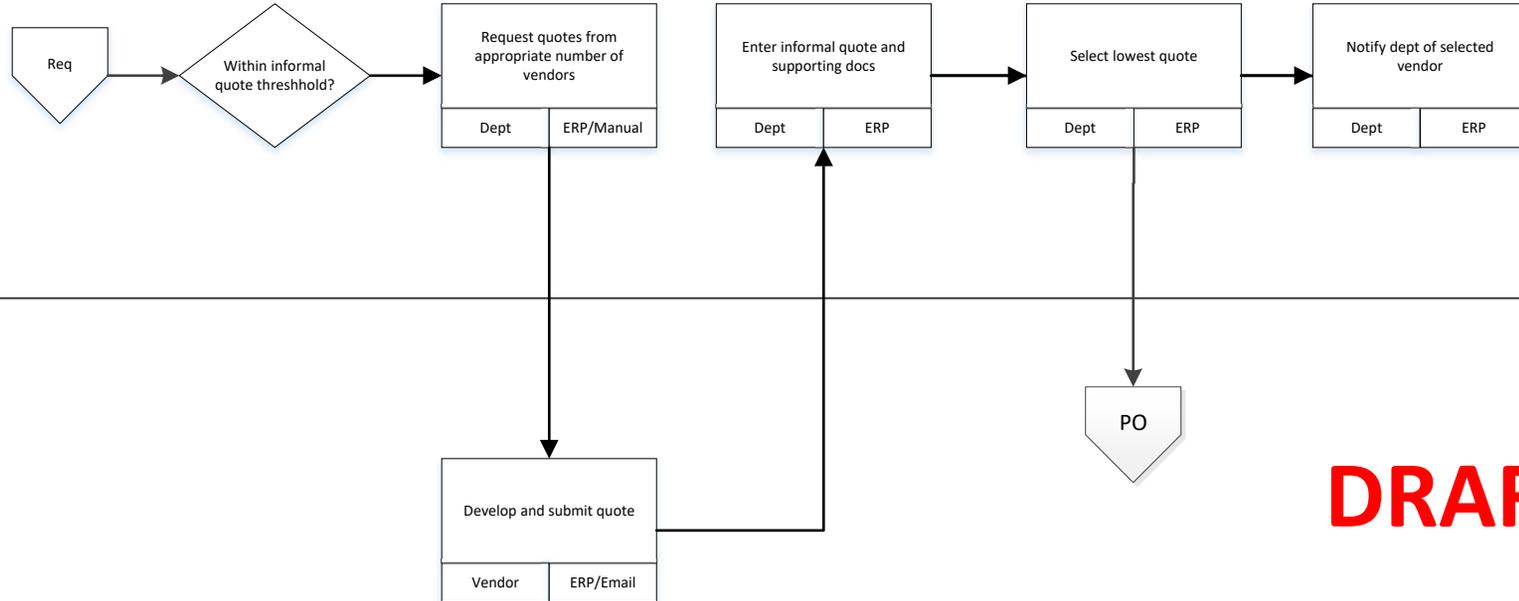

Vendor

GFOA recommends that all purchases, including those that will require formal solicitation, go through the requisition process. This will help users to keep track of where in the cycle the requisition may be.

Departments, Branches,
Procurement

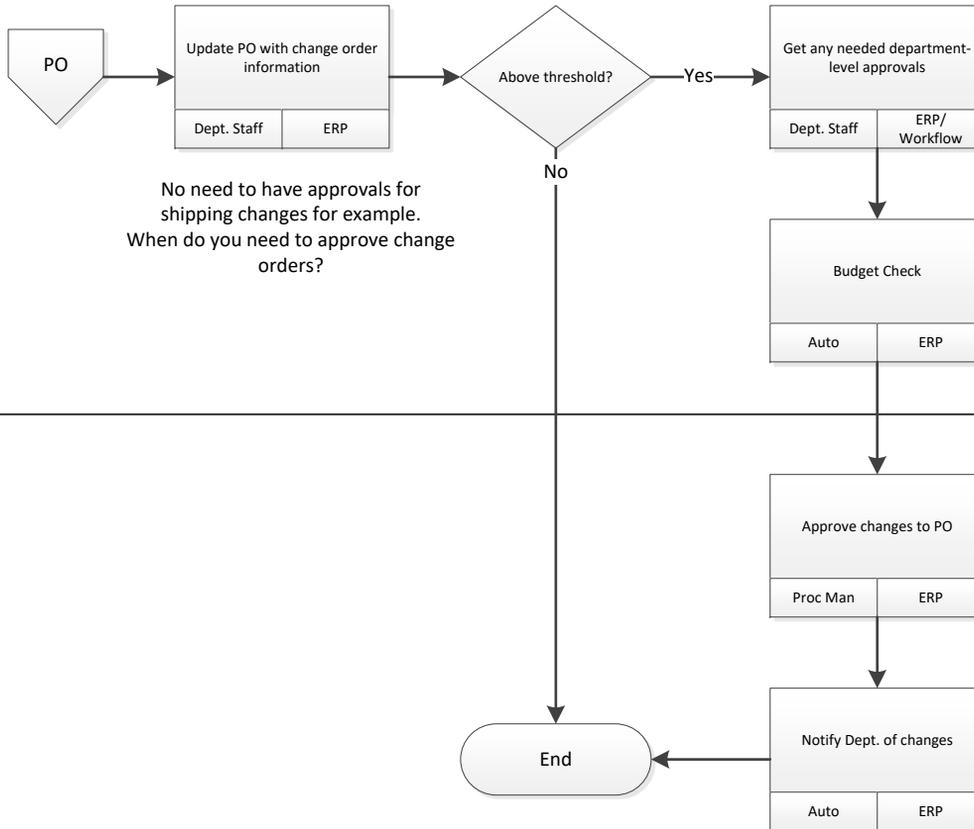

Informal quotes. Departments obtain number of quotes dictated by procurement policy. The lowest quote wins, then department creates a Requisition.

Process TBD – Depends on ERP modules purchased. Many ERP systems offer training management modules where employee training can be tracked directly. Some ERP systems also have learning management functionality where employees can initiate self-paced learning courses/training plans. At a minimum, the CPL should ensure that all trainings and certifications are recorded in the primary employee file in a future solution.
